COMMITTEES OF HOUSE AND SENATE.

The President and Cabinet Invited to Participate in the Geremonies at New York.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 .- In the House to-day Mr. Cutcheon, of Michigan, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the following series of resolutions: Resolved, That the House of Representatives has heard, with profound sorrow, of the death, at his home in New York City, on the 4th instant, of William Tecumsel Sherman, one of the Generals of the Army.

Resolved, That we mourn him as the greatest soldier remaining to the republic, and the last of that illustrious trio of Generals whose command of the armies of the United States-Grant Sherman and Sheridan-shed imperish-

Grant, Sherman and Sheridan—shed imperishable glory upon American arms and were the idolized leaders of the Union Army.

Resolved, That we hereby record the highest appreciation in which the American people hold the services of General Sherman as one of the greatest soldiers of the day; one of the grandest patriots that our country has produced, and as a noble man in the broadest and fullest meaning of the word. We mingle our fullest meaning of the word. We mingle our grief with the nation, mourning the departure of her great son and the departures of the batthe scarred veterans whom he led to victory and peace, and we especially tender our sym-pathy and condolence to those who were bound and peace, and we especially sender our sym-pathy and condolence to those who were bound to him by the ties of blood. Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a com-mittee of nine members to attend the funeral as representatives of this body. Resolved, That a copy or these resolutions be forwarded to the family of General Sherman. Tributes to the Dead.

Mr. Cutcheon, in addressing himself to the resolutions, said it was not his purpose at this time to occupy any considerable portion of the time of the House. After the touching tribute rendered to General Sherman by the Chief Executive there was little for him the Chief Executive there was little for him to say. The last of the great trio of generals had gone from us, and his death marks an epoch in the history of the Republic. It admonished us that the period so prolific of great men was receding into history.

In his opinion, General Sherman was the greatest strategist the war had produced. The story of General Sherman was a part of the history of the country from the time he commanded a brigade at the first battle of Bull Run until he received the surrender of General Johnston, General Sherman's record was one of almost unbroken success and unbroken magnanimity and patriotism. Already he had said "Good morning" to his old commander; had shaken hands with Sheridan and had been welcomed by Logan and McPherson. He had gone to his friends. Gone to His Reward.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, added his tribute to the character and ability of the dead General. There was no man, he said, so be-loved by the common soldier as General Sherman. He was, above all other men, the idol of the old soldiers. There had passed from earth to the reward of the just (and if there was no reward for Sherman on the other shore he would doubt the whole system-and he did not) the greatest character, who a few days ago had been alive, con-nected with the Rebellion on either side. Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, added his meed of praise to the memory of the deceased, and said Congress did itself honor in taking notice of his demise. Sherman had been a patriot of the truest patriots, and the people had learned to so regard him. His name and his fame would be associated with the history of this country so long as there would be any history. It would be long ere the nation would forget him or his fame pass

Truly a Great Man.

Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, expressed his grief at the death of his old commander. That death was deeply deplored by the whole country. General Sherman had been truly a great man, not only in war, but in peace. The nation had met with irreparable loss. A great citizen, a great soldier, a pure patriot had fallen, but his name and his The State of Washington and British Colfame would be the pride of his countrymen for coming ages.
General Cogswell, of Massachusetts, referred to General Sherman as the military genius of the war, and invoked the divine of admiration and sorrow upon the grave of the dead chieftain.

Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, voiced the sentiment of the Confederate soldiers in express-ing his sorrow at the demise of Sherman and in testifying to his skill and ability.

Mr. Williams, of Ohio, in a few words expressed his sorrow and the sorrow of every man who had ever served under "Uncle Billy," and then the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

mously adopted.

In accordance therewith the Speaker appointed the following committee: Messrs. Cutcheon, Spinola, Cogswell, Cummings, Grosvenor, Kinsey, Tarsney, Henderson, of Illinois, and Outhwate. The session then Invited to the Funeral.

The President and his Cabinet were to-day formally invited by Generals Howard and Slocum to participate in the ceremonies in New York Thursday, incident to the trans-fer of the remains of General Sherman to St. Louis, and the question will be considered at to-morrow's meeting. The invitation will undoubtedly be accepted, unless the state of public business renders it impossible for the President and Cabinet to leave the capital on that day.

As the ceremonies incident to the funeral of General Sherman will occupy Thursday and Saturday of this week, the President has directed the public buildings to be closed on Thursday, and the public buildings in Washington and St. Louis be closed on Saturday, the latter being the day of the burial. Vice President Morton announced his appointment of the following Senators to at end General Sherman's (uneral-the number having been increased from five to six: Messra Hawley, Evarts, Manderson, Pierce, Cockrell and Waithall.

THE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

They Are Completed and General Butterfield Will Be Marshal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.-The body of General Sherman remains in the receiving casket in the darkened room in which he died. Yesterday and last night no person was allowed to view the body. The guard from Governors Island still remains in charge. Telegrams are constantly arriving, but for the most part they relate to the funeral arrangements for Thursday here and casket in the darkened room in which he funeral arrangements for Thursday here and in St. Louis, A telegram from St. Louis asks for the privilege of placing the casket in a public hall there while the procession is being formed. The face will not be exposed unless the family give consent. Generals Howard and Slocum completed the funeral arrangements this afternoon. General Butterfield has been made Grand Marshal of the military demonstration on Thursday. The members of the Stock Exchange this afternoon voted unanimously to close the Exchange on the day of General Sherman's funeral. This action must be sanctioned by the Board of Governors.

MONDAY IN THE COURTS.

Ples of Voluntary Manslaughter Taker in the Bothwell Murder Case-A Number of Executions Issued-Notes From the Various Courts.

William Flinn was placed on trial before Judge Stowe, in the Criminal Court yester-day, for the killing of John Bothwell, at the house of Mrs. Kate Fox, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, in October last. Flinn, who is a banana peddler, went into Mrs. Fox's house and drank some beer, after which he had a quarrel with Bothwell, who was in the house. and stabbed him with a knife, Bothwell dying in a short time.

When the trial was opened Finn, through his attorney, Thomas M. Marshall, offered to enter a plea of manslaughter, but District At-torney Johnston thought the verdict should be torney Johnston thought the verdict should be second degree, and so insisted. It was then decided to hear the witnesses for the Commonwealth, and then decide what plea should be taken. Three witnesses for the Commonwealth, including Mrs. Fox, were heard, and on their testimony a plea of voluntary manslaughter was taken, and Flinn was remanded to jail for sentence on Saturday.

Frank Wenchammer, of Lower St. Clair township, was found not guilty of selling liquor without license.

Elizabeth Burns, indicted for the larceny of a 35 gold piece from a man named Cavanaugh, was found not guilty. The prosecutor is an elderly man, who failed to answer when the case was called on Friday, and was arrested and put in jail on a process.

MUDDLE OVER MINCE MEAT.

Judge Acheson's Opinion in a Fight Between Preserve People, Judge Acheson yesterday handed down an opinion in the case of the American Pre-servers' Company vs Thomas C. Jenkins. The suit was brought for the infringement on a patent for dry mince meat compound, the alleged infringement consisting of selling mince meat which is manufactured in part by Mermeat which is manufactured in part by Merrell & Soule, and in part by the Anderson Preserving Company. A motion was made for a stay of proceedings on the grounds that a suit had been brought by the same parties in the northern district of New York, and it was shown that the mince meat of Merrell & Soule did not infringe on the patent sued in this case.

Judge Acheson denies the motion, because the case is not one in which the Court can rightfully interfere with the plaintiffs in the prosecution of their suit.

The following executions were issued yester-day: Ireland & Hughes against George W. Smith, for $1,095 17; W. S. Watson against George W. Smith, $2,722 75; Arbuckle & Co., Limited, against Melton Petrie, SI, 577 65; American Machine Company against the Mineral Grinding Company, $976 74; Central Bank against the Pittsburg Coal Hauling Company, $887 70; J. D. and D. H. Potter against Robert Wellens, R. M. Tafel, James Wellens and J. S. Hays, $340.

NOTES FROM THE COURTS.

of John Clements against Hannah Clements. Desertion was the allegation.

WILLIAM MORRIS, the plaintiff in a case against the Ohio Connecting Railroad, was yesterday ejected from the Common Pleas Court, at the judge's order, for loudly demanding a new trial after he had been granted a verdict of $2,000 instead of $5,000, demanded. THE John McLaughlin who was last week convicted of the larceny of some butter, was not the well-known river man, as no one who knows the latter could have for a moment be-lieved. There are nearly 20 men of the name in this city, and all, it seems, have to suffer somewhat for the sins of one of them.

JUDGE SLAGLE vesterday handed down opinion in the case of Hannah Reynolds et al versus Mathew Credge. The plaintiff in the case secured a verdict of $5,000 as executor of an estate presumed to have been owing by the defendant. Judge Slagle holds that the amount owed by the defendant is only $3,428 lb, and asks that the amount be allowed to stand, or else a new trial will be granted.

AN AWFUL ACCIDENT

Fatal Burning of a Young Woman While Aiding Her Betrothed.

HE, TOO, IS SERIOUSLY INJURED. A Heated Bottle of Turpentine Bursts

With Terrible Results. PEARFUL SUFFERING ENDED BY DEATH

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH, I PEEKSKILL, Feb. 16 .- The most horrifying and distressing accident that has been known in this city in many years happened on Saturday afternoon, when a young lady of 21 was so alarmingly burned that she died yesterday. Her mother and offianced lover also sustained most serious injuries. Miss Nellie Whalen was the unhappy victim. She is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Clune, who has been married twice. She and her mother reside on Central avenue. With them lives Michael Clune, a wellknown young man in this city, who was engaged to Miss Whalen. He is no relation of Mrs. Clune.

Young Clune is afflicted with rheumatism, and has been confined to the house for some days. On Saturday afternoon his sweetheart had heard that hot turpentine was an excellent remedy for his disease, and had purchased a pint of it. She corked the bottle, plunged into a kettle of boiling water, and placed it on the stove. When it had reached a sufficient degree of heat she drew it out, with the intention of applying it to his ankles.

Wrapped in the Flames. As she lifted the bottle from the kettle it struck the iron kettle. Its bottom dropped out and the turpentine was spilled on the out and the turpentine was spilled on the stove and all over her dress. It was immediately ignited, and in an instant she was wrapped in a seething mass of fire. She ran screaming to her mother, who was also in the kitchen. Her mother, with the assistance of Clune, who in the excitement forgot his ailment that had previously kept him glued to the chair, made strenuous efforts to tear the burning clothing from the girl.

After herculean efforts, they succeeded, but not until she had been most severely burned, as had both rescuers. Dr. E. D. M. Lyon was summoned. He dressed the wounds and applied all the antidotes known to medical skill. He was shortly joined by Dr. P. H. Mason, and both physicians remained with the suffering girl for many hours. She was horribly burned, scorched and almost roasted in spots.

and almost roasted in spots.

Death Relieves Her Sufferings. Her clothing, from her stockings to her neck, had been burned with the exception of part of the corsets, which had in a degree saved her waist from the flames, yet the fire had eaten back of her corsets and her back was in a terrible condition. She lingered in intense agony until yesterday morning at 11 o'clock when she became unconscious and remained in that state until 3 o'clock when death relieved her from horrible sufferings. Clune was also seriously injured. His two hands were almost roasted and may be two hands were almost roasted and may be useless for life. He is suffering intensely, not only physically but mentally, on account of the loss of the girl, whom he expected soon to wed. tMrs. Clune was burned about the arms and hands, not as badly as young Clune. Very few people knew of the accident until the death of the girl yester-

Alarm of Fire Sounded. At the time of the catastrophe an alarm At the time of the catastrophe an alarm of fire was sent in from the district in which the house is, but the alarm was recalled before firemen had reached the scene of the trouble, and they returned to their houses with only meager information that there had been a slight blaze.

Miss Whalen was pretty, with winning ways and very intellectual. She recently graduated with honors from the Academy of Our Lady of Angels, at the Franciscan Convent, and was greatly beloved and a universal favorite among hundreds of Sisters sal favorite among hundreds of Sisters there. They have taken charge of affairs at the house. She was prominent in church work at the Church of the Assumption. Last Monday evening she attended a grand ball of the Sarsfield Club at Military Hall and was one of the favorites of the evening and much sought after. Her sister is studying at a conservatory of music in New York. The sad affair has east a glocom over the large Catholic population in this city, as they all knew her and loved her.

Progressive Movements and How Things Change. NOTES BY MAIL.

In this progressive age old customs are constantly giving way to new ideas and inventions.

Business methods have become revolutionized. Travel in cities as done by horsecar lines was slow and this means was gradually replaced by cable lines. This, in turn, is giving way, to some extent, to car lines that used as its propelling force, electricity. Every progressive town now has its electric system of street cars. In this city among the several electric lines the one best known is the Pleasant Valley line, best known is the Pleasant Valley line, subject of our sketch this week is an employe of the Pleasant Valley shops.
