GOSSIP OF ROYALTY.

Visit of Prince and Princess Henry to Empress Frederick.

LATEST DOINGS OF THE EMPEROR.

His Empress' Health Injured by His Passion for Driving Out.

SOME VERY INTERESTING PRESENTS

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DISPATCE. BERLIN, Feb. 12. - The Prince and Princess Henry who were obliged to lodge their suite at a hotel while they were staying with their royal mother and mother-inlaw, found the hospitality offered by the Empress Frederick rather expensive it seems, and now have moved into the Schloss, the 1,000 apartments of which are big enough to house any number of Princes and their suite. Our young people of the court have found a most willing and affable companion in Prince Henry who escorts them wherever they go, in his quiet and unpretentious manner. Foor much-engaged Marguerite, his sister. is especially delighted with her brother's visits and utilizes the occasion to visit private balls and receptions. In company with Prince and Princess Henry she stayed at the ball given by Prince and Princess Stolberg till 2 A. M. the other day, and I unstand there was a jolly row when Her Majesty, the Empress Frederick, heard of this breach of decorum.

Presents From Emperor William. The Emperor is evidently trying to revive the memory of Frederick the Great in more than one important instance. At one of his jewelers, Unter den Linden, two beauti-fut gold souff be xes are exhibited, which His Majesty ordered as pres his or friends. They bear the portrait of the Emperor enameled on their faces and are surrounded by a circle of 36 brilliants. On the small sides of the case three immense brilliants are set iuto the gold. One of the portraits represents the Kalser in an embroidered general's uniform, with decorations galore. In the other he wears the parade uniform of the ledy Guard Hussars, with a fur dolman. The likeness in both pictures is striking, as ndeed are most of the present Emperor.

The Baronised Herr Isane Cohn, who ncied as the personal banker for the late Emperor William offers to erect a monument to his memory in Dessau, and says he doesn't care what the cost may be. There is probably no reason for the refusal of such petition to be concocted by the Dessau Government, so Baron Cohn will be allowed to spend his money in the manner most congenial to himself.

The Reception of the Angelus. M. Chauchard, who it will be remem-bered, lately paid so long a figure for Millet's "Angelus" in the United States, gave last week a dinner party to celebrate the Avenue Velasguez. Each one of the guests at this party was presented with a liver medal struck in honor of the occasion, one side of which bore a reproduction of the famous picture while the reverse bore the name of the guest to whom it was given.

The Crown Princess-widow of Austria, is gradually becoming herself again and I understand that she intends to visit our court shortly. The late Prince Rudolf and Prince William, now Emperor, were jolly good friends, but became estranged later on through an unhappy incident of which Stephanie was the cause, but over which he had no control. The thing is almost for-gotten now, and it seems that at the visit of the heir presumptive of the Austrian crown all personal differences were settled and bot that she could ride on horseback at the rate a 45 kilometres (about 28 miles) a day from Bordeaux to Catte, that is across that part of France from sea to sea. This sportsmoma who is fair, young and beautiful LEMON, 324 Dearborn, st., Chicago, Ill. fe22-20 has just accomplished her task and won the

The opening lecture of the British and American Archmological Society of Rome for the session of 1891, was delivered last week to an audience of over 200, by the Mon, A. G. Porter, Minister of the United States. The subject was "Julius Casar," and the lecturer held the attention of his audience from the beginning. Lord Dufferin occupied the Chair and moved a vote of thanks in a humorous and neat address
I learn from Rome that Cardinal Cristodangerous illness, is now on the point o

fori, who some time ago was attacked by a death. He is 76 years old-which is not very aged as Cardinals go. Born at Viterbo in 1815-he was created Cardinal in 1885 by the present Pope.

Germany's Coming Horse.

German sportsmen vowed by bell, book and candle some time ago that they would never, never never send another horse to England to be trained. The Royal Stud Commissioners seem to think differently, for they are not ashamed to announce that Peter, the great 2-year old stallion who triumplied over the best horses of Austria-Hungaria at the Vienna call races, has now been sent to Newmarket, where he is to be trained for the Austrian Derby in May. Peter is generally regarded as the coming horse of Germany, and the Royal Stud of Graditz is justly proud of him. His sire was Chamant and his mother the celebrated

The passion of the Kaiser for driving out in open carriages in all kinds of weather has been telling on the Empress' health. has accompanied His Majesty for a week or so regularly. On Sunday morning both the Katser and Katserin went to the Cathedral, which was nearly empty of people and where the stoves did little or nothing to make the atmosphere less chilly than in the open space in cront of the edifice. The Empress was overheard to say, "I am bound to be laid up, it seems," but followed the Emperor to the Royal pew. The night before Her Majesty had attended the theater after a three-hours' drive in an open carriage to the Grunswald forest. Now she is ill in bed. The members of the Court treat the Empress' illness as a slight indisposi-tion, which may be over in a day or two, but when you remember that Her Majesty nurses her baby herself, the matter assumes a more serious aspect.

A Present for the Baby Prince.

The brooch sent by the Emperor of Austria to the Kaiserin on the occasion of the christening of the baby Prince has a pecu-liar shape, which the general opinion in Berlin reads, as not in the best of taste. It is made in the shape of a tied bow and ends. The crossover of the bow is formed by an immense ruby, and the bow and ends made up of brilliants alternating with ru-bies of different sizes. Unset brilliants hang on the end. The most precious stone is a diamond as big as one's finger tip, and in the shape of a dewdrop. It hangs from the middle ruby, and is unequaled in

More Frederick the Great on the part of Germany's gallant young autocrat. 1 her from an intimate friend in Berlin that tie Emperor sends a high official of his court all the rehearsals at the royal opera and play houses to see that actors, singers and even ballet women behave "respectfully. Perhaps some day the Emperor will superintend things behind the scenes himself, and then only the historical crutch stick will be needed to make the imitation of King Fritz complete. Still even an emperor would be pulled up nowadays if he attempted to flog HOWITZ.
