Ecunions of Other Societies to Be Held During the Gathering.

LIVE NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

PETERIAL TELBORAN TO THE DISPATCIL1 ALTOONA, Feb. 23 .- This morning all the trains that arrived in the city brought many delegates to the State Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which convenes in this city to-morrow. The hotels are already crowded to their fullest capacity. and many of the delegates have been assigned to private houses. Delegates from more than 300 posts will be present, and it is expected to be the largest gathering of the kind ever held in the State. To-night the town is decked in holiday garb, and presents a grand appearance. The decorations are beautiful and appropriate to the occasion. The candidates for Department Commander wore busy to-day looking up their chances for that position. Dr. S. M. Stauffer, of Post 8, of Philadelphia, is quartered at the Grant House, and is confident of being elected, and says the hattle is between Lieutenant G. G. Boyer and himself. Captain W. D. Stauffer, of Laucaster, and General Taylor, of Lewistown, are also named for that position. Philadelphia and Pittsburg delegates are quartered at the Logan, firant and Central Hotels. John P. Taylor, of Philadelphia, is here, and working in the interests of Lieutenant Boyer.

At the time of the Department Encampment the Woman's Relief Corps will hold their State Convention in the rooms of the W. C. T. U., postoffice building. Over 200 delegates are expected to be present. The Ladies of the G. A. R. will hold their State Convention in Flack's Theater building.

Serious Charge Against a Well-Known Resident of Sandy Lake.

SPECIAL TRUEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH! FRANKLIN, Feb. 23.-For a small place Sandy Lake, a village of 1,000 inhabitants, 18 miles north of this place on the Lake Erie read, furnishes more big sensations than any other towr, of its size in the State. At this point many valuable borses are nurchased for the Eastern markets, and there is now a very grave sus-picion that the parties bringing the horses to this market have not always come by then honestly, and as a result at least one of the most prominent farmers of this vicinity is a ery much wanted man. Until recently Richard Hess has been looked.

Until recently Richard Hess has been looked upon as one of the leading chizens, but recent developments have cast a shadew over his fair name. A short time ago he appeared in town with a new horse, and a few days later a detective appeared and with him a man who claimed the horse as his property. Mr. Hess could not explain from whom he purchased the horse or give any satisfactory account of how the horse came in his possession, and as a result a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, but when the officers came to serve it, hess The officers now claim that Hess is the agent for a gang of horse thieves, who worked the farmers of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana for stock valued at many thousand yesterday, returned to Harrisburg instevening. The committee was very much displeased with the Southside Hospital, and Mr. Fow, acting as spokesman, said:

"We think this hospital is badly managed. It was dirty and the general appearance of the place was anything but inviting. I thought it strange that the highest subscription to the institution was $100, and the committee skirmished around among some of the leading business men on the Southside in search of information. We found that they took very little interest in the hospital, and they spoke slightingly of the management. Now, the committee freely acknowledges the necessity of a hospital on the Southside, The population is 100,000, and many of the southside, Donald's hat store. the committee skirmished around among some of the leading business men on the Southside in search of information. stitution on that side of the river. The hospital people want $50,000, but the question in the minds of the committee is, it they get the money, will they manage the institution any better than they do at present? I am opposed to spending a cent on any hospital that is not worthy of it. When I told the managers that I didn't like the place and of the complaints that we heard from disinterested people, they replied that they hadn't the money ple, they replied that they hadn't the money to do better. This may be true. It may be possible we took them by surprise.

The other two representatives spoke in the same strain. The committee was very much pleased with the blind and deaf and dumb institutions. The blind school wants $29,-000, and they thought the request was very reasonable. Mr. Fow said Western Penn-sylvania was entitled to a school for the blind. The committee thinks the deaf and dumb institute will soon be self-supporting. Mr. Fow wanted to know the feeling in this part of the State about his bill to amend the blue laws. He remarked that Captain Wishart and the Law and Order League were working against it. He advocates the sale of cigars, ice, milk, and other innecent articles on Sunday.

LIFE AND LOVE CRUSHED OUT

Investigation Into the Death of Annie Quinn and John Hughes.

The Coroner held a partial investigation vesterday afternoon into the deaths of Annie Quinn, who was instantly killed by the fast line express at Braddock Sunday night, and John Hughes, her escort, who was so injured that he died at the Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon at 1:30.

W. J. Elliott was interviewed, and among other things, said: "When in front of Schrader's saloon with my brother, Pat, I turned and saw Osborn with a revolver pointed at me. I reached for my pistol, when I heard a bullet whiz by my head. I day afternoon at 1:30.

Miss Quinn and Mr. Hughes, who were engaged to be married, had been spending the afternoon at the home of a relative of Miss Quinn's, by the name of Bernard Rafferty, on Tenth street, Braddock. About 7 o'clock they left Rafferty's house to take a train to go to the next station where they intended to make a visit to another relative. Rafferty accompanied them to the railroad. At Verona street they reached the railroad and had several blocks to walk along the track to the station. A freight train was passing on the west bound track as they reached the railroad. Rafferty called to the young couple to look out for the fast line which was then approaching on the east track, Hughes attempted to escape but the warning came too late. He was struck to one side, but Miss Quinn was thrown forward and as she fell was struck again and thrown from the track. She was dead when picked up. The remains of Miss Quinn will be in terred from Bernard Rafferty's house at 9:30 this morning. She was a domestic and lived with a family at Edgewood. Hughes was a laborer at the Braddock Steel Works. The inquest will be concluded on Friday.

FIGHT TO THE DEATH

A Columbus Newspaper War Results in a Terrible Affray.

IN WHICH TWO MEN ARE KILLED.

Albert Osborne Shot Down By W. J. Elliott on the Street, and

AN INNOCENT MAN MEETS HIS DEATH

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23 .- A horrible ragedy occurred here shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. Two men were killed and several wounded in a fusillade of pistol shots. The terrible affair was the outgrowth of a newspaper fend, which has been raging for several weeks between the publishers of the Sunday World and Sunday Capital of this city.

Colonel W. J. Elliott, editor of the Capital, shot and instant killed Albert Osborne, city editor of the Sunday World. W. L. Hughes, an old gentleman, who was stand-ing nearby, was shot and killed with a stray bullet from Elliott's pistol. The tragedy, as before stated, was the result of a newspaper war. Two weeks ago the World made charges against Elliott's family, insinuating that a female relative of Elliott's was not all she might be.

Serious Charges Against Levering.

Elliott retaliated on the following Sunday with a four-column article, charging F. W Levering, editor of the World, with being the joint proprietor of a disreputable house. Badly Managed-A Dirty and Uninviting | He also charged him with being associated with a woman named Lou Burton. Levering is an Assistant State Oil Inspector and ing is an Assistant State Oil Inspector and prominent in politics. The charges created a profound sensation. The charges against Levering also implicated Claude Meeker, Governor Campbell's private secretary.

Levering and his city editor, Mr. Osborne, retaliated yesterday with a sensational article, charging Elliott with nearly all the crimes in the calendar. Elliott, with his brother Patrick and Osborne met this his brother Patrick, and Osborne met this afternoon on High street, near the American Hotel. Patrick Elliott opened fire upon Osborne and Osborne returned the fire. A running battle ensued, in which W. J. Elliott joined. Patrick Elliott started to run, followed by Osborne, Osborne followed by W. J. Elliott. All three men amptied

The Killing of Osborne, As he did so he turned and fired at W. J. Elliott. The latter fired his weapon almost simultaneously, and the shot took effect in Osborne's chin. It went clear through his mouth upward and backward through the brain and came out at the base of the skull. Elliott had followed Osborne into the store, and as he fired the last shot grappled with him. In the scuffle which tollowed both their guns were discharged and Osborne fell to the floor dead, although the last shot, it is said, did not take effect in either man, the ball which caused Osborne's death having entered his face as he came in through the Osborne fell upon a large pile of boxes, containing hats, and the weight of his body caused the boxes to collapse and to cover him completely. W. L. Hughes, a highly respected citizen, and formerly steward of the Imbecile Asylum, was standing on the pavement watching the formation of the parade. He was struck during the running battle. The ball entered Hugbes' head immediately over the left eye, and he dropped upon the iron grating in front of Ambo's restaurant, expiring instantly. Two others in the crowd were injured.

Threats Against the Elliotts.

The excitement incident to the tragedy continues and the situation looks threatening. Large crowds continue to hover about the scene of the tragedy. W. J. Elliott and his brother are held at the city prison, and owing to threats which have here carely

Interviews with a large number of eye-witnesses to the tragedy are substantially the same—that W. J. Elliott opened fire on Osborn as he came along the street, and the best information of those who saw it is that the first shot fired by Elliott hit Osborn in the side of the head or neck. Osborn, after returning the fire at both Elliott and his brother, ran into the hat store, where he was followed by P. J. Elliott, and they had a hand-to-hand struggle, during which several shots were fired and Osborn was shot through the head. Besides the two men killed, four other persons were wounded, none seriously.

A NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION

At the Anderson Hotel Last Night Slightly Injured the Fireman.

About 11 o'clock last night an explosion of gas occurred at the Hotel Anderson. Albert Johnston, the fireman, was lighting the fire under one of the boilers and did not notice that the force of the gas had extinguished the light he used. In a few moments the escaping gas reached the fire unper another boiler and an explosion followed. Johnston was burned about the face and head, but was not seriously injured. The damage to the house was trifling.

MANKIND'S ENEMY

Will Succumb to Scientific Medical Treatment.

A VERIFIED CLAIM.

Mankind's greatest enemy is disease. Between the two there is a constant warfare being waged for the supremacy. The cause of nearly one-half the deaths that occur in the United States can be traced directly to consumption or its near allies. Catarrh is its closest ally, and in many cases leads directly to that fatal disease. By Dr. Copeland's treatment catarrh, whether acute or chronic, is absolutely cured. In every case the results have been eminently successful. This week the following statement is added;

Mr. J. O. Nicely, Derry Station, Pa. Mr. J. O. Nicely, residing at Derry station, 45 miles from Pittsburg, and a traveling salesman for Otis, Shepard & Co., wholesale grocers, doing business on Seventh avenue, this city, man for Otis, Shepard & Co., wholesale grocers, doing business on Seventh avenne, this city, says:

"I was troubled for over six years with catarrh which came from a cold I contracted while on one of my trips. My head and nose became stopped up, first one side then the other; could scarcely breathe. The dropping of mucous into my throat was so bad that I had to sit up in bed to siep. I was subject to occasional dull, heavy pains over my eyes and nose. Had ringing or roaring noises in my ears. Conghed in the morning and raised up quantities of mucous. I suffered from sharp ahooting pains in the chest, in the region of the heart and under shoulder blades. My appeute was poor. I felt distressed and suffered from a nausea at the stomach. Felt dizzy on suddenly raising myself and my sleep was restless and disturbed. I always felt tired in the morning. "Called at the office of Drs. Copeland and Blair, and after examination, Inding their charges so reasonable, I took treatment. Almost immediately my symptoms disappeared. Headaches stooped and pains in chest have ceased. Nose and head became clear, and I ceased coughing or raising mucous. Slept well and felt refreshed upon arising. I feel better in every way since they have treated me than I have felt for years."
