THE RIVER ENCROACHMENTS. The river men seem to have profited by the example of the old man in the ancient primer. Having tried the effect of words in protesting against the encroachments on the channels of the rivers, they omit the preliminary of throwing grass and resort to a very solid legal missile in the shape of the bill in equity.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS PER YEAR from the State of Pennsylvania is not too much for good roads. The trouble is, we apprehend, that some of those who are opposing this reform have never seen good roads and do not know what they are.

THE PARLIAMENTS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The history of parliamentary law; but Mr. Goodloe fails to make any case to the effect that the use of the previous question to cut off debate has not the sanction of precedent.

THE FIGHT FOR GOOD ROADS. Those who want to see something accomplished in their own lifetime must have read recent intimations from Harrisburg that the road bill may not pass.
