YESTERDAY IN COURT.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Sued by

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Sued by the United States for Filling in the Monongabela River—Other News From the Justice Works.

United States District Attorney Lyon yesterday filed a bill in equity in the United States Circuit Court in behalf of the United States Circuit Court in behalf of the United States against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company from making any more fillings along the river bank, and to compel them to remove the embankments that have been made. This case is the result of the agitation of the river men, full reports of which have appeared in The Dispatch. They claim that the fill causes it to require two feet more of a rise to foot crafts of the same tonnage than it did before. Boats are also compelled to take smaller tows. The danger of navigating has been increased, and the embankments threaten to fall into the river and fill the channel.

The Court is asked to decree that these embankments and fillings are a public nuisance. before. Boats are also compelled to take smaller tows. The danger of navigating has been increased, and the embankments threaten to fall into the river and fill the channel.

The Court is asked to decree that these embankments and fillings are a public aussance and an obstruction to navigation, and to say truction to navigation, and to comcompany to remove them. Also to grant an injunction restraining them from do-ing any further filling.

THE ARGUMENTS HEARD.

Application for New Trials for Todt, Rusnock and Sabol.

A motion for a new trial in the case of An drew Todt, George Rusnock, and Michael Sabol. convicted of murder in the first degrae, for the killing of Michael Quiun during a riot at Braddock on January 1, was argued yesterday. The argument for the defense was made by Colonel Blakeley, who argued that the evidence did not in the least warrant a verdict of such a degree, and that the verdict was because of race preju-dice, and that in the case of George Rusnock a clear alide had been proven.

District Attorney Johnston confined his argument to the reading of the testimony taken in the case, which caused Judge Stowe to alter a previously formed opinion and confess that there was plenty of evidence to warrant the verdict rendered. The papers in the case were taken charge of by Judge Stowe.

NOT ONE OF THE RIOTERS.

George Matzo Sentenced to the Penitenti but Released Yesterday.

George Matzo, one of the Hungarians con wicted of riot at Braddock and who was sen-tenered to the worknouse for 136 years, was released yesterday on an order from Judge Stowe. The release of this prisoner was the result of an investigation by the Court. Supermendent Gaily, of the Homestead Mill, when he heard of the conviction and sentence of Matzo, wrote Judge Stowe a latter informing him that on the day of the riot Matzo was at work and was not manner the rioter. among the rioters.

The investigation by Judge Stowe proved this to be correct, and the prisoner's release

HARMONY—Yesterday the defunct Harmony pool received a little boom by the advent of Sutten & Co.'s No. 3, Zeigler. From 6 until 12 o'clock the well filled a 250-barrel tank, but since the head has expended its force the venture is following in the wake of its predecessors. The well has been overestimated, and a fair estimate of its production on the start is about 125 barrels a day. This well coming in as it has done, would seem to indicate there is as it has done, would seem to indicate there is a possibility of some fair-to-middling digging on the southeast line. Gatkert & Steele seem deeply imbued with this theory, and lost no time in securing 40 acres of the Zeigler farm,

If little things ever cause big troubles, it's surely the making of baby's clothes. First, it's the selection of the material, trimmings, etc., then the designing, cutting and sewing. At last 'tis finished. What a thankless job! Work for worry! The little coat won't fit, and then there's such an ungainly, clumsy look about it that it would never do to let baby wear it.

Wise mothers have long since abandoned the old custom of making their babies' garments. They know they fare much better by buying them ready made-especially if they can make their selections from such a grand assortment as is shown in

KAUFMANNS'

Infants' Outfit Department.

Though we hardly ever mention this department, it's daily patronized by scores of mothers. It adjoins the Ladies' Cloak Department, and is as clean, bright and cheerful a place to make your purchases in as one can imagine. Here will be found all the new, soft, pretty, dainty and cute little garments, as well as the plain and good things, at prices as low, if not lower, than the materials and trimmings can be bought for in the drygoods stores.
