John Crowley, the Secretary of the union, who was foremost in the crusade against New York clothing, thinking that if the matter ever came before the Legislature he would be called upon to testify, decided to make an investigation on his own account. HE ladies of both cities are cordially invited to attend the Grand Opening of our Suit Department FRIDAY and SATURDAY of OALL this week. This is a new department with us, and we are anxious that ALL should see it. We know that ALL will be pleased when they see the charming array of bright, fresh goods in the very latest styles and shades. But prices will interest the discerning, judicious buyer most. They have been fixed at a point low enough to worry competitors and please the people.

We show cashmere suits, neatly trimmed with velvet to match, at $6 75, $8 50, $9, $10 50 and up. All-wool Scotch plaid suits made in the latest styles with high shoulders and draped skirts, $8 50. The figure named would barely cover the cost of making. Of course, we have many other styles at higher prices if you want them.

Don't fail to see our display of novelty suits in plain broadcloths. Silk warp cashmeres and camel's hair cloths are also very fashionable. Prices Mr. Ehrhart, a plastorer by occupation, makes the following statement concerning his recent suffering and the prompt relief given him by Dr. Byers: "My trouble came on about one year ago," says Mr. Ehrhart, "with neuralgic pain over the eyes. My nostrils would clog up, first on one side and then the other, and during the night there was a continued deponing of mucus range from $10 50 up to $35. Wherever your taste leads we promise a saving of about 50 per cent-quite an item in your expense account.

We want every mother whose attention may be attracted by this ad. to examine our assortment of Child:en's Cloth Reefers. They come in sizes 4 to 14 years, and are jauntily trimmed with brass buttons, anchors and gold cords. Prices are from $1 15, $1 25, $1 45, $1 75, $1 95 and upward. All the fashionable shades-Navy, Tan, Brown, Drab, Gray and Black.

WILL BE CONTINUED UNTIL TO-NIGHT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

should not be allowed to stand," Mr. Carna-han went on. "It was filed for the purpose of attacking certain individuals and corporations, and was not filed by the plaintiff as a taxpayer or in his interest." Johns McCleave, representing Mr. How-ard, stated that "the bill is that of a taxpayer of Pennsylvania, a State represented in the Senate by a man, if not of a silver tongue, of the silver pool. It is filed by a citizen of the State, not of Delaware, as has been stated. Then he went on to say: Deen stated. Then he went on to say: The sinking fund tax should be applied solely to the purchase of sonds. It is alleged that the city collects $500,000 annually and appropriates it to the sinking fund, and that the fund has an additional income of $400,000. On January 1, 1890, there was over $1,000,000 lying in the city depositories uninvested. In 1883 there was an act passed requiring that ordinances should be passed for sinking funds and the money should be used in the purchase of city bonds.

In Pittsburg no attention was paid to this act until 1888 when an ordinance was passed and The Controller yesterday completed a rethe Controller was authorized to make investments under the direction of the Finance Com ments under the direction of the Finance Com-mittee. The ordinance was passed for the par-ticular purpose of allowing the Freehold Bank to become a city depository, and it did become a city depository shortly after. The Controller was then forbidden to purchase unless at an in-terest of 3½ per cent. This was for the purpose of allowing these banks the use of the money for self gain, and that has been followed out. This und increased at the rate of £250,000 per year, and is being used for investments by banks. The action on the part of the Finance Committee was corrupt, and this the bill filed tries to overcome. What is wanted are trustees for the investment of the fund, and the court has the right of jurisdiction in the matter. Mr. McCleave here quoted a number of week was due to large gold shipments Feb-ruary 14, the first day of the week for which of the fiscal year, ending January 31, 1891. He was not pleased to find on footing up the totals for the various bureaus of the city government that almost every one had entirely used up its appropriation, and that consequently there would be less than $2,000 that would go over into the sinking fund. The previous years the yield to the sinking fund has been much larger than this, but while surprised that the amount is so small this year the Controller blames nobody, as says the bureaus simply figured close, Mr. McCleave here quoted a number of cases as far back as 1816 to show that the and used nearly all they received. The Fire Bureau, for instance, turned in a balance of courts had the power. Continuing, he said SI 44 this year that had been unerpended that there was nothing on the stabutes that could stop the city of Pittsburg from putfrom its appropriation. From some sources the balances were considerably larger, while ting its hand into this fund and using it for in others the appropriation had been exany purpose, just as had been done before. It was the duty of the Court to remove un-fit and incompetent trustees. coeded.

interfere, but it cannot annul the powers vested in Councils. The depositing of the sinking fund in the city depositories is a legal contract. The question is, how far the Court can go in inquiring into the motive of Councils in pass inquiring into the motive of Councils in pass-ing legislation. A mere naked allegation of fraud cannot stop this. The charge of mistrust shows a total misapprehension of the sinking fund operations in the city. There is nothing in the law which in any manner places the dis-posal of the sinking fund outside City Councils, and yet the Court is asked to appoint a com-mission for the investment of this fund, and Courcils is not given an opportunity to be heard.

Wheat has advanced slightly on the continued demand for cash wheat, on the reported shortage in and renewed demand from France, a belief that the United Kingdom will have to buy more freely soon, and the evidently small supplies available for expert from the Atlantic coast. It is now evident that official data as to consumption of wheat per capita and reserves, as well as the size of the last crop, will have to be re-modeled. We are still shipping wheat from Atlantic ports, while it is demon-strated, with official data, that we have no wheat at the East to export. As reported to Bradstreet's this week, exports of wheat (and flour), both coasts, amounted to 1,684,240 bushels, cousts, against 2,300,725 bushels in a like week last year, and 2,086,879 bushels last week. In the form of wheat, Atlantic ports shipped 325,000 bushels this week, against 600,000 bushels from the Pacific coast, but of flour, reduced to equivalent bushels of wheat, 566,000 bushels went from the East and 189,000 bushels from the West. the Cardinal at the Quebeo Laval Uni-versity and his followers being opposed to Sir John, while the Monseigneurs, of Three Dullness Rules in the Dominion.

Dullness pervades almost all lines of generat trade throughout the Canadian Do-minion, and is likely to do so until after the elections. Commercial travelers have been called in. Opening of navigation will improve business some. Manitoba wheat is in good export demand. The Dominion date is 426, against 390 last year.

E. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: There is not much change in the condition of trade, but there is a little more dullness at the South and in the Northwest, with a little more stringency in money markets, and complaint about slowness of collections. In general business is still hesitating. The In general burners in modulatedly the partial loss of crops, which has left a great many farmers without means for the usual purchases. At the same time the collapse of the real estate boom which so widely inflated prices throughout the West and South has affected business more than has yet been realized.

Cotton Farmers Sorely Disappointed.

To this influence is added at the South the extremely low price of cotton, which affects farmers the more because so many of them tried, by holding back their crop, to force a higher level of prices, Collections are slow at St. Louis, Denver and Omaha; easy and prompt in drygoods, but not so prompt as before in clothing and boots and shoes at Chicago; shout average at Kansas City, and satisfactory at St. Paul, but somewhat slow at Detroit, while at Cleveland much good commercial paper is renewed, and quite a proportion of country merchants are sending notes instead of money. At Philadelphia there are toler-ably good collections in clothing and dryably good collections in clothing and dry-goods, but poor in jewelry, and extremely Syrup the best remedy for their children. poor in paints.

The money markets, though still gener-ally called easy, give signs of steady approach to stringency and at Omaha money is quite close; at Milwaukee in active demand, and at Cleveland rather stringent, much being locked in iron ore. Surely the law must not stand idly by until the money is being wasted before action is taken, and when it is clearly shown that they are using the money for corrupt practice and against the wishes of the taxpayers. The act of 1883 specifically states that the money shall be used for the purchase of bonds, and that the Controller shall use it, not by the discretion of a committee composed partially of convicted criminals and receivers of stolen goods. What the bill asks is the safe keeping of this fund and the restoration of what has been lost by mismanagement. As to the conspiracy on the part of the banks, that is proved by the giving of the funds to the banks for investment, instead of the city getting the benefits. Their answer of having no legal right because the bill is for the purpose of harassing certain parties and cor-porations was an unlooked for confession that some persons or corporations are being benefited by the city's sinking funds, and is additional reason for the appointment of a commission. After hearing Mr. McCleave an adjournment was made until 9 o'clock this morning, when D. T. Watson and City Attorney Moreland will close the argument in behalf of the city.
