The six h annual parade of the order was a semonstration of which any organization might well be proud. It has been stated that the Juniors covered themselves with honor and glery Monday. It is sufficient if they have added bonor to their fair name, without any of the glery. The time has come when we should lay aside all aspirations for notoriety and strive with greater energy to carry out the principles upon which the order is based.

American. Of course, this does not apply to all the Mechanics who were not in line, for there were those who could not get away from their employment on Menday, but it is a notorious fact that there were hundreds on the sidewalks who might have been in line, and the greater shame is theirs.

A call has been issued for a meeting in the american office on Saturday evening March El, for the purpose of arranging for the trip to Cleveland to attend the National Council. As toe brothers in Cleveland have commenced some time ago to prepare for the reception and entertainment of the visitors, the local members should put forth every effort to make the delegation as large as possible. Let every Junior who can go begin to prepare now, and let us have 10,000 men in the parade to take place during the session. We in Western Pennsylvania know the value of public demonstrations. Then why not give our Western levelbren a lift?

FAR-SERING people are mostly successful. Their perception of opportunities when others see nothing is the secret of their success. This is why you see so many of this class of people patronizing the old and wellestablished drug house of Jos. Fleming & Son, 412 Market street. They not only get just what they want fresh, clean and good, but they also get it at a price that prompts them to always go to Fleming's with their prescriptions or any item they may have on their lists in the way of drugs, per umes, sponges, paints, wines and liquors, etc., etc. It pays to buy at Fleming's.

Real Estate Moving in the East End

Local Capitalists Beginning to Look Favorably on Lands and Houses.

HOW AN EXPERT SEES THE MARKET

A number of important transactions in real estate in the East End during the week denotes an active movement out there. Yesterday the McDevitt property, corner o Forbes street and Craft avenue, Fourteenth ward, changed ownership, the purchaser being a prominent fire-brick manufacturer. The lot, which is unimproved, has a frontage of 279 feet on Craft avenue. It is understood the price was $33,000, or about $120 a foot front.

Another sale which came to the surface yesterday was that of the Charles Friel residence property on North Highland avenue, near Rippy street, consisting of a brick dwelling with lot 67x178. James Haymaker was the purchaser at $11,000. He will improve and occupy it bimself.

Northside Deals. Mr. George Rolshouse, the oil man, has purchased 150 feet front of the Peter Evans estate, on Perryaville avenue, just beyond Charles street, for which he paid $15,000, being at the rate of $100 a foot front. The improvements rate of $100 a foot front. The improvements are unimportant. This elevates the standard of value on that thoroughfare. He has also purchased seven acres near Perrysville avenve, adjoining Jacob Burn's Three Mile House, for $16,000. The land is on a hill side and is quite steep in places. The same gentleman has made several other investments in this locality within a short time. He seems to have large faith in the future of the hill district on the Northside.

Real estate being one of the most important interests of the city—the backbone of its material development—reliable information concerning its condition and prospects is of special value to the public. With a view to enabling readers of THE DISPATCH to think and act intelligently in acquiring or disposing of property, Mr. D. P. Biack, of Black & Baird, was yesterday asked for an opinion, and he replied:
"I think the market although not as flattering, perhaps, as at the same time last year, I ing perhaps, as at the same time last year, is in a substantial and healthy condition. The inquiry for property is principally by those who wish to use it for their own purposes, and are paying all, or nearly all, cash. The specuwho wish to use it for their own purposes, and are paying all, or nearly all, cash. The speculative element that has produced panics and distress in many Western cities and towns, is almost lost sight of here. The fact that most of the purchases being made are for use is seen in the large increase in rental for business houses. Never in the history of Pittsburg has this class of property been so scarce. This condition of things will certainly stimulate building in the lower part of the city, as business must have more room. The return to coal as fuel has a tendency to drive the residence population in the downtown and manufacturing districts to the suburbs. This is very noticeable in the number of Southside and Allepheny people who have lately purchased in the East End.

"The tendency of buyers of real estate is to compare prices with sales already made and with former times. This is not a good criterion. For instance, the growth of cities all over the world has never been equal to that of the present time. Is it not reasonable to suppose that the increase in prices will keep pace with urban development and exceed all former records, just as cities are doing in population."

Capitalists Taking Hold. It is a fact worth remarking that many Pittsburg capitalists have taken quite a fancy to real estate in the last few years, who previously gave it scarce a passing thought. This change of sentiment is fairly illustrated by the large investments in lands and houses by trantain J. J. Vandergrift. Up to within four or five years J. Vandergrift. Up to within four or five years he paid little or no attention to realty. Oil was king to him. Now he is one of the largest holders and builders in the city. Besides owning a large amount of property in the business part of the city, he has important holdings in the East End, consisting, besides a number of vacant lots, of fine dwellings on South Highland, Shady lane and Fifth avenue. The more real estate is studied the better and safer it appears.

Homes for the People. Major A. J. Pentecost proposes to do his part toward supplying the demand for dwellings,

He is making arrangements for the erection of 12 or 15 houses on his Valley View plan, ground for which will be broken as soon as the weather settles. ... The Building Record. During the past week 87 permits were issued, Electric Winds Up Weak and Neglected-Waiting for the Promised Statement -Philadelphia Gas Active on Demand From the East.

Interest in stock trading during the week was largely deveced to Electric, but toward the lose Philadelphia Gas came to the front and claimed recognition as an active interest. Total sales were 5,787 shares, against 7,302 the pre-vious week. Electric sold to the extent of 820 shares, while of Philadelphia Gas 1,160 changed shares, while of Philadelphia Gas 1,60 changed hands. The majority of changes, as compared with the close of the previous Saturday, were small gains.

Electric was dull and weak, both here and in the East, yesterday. There were no orders for it, and no disposition to trade either way. Everybody was waiting for the arrival of Mr. Westinghouse and the appearance of the promised statement. It is thought it will be forthcoming on Monday or early in the week. Confidence in the stock seems to be somewhat shaken, and quite a number of early subscribers to the preferred have sold out, but all this may be changed by the figures which will be presented by the head of the company. There was a good demand in Philadelphia for Philadelphia Gas Company stock, and orders were sent here to buy it. There was no perceptible home inquiry. It closed steady. Several thousand shares of it have been sold here within the last three or four days—nearly all on Eastern account.

Luster closed steady at the best figures of the week, due to the division of the proposed issue of stock, which will be at $10.

Switch and Signal more than held its own during the week, closing at the highest point bid. This was due to the expectation of an early dividend, though upon what ground is not known.

MONEY MARKET.

February's Record Good Enough to Afford Encouragement to Weak-Kneed People. Taking it all in all and making necessary alowances for unfavorable infinences coming over from the old year, February made a good record for business, and closed with a favorable outlook. Yesterday's movements in financial circles were characterized by a fair demand for loans, plenty of cash to meet it, and a good run of counter business, at which depositing was the feature. The last item reflects an excellent condition of general trade. Interest rates ruled steady at 6@7 per cent on all classes of loans.

The prospect of business expansion leads some financiers to anticipate something of a stringency in the money market during the season. There is nothing uncomfortable about this. It is better to have capital employed even to the extent of tightness than be idle and hawked about like common merchandise.

THE WEEK IN OIL Trading Almost Lost to Sight-Fluctuation of the Narrowest Kind.

There was no business in oil yesterday. It was the last day of the March option, Switching to April was done at a cost of about 11/40. For April 78c was bid, with offers at 78/4c.

It was a dull week throughout. There was no trading on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, and but little on Tuesday and Thursday. Fluctuations were narrow. The top for March was 75%c. The market varied but little from this figure.

Refused was unchanged. It closed at the highest point of the week as all the centers of the trade, except Antwerp, where it submitted to a slight concession. McGrew, Wilson & Co., 90 Fourth avenue, quote puts at 76@761/c; calls at 777/@78c.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Petroleum was neg-lected and not a transaction in either cash or options. Brokers bid 75%c for March option at one time, but there were no offers. BRADFORD, Feb. 28.—National Transit Cer-tificates opened at 75½c; closed at 76½c; highest, 76½c; lowest, 75½c; clearances, 296,000 barrole.

OIL CITY. Feb. 28.—National Transit Certificates opened at 75%c; highest, 76%c; closed, 76%c; sales, 25,000 barrels; clear-ances, 52,000 barrels; clear-ters, 162,000 barrels; shipments, 81,023 barrels; runs, 114,846 barrels.

NEW YORK STOCKS. Pacific Mail and Burlington Again Drop, the Latter to the Lowest Point for Ten

Years-The Share Market Otherwise Featureless. NEW YORK, Feb. 28-The stock market was again dull and staguant for the general list, but was relieved from entire monotony by the bear movements in Pacific Mail and Burlington, which, however, monopolized all the interest taken in the dealings. The room was inclined to be bearish upon the expectation of a material description. material decrease in the surplus reserve in the banks, as the statement to-day reflected all the gold which has been exported. The statement, bowever, was something of a disappointment, as the loss was only about half that anticipated, as the loss was only about half that anticipated, and the expected decline did not fellow, although its early publication gave ample opportunity for such a demonstration had it been deemed advisable.

The opening however, was steady, but Burlington was selected for a vigorous assault, considering the extent of the speculation and the pressure actually forced it off ½ per cent to 78%, the lowest price the stock has seen in ten years, and ½ below the lowest point of the November drop. The action of the House in amending the postal subsidy bill was regarded as dangerous to the bill, and Pacific Mail was knocked off after the opening from 38½ to 57, a partial recovery following.

The rest of the market was absolutely devoid of feature, though the Grangers sympathized slightly in the weatness of Burlington. The close was dull and rather heavy generally at insignificant fractions under first prices. The final changes are of no importance, except in Burlington, which is down ½ and Pacific Mail 14.

Railroad bonds were also dull but presented

Railroad bonds were also dull, but presented a firm front, and on a business of only $418,000 a few material advances were scored.

The exports of specie from the port of New York last week amounted to $1,491,260, of which $927,000 was in gold and $5,640,200 silver. The imports of specie during the week amounted to imports of specie during the week amounted to $148,309, of which $142,104 was in gold and 66,-215 silver.

A VERY STRONG FUTURE. PROSPECTS IN BUSINESS DECIDEDLY ENCOURAGING.

The Undertone of Strength Now Apparent Will Certainly Have Its Results-Effect of the Adjournment of Congress-Railroads and Silver.

PRODUCT TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.) NEW YORK, Feb. 28.-In his weekly review of trade Heary Clews says: The causes that have depressed the stock market for the last three weeks still continue in force. The disposition to defer speculation until after the admay. position to defer speculation until after the adjournment of Congress is general and the volume of transactions has fallen to about onethird the average amount. February is usually a dull menth; and whatever improvement the adjournment of Congress may bring is likely to be more or less counteracted by the hardening of the money market that usually occurs in be more or less counteracted by the hardening of the money market that usually occurs in March and culminates in the first week of April. While, therefore, the market is likely to exhibit more spirit after the 4th of March, yet it is not unlikely that we may have to wait until the beginning of April for any really active and well-sustained movement in stocks; aftor which we may expect three or four months of uninterrupted ease in money, with a fair chance for recovery in the prices of securities.

The steadiness with which prices have been maintained during the prevailing excessive duliness is a symptom that deserves attention. It implies the comparative absence of weak spots in the market and the prevaience of a confidence which the "bears" find it prudent to respect. It evidences a sound state of affairs and the expectation of, sooner or later, a higher range of vaites. In my judgment, the unusually depressing influences affecting the market for the last five months have predisposed Wall streat to very fully, perhaps excessively, discount the unfavorable factors in the railroad situation; while the more favorable factors seem not to have received the full consideration they merit. The railroad interest appears to have touched its lowest point of depression about the period of the late panic.

Competition and Granger legislation had then done their worst and the injury arising from the corn crop was estimated at its maximum; and these factors were taken at their full value when the panic level of prices was reached. Since that time, important changes beneficially affecting the railroads have occurred. There can be no doubt that the expenses of operating and management have been reduced under the nressure to which the roads have been subject. The pressure has also discouraged the construction of new roads, with the effect of correspondingly checking the most reckings to the railroad in the Granger States, are beginning to teach legislators that laws which do not afford a fair compensation to the countries of th March and culminates in the first week of bresent surplus of stocks. The foregoing may be recked as among the conditions conducive to a future improvement in securities, the anticipation of which is the main cause of the undertone of strength which the market now arthibite.

the exchanges with the Sub-Treasury showing a loss of $3,260,000, and the interior movement a gain of $600,000. The sum of $600,000 of gold has been exported; but the present supply of sterling exchange is against the probability of shipments being contined.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Strong Tone to the Share Market Suc ceeded by Weakness.

Many pointers for investors are contained in the following telegraphic letter from Watson & Gibson to John M. Oakley & Co.: The public is so wholly disinterested in the The public is so wholly disinterested in the game of speculation that it may be called merely an umpire in the contest between bulls and bears. Numerically bulls invariably exceed the bears, but just new many of the most influential bears are masquerading in bulls' clothing and the bearish sentiment is without leadership. The utterance of new capital from the street is manifested in the bond market which is hopelessly dull. The artificiality of the market for such shares as Union Pacific, At-chison and St. Paul which pay nothing is evi-dent when one thinks of an investment in these dent when one thinks of an investment in these shares at ruling prices.

If the speculative fever were on these shares might go up without reference to intrinsio merit, but no such fever is on or expected. There is no likelihood that the public will invest their capital in the common stock of Western lines as long as good bonds like Erie second mortgage 6 per cent with 12 per cent interest accrued sell at par. The wheat and corn crops of last year were light and they must tell on earnings sooner or later. In January this loss does not show for two reasons, first, because the month of January, and it was a month of snow blockades, and secondly because high priced corn and cats induce early and liberal shipments of live stock.

An expert shipper of hogs informs us that to feed corn at ids present price to hogs would make them cost 40 per cent more than the present price of pork. The probability is that in the latter part of March and early part of April the earnings will more fully reflect the loss in toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then toppage and nices are likely to be lower then the nices are likely to be lower then to a likely to be likely to be lower then the nices are likely and likely to be likely to be likely to be likely to be the earnings will more fully reflect the loss i tonnage and prices are likely to be lower the Pork and cotton are both exceptionally low

Pork and cotton are both exceptionally low, and we believe they are better purchases than anything in the speculative arena. Cotton is 23/ca pound lower than a year ago, and if August cotton, now about $c, breaks below that we would recommend its purchase, or in fact at ruling prices, The crop this year is larger, and supplies at the chief market centers are exceptionally large, but such conditions will right themselves. Shipments will fall off and the visible supply grow smaller.

The substitution of a postal subsidy bill for the shipping bill caused some misapprebension this morning, and Pacific Mail was thrown over and sold down to 37. We expect the bill to become a law, and to benefit Pacific Mail materially.

MARKETS BY WIRE. Lower Grain Markets in the Face of Bullish Cables-Reports of Damage to the French Wheat Crop Repeated-Provisions Depressed. CHICAGO-The cables came easier for wheat from English sources, continental dispatches were bullish in tone and the weather was cold. Under these influences there was a general de-sire to buy wheat when the market opened, and quite a number of transactions were effected at 97% c for May at the first brush. The desire to buy was immediately succeeded by efforts to unload, and weakness took the place of strength. There was nothing in the news of a sustaining character. Cables maintained their strength. There was nothing in the news of a sustaining character. Cables maintained their uniformity regarding crop damage in France, and Buda-Pesth cabled that the weather there had been unfavorable for the wheat plant, and similar conditions had prevailed in Russia, according to a cable dispatch from Odessa. Prices gradually sugged and business lost all its snap. May wheat halted its decline at 90% (20%), There was a reaction which advanced it to 96%, and during an hour or so thereafter trading and prices came almost to a standstill. The closing cables to the board quoted a slight decline in prices at London, Paris and Berlin, and although there was a slight increase of activity in the last few minutes' trading the price was not materially changed.

The corn market opened firm, in sympathy with wheat. The timidity of shorts in corn had considerably abated, however, and local receivers were talking of a freer movement from first hands. On the other hand, the scarcity of No. 2 corn continues, only three of the 194 cars received yesterday having come up to the necessary requirements of quality and condition. The business done was not heavy, and it was largely of a local scalping character. The opening price was the highest of the day, and after a decline in the price of May to 55% (c. it could not again be lifted much more than ½c. Oats kept pace with the other markets, declining ½c. The opening prices were steady, but a weak feeling was apparent, and it was only a short time before the decline began.
