CARROLL LOOMS UP.

The Brooklyn Pugilist Sends a Direct Challenge to Fight Farrell, of This City.

BUSINESS-LIKE REPLY IS GIVEN.

A Check Put Up in Behalf of Ed Smith

Sprinter Boyd Says He Will Bun George Smith-Gen eral Sporting News of the Day.

Now that Pat Farrell has been bold enough to agree to meet Joe McAuliffe, several pugilists are coming to the front wanting to fight him. The latest is Jimmy Carroll, of Brooklyn, who at present is being backed by W. T. Rawlins. The latter genfleman sent the following communication to this paper yesterday: To the Sporting Editor of the Dispatch:

"KIND SIR-I read your paper with great interest, as on sporting matters it is exceedingly reliable. At present I have two pugilists in my keeping, viz.: Jimmy Carroll, of Brooklyn, and Jack Fallon, the Brooklyn strong boy. I notice that Pat Farrell, of your city, is getting great advertising in the newspapers at present, and I want you to try and arrange for me a match between Carroll and Farrell. I will back Carroll to fight Farrell at catch weight for $1,000 or $5,000 a side, under London prize ring rules, either in the East or the West. Kindly let me know if a match can be made."

The letter is dated Hagerstown, Md., and it was shown to John J. Quinn, Farrell's backer. In reply Mr. Quinn said: "Why, Farrell has been challenging Carrell for a long time, and now that our man is matched it seems late for Carroll to reply. But Farrell will fight Carroll, no matter whether he (Farrell) wins the Mc-Autiffe affair or not. I don't know what to say about the London rules at present. Farreli's challenge was to fight before a club, and no club will agree to London rules. If Carroll does not want to wait for a match until Farrell has met McAuliffe Ed Smith will fight Carroll cither at 158 sounds or eatch-weight for a stake or a purse. If Mr. Rawlins is anxious to have his man matched we will accommodate him as soon as he likes."

soon as helikes."

Mr. Quinn, to show that business is meant, also put up a check for $500 with the sporting editor of this paper as a guarantee that Ed Smith will fight Jim Hall or any 155-nound man in the country before any responsible club that will offer a satisfactory purse. In addition to this Mr. Quinn wrote Hall yesterday, and the letter was to the following effect: Smith will fight Hall at 158 pounds, give or take two pounds, before the California Club, and will deposit $500 with the club as a guarantee that he will fight. Hall can suit himselt as to dividing the purse or allowing the winner to take viding the purse or allowing the winner to take all. In addition to this Smith will make an ide bet on the result.

The above conditions are certainly plain and fair, and the probability is that Smith will secure a match shortly. Certainly he is eager to meet Hall. It is understood that President Fulda, of the California Club, has wired Carroll, asking him if he will meet Hall. If these men are matched Smith will fight either of them before their contest, or he will fight the winner. In the meantime Farrell can be matched to fight Carroll to a finish after the former's contest with McAuliffe.

I don't hesitate to say that O'Conner is the most useful catcher in the profession. Why, he almost plays half of the infield. He is, indeed, a great player and a rattling hitter."

President O'Neill hadn't much to say. He was of owinion that some kind of request will be made by the Association to the League magnates at New York. "But," said Mr. O'Neill. nates at New York. "But," said Mr. O'Neill,

Both Sides Were Fully Represented and Both Were Firm.

LIVE NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, March 2 .- It only required little over an hour this afternoon for the miners' committee and the operators to reach a conclusion, and there is still no settlement of the coke strike. -

The coke companies of the region were represented by General Manager Lynch, of the Frick Company; J. M. Schoonmaker, of the Schoonmaker Company; Morris Ramsay, of the Southwest Company; John McFadyen, of the Hostetter Company; J. R. Stauffer, of Stauffer & Co.; A. S. Overholt, of Overholt & Co., and Robert Hogsett, an independent producer. There were many operators absent, among whom was Mr. Brenen, general superintendent of the McClure works, who was detained by the death of a relative.

The United Mine Workers were represented by their full scale committee, and Mr. Keegan, of the miners, presided. At the very outset the miners stated that they would submit to no reduction, and it then became evident that no action toward a settlement would be taken.

The Present Situation Discussed. Though both sides refused to recede from their former position, the present situation was fully discussed. The operators stated they would not make a settlement on any other basis than that of a 10 per cent reduction, This caused a commotion among the labor repre-sentatives, and the proposition was unconditionally refused. The operators produced argu-ments to justify the offer, but the miners would ments to justify the offer, but the miners would not hear to them. At the conclusion of the conference Secretary P. McBryde said the impression had gone abroad that there was only a friendly strike on in this region. Many of the operators had argued that they closed their works down merely to stiffen the trade, but to day they had been obliged to show their hand, and instead of attempting to improve the market they merely wanted to force their men to accept a 10 per centreduction. He said it was now a strike against this unreasonable demand, and they would do everything to help the men to win.

ses Who Saw the Shooting of New Orleans' Police Chief. NEW ORLEANS, March 2 .- The Italian Politz only made a partial statement in the Henness ey murder trial to-day saying principally what he could tell, but his words and manner intimated that he desired a promise that he would not be punished. He is said to claim that he was not present at the shooting, but knew of the conspiracy and the causes that led to it. The men who did the shooting were only tools, real leaders and instigators not appearing on the scene. He did not give the names of the leaders, but is said to have implicated some of the accused and some Italians not yet arrested as participants. Politz is to-night confined in a separate part of the prison and in a separate dock from the others, at his own request. The witnesses to-night were Mary Wheeler, a witnesses to-night were Mary colored woman residing at the corne where the killing took place, wh saw a man at the corner in an oil cloth coat firing a gun across the street; also a negro named James Poole who went out Girod street half a square behind the chief and plainly saw the killing. He could not identify the parties under the shed, but he saw Marchesi jump into the street and fire at Hennessey.

FATHER DEAD, MOTHER CRAZY. The Sad Story of an English Family Who

Emigrated to Utah. NEW YORK, March 2.-John Thomas came from Wales to America four years ago with his wife Annie and two children. In Sait Lake City he settled and worked in an iron foundry. He lost his place, it is alleged, because he would not become a Mormon. He became disheartened and started to return to Wales with the wife and children. On the way he became crazed and jumped from the train, being instantly killed. The fatherless family pursued their way. To-night the mother and little ones reached New York and at a down-town hotel the mother's reason gave way, and smothering a babe in her bosom was carried raving to hospital. The children, with $300 of their parents' savings, are here in stronge hands. They were to have sailed Wednes.

Messas. Foster Milburn & Co.

Dear Sirs: — I write that you may know the good I have received from the BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. I am now on the ninth bottle of your wonderful Bitters, and must confess I have received prompt cure of a long standing disease—SCROFULA. I have used dollar after dollars' worth of medicines and received no relief, but the third bottle of B. B. I found great rest. I have also used three bottles of Burdock Pills; they are the best medicine I ever took. I cannot praise them too highly. I do owe my whole life to them and can recommend them to every living soul that is afflicted with that dreadful disease, SCROF-ULA. I was afflicted with lumps as large as an egg in my right side and large lumps on my throat, and my limbs were covered with a burning and itching rash, which very greatly annoyed me when near the warm stove. I had spent a great deal of money trying to get relief, and consulted the best medical treatment in the State, but all in vain, they did me no good whatever, and I had shout given up when I thought I would try your medicines, and, thank God, they have cured me. I am a well woman to-day. Your ever true friend and well wisher, MESSRS. FOSTER MILBURN & Co. Your ever true friend and well wisher,

THE BIRTHDAY OF A STATE.

Vermont to Celebrate Its Hundredth Anniversary on Wednesday.

I am a well woman to-day.

On Wednesday the 100th birthday of a State will be celebrated for the first time in this country, the little Commonwealth of Vermont having been admitted to the Union of the original 13 on March 4, 1791, The day is worthy of more attention than it will probably receive, for it has a double historical importance. The admission of Vermont as a State was the last striking event in the formative period of the Government, following clo adoption of the Constitution and the meeting of the first Congress, and being intimately related to the jealousies developed in the Revolutionary struggle. It was at the same time the first striking event in the period of amazingly rapid development which followed the closer union of the col-onies. The admission of Vermont, and of Kentucky on June 1, 1792, gave general notice to an incredulous world that the new country was growing last. Comparing the gigantic New York of today with its diminutive Eastern neighbor, it seems difficult to realize that Vermont's independence was so long and bitterly opposed by the early Governors and people of the former. The famous squabble over the boundary line between New York and New Hampshire, which lasted 40 years and near-ly led to bloody warfare, was the only thing which kept Vermont out of the original Co

logial Union. The African Diamond King. The new premier of Cape Colony, Cecil Rhodes, is attracting marked attention in England, where he is at present on a business visit. His career in South Africa, which has been one of the most romantie and adventurous, has placed him in the foremost rank of Anglo-African notability. Within a few years he has achieved the reputation of a statesman; the title of "Th Diamond King," and is generally accepted as the leader of men in Africa. He is one of those who believe in settling the Mashonaland troubles with the natives in a peaceful manner, and if the latter are not disposed that way to use force, and he talks like a man who would be abundantly able to bring about an arrangement either way. In appearance he is much older looking than he really is, and physically seems the embodiment of quiet force. He is not prone to

As it is definitely known now that our forests are disappearing with dangerous rapidity, is it not high time that something practical be done to prevent their entire obliteration? As a check-the method cannot be seriously meant to restore them-on the depletion of the tree-growths, Arbor Day has been instituted in a number of States, the children of the schools usually supplying and planting the young trees. This is a good idea and should be fostered, but, would it not be better and more just if the timber cutters were compelled by law to plant at least one or more trees for each one they destroy, and not depend practically on the efforts of poor little children for the preservation of our forests and their benefits.

pople, is always fragrant with the odor of musk, and has been so for hundreds of years, ever since it was rebuilt in the ninth century, the curious part of it being that nothing is done to keep it perfumed. The solution to the seeming mystery lies in the fact that when it was built, over 1,000 years ago, the stones and bricks were laid in mortar mixed with a solution of musk.

that many incidents of an individual's history, no matter how interesting they may be, are not given the light until after death. It is only now becoming known that the late King of Holland's trouble and separation from his first consort, Sophia, was caused mainly by the latter's penchant for musk, which she used in such quantities that her apartments fairly recked with it. Old Wilhelm did not take kindly to the seent at all, in fact, he despised it, hence the quarrel. Sophia does not seem to have been particularly level headed, or she would have introduced a "dutch-cheese" into the royal chambers which would have brought the old King back to his first love with a rush, and they would never again
