COMPLETE SOUTHERN CONTRACTS. Enmored Trouble at Duquesne Over a

Committeeman's Discharge. NEWS NOTES FROM THE FIELD OF LABOR

By a vote of 14 to 10 the river operators yeswirday agreed to grant the increase of half a cent per bushel which the miners struck for on New Year's Eve, and in consequence of which the district has been tdle ever since. Work will be resumed on Monday, and much activity will prevail along the line, to make up for the nine weeks' loss of time. The concession has been drawn from the operators through sheer force of circumstances, and it will be so costly to them that there is no chance of the rate continuing beyond the close of the present boating stage, The reasons given by operators for retreating from their position are two fold, namely, the necessity of completing contracts in the Southern markets, and the competition of Kanawha operators. The halt cent advance will cost them about $250,000 in the next two mouths, as they will be unable to add the increased cost to the selling price. Who Has to Bear the Burden,

"The hardship of the matter is," said Captain Burton, "that the three-quarters of a cent advance which we will now have to pay -for outside labor will have to be advanced in proportion to the rate for mining-canno e tacked on to the consumer, and we shall have to bear it ourselves. Southern buyers will purchase here as long as our prices are near the Kanawha, and as those operators have no occasion to increase their rates their competition confines us to present rates. We thus can't help ourselves. We had to grant the half cent because the boating stage is rapidly nearing a close, and we are compelled to ship south on time or lose our trade altogether. We had no option

The result of the matter is that whatever profit lay in the business heretofore will be turned from the pockets of the operators into those of the miners. The diggers will get a half cent in each of the four pools and the corresponding increase in the wages of the outside men brings up the increased cost per bushel to three-quarters of a cent. The mining rates will be 3½ cents in the First, Second and Third pools, and 3 cents in the fourth pool. The loss to the miners and operators during the term of idleness based on an output of 15,000,000 bushels in that time would be as follows: Five thousand diggers lost $450,000, based on a digging price of 3 cents or an average loss per week to each man of $10.

The Loss to the Operators. computation of the loss of the operators is difficult to make. As well as losing the ofit on the turnover of $1,000,000 worth of roal, they had wear and tear of plants to provide for, repair of boats, etc., and a more or less extensive pay roll of necessary em-ployes during the time, as well as wharf rents, etc. That operators are just about giving away their profits can be seen from the following figures on a barge load. The figures were obtained at the office of a leading operator and speak for themselves:

lauger's expenses at Cincinnati.

Net cost of load in Cincinnati..... or 6.05 cents per bushel.

Other items of expense not enumerated above are $50 a year for landing in Pittsburg; pumping, $200 a month, etc. With coal seiling at 61/2 cents in Cincin-nati, it is easy to see that the operators have no inducements to pay the increased Marsh McDonald, one of the river coal erators, left for Cincinnati last evening He was very much opposed, he said, to granting the miners the advance, but they needed coal, and it was the only way to get it. On the problem of what the coal men had lost during the strike he was not prepared to speak. He thinks it can be made up as the stocks on the market are low and the prices will be better.

RUMORED TROUBLE AHEAD.

The Discharge of Men at the Duquesne Mill May Lead to Difficulties.

There were rumors yesterday of trouble as likely to arise at Duquesne, because of the | Hall on April 9, his subject being "Nuns, Andischarge of some of the men for asserting themselves on behalf of their lodge of the | hood." The lecture will be under the auspices Amalgamated Association, recently. The lodge was organized about three weeks ago, and a few days since a committee from the mill called at the Carnegie Association offices and talked about union prices. It is said they were given no satisfaction, and that on return to Duquesne the Chairman of the committee, Reed, was discharged.

At Amalgamated headquarters yesterday the officials had nothing to say on the mat-They understood that there was some little difficulty, but what it was they would not divulge. The Duquesne mill has not been known as a union mill, and though the association has initiated a lodge there nothing so far has been done to bringing the practice of operation up to the standard of other Amalgamated mills. It is understood that a meeting was held last night to con sider matters.

UNDERSTANDING REACHED

Between the Brewers' Union and the Team sters' Assembly at Last.

Statements published regarding a controversy between the Brewers' Union and Teamsters' Assembly 1577, of the Knights, leave this morning for Franklin to visit are misleading. It is sought to make it appear that the matter is a reopening of old sores between the Federation and Knights.

This is not so. The Worthy Foreman of the cises will be held in the chapel of the school.

"The Brewers' Union, which organized here about a year and a half ago, never sought to bring in the drivers until after the latter had themselves been organized. The only question before the Executive Board of the union is whether we shall work hand in hand. The matter rests there. They have to give us moral support on our promising to do the same.

DISLIKE THE TAXATION.

The Late Knights Painters Reported as Objecting to the Federation Dues.

When Local Union 197, of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, concluded their meeting on Thursday there was not much harmony among the members. This union is the aid Knights of Labor Assembly of Painters which lately gave up its charter and went over to the Federation.

The cause of the quanimity on Thursday was on account of the dues. The members are now awaking to the fact that it costs more to be a Federation man than a Knight, and hence the kick. The dues in the latter are 25 cents as against 40 in the former, and some of the members are wishing themselves back in the order again.

Car Inspectors Help a Railroader's Family and Arrange for the Convention. Lodge No. 1, of the Car Inspector's Protective Association, met last night at Knights of St. George Hall, Penn avenue, H. W. Thomas presided and Ross H. Walker acted as Secretary. Louis H. Walker and William C. Fisher were elected delegates to the National Convention of Car Inspectors at Columbus on April 15, and continues in session during the week.

Arrangements were made for a benefit ball to take place on April 16 at Knights of St. George Hall. Over $100 was raised at the meeting to benefit the wife and family of James Conner, a railroad employe, who was killed a short time since while on duty. Reports were read, showing the lodge to be in good condition and having a membership of 125, 5 of whom were admitted at the meet-

IRON MEN TIRED WAITING.

Little Assurance Given That Freight Rates Will Be Reduced.

The question of reducing iron rates from this territory has been referred back to the Central Traffic Association. Local freight agents will guarantee nothing, but they seem to think that a slight cut will be made after awhile, when the iron men won't care whether it is made or not.

The shipments from this territory are behind the figures of last year. There is some freight moving in small lots, but the through traffic, like the far West passenger business, is very dull. The Western people are now wrestling with the tail end of the money stringency, and are not making heavy contracts or purchases.

NEW LOCAL ORGANIZED.

Master Workman Taking Members Into the Fold at Kittanning.

Master Workman Evans, of District 3, was at Kittanning yesterday organizing a new mixed local of the Knights. Mr. Britton, of District Assembly 69, Connecticut,

This is the second local organized in the district, the first (the potters) having now a membership of 300. The popularity of the order seems to be on the increase in Kittan-

Industrial Notes.

In view of the discontent which prevails among the carpenters, owing to the agitation by the radical wing of the eight-hour day, it is said there is a possibility of a split occurring, and a local of the Knights being formed. It is not generally known that the Knights of Labor have four members in the Allegheny Common Council and two in the Select. Rumor has it that the order intends to use them shortly for a progressive social purpose. If the heavy tolls paid to the Navigation Company were done away with and the Obio put in navigable order, Pittsburg river coal operators could pay high wages for digging, sbip more coal, and leave Kanawha competition away behind in the Southern markets.

THE NEWS OF SOCIETY.

What of Most Interest Is Going on in Pittsburg and Vicinity-The Songs of the World Sung at the Smithfield Street M. E. Church. Philip Phillips and his son gave one of their unique and enjoyable entertainments last evening at the Smithfield Street M. E. "Around the World in a Chariot of Song," was the title given the evening's amusement.

They rendered songs of all nationalities in a most charming manner. With each there was an explanation of the origin of the country to which it belonged, and also of its meaning to those who sing it. There was a large audience, and the generous applause told how much the preferrance was enjayed.

pared by Organist Wales for the ferty-third free organ recital in Carnegie Hall this after noon. Beside the usual list of operatic pot pourris, waltzes, minuets and gavottes, some pourris, walizes minuets and gavottes, some novelties are to be given. Notable among the selections are one from liTrovatore and the immous Bocherini minuet. John, C. Sweitzer will sing two new songs for the tenor voice, which will prove agreeable. Bert Kirk will play a cornet solo, "Then You'll Remember Me," and with Miss Annie Finney, a punil of T. F. Kirk, Jr., will play a duet. Miss Finney will also play as a cornet solo Mattel's charming song, "None Ver."

At the forty-fourth free organ recitel next week Mrs. James E. Porter, the favorite soprano, will bid adien musically to the two cities.

LAUGH AT THE RUMOR

The Local Traction People Ridicule a Report That They Were

ANXIOUS TO BE CONSOLIDATED.

They Deny Having Any Interest in Senator Krause's Little Bill.

GOSSIP OF RAPID TRANSIT CIRCLES

The Duquesne traction people deny the rumor that the merger and consolidation bill for the motor lines, introduced Thursday in the Senate, by Senator Krause, of Philadelphia, was to effect a union of the Pittsburg and Duquesne traction interests, Pittsburg Traction Company officials also ridicule the rumor. Senator Flinn, when spoken to about the matter yesterday, said: "I know nothing about it, and never heard of the bill until yesterday, when it was introduced by the Philadelphia Senator. As far as I know, the Duquesne Company has no idea of either selling outor combining with the Pittsburg Traction Company. The bill has nothing to do with Pittsburg affairs, and there is no foundation for the rumor."

The Duquesne Company is putting forth every effort to overcome the set-back given it by the burning of its power house at Ben Venue. Superintendent Rice, of the Duquesne Company, said yesterday:

"The power house was not so seriously damaged as at first thought. By April 1 it will be thoroughly repaired. Unless some unforseen obstacle should arise the road will be in full operation before May." The Pleasant Valley Company has several improvements to be made during the summer, among which are the completion of the California avenue and Troy Hill branches, the former to be four miles long and the lat-ter two miles. As soon as the weather permits work on these extensions will be started.

"During the summer," said President Henry yesterday, "we will make prepara-tions for putting the old style stoves in our cars for next winter's use. The subject of stoves is a perplexing one for street car people. During the past winter we used a new stove, fired from the outside, with a pipe running up through the car. It proved a failure, however, and unless somebody should invent a better manner of heat-ing cars we will go back to the old-fashioned inside stoves."

MEXICO'S NOVEL EXHIBIT

The Queen Isabella Association Will Go to Pieces at Chicago. CHICAGO, March 6 .- Mexico will be at the World's Fair with a novel display. The plans have been approved by the Mexican Government and Lieutenant A. C. Baker, United States Commissioner to Mexico. The exhibit will be an artificial hill of iron, covered with terraced soil, surrounded by a fac simile of the castle of Chaupaultepec, and it will show the progress of Mexico from the time of the Aztecs. Temples, images and like scenes will be a feature of the exhibit, which is at the base of the hill.

The Queen Isabella Association, which intended to erect a pavilion on the World's Fair ground for the use of the women of the world, has withdrawn its application for space. There has been considerable friction between the Association and the Women' Board of Managers of the World's Fair, and as the application of the Isabella Association was referred to the Woman's Board the Isabellas decided not to take the chances of rejection of it. The Isabella Association fixed a fee of $1 for membership, and has collected about $7,000, which, it is understood, will be returned to those who paid the
