Chanancy M. Dewey Happy Because He Is Not a Mugwump.

LODGE PROUD OF HIS REPUBLICANISM

NEW YORK, March 6.—Hon. Chanancy M. Dewey presided to-night at a dinner given by the Federal Club. Mr. Dewey's remarks opened the talk, and after him came Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. Henry Lodge, Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, General S. L. Woodford and Judge Aronox. Major William McKinley sent a telegram saying it was quite uncertain about his coming, and he was kept away by the illness of his wife. Letters of regret were also received from Secretary James G. Blaine, Vice President Morton, Postmaster General Wainmanaker and Secretaries Proctor, Noble and Tracy.

When cigar smoke began floating on the air, Mr. Dewey said: "I am here to-night much to my surprise. The coroner's jury holds me responsible for all accidents that happen on the railroad. Dismissing the act of corporate officer, however, we will come down to the business of the evening. We are here to-night to inaugurate a new era. There are no mugwumps to divide our faith in this world or the next. We are present to give greeting to the Republican leaders in the National Congress. We welcome Reed. We welcome Lodge. We regret McKinley is not here.

Republicans Always Aggressive.

"A Republican properly constituted has nothing to defend. The Republican party has always been its victims by being aggressive. The bill carrying out the principles of our party, which will put the American flag on sea, becomes in the language a subsidiary job. Mr. Dewey here referred in a humorous way to the caricatures of President Harrison and Speaker Reed in the weekly papers. He then spoke of the recent election and the victory of the Republican party in the passing of the subsidy bill and the defeating of the silver bill, and concluding, said: "We are happy in the fact that the party of Garfield and Blaine, of Lincoln and Grant is the party of McKinley and Reed."

Mr. Dewey then proposed the health of the President of the United States, the toast being drunk standing and in silence.

Mr. Dewey then introduced Speaker Reed, who was received with great applause. He said: "I trust that I appreciate as much as any other man the advantage of having good friends. Half of the struggle in it is to get a hearing. When Christopher Columbus discovered America it took him three months, but it took him half his life to get a hearing on his discovery."

Enemies as Free Advertisements.

Advertisement is the free prerequisite to the sale of goods and your best advertisers are your enemies. Your friends sometimes go to sleep, your enemies never do. The general public do not pay much attention to the advertisement but proceed to examine the goods. This Congress has been an extensive advertiser, and the public will soon proceed to examine what has been done. Whenever this country awakens to the fact that the doctrine of human liberty must prevail from one end to the other then justice will be done and an honest law enforced an honest court and an honest law.

He has been in bed since his illness, and answered the hundreds of congratulatory telegrams that poured in from all quarters. The Premier has utterly lost his voice, but expects to be all right again in a few days. In an interview to-day he estimated his majority at between 33 and 35.

A CONVICTED MURDERER SUICIDES.

He Takes His Own Life Rather Than Be Executed.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

KOHOKA, Mo., March 6.—Dan Porter, the Sandhook Islander sentenced to be executed at Quincy, Ill., March 20, for the murder of Ed Smith in that city last June, who escaped from the Adams county jail last Sunday, was captured in South Clark county to-day by three young farmers who had been in the habit of visiting Sir Charles Dilke, recalling his promise not to return to public life till his character was cleared, analyzing the Dilke pamphlet as an addition to his own, and retiring to his home, and invoking a combination of the Liberals to prevent the re-election of Sir Charles, led disgrace fall upon the cause of Liberalism.

LONDON, March 6.—Mr. Barrett-Coutts has sent the following message to the Dunlop Cable Company, with a request that it be cabled to the papers they supply in America:

My task you state that the report published in your issue of the 2nd inst. is untrue. My Liberal opponents never challenged me to take the only course open to me, and I have done so. AN ACTRESS IN LUCK.

How Roy Douglas Came into the Possession of Her Fortune.

HER DOMESTIC AND STAGE LIFE.

She Is the Granddaughter of an Old Confederate Statesman.

LOOKING AFTER HER OWN INTERESTS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

BROOKLYN, March 6.—Theatrical people, men-about-town and a great many of the everyday folk of Brooklyn and New York were interested in the news that Roy Douglas had come into a fortune of about $200,000. Miss Douglas was an actress. She had been young and pretty, and has a very interesting history, in the making of which during the last three or four years she has come pretty conspicuously before the public. "Roy Douglas" is a stage name. Her own name is Mamie Johnson, and she is known by that name now almost as well as by her theatrical pseudonym. But she is entitled to another by the marriage of Roy Douglas. She comes of a Northern family of reputation and wealth, her grandfather was Jacob Thompson, Secretary of the Interior under President Buchanan and a member of the Cabinet of the Confederate States.

Fortunes for His Granddaughters.

He died in 1855, and left a great part of his fortune in trust with his wife for his two granddaughters, Kate, now Mrs. Kirkman, and Mamie, the "Roy Douglas" of this city. The grandmother died a few years ago, and her will was admitted to probate last Wednesday.

Miss Douglas's share consists of a half interest in a hotel in New York, about $50,000 worth of jewelry and plate and other personal property, and $50,000 invested for her benefit. Miss Douglas has always been liberally supplied with money by her grandmother, and is not a fact, as has been stated, that she has been in want during the past winter. She lives in a cosy, prettily furnished flat up town, and has had ever since her marriage a very comfortable home.

Miss Thompson fell in love with a wealthy young Southern named Montgomery about three years ago. An eloquent speaker, and a man of great social standing, and a separation followed an extremely short and stormy term of married life. The honeymoon was hardly in the past when Mrs. Montgomery disappeared from her husband's house, and for months was lost to all his friends.

Discovered by her husband at a New York Theater one night. He was in the audience, and she was on the stage. He saw her black curls among the chorus girls in the "Black Hussar." A reunion followed a stormy meeting behind the scenes, and a few months of domestic life followed that, but in 1888 Roy Douglas met her on the stage again and played in Robert Mantell's company.

She played with Mantell for some time, and about two years ago retired from the stage. Since then she has lived with her mother, and one way or another, has kept herself pretty conspicuously before the public.

Miss Douglas was not at home yesterday, and it was said she had not been there for two or three days. She knew of the death of her grandmother, and of the prospective fortune of her friends, and she was in the South looking after her interests there.

BROKE UP THE SLIDES.

Society Tobogganists Get Into a Free-For-All Fight.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

ORANGE, March 6.—A scene in which a number of well-known people were involved took place to-night shortly before 10 o'clock at the slides on the Essex County Toboggan Club in West Orange. At the time a number of young people were enjoying hilarious fun on one of the slides when, unexpectedly, harsh words and blows were heard. Then it was discovered that Henry B. Vaughn, a member of the Essex County Club, was engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with several young men.

The fight broke up the slides, and the latter rushed to his assistance, and Mr. Vaughn's son came to his father's rescue.

A little while the scene was lively, and blows rained thick and fast on every hand. Then the managers of the slide interfered and brought the fight to an end. The slides were at once closed for the night. It is said, incidentally, that not using insulting language to the girls, and that Mr. Vaughn's lack of hearing led him into the mistake.

LAST DAYS OF NEWGATE.

London's Famous Old Prison Is Going to Be Razed to the Ground.

The last days of Newgate Prison are at hand. The famous old prison, which has been so famous and infamous in the history of the city of London, is to be razed to the ground, and its site is a piece of ground worth almost its weight in gold—rare to be built into city warehouses. No visitor to London can pass the grimy black walls of Newgate without thinking of one or the other of the famous prisoners who were confined there, and the many stories connected with the edifice. "Barbary" and the doomed hargram, "Oliver Twist" and "Old Fagin," "Jack Sheppard" and "Bishopsgate," "Tom Mowbray" and "Gladstone"—these are some of the names which come naturally to the front in such thoughts.

But take up for a moment a copy of the Newgate Prison, and at once memory can recall 50 or 60 terrible crimes, brimming over with all the wickedness and frailty of humanity, that have had their last scenes and final tragedy in or about the spot. In a few years may become a vast warehouse of silks, muslins, leather and sides of bacon.
