

WAR OF RELIGIONS, Catholics Triumph Over Protestants in East African Affairs.

THE ENGLISH BARRED OUT By the Dominant Party, Who Claim French Protection.

SERIOUS RESULTS MAY FOLLOW The Attempt of England to Reassert Its Authority There.

FRANCE LIKELY TO BE DRAWN INTO IT

(BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.) LONDON, March 11.—The news that the Catholic party in Uganda has triumphed over the Protestant faction has made a sensation here. A telegram from Zanzibar announces that the Catholic influence is completely predominant; that the English now have nothing to say in public affairs, and that the country has been declared to be under the protection of France. This will, of course, affect the claims of Great Britain. France claims territory on Victoria Nyanza, and by agreement between the Germans and British that country has come within the sphere of British influence. But the news excites much regret, for it may be difficult for the British to assert the rights they claim. Letters just received from Uganda say that Mr. Jackson, the agent of the British East African Company, arrived in Uganda last spring. He found the Christians in possession, the Government being divided between the Catholics and Protestants. The heathen party was numerically large, but was subject to the parties in power.

A Civil War Threatened.

The Protestants and Catholics were very jealous of one another and there were prospects of another civil war. The Mohammedans, with Arab traders as leaders, were on the borders of Uganda and Africa. Mr. Jackson offered to protect the Christians and maintain peace if the taxes were levied on the Mohammedans. The Mohammedans would give the King and his chiefs money to maintain their dignity and position. The Protestants were willing to accept the proposal, but the Catholic chiefs objected. Father Lourd and the other Catholic party appeared to want the protection of the British East African Company, and in payment therefor turn over to the company the revenues of the country. Jackson has returned to the coast and the Mohammedans are preparing to leave the country. Jackson has returned to the coast and the Mohammedans are preparing to leave the country. Jackson has returned to the coast and the Mohammedans are preparing to leave the country.

THE CATHOLICS TAKE POSSESSION.

Both parties agreed to abide by the decision of these courts, the question being whether the Mohammedans should be allowed to remain in the British East African Company, and in payment therefor turn over to the company the revenues of the country. Jackson has returned to the coast and the Mohammedans are preparing to leave the country. Jackson has returned to the coast and the Mohammedans are preparing to leave the country. FRANCE—THE FAIR.

PROTEST OF BISHOPS.

AGAINST DILLON AND O'BRIEN MADE PUBLIC BY HARRINGTON. DUBLIN, March 11.—Timothy Harrington has written to the Freeman's Journal concerning his public reference to a letter written by the Irish bishops to the O'Shea trial, and explains that the letter has been in his possession since his return from America, but he hesitated to publish it. The recent declaration, however, of some of the Irish prelates rendered it necessary in his mind to make it public. Mr. Harrington further says that when Dillon and O'Brien started for America the bishops had been hoping for a complete acquittal of them, and invoked him to exercise his authority. The letter is as follows:

No. 4 RUTLAND SQUARE, Dublin, 10th October 1890. At a general meeting of the bishops held here to-day some public questions of great importance were under consideration. I am asked to convey to you the conclusions arrived at by the meeting on two of these questions. The chief object for which the relations which have hitherto generally existed between the clergy and the Irish National Parliamentary party, which must surely be most painful both to the clergy and laity, and might prove a source of serious trouble to the country, is to be removed. It is the duty of the bishops to see that the relations which have hitherto generally existed between the clergy and the Irish National Parliamentary party, which must surely be most painful both to the clergy and laity, and might prove a source of serious trouble to the country, is to be removed.

THE DOG SHOW.

The dog show was continued in the Grand Central Park yesterday, and it was patronized in a way that even surprised the most sanguine member of the club that is promoting it. From the hour in which the risk dog was opened until 10 o'clock last evening the building was densely crowded by ladies, gentlemen and children. And everybody seemed highly delighted at what there was to see. Everything passed off admirably, and the Judges got through their work amid general satisfaction. There was a great disappointment in the Irish setter class, the famous Dick Swirelver was ruled out on account of disease. Zena, the English setter bitch, was also disqualified for the same reason. This was quite unexpected. But notwithstanding the little drawbacks the show was a huge success in fact, so successful was it that another show even on a larger scale than the present is assured.

LONDON, March 11.—When Lord Shrewsbury, annoyed at the receipt of a telegram from Lord Lonsdale informing him for failing to appear for the novel driving match about which so much has been said, withdrew entirely from the contest, Lord Lonsdale decided to drive over the course alone. He did so today and covered the 20 miles in 56 minutes 54 seconds. The stakes which had been forfeited by Lord Shrewsbury's withdrawal from the match, had been previously handed over to charitable institutions by Lord Lonsdale. The conditions of the match will be remembered: the lords should drive one or two horses each for five miles; two horses each for the next five miles; four horses each for the next five miles; and finally five horses each in harness, position each for the last five miles. Lord Lonsdale covered the first half of the course in 26 minutes. His lost 20 seconds owing to the fact that his horse was blown with snow. As the finish, which was accomplished in splendid style, Lord Lonsdale received an ovation from the spectators. He had gathered to see him accomplish his novel feat. The match which had so unfortunate an ending had its origin in a decision as to the best horse to buy for the season. Lord Lonsdale had a pair, and English galloping horses. Both gentlemen later on bought a pair of horses, and finally they were won a sum of about £5,000 for the pleasure of winning stakes which were £100. The Earl of Lonsdale was a member of the match, and a memorable race against time.
