NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Advocated by Master of the State Grange Rhone as Needed Legislation.

THEIR PRINCIPAL OBJECT

Is to Tax Transportation Companies for Local Purposes.

WHY THEY OPPOSE THE ROAD BILL.

Senator Plinn's Advice as to the Pittsburg Street Measures.

[FROM A STAFF COURSESPONDENT.] Ruone, Master of the State Grange and a to accomplish the same end. former Democratic Representative from tax bill, and said that the Grangers are practically a unit in its support. While they plan favored the income tax feature, yet if it was deemed best to strike it out, as Mr. Taggart has stated his willingness to do, the Grangers would not object. Their main object was the taxing of transportation and transmission companies for local purposes.

If that was secured they could afford to drop minor features. The claim that the railroads could not afford to pay the increased taxation provided for by this bill could not be supported. Those which ran through New York and Pennsylvania were taxed for local purposes in the former State, and yet they did not cease operations. For example, the Corning, Cowanesque and Autrim Railroad is 52 miles long, 37 of which runs through Tioga county, in this State, and 15 through New York. How It Is Done in New York.

In three townships through which it posses in New York, it pays over $4,000 for local purposes and is also taxed for county and State purposes. On the 37 miles in Pennsylvania it pays about $390 State tax and not a cent for local purpose. Mr. Rhone said that the Grangers would send to delegations here to work for the boil. Both political parties had pledged them-belies to tax equalization, the Grangers had sent to their memorials and petitions praying for the passage of the Tagnart bill, and now they would leave the matter with the Legisla-

As to the road bill, Mr. Rhone said the angers generally were opposed to it on the sund that it would increase the cost of the mis and take their control away from the al authorises. What the farmers needed a more funds with which to make the roads. was more funds with which to make the roads, but they could not afford to raise them themselves. Pass the tax bill first, and make the corporations contribute to local expenses, and they could then make good roads under the present laws with some slight modifications.

The Grange's Rapidly Increasing. Mr. Rhone, who is serving his fifth term as Master of the State Grange, said the order was increasing with wonderful rapidity. The Farmers' Alliance had not hurt it, and would not, in his opinion, be a permanent organization. The great strength of the Grange lay in charged that it was an ally of the Democrati-party. If that had been true, the whole Re-publican tichet would have been defeated, and an Delamater alone. He thought that if the homblicans were to nominate Giles D. Price, if Eric, for Auditor General, and Mr. Taggart of State Treasurer, it would be a ticket very acceptable to Republican Grangers as both bese gentiemen had their confidence.

Senater Mylin, who has the road bill in Senator Mylin, who has the road bill in charge, on his attention being called to Mr. Phone's objections to that measure, declared them unfounded. The power to elect supervi-sors is vested in the voters of each township, and these supervisors levy the tax, make all contracts and expend at moneys. The only outside supervision is that exercised by the in-spector appointed by the commissioners, and his authority only extends to the contracts made for the permanent improvement of high-ways upon which the Stale appropriation is expended. With the exception of this neces-sary and wholesome provision, the entire con-trol of the roads remain vested in the local au-thorities.

PITTSBURG STREET ACTS.

CURATIVE LEGISLATION THAT SENATOR FLINN ADVOCATES.

Collect the Money Due on Improvement and Pay for Them and Others With Cer-

HARRISBURG, March 17 .- Senator Flinn, speaking to-day of the legislation necessary under the decision of the Supreme Court destroying the Pittsburg street act said that he believed the proper course to be puraned would be the passage of such curative measures for the collection of the money new one on Emprovements as could be enneved under the late decision, and in the meanme to authorize the city to pay for those imtime to sufficient the city to pay for those improvements and all future ones by issuing certificates of incebtedness, bearing six per centimerest during three years but payable in whole or in part any time on ten days' notice. This, he claims, would remove the present uncertainty attending the payment for those improvements. Now, owing to the uncertainty in regard is the natureal, and the consequent in regard to the payment, and the consequent iclays, only contractors who are fluancially strong can afford to take the contracts, and hen only at such high figures as will justify hier taking the risk. Under his play, boorer contractors would be let in, and any of them onld afford to take the work at figures which could afford to take the work at figures which could save the city money. If the city had three years in which to collect ng any great hardship upon property owners. Had there been assessments due at the time of the late financial pavir, many people would have been seriously embarrassed. The certifientes of indebterness would be negotiable, and could easily be converted into cash, and would be readily taken by people with money to invest. The Senator said this plan had been in operation at McKessport for several years, and had worked very satisfactorily.

THE COAL INTERESTS

Protest Against the Bill Imposing a Tax of One Cent a Tou.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] HARRISBURG, March 17. -Representatives of the coal interests appeared before a joint meeting of the Senate Finance and Corporations Committees to night, in opposition to the bill taxing coal 1 cent a ton for the relief of injured miners, and the bill requiring coal to be the powers of checkweighmen. Wm. Elliott. field, argued that no tax for the bene-class should be levied upon any one ct or industry tocated in a limited region

Mr. Davis, the author of the bill, stated his willinguess to have brummous coal exempted from its provisions. Joseph Walton of Pittsburg, opposed the bill providing for the weighing of coal before screening. He asserted that the coal miners of Western Pennsylvania, and the coal miners of Western Peansylvania, and especially of the Pittsburg region, were the best maid workingmen in the United States of not in the world. At the present price of 3% cents a bushel the men in his mine were mainr $45 to $70 every two weeks, the latter amount being where the miner had a boy old enough to help him. Alexander Dempster, of Pittsburg, said that it would be impossible for the coverture of that section to run their more the operators of that section to run their mines the bill became a law. The bill if it comes taffirmatively will be amended so as to ex-pt bituminous coal and will not pass the nate to any form. It may be safely set

Fiery Speeches Made on Both Sides and Manufacturers Take a Hand-The Latter Claim It Would Drive a Great Deal of Business From the State.

Being questioned further, he said that his in formation came from private sources, and he would give no particulars, but that the matter was known to the Commission on Charities and was known to the Commission on Charities and Corrections, and that they would doubtless make it public in their forthcoming report, adding that if they did not, the Legislature would see that it was brough: to light. The Democrats Anxious to Put Robin

Party Friends in a Hole. IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. HARRISBURG, March 17 .- The Democrats are after Senator John B. Robinson, of Delaware, who is now both Senator and Congressman. They are on the watch and if any bill comes from the Senate to the House which has been passed by just 26 votes, the exact constitutional number, Senator Robinson being one of them, they will raise the point of order ann cannot be considered.

This will place the responsibility of deciding whether Mr. Robinson is a Senator or Congressinan, or both, upon Speaker Thompson, It is hardly likely that Mr. Thompson would sustain the point of order.

A BEAUTIFUL SCHEME

That the House Education Committee Has Nicely Spoiled.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. I HARRISBURG, March 17.-The House Education Committee negatived to-night a bill which would have been quite a picuic for those whom veighed before being screened, and enlarging it was intended to benefit. This precious measure proposed to compel School Boards to place in every school room an Unabridged Webster's Dictionary, latest edition, a geographical globe, one foot in diameter, an astronomical chart five feet square, and a set of cubical blocks containing not less than 525 cubical inches.

As there are nearly 21,000 schools in the State the cost imposed in the school funds under this bill would be something startling.

Mt. Pleasant Prohibitory Law. IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. HARRISBURG, March 17 .- The House Committee on vice and immorality reported affirm-atively to-night the bill to repeal the Mt. Pleasant, Westmore and county, prohibitory law.
The bill had been reported negatively, but was recommitted and the former action reconsidered. The same committee reported affirmatively the Senate bill providing for the commitment of mebriates to the almshouse.

Mr. Burris played very well. At times he made some excellent shots, but, as he remarked, "draw shots were exceedingly difficult to make." The Columbus Catcher Says He Won't Come Here and Will Keep the Cash.

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. Columbus, March 17. - Manager Gus schmelz, of the American Association club, crived in the city from St. Louis this evening and brought with him Jack O'Connor, the catcher whom the Pittsburg League club catcher whom the Pittsburg League club claimed to have signed and on whom they are counting. O'Connor had been ranked among the contract jumpers from the Association, but his signature to a contract with explicit terms has been secured since his arrival in the city, and he will play with Columbus the coming season. Mike Lehanc, the old Columbus first baseman, has also signed a contract to play. O'Connor signed a contract for two years with Columbus.

"How did it happen that you let Haldwin languish in jail out in St. Louis, Jack?" asked a reporter.

"I didn't," was the answer. "I hustled and got him out of fall."
"How about the $1,200 that the League advanced you?" "I put that in the bank and intend to keep it there until I want it for my own use. It was bribe money and they can't recover it. I didn't intend to piay with the Lengue, but as long as they were throwing money around so freely I thought I might as well have a piece. THE UNKNOWN WON.

He Defeats Harlam in a Very Interesting Wrestning Match at Recreation Park. About 250 admirers of wrestling assembled at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon to witness a match contest between William Har-lam, of Mansfield, and an unknown, of Pittsburg. Catch-as-catch-can rules governed. The match was for $200 a side and the "gate" money. The contestants wrestled at 138 pounds, and Robert Miller was referee. The contestants began at 4 o'clock and the unknown soon began to show his superiority.

MR. REILLY LOOMS UP. He Is Ready for Work and Catcher Berger

Is Signed to Play Here. Third Baseman Reilly reported to the local club for duty yesterday. He thinks well of the prospects of the local team, and is in excellent condition. Director W. W. Kerr, of the local club, signed Catcher Berger to play here, and in doing so stated that President O'Neil was instructed to make terms with both Galvin and Berger. Mr. Kerr states that if there is a personal feeling between Manager Hanlon and Galvin it might be well to let the Hanlon and Galvin it might be well to let the latter go. But Mr. Kerr stated that only one director is inclined to have Galvin released. Pete Browning was also expected in the city yesterday to sign, but up to a late hour last evening he had not arrived. It is understood that Pete is now willing to sign here.

Speaking of the proposed Southern trip of the club, Mr. Kerr sain that the directors have not even discussed the matter yet, and that he is strongly opposed to any such trip. This is very conflicting with the statement of President O'Neil.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

The local billiard tournament was continued yesterday afternoon in presence of a very good attendance. The effects of several stoves made the Grand Central Rink quite comfortable for the ladies and gentlemen present. Mr. Shaw again officiated as referee.

The contestants were William Walker and Ed. Burris, the latter being one of the Philadelphia players. Owing to Mr. Walker's being sadly out of form because of lack of practice at the 14-inch balk line ADAY'S ACCIDENTS.

Morgue, wherein lies the body of the alleged Carl Ruttinger, still claims the attention of the public. This most mysterious case is complicated by conflicting theories. Interest divides to-day between the crime proner, and the establishment of the identity of William Wright, whose initials, "W. W." were found in a corner of the handkerchiet forced down Ruttinger's throat while drugged, drunk or helpless, evidently unable to exert the strength his physique denoted, and which alsowly smothered him to death.

No doubt now remains in Inspector Byrnes' mind that the "Fred Evans" who committed suicide at the Astor House, and who was buried under that name, is the William Wright, brother-in-law of the murdered Ruttinger. The small point which turned the Inspector's mind in this channel was the finding in "Evans" boots, etc., of "Evans" were carefully examined when the suicide occurred, and that no mark and no letter whatever was found upon them. To-morrow it is proposed to exhume "Evans" body, with a view to settling this branch of the mystery; but whatever may be the result, it can add nothing in the eyes of the police to evidence of the suicide's clothes. The body so long buried may be beyond recognition.

JUDGE BARKER'S DILEMMA.

The Work of Granting Licenses in Cambria Moving Very Slowly.

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. EBENSBURG, March 17 .- License Court has been in session here since yesterday, with Judge Barker, son of A. Barker, Cambria county's greatest prohibition leader, on the bench. Judge Barker, who is the Republican Judge Barker, who is the Republican party's strongest card for the Judgeship next fall, is in a curious dilemma. He himself has always been a strong temperance advocate. If he grants the licenses he offends his temperance friends; if he refuses them, his chances for next fall are slim, as Cambria is a strong liquor county. As yet he has refused only some half dozen licenses and held over a number of others, but the work of granting them is moving slowly.

WASHINGTON COUNTY WET.

The greater number of these applications are for wholesale and distillers' licenses. There is only one license asked for from this town.

The Prohibition people will organize immediately and circulate remonstrances throughout the county. The general online is that out the county. The general opinion is that all the licenses applied for will be granted.
