

City Officials Once More Show Their Belief in the Efficacy of Curative Legislation.

CLAIM THEY WILL COLLECT MONEY On All Capitol Street Improvement Assessments for Two Years Back.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR THIS YEAR. Special Meeting of Councils To-day to Consider the Report of the Finance Committee.

Curative legislation was the chief subject of consideration yesterday, with the attorneys who have the street improvement matter in hand. To all appearances, however, it is their conviction that such an act will pass muster before the eyes of the legislators and run the gauntlet of the supreme justices. This opinion yet prevails in spite of the discouraging reports from Chester as to the effects of the court decision there. The attorneys are working hard at the new bills and unless something unforeseen turns up, Senator Fitch will carry them to Harrisburg on Sunday. One of the important points brought up yesterday was whether the proposed curative legislation should go back to cover all the assessments yet unpaid, or be limited to a certain time. It was decided that the latter plan would be the only feasible one.

Just What the Bill Will Cover. The bill will provide for the collection of the money due on all improvements made within the past two years. The attorneys were very reticent about conversing publicly on the subject. Chief Bigelow, when asked about it said: "Yes, it has been decided to make the bill cover a period of two years back. This will cover the greater part of the improvements affected by the recent decision, and will amount to about $30,000, which cannot be collected."

Although the city authorities are decidedly averse to talking on the probable outcome of the present difficulty, the meeting of the Finance Committee yesterday afternoon, and the passage of the appropriation ordinance without an increase in millage, demonstrates very plainly that they are in favor of securing the passage of a curative act.

The committee met in the City Attorney's private office at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and heard the report of the sub-committee with closed doors. After two hours' discussion, which at times grew very animated, the ordinance as presented by the sub-committee was adopted with a few slight changes. It is as follows:

Text of the Appropriation Ordinance. An ordinance levying taxes, assessing water rents and making appropriations for the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1931, for the purpose of providing for the payment of the ordinary expenses of the city, to pay the interest on outstanding bonds, and to discharge all other liabilities now due or which may become payable during the said year 1931, and to be and are hereby levied and assessed upon all property and other objects of taxation, as follows:

Old City Special Tax—Upon all property for State or county purposes within the limits of the city of Pittsburgh, the sum of $100,000, to be collected under the act of April 1867, § 410, and upon all property designated as agricultural the tax shall be assessed at one-half of said rate.

SPOTTED FEVER SPREADING. Six Deaths From It in the Last Week—It Is Not Believed to Be Contagious, but May Become Epidemic—Cases From All Over the County.

The spread of spotted fever, or "epidemic cerebro spinal meningitis," is beginning to assume alarming proportions in Pittsburgh and the surrounding county. The Bureau of Health, however, believes it will be able to control the disease. There are no cases in this city, but simply results from peculiar atmospheric conditions. The disease is terrible in its execution. Patients die within a few days, and in some cases within 24 hours. During the past week six deaths have been reported from this deadly disease in the county. There are no more cases here reported yesterday from Pittsburgh, one on Clark street, and another on Duquesne. In Allegheny, one case has been reported in Allegheny and several in the county. It is an epidemic disease, and many eminent doctors say it is contagious. It is considered a terrible disease, and all doctors dread the prospect of epidemic in Pittsburgh, where it spreads by communication from one person to another, and by the use of public places which make it very difficult to control. As precautions, all refuse, garbage and other filth should be disposed of in a sanitary manner. Houses and cellars should be thoroughly renovated, kept clean and ventilated.

PEOPLE WHO COME AND GO. J. L. Barclay, Chicago representative of the Westinghouse Electric Company; Nelson R. Williams, of Chicago; Mrs. G. McKee, of Chicago; and Mrs. H. H. Hillyard, of New Lisbon, are names of prominence on the Duquesne register.

ONE-RULE GOVERNMENT NEEDED. Business Men of Allegheny Don't Give Their City Good Credit.

IT'S A MATTER OF DOLLARS AND CENTS. Annexation petitions were again industriously circulated in Allegheny yesterday, and although there are many signers, there is still a large conservative party that holds aloof.

Annexation petitions were again industriously circulated in Allegheny yesterday, and although there are many signers, there is still a large conservative party that holds aloof. The basis of the last city government was the annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh. Now that the city government is the same as in Pittsburgh, and the millage has been increased over five points, the people who back the annexation idea say they see no reason for keeping the river as a boundary of municipal rule. Most of them want unwillingly the yoke of a second-class city, but since they must have it they think it is necessary to have two city governments. Others view the matter in a business light, and think that both cities would be benefited, while still others believe Pittsburgh would overshadow her sister city, and Allegheny would be lost sight of.

The plea of increased taxation as reason for annexation is met by its enemies with the fact that although the Allegheny millage is 13, the assessments over the river are for only one-half the valuation, while Pittsburgh property is assessed at its full value. Hence it would require a tax levy of 30 mills in Allegheny to equal the burden of taxes in Pittsburgh. The opposition also claims that Allegheny's increased millage is due, not to her ascendancy to a city of the second class, but to the fact that the government will have to pay the debts contracted while Allegheny was still in the third class.

A Mystery Yet To Be Unfolded. In 1874 there was an act of Assembly passed providing for submitting the question to the people again. No vote was taken, and just why it appears to be buried with the misty past.

George Shiras III was not anxious to be quoted upon a question of annexation. He thought that there was a deep seated feeling against the river that all things being considered, the annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh would unquestionably be a mutual benefit.

Money Expected to Come In This Year. The estimated receipts for 1931 are shown below, with the estimates for 1930. In 1930 the valuation of the city was placed at $174,000,000, net, in 1931 it is placed at $180,000,000, net, an increase of $6,000,000.

Some Comparisons Easily Deduced. In the appropriations the Department of Public Safety is $8,004 lower than a year ago; $2,200 cut from the Fire Bureau; $7,113 off from the Police Bureau. The Police Bureau is increased $3,888.

THE HORSE STEALING FAD. It Has Become Quite a Leading Fashion Over Allegheny.

Horse stealing in Allegheny seems to have been the craze on Wednesday night, and two cases of that kind are reported. About 1 o'clock yesterday morning a stranger entered the home of Mrs. J. J. Smith, a well-to-do citizen, and selected a horse and started to pull down the street. The hostler offered some objections to this proceeding and the stranger after some words departed leaving the horse and buggy to the hostler.

HIS WIFE IN THE WAY. Queer Excuse of a Colored Man for an Assault on His Wife.

Queer Excuse of a Colored Man for an Assault on His Wife. A prosecuting young white woman entered Alderman Kerr's office yesterday afternoon, and in an agitated manner said her husband, a colored man 40 years old, was going to kill her. She accused the man of having committed adultery with her, and that he had threatened to kill her.

PICKED UP BY THE POLICE. COV RYAN and Philip Kress are confined in the twenty-third ward station on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Charles Stober, who says that they, together with two other men, attacked him and severely beat him on Tuesday-fourth street afternoon.

YOUTHFUL DISCIPLES OF NERO. Several boys at West Bellevue on Tuesday tried a stray dog on the P. Wayne tracks and when they were caught by the police they were let out of it. Not satisfied with this they tried the headquarters of the dog on the track again and the next train carried the dog to a public. Officers are looking for the boys.

SMALL SCRAPS OF LOCAL NEWS. DESPITE the fact that many physicians insist there is no grip in the city, many establishments are crippled in their clerical forces by the absence of employees who have severe colds, sore throats, or something else quite as disagreeable as the grip.

FOURTEEN new convicts were received at the Western Penitentiary on Wednesday. Six of them were from the Allegheny county jail, and eight from Blair, Porter and Beaver counties.
