VERY PECULIAR REVOLVER ACCIDENT

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. CONNELLSVILLE, March 25 .- The following statement from the officers of the United Mine Workers of America, issued to-day, presents fully their side of the coke lockout: To the Operators of the Connelisville Coke Re-GENILEXEN-The fact that the relation between you and your employes has materially changed during the past few weeks, is the cause for this

In the beginning of February, when we met you, it was agreed that on account of the depres-sion in the iron trade and the consequent accum-lation of coke on the market, a friendly suspension should take place, and with that understand

Since that time many conflicting statements have gone forth as to the causes of continued followers. One is that you have been resisting hat has been called an unreasonable demand for what has been called an unreasonable demand for an advance in wages in the face of a depressed market. Another is that the men are resisting a in per cent reduction made necessary by the com-petition of other regions whose labor is paid less and coke is produced at a lower figure than you erefore, to state the case fairly as dersund it:

d-It is true that the employes of this region for an advance in wages before the expirafor the last scale year. It is also true that effered to continue work at last year's rates trade should improve and another conferould be held. That such conference should held immediately after the annual convention the U. M. W. of A., which met in Columbus was quitually agreed.

econd - When, in accordance with the piedge

It is not true, use of cheap labor in other coking fields, havilie operators are losing their trade, anding the fact that the fron trade was depressed during the last year, and by so during the fall months, the inreductly so during the fall months, the se of preduction for the year in the Coun-region was about 42,000 tons, while der in the value of coke produced was a $4,000,00 and $5,000,000.

The Low Price for Mining. As to the cost of production in other fields we

First. The price for mining in the Connellsville coke region is less than 17 cents per ton. The lowest price naid for mining outside of the Connellsville region is Tib cents per ton, a difference of nearly E per cent in favor of Conneilsville oper ntors. In most of the coke fields the price for mining is 30 cents per ton, a difference of over 90 per cent in your favor.

It will thus be seen that the Connelisville operators get their ovens charged for less than others pay for mining. In the face of this fact, and in their that the niners of this region are digging and hooling seal for less than 27 cents use ton, beside laying their own road, and setting their own timber, and keeping un their own supplies, a 10 per cent reduction is offered.

It this fair or just? You ask houest workingmen to dig and load a ton of coal for less than you would pay a common tramp for shoveling a ton a coal into your cellar, and then ask them to suffer a reduction of 10 per cent, and because of their refusal every effort is being made to turn public opinion against them. We are quite willing that as impartial public with those facts before them shall sudge between us. ge between us.

Oriside day labor in many of the competitive Seids is about 10 per cent less than in the Connellsville regions. This is to be than in the Connellsville regions. This is to be expected, because of Connellsville being near a large industrial centre, and is so itself, but the small number of common day hands so employed does not make a difference in the cost of production of one per cent, while the facts shove stated show that the operators have an advantage of more than 30 per cent. A HUNTER'S SAD FATE.

Further Details of the Newton Graham Cas Near Bellefonte. BELLEFONTE, March 25.-There are other sad stails of the finding of the body of the hunter, Newton Graham, that makes his case a peculiarly hard one. He was lost just before the big snowstorm, and his brother, who is a wealthy lumberman, made every effort to find him, but was compelled to give up the search on account of the heavy snow. He was found on Leonard Ridge, in the Aliegheny Mountains, near Clearfield.

The poor fellow had evidently made a fight of it. His body was in an excellant state of preservation, owing to the cold. His cheeks were sunken, as if he had undergone great tatigue before he succumbed to the cold. His watch was missing, and there were suspicious watch was missing, and there were suspicious that he had been killed and robbed. After a close examination, however, it was decided that some lumberman or hunter had found the body and taken the watch, saying nothing of his discovery for fear of prosecution.

Labor Leaders Admonish the Men Not to Accept the Terms.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, March 25 .- A big sensation was produced in labor circles to-night by the McClune Coke Company posting notices at their plant, that they desire their men to work in the morning at what is understood as ar in the morning at what is understood as an equivalent to a 7 per cent reduction, with the assurance that mining will not fall lower than $1 per 100 bushels.

They offer a sliding scale, and state that if coke increases to $2 15, they will pay their men the old rate. The company employs over 2000 men and is the second largest in the region. Labor agitators are being sent out to admoulsh the men to refuse the offer. The Mine Workers' President, John B. Rae, has been here for three days, and as a result the fight will be carried on with renewed vigor.

Relief Distributer Says That None of Balfour's Fund Reached the People. Boston, March 25.-William Lloyd Garriso who is receiving funds for the relief of the starving people in the west of Ireland, gives extracts from a letter written by Miss Sophie Sturge, who has charge of the distribution of relief in Connaught, She says; "You will hardly believe me when I tell you that not one farthing of the large fund Mr. Balfour has collected has come to the people. But for our private help workmen must have died of famine. All the Government officials send their cases to us, poor law officers, police magistrates, besides the priests and doctors. The people are clamoring for food and work, and we find that we cannot supply the increasing need. We have organized our work so far that only the aged and those who have not able bodied believes and the sick receive food, but the increasing number of these arises from all the districts around coming for help also. It is a most deplorable state of things, because with relief comes demoralization and the whole thing might have been easily prevented had the advice of those who understand the question been taken last year." that not one farthing of the large fund Mr.

A WAY TO PAY CHURCH DEBTS.

Many Acres of Wheat to Be Sown by the Methodist Church in Dakota. ABERDEEN, S. D., March 25.—Some months ago Presiding Elder F. A. Burdick called a meeting in this city of all the Methodist pastors of the Aberdeen district, and put before them the plan of sowing acres of wheat for the liquidation of church debts. The pastors took liquidation of church debts. The pastors took to the idea, and after a talk with their people found that the farmers would furnish the land and do the work if the church would furnish the seed.

The general societies of the church, which have their headquarters in the East, then took hold of the matter, and shortly announced that the money for the seed should be forthcoming.

BAD PRISON MANAGEMENT.

Sr. PAUL, March 25.—The House Committee investigating the State prison management made a very voluminous report to-day. It is in three parts, one giving the history of the contract convict labor system, the second detailing the purchase of binding twine machinery for prison use and the third discussing chinery for prison use, and the third discussing the alleged compulsory resignation of Warden J. J. Randall, who died this morning. The history of the contract system goes back ten years, describes the various contracts, explains the workings of the system and gives some inside workings of the companies secursome inside workings of the companies securing contracts. It states that by letting out convict labor at a low figure, and then paying out big prices for work to the companies employing said convicts, the State was caused a big expense where a little or none should have been incurred. The committee finds that in this way the State paid $900,000 more than it received from the contractors who had secured the contract labor. The report gives copies of letters of the manufacturing companies employing convict labor, in which they speak of getting such labor for a "merely nominal price," and describe how they have arranged matters to prevent the possibility of any other securing the convict labor.

In the discussion of the binding twine matter crooked methods are alleged against those securing the machinery for the penitentiary. As to the removal of Warden Randall, the committee believes it was brought about at the instance of the convict-employing manufacturers who, instead of the warden, wanted to make appointments.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Is a home-like place. A place where the ladies like to come with their little ones. Here, separated from the rest of the busy store, as much so as if in another building, are thousands of square feet filled with the choicest the market affords in boys' and children's clothing. Here are hundreds of pretty and artistic kilts for the very little ones. Thousands of shortpant suits with and without vests, of nobby, attractive, yet sensible styles.
