BURNED LOAR IN EFFIGY.

Coke Strikers Pay Their Compliments to the Captain of Company E-Mt, Pleasant Citizens Also Denounce His Action-The Situation Throughout the Region.

A surprise was sprung on the people of Mt. Pleasant last night. It had been rumored on the streets that Captain J. A. Loar, commanding Company E, Tenth Regiment, N. G. P., would be burned in effigy, but little credence was given the report by the citizens. However, the strikers kept their word, and a suit of overalls stuffed with straw and fastened upon a long pole was carried at the head of a cession of 300 strikers and a brass band, Upon the breast of the blouse was a card bear-ing the following legend, "Captain Loar, Com-pany E."
With this they paraded the principal street

With this they paraded the principal street and halted under a large shade tree, saturated the effligy with oil and after hanging it to a limb of the tree applied a torch and soon the whole affair was in flattes.

After the burning the citizens of the place met and passed the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That we, the citizens of Mt. Pleasant, condemn the despicable action of Captain J. A. Loar in taking sides with monepoly and against Ill paid labor by volunteering his and his company's services for the purpose of creating disturbance between the operators and men.

A raid there was consequently deemed unnecessary, though there would have been trouble had the men net taken the hint. Neither is there any work being done at Leisenring No. 2, where a raid was made on Monday. At the Frick office it was authentically reported that there are 40 men at ork at Jimtown in spite of the trouble there They state further that work is being done and ovens drawn at Adelaide, Morewood, and at the Leith and Mutual. At labor heauquarters the contrary, it was stated that not a stroke work is being done between Scottdale and readford, that even the engines have been Broadford, that even the engines have been stopped, and that the companies have already exhausted their strength in trying to resume. They also deny that men are working at the plants named by the Frick Company. They state that Walker, one of the Jimtown men who has presecuted them, is an expelled Knight of Labor, and is trying to get even. The officers of the Frick Company state that I7 cais of coke will be shipped from the Jimtown works to-day, which they regard as remarkable.

A large mass meeting of the strikers was held yesterday at Connellsville. Addresses were made by Master Workman Wise, Secretary Farker, Keegen, Corrigna and other labor lead-ers. The object of the meeting was to get the sympathy of the public, and another meeting will be held at Dawson to-day.

Grip Sieges Result in Great Mental Depression, Strange Delusions and Melancholia.

AFTER-EFFECTS MUCH THE WORST

Pulls Down and Completely Shatters Nervous Systems and Plays Havoc With Vital Force.

MAKING ITS WAY STEADILY WESTWARD

No Indications of Abatement in the Present Epidemie in Pitteburg.

The grip has developed a still more serious phase than hitherto supposed by those who are not versed in medical science. Modern scientific investigation has thrown a new light upon the secrets of that mysterious malady, which for four centuries has at intervals blown its blighting breath over the Eastern Hemisphere, and which has now apparently migrated to the countries of the American Continents. Under this illumination, the disease has shown itself possessed of some decidedly serious elements. To the unpracticed individual a severe case of the grip means prolonged fits of sneezing, pains in the head, back and limbs, and a 3, where the bombshell was exploded, as a general feeling of lassitude, with complications of cold, bronchitis and other affections which, altogether, render life miserable for a short time. The average individual thinks most of being forced to lose a few days' pay and foot numerous little bills of > Insanity One of the Consequ Recent developments have shown, however, that severe cases of grip result in great physical and mental depression, the latter manifesting itself in melancholia, mnemia, hysteromania and other forms of temporary insanity. As a result the influence upon the nervous force is so depressing that its effects > are apparent for weeks after the patient has recovered from the first attack of the grip.

The vital forces are sapped, leaving the patient a victim of nervous debility and possibly of imperfect mental powers. The grip siege of 1890 left scores of Pittsburg's populace minus a certain vital quality they previously possessed, carrying with them the lasting marks of the strange infection in racking nerves and impaired powers. That the present epidemic will leave its footprints behind in proportion to the severeness of its form over that of last year is hardly to be doubted. Physicians all over the two cities are quietly waiting for the disease to break itself in order to watch carefully the more blasting results of its

after effects. Melancholia a Frequent Result. Dr. C. C. Wiley, the well-known specialist in nervous troubles, was asked vesterday Turner Hall, on Jane street, near South | regarding the effect of the grip on the vital "Dr. Clouston, whose writings occupy a place in every complete medical library, at a recent meeting of the Royal Edinburgh Asylum of which he is superintendent, spoke of the inti mate relationship between the epidemic of in-fluenza, or grip, of 1830 and melancholis. Acfluenza, or grip, of 1890 and melancholia. According to him a great lowering of human vitality followed the ravages of the disease, and Europe has not yet recovered its nervous tone. "I believe Dr. Clouston's stand is very well taken. I have had numerous cases where the mental power was seriously impaired. The grip is nearly always followed by extreme nervous exhaustion. Many patients have developed strange delusions while suffering from an attack of the disease. I noted one case in particular in which there were marked cerebral genema, or want of blood in the brain. In several instances very decided maniacal sympseveral instances very decided maniacal symptoms were manifest. I can call to mind one man in particular. He was a big, robust-looking individual, but was so severely affected by the grip that he developed hysteromania, more commonly known as hysterical mania.

"While all diseases attended by elevation of temperature tend to produce delirium, the mental aberration in a severe case of the grip is totally out of proportion to the amount usually manifested. In many cases the nervous exhaustion and depression is greater on the third day with the grip than usually manifested in a case of typhoid fever 10 its second week, I find that Dr. E. C. Sputzka, an emment authority on insanity, who figured prominently as an expert in the trial of Garfield's murderer, cites several cases that came under his obsercites several cases that came under his obs vation where melancholia and delusions various kinds resulted from the grip.

Depressions Not Always Lasting. "While these mental depressions are often decidedly marked in severe cases of the grip, they are as a rule not lasting and no cases of permanent insanity have resulted to my knowledge. Its effects on the nervous system, how-ever, are very strong, and great depression of the vital forces inevitably follows an epidemic the vital forces inevitably follows an epidemic of this disease. My patients are as a rule sufferers from impaired nervous systems. After our epidemic here a year ago I encountered a large number of very serious cases attributable entirely to the grip, all of the patients having suffered with more or less severe attacks. They had seemingly recovered from the first effects of the attack, but were unable entirely to overcome the exhaustion and debility that came later."

Dr. Wiley's views on this question are backed Dr. Wiley's views on this question are backed up by medical men generally. There is no longer any doubt expressed by physicians as to the genuineness of the malady which has played such havoc in and about Pittsburg during the past few weeks. Some skeptical ones doubted the presence of anything more than severe coids last year, but such doubts have long ago given way to the conviction that the grip, of which many were inclined to think lightly, ranks well up with other diseases of an epidemic nature, which annually carry off hundreds of neople.

The Grip on Its Way Westward.

The grip, like other diseases of its kind, is decidedly migratory, and the general opinion among those who have watched its progress is that it is steadily traveling westward. gument is upheld by the fact that the epidemic of last year seemed to center in New York, Philadelphia and Boston and other Eastern cities. Pittsburg got it in a milder form. This year, however, the Eastern cities are practically without any serious manifestations of the grip, while Pitisburg, Chicago, Cincinnati and other cities more centrally situated are be-ing scourged. Medical men say it is very prob-able that the Western States and cities along the Pacific coast will feel the effects of influ-

the Pacific coast will feel the effects of influ-enza next year.

To-day is "moving day", and, as stated in THE DISPATCH yesterday, many families find themselves seriously inconvenienced by sud-den attacks of the grip when everything was ready for the change in homes. At least 100 orders for wagons from the various transfer companies about the city have been countercompanies about the city have been countermanded as a result of sickness.

Moving day coming in the midst of the grip, this year, ought to afford an impetus to those who urge the putting of the day further into the season. Ordinarily April 1 and thereabout is composed of pneumonia-sort of weather, and scores of deaths follow the annual flitting, as a matter of course. This year the mortality consequent may run into the bundreds. It is true the excess may possibly be not appreciable, but to even hope so would be preposterous.

The Monongahela Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church was in regular quarterly session in the Sixth U. P. Church, Collins avenue. East End. all day vesterday. There were about 100 delegates present. There were several interesting features of the meeting, the most notable being an attempt to revive the old question as to the use of instrumental music and the incontinent resignation of the Moderater, as a result. At the morning session, commencing at 9 o'clock, the Moderator, Rev. D. S. Littell. having called the Presbytery to order, the first business was a petition from the congregation of Homestead, asking that a special mission be created there, with an appropriation of $600 for the ensuing year. It was granted. Then several small appropriations of from $300 to $600 were granted to the congregations of various places-Oakdale, Mifflin, Chartiers, etc.

Messrs. William Hice, Boyd and R. M. Russell were elected to serve as the Committee on Finance. A call was heard from Mt. Washington for the services of Rev. R. H. Hood. It was sustained and ordered to be forwarded to the Presbytery of Chartiers. After lunch, served in the basement of the church by the ladies of the congregation, the afternoon session was opened with the approval of the minutes. Wilkinsburg was chosen as the place for the next quarterly meeting, to be held on the last Tuesday in June. Then the Moderator left the chair and offered the following resolution: Resolved, That in deference to the consci-entious scruples of several members of the Presbytery with regard to the use of instrumental music during the praise service of the Presbytery, the playing of the organ be dis-pensed with during the evening service of Presbytery.

Opposed to Doing Without the Organ The resolution furnished a great deal of discussion, most of the members of the Presbytery showing themselves decidedly op-posed to it. Nearly every one had something to say, and there was considerable feeling displayed over the matter.

Rev. J. F. McCrory sand, with a tinge of sarcasm in his tone, that he thought the opinions of the congregation were entitled to some deference. If they liked the organ, they were surely entitled to hear it. They had paid for it, and they used it every Sunday. Why not Another gentleman said that the service in the evening would be that of the Monongahela Presbytery, and not of the Sixth United Pres-

Rev. Mr. Knox, of Wylie avenue, thought that no congregation or Presbytery should invite a member to be present at a meeting and insult him by doing that which would injure his convictions or scruples.

Hev. J. D. Sands said that Mr. Littell, as Moderator, had the right to order such procedure as he had suggested without the formality of a resolution, but that Presbytery had the right to overrule such an order. For his part, he would like to hear the organ. He understood that it was a very flue one, and he thought it would be a pleasure to listen to it.

The question was then put, and the resolution was defeated by a vote of 19 to 7.

Mr. Littell called for a division, and as that corroborated the defeat of the resolution he tendered his resignation as Moderator. The resignation was accepted, only one voice being resignation was accepted, only one voice being heard for it and none against it. Mr. Littel left the room, but returned toward the end of

A letter was read from Messrs. Holman and McGiffin, setting forth that Rev. M. T. Smalley had been unable to pay them a debt of $180, and asking that Presbytery prevent his fuililing the duties of a minister of the U. P. Church until he had discharged his obligation.

The feeling of the members of Presbytery was that Mr. Smalley was unfortunate rather than guilty, and a committee of inquiry was appointed to look into the matter. The committee was as follows: Rev. J. T. McCrory and A. R. Van Fossen and Elder Peter Dick. After a little more unimportant business Presbytery adjourned.

A Lesson From Last Winter's Experience That a soldier may make a splendid show ing on dress parade but be of more harm than benefit in battle, is an old proverb. It is much the same with a medicine. It may present a fine appearance and apparently possess every element of value when no one is sick, but prove worse than worthless when most needed. Epidemics are to medi-cines what battles are to soldiers. When a disease is epidemic it is usually much more malignant and much harder to control. Last winter influenza was epidemic. It is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Among the numerous medicines in Among the numerous medicines in use for colds Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was the only one that proved a pronounced success in combatting this disease. People soon learned its value and that it would greatly lessen the severity of the attack and prevent all dangerous consequences. Those who used it recommended it to others, which brought it into great popularity. Many dealers found it necessary to telegraph their orders for the remedy in order to supply the demand. It was undoubtedly the most suc cessful treatment used during the epidemic.
Whole families cured themselves and came out sound and hearty after the epidemic was over while it is well known that thousands who used other remedies succumbed to the disease, and many others still suffer from the effects of it. Last winter's ex-perience fully demonstrated that for influenza as well as for a severe cold, Cham-berlain's Cough Remedy is a success and that it can be relied upon even in the most

NAMES OF NEW OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

Councils met last night and transacted important business. The bonds of the chiefof department were approved, the tenders for city bonds opened and the awards made. Mr. Suaman presided. The bond of John R. Murphy, in $20,000, as Chief of the Department of Public Safety, was approved. The bondsmen are Joseph Illenberger, Adam Tubs and John S. Sneider. The $20,000 bond of Edward Armstrong, as Chief of the Department of Public Works, was also approved, the bondsmen being W. S. McKinney, J. G. Forrester, A. G. Fihlman, G. B. Hill and R. C. Tannebill. The third bond ame amount as the last, as Chief of the De fine cattle as well as sneep, was elected frestedent, and M. A. Cooper, of Van Buren, Secretary.

The object of the association is to protect the purity of the Dorset breed in America. Only breeders of this type of sheep are admitted. Great claims were made for it. Its chief merits are early maturity, heavy weight and capacity to produce wool. The average yearly wool production ranges from 10 to 12 pounds, while for other sheep it is 6 to 8. This is said to be the only sheep that bears lambs early enough in the fall to be served on Christmas Day, M. A. Cooper said the sheep had been bred in England for 100 years and that Queen Victoria will have no other on her farms. The breeders of other brands of sheep are organized and it is a nip-and-tuck race between them. The other officers of the Association are: Vice Presidents, E. P. Bowditch, Farmington, Mass.; W. E. Tinsey, Angola, Ind. Executive Committee, J. S. Woodward, Secretary New York Board of Agriculture, Lockport; J. M. Harn, Washington Hollow, N. Y.: George E. Jones, Litchfield, Conn.; J. M. Wylle, Washington; J. O. Frost, Boston. The annual production of wool in America at present is about 285,000,000 pounds. The tariff in relation to wool was not discussed. The next annual meeting will be held in January. N. M. Small, of Cooperstown, told of one of his Dorsetowes which gave birth to 16 lambs in three years. J. W. Axtell, the East End stockman, was present at the meeting. He promises the breeders a banquet next year. BOTH MADE BIG CLAIMS. A Disinterested Statement of the Cork-workers' Difficulty. . The point over which there has been the greatest controversy ever since the corkwork-ers' strike commenced was the one relating to the number of men at work. The firm has been, curiously enough, maintaining for several days past that they had 310 people at work, while claiming at the same time that new hands were being engaged every day. On the other hand, the officials of the Assembly claimed that not over 125 to 150 people have worked at any time since the strike began. worked at any time since the strike began.

To get at the facts in the case, a DISPATCH reporter visited the works yesterday, where he was permitted to go through the factory and count the hands. He was accompanied by Mr. C. D. Armstrong, of the firm, who said he was willing to make an affidavit to his claim of 310. According to the reporter's count, however, the number tell about 68 short. This proves the most natural thing possible—that both sides had been claiming just a little more than their share.

In one room, known as Reed's punching room, where there are 58 machines, there was the full quota of hands—91 men and boys. In all of the other departments there were a few hands at work, but only two or three presented an aspect of activity. Mr. Armstrong said he expected 15 more new employes to-day. There were no new developments yesterday. The men are still hopeful and claim that since they got over last Sunday without a break they have bright prospects of winning.

A COMMITTEE ON PLAN.

The Proposed Building Exchange Scheme Taking Definite Shape. The committee appointed by the Builders Exchange to look into the matter of erecting an exchange building, organized yesterday by an exchange building, organized yesterday by electing W. B. Lupton Chairman, and A. J. Harnock Secretary. There was nothing done except the appointment of a sub-committee of five members to report a plan to the next meeting, which will be held next week.

The proposed plans for the new building, which will in all probability be patterned after the Philadelphia Exchange, were given in detail in THE DISPATCH three mouths ago, when the exchange first talked of erecting the building.

R. G. McGunigle, Superintendent, said last night that the removal was caused by the lack of room for side tracks, and because they were handicapped by so much switching done by the stockward trains. At their new quarters they will have abundance of room.

The directors of the Columbia Iron and Steel Company met yesterday for the purpose, pre-sumably, to consider the sale of their plant to an English syndicate. On the committee are Senators George Handy Smith, committee are Senators George Handy Smith, Flinn and Monoghan; Representatives Fow, Fruit, Brooks, Skinner and Stewart. The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, George Hutchinson, and Sergeant Lloyd J. Hunt were here all day making the necessary arrangements. Mr. Huntserved 20 subposans on bankers, and he said most of them complained of feeling ill. He found John Harper and John B. Jackson in bed, so that their testimony will not be re-at the Duquesne early last evening. He said the committee had not yet formulated its opinions, and he had nothing to say for the present. He thinks the treasurer should be protected as well as the State. In the past it protected as well as the State. In the past in has been the unfortunate guardian who suffered the losses and not the State. Mr. Fruit said thata bond for $500,000 was enough to give for a pittance of $5,000 a year with a good chance of losing it all and more besides. Still, he thinks it is well to and more besides. Still, he taines it is well to put more safeguards around the money and not tempt treasurers to be dishonest. Mr. Fruit said the Republicans had done well so far during the session and had made no mis-takes, though the Democrats have done all they could to delay business and hamper them.

The Grip.

Among the numerous medicines in use for this disease there is one worthy of es-pecial mention. Many of our readers will know at once that Chamberlam's Cough dy is referred to. The uniform cess of this remedy in the treatment of that disease has made it immensely popular in Pittsburg and vicinity. There is no question but what the severity of an attack of the grip is greatly lessened by the prompt use of this medicine. It is also said to counteract any tendency to pneumonia. Whole families in this city have cured themselves and are now as sound and hearty as they were before they contracted the disease. A QUESTION OF CREEDS.

Donegal Preacher Tells an Audience His Views on the Irish Situation. Rev. R. A. McFariane, of Stranalar, County Donegal, Ireland, addressed half a hundred people last night in the Central R. P. Church, people last night in the Central R. P. Church, Sandusky street, Allegheny, on the religious aspect of the Irish question. He is here to raise runds to pay for the erection of a new church in his district, and took up a collection at the close of his talk for that object.

Mr. McFariane announced that he would speak on "The Irish Question: Its True Solution." In the speaker's opinion this could be effected only by Christianizing the country. He thought that if the number of Christians in Ireland was greater the agitations would diminish. The trend of the reverond gentleman's lecture was that Ireland's grievances were due to religious strife and difference, and that until the people met in harmony of creed the exist-

Death Finally Resulted From a Fall. Hugh Kelly, aged 67 years, died suddenly at his home on Steuben street yesterday morning. His death seemed somewhat mysterious, and Kelly had been severely injured by a fall which he received about a year ago, from which he never recovered. Paralysis set in, and early yesterday morning he died. He is well-known in Pittsburg, and was until a short time ago a resident of the Fourth ward. He leaves a number of children who are all grown up.

The Best Treatment for the Grip. J. B. Loughran, ex-Mayor of North Des Moines, and the Locust street manufactures of steam engines and boilers, said recently: I had a severe attack of la grippe. He had a deep-scated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bot tle. It cured his cough, and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think." Wsu
