Another Admits That the Police Get Drinks at His Back Door.

SLOW PROGRESS MADE IESTERDAY

Only 40 cases were heard in License Cou:t yesterday. Judge Magee went into details a every case to an unusual extent so that the entire matter can be laid before Judge White. There was but one breeze and that came from Attorney McCutcheou. He claimed that an organization of Allegheny pay the costs. liquor dealers had been formed there with the object of defeating certain other dealers who are not members. Out of respect to the memory of the late A. M. Watson, court was adjourned earlier than usual.

At the opening of court the case of Theodore Huckestein was recalled. His bartender and wife denied the story told by the Kleinhoffers except that the bortender acknowledged selling to the boy, who, he says, claimed to be 21 years old. The case ' Emil Wey was also recalled and Mr. Wey testified that no one had gotten liquor there on election day. The case of James E. Dowling was also recalled. Several minors were called who testified that they secured drinks at the place. One said he could get it anywhere, to which Judge Magee replied:

"I guess you're right there."

Margaret Dorn's case was also recalled, and the same minors testified to having secured drinks there. Several neighbors were alled to testify as to the character of the house.

The case of Robert Campbell was recalled to prove that he kept no restaurant. Albert Hesser testified that at 12:20 yesterday he was refused a meal.

Common Councils to Consider the Ordi nance at a Special Meeting To-Day-Mr. Carnegie Coming to Pittsburg-The Need of Haste-Opinions on the Pro-

Common Council will meet in special session this afternoon to consider the ordinance, which has already passed Select Council, giving the Carnegie Library Commission permission to erect buildings on the Forbes street entrance to Schenley Park. Some haste in this connection is deemed advisable, as Mr.

James B, Scott says that as soon as the ordi-nance is passed and has the approval of the Mayor he will call a meeting of the Library Commission in order that the work may be pushed to a conclusion. The Commission, he says, has been unable to make any plans, or, in fact, do anything multi the location was sa fact, de anything until the location was secured, as the plans will have to be made to suit the ground.

"I am glad Mr. Carnegie is coming," said A. F. Keating, "as it will give an impetus to the work on the library. I should like to see the men hard at work to-morrow if it could be managed so, I would not bo in the least surprised if Mr. Carnegie is coming here with a new plan for the advancement of the library. Perhaps he has fixed on a good site, which escaped the commissioners."
Mayor Gouriey advocates prompt action, and favors locating the library wherever Mr. Carnegie esires, as the latter gentleman is footing the bills.
John Shamble wauts the library matter pashed, but does not favor the Schenley Park site. "It is a mistake," he said, "to put the music halt and museum building out there. They ought to be down town. I get letters every day from working men and capitalists who kay it is a mistake, then have come to me who live in close proximity to where it is proposed to put the building and tell me that while it will enhance the value of their property they think it is a mistake to put the main library building there." Kirk Q. Bighan also objects to the locality and believes it will require special legislation to grant the Schenley Park site to the Carnegie Commission.

Rare and Beautiful Trees and Flowering Shrubs and Plants-Many Horticultural Acquisitions of Exquisite Beauty Not to

DIRECT IMPORTATIONS JUST RECEIVED

BY THE B. A. ELLIOTT COMPANY, OF

Having just received 30 cases of new and rare ornamental trees and flowering shrubs

from the famous Orleans nurseries in France, we wish to call the attention of all admirers of choice and unique material for lawn and garden decoration to them, and to announce that we will have many of these trees and shrubs on exhibition and sale at trees and shrubs on exhibition and sale at our storeroom, 54 Sixth street, for a few days. Our B. A. Elliott will be in attendance every afternoon to give full information of them to visitors. Among those on exhibi-tion are the following: Fagus sylvatica tricolor-this tricolored beech is the most striking tree in cultivation. It is closely allied to the automation and the state of the state allied to the well-known copper beech, but much handsomer, the leaves being pink, purple and white, and as brilliant as the brightest of the Coleus family. Of this wonderful acquisition we have bought the entire stock from the introducers in France, and not a tree of it can be obtained except

Another beautiful novelty is Cornus Siberica Variegata Spathii (Siberian Varie-gated Dogwood). This is a small tree with red wood and the most strikingly brilliant oliage. There are, however, so many beautiful new things that it is impossible to give a description of them here, but we most cordially invite you to come and examine them, whether you wish to purchase or not. Everything we offer is perfectly hardy, and he growing of these trees and shrubs will not be an untried experiment, as we have been testing them on our grounds from one to three years. We wish to call special at-tention to the following: Juglans Nigra Pendula Giauca, Arundo Donax Macro-
