

MISTAKEN SEVERITY.

The Case of a Respectable Woman Locked Up for Intoxication

ROBBED AND WELL-NIGH DROWNED

An Erie Bride Claims She Was Married While Unconscious.

A POOR ROPE AT THE NICELY HANGING

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BEAVER FALLS, April 8.—A well-dressed young woman entered the office of Justice Piper here, yesterday afternoon, and wanted to make an information against two unknown men for robbing her and afterward throwing her into the river. She gave her name as Mrs. Marie Newman, of Freedom, Pa., and said that after noon she was walking along the track of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, when she was met by two men, who stripped her of her money and jewelry, and without further ado threw her into the river.

At that point she ran behind the railing, and to get a practical illustration of how the men had grabbed her, she threw her arms around the neck of the old justice, who discovered his error that the woman was intoxicated. He called an officer and had her placed in the lockup, and when she awoke up she was released, and disappeared. Her story was thought to have been a mere tall tale, when it was learned that it was true. A lot of Italian laborers were at the point and witnessed the outrage, and only arrived in time to help the woman from the river, or she would certainly have drowned.

The secret of the poor woman's intoxication then came out. The Italian carried her to their boarding house, where the woman lived her and gave her a lot of villainous whisky to strengthen her. In her weak state she was easily intoxicated, and some comments are attributed against the justice for so easily imprisoning her. The Italian has given a very full description of the men who committed the crime, and the police are on the lookout for them.

SHE WAS UNCONSCIOUSLY MARRIED.

An Erie Bride Sues for a Divorce on Strange Grounds.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

ERIE, April 8.—A novel suit for divorce will come up in court here in May, the petitioner being Mary E. Shoop, of this city. The respondent is Albert McElroy, also of Erie. The plaintiff sets forth in her petition that on Wednesday, March 11, she was taken to the town of Ripley, N. Y., without her knowledge or consent, and that she was under the influence of drugs administered to her by McElroy, for the purpose of improperly and illegally having a marriage ceremony performed, that she has since learned, during her stay in Ripley, that she was taken before Justice Lyman Bennett and was married, but that she has no personal knowledge, she being under the influence of drugs; that she has since seen the marriage certificate, of which she is a copy; that the residence of each is given as Cleveland, when in fact they were in Ripley, N. Y.; that she is in fear of her life by threats of the respondent made before and since their marriage, and therefore asks to be freed from the effect of said alleged marriage ceremony, not entered into by her own free will and consent.

THE ROPE WAS WEAK.

It Barely Stood the Strain of Dave Nicely's Weight at the Hanging.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. JOHNSON, April 8.—The hanging of Dave Nicely in the city today, and said he has reason for congratulation that he escaped serious trouble at the execution of the Nicelys. After the rope was taken from the neck, which the sheriff had examined and found to be in good condition, it was finally looked at and it was found that one strand had given way under the severe strain and pulled in two. The break was found at the point at the back of the neck, and the sheriff had his shoulders raised, yet when he thinks of what would have followed had the rope broken. He had with him, of course, old man Roper, of Niagara, and a team of men, but he never believed there would have been a most distressing scene. The sheriff said that the rope was used in the hanging of the Nicelys, and the rope was much lighter than Joe, and the rope which strangled the latter did not yield in the least.
