Peculiar State of Affairs in a Suit Against a Fuel Company.

AN INJUNCTION THAT WAS RESCINDED

have another shy at the Supreme Court to-day-this time on a most unique phase of the mandamus question. An epitomized statement of a lengthy case history is simply that Louis P. Whiteman had a manufactory at Uniontown which the comsupplied with fuel gas. On 25, 1890, the gas company shut off the supply from Mr. Whiteman's Work is being rapidly pushed on the new marks. That gentleman employed ex-Judge plant of the Iron and Steel Band Company, Campaniphell, and sailed into court with a bill asking that an injunction issue-for the usual purpose. The company, through its President, Larry Miner, straightway procured the talent of Frank P. Iasus, of the itishing bur, and made a fight. Judge James Inghram refused to make Mr. Campbell then raised his Activity in That Enterprising Place.

The growth of manufacturing industries in the reighborhood of Pittsburg has been great of late years that most of the thoroughly available sites near the city are at pre-ent occupied, and it has become more difficult for manufacturers to find a place where exist ample space for their large plants, abundant facilities of transportation by both rail and river, and healthful, pleas-ant and accessible locations for homes for their employes.

Mention has been made on several occa sions during the past year of the coming town of Mendelssohn, where a large piano factory was in process of erection. Those who are most interested there have preferred to act rather than talk, and have busied themselves in advancing the material interests of that favored section, knowing that at the proper time the advantages of Mendelssohn would become apparent. Mr. John D. Mc-Cune, of the real estate firm of McCune & Coulter, vesterday was interviewed regarding the prospects of the place. In reply to questions Mr. McCune said: "The place has a most prosperous future. The pinno factory is already well advanced toward completion. Limited, which concern having dis-posed of its property in Pittsburg is energetically working to get all in readiness to business at Mendelssohn. This concern has beretulore purchased the sheet iron it required from other manufacturers, but they have in contemplation a plan to build a plant for the manufacture of sheet iron in connection with their present work. There are also two other manufacturing concerns that have decided to locate at Mendelssohn, which insures abundance of work there and will make a thriving population, viz: The Keystone Hoop Manufacturing Company, and the Roofing Paper Manufacturing Company."

Mr. McCune was asked to tell of the special advantages of Mendelssohn, which made it so desirable a location for manufacturing purposes. Said he: "It is at Wilson station, only 19 miles from Pittsburg, on the line of the Monongahela division of This Judge Inghram did, at the same the Pennsylvania Railroad, and is the first really eligible site on the Monongahela river south of Duquesne. The land reserved as company's property and so on on an for manufacturing plants lies between the ratification issued by A. W. Mellon, a judgrailroad and the river. It is very smooth, level ground, yet high enough that no floods can overflow it. There used lighten became convinced that as prayer for the injunction had not hela Vailey.
