THERE seems to be much misapprehension regarding "Big Bill" Brown's being a member of the New York leam. He is a reserved player, but has not signed a contract, nor is it likely that he will be asked to sign one, as three first-class catchers are aiready under contract. He was notified to come to New York by the directors of the club, who told him that they would look out for him by getting him an engagement with some other team, provided he was not wanted by New York.—New York Sun.

PIERCE FIGHT WITH THE BURGLARS

ELKTON, MD., April 13 .- This morning bout I o'clock a horrible murder was committed at the pretty home of J. Granville Richards, at Porter's Bridge, in this county. The country around is in a feverish state of excitement over the crime. The circumstances of the terrible affair, as they are learned to-day, are substantially as follows: At 1 o'clock this morning Mrs. Richards was awakened from a sound sleep by a noise in the direction of the bureau in her bedroom. She listened and heard enough to satisfy her that something was wrong, and then, peering into the darkness, she saw the faint outlines of two men. She screamed, awaking her husband. As soon as she did this one of the ruffians approached her bedside, and, placing a revolver close to her bead, fired. The ball entered the brain
