Mr. McCullough Defines His Position on the Vexed Bill.

ITEOM & STAFF COURESPONDENT.: HARRISBURG, April 13 .- Mr. McCullough, of Allegheny, said to-night, in reference to the fight in Tarentum over the proposed repeal of the local prohibitory law for that borough: "I told Mr. Albert Smith that I would introduce the bill whenever he sent me the proofs of its having been properly advertised. as required by the act of February 12, 1874. A FIGHT IN PROSPECT

When the Resolution to Adjourn on May 8

HARRISBURG, April 13.-There was considerable kicking over the resolution to adjourn May 8. Mr. Brooks, of Philadelphia, is opposed to any date being fixed until after the apportionment bills are disposed of, while Mr. Taggart has served emphatic notice that the rural members will agree to no date for final adjournment until the tax bill has been acted upon by the Senate. The Grangers want the tax bill passed or squarely defeated, placing both its friends and enemies on the record, and they say they will not allow it to be killed by adjournment without acting upon it. There will likely be a fight when the reso-

WASHINGTON, April 13 .- At last the eccentric Mr. Huston, who has been in agony of one kind or another ever since he accepted the office of Treasurer of the United States two years ago, is out of office, the President accepting to-day a resignation offered February 24. It will be remembered that at the time the letter of resignation was written the President vainly attempted to induce Ex-Treasurer Lemke, of Indiana, to accept the office. Mr. Lemke, ter due consideration, decided that his health would not permit, and since then the President has been hunting for a Treasurer. A few days ago he found one in Banker Nebeker, of Indians, a personal friend and political adherent, and Mr. Nebeker gets his commission on the eve of the President's departure on his long swing around the circle. Mr. Nebeker is a hale and jolly sort of man, whose ultra-genial manner will make an agreeable change in the office from the somewhat disgruntled atmosphere that
