BAD LEGAL MUDDLE.

A Mistake in Impaneling a Jury Makes Many Trials Illegal.

MURDERER MARLATT'S INCLUDED.

Rival Ohio Enters of Tremendous Capacity May Bat a Match.

A PAIR HOUSE HUNTER FINDS A CORPSE

SPECIAL TREBURAN TO THE DISPATORS NEW LISBON, O., April 14.-It will be remembered that the attorneys for Ira D. Marlatt made the discovery that one of the jurors who convicted him for the killing of Barak Ashton was an alien, and was, thereare, ineligible to jury service in the State of Ohio. A great skurrying resulted among the lawyers, and finally the entire proceedings were nullified, and Marlattis to be tried over again, as if he had never been in the deliver to the delive onet at all.

Another perplexing question is now spits ting the minds of the Court and lawvers: I the jury is illegal, then all other cases tries by that same jury must be illegal, and their sentences should certainly be declared nul and void. There are six prisoners now i the penitentiary who were sent there by this same jury, the highest getting six years. A lawyer said to-day: "These men could de mand and secure a new trial, but it was question if it was policy for them to do so If they came back for a new trial they would probably get the same sentence again. If any one of them thought his sentence unjust he could have a new trial, and might receive a lesser sentence.

A man named French, who received six years for horse stealing, might think he had been dealt with too severely, but the lawyer waid there is an especially bitter feeling against horse thieves in a farming community, and be might, in coming back for a new trial, get ever a longer sentence. In regard to the question a to whether the men are now being illegally im-prisected, the lawyer said that was a question for the court. The jury was certainly illegal.

TWO HUNGRY OHIOANS.

Their Capacity for Eating Dismays Their Respective Landladies.

PECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. AKRON, April 14.-The little town of Hudse obs up with the champion eater. His name is Bill Lewis, and he is thin and short, and alway hungry. He sat down the other evening, and after eating three large cans of sardines, two of salmons, four dozen of large cookies and six cans of applea he said he was hungry, and fintshed another can of sardines and started on a stock of peanuts, when the crowd fied.

While Hudson may think it has the cham-pion eater in Lewis, there is an eater in Akron who lays over them all His name is Johnson, and he is employed at the gas works, but says and he is employed at the gas works, but says he has time to eat with any man in the three States. A meal of 72 boiled ears of corn with trimmings is only a lunch for him. One day, while at the residence of his brother here, he ate a six-galion measure of apples, and for the last course ate a peck of hickory nuts. One day he entered a pie-eating contest at Canton, but when he had finished his one hundred and fifteenth he was so far ahead of the others they stopped in disgust, His brother was going to take the winner home, when Johnson kicked and said he didn't want to go on an empty stomach. He was then led into a saloon, where he put a round dozen of sandwickes on top of he put a round dezen of sandwiches on top of the pies. On unother day he ate 15 pounds of tish, and another day got outside of a whole large of the course.

tish, and another day got outside of a whole hunch of bananas.

It is very difficult for Johnson to get board anywhere at a reasonable rate. His eating is of the sort that is calculated to foot the most wary landlady. He does not eat fast, apparently, but somehow the food disappears in a yawning guich that has never yet teen filled. He has had several offers from circus and museum managers, but has invariably refused. Johnson has challenged the Huison man. The terms are that the winner is to get all he can eat at the other's expense, with $25 thrown in for decer's bills. F. X. Brehm is Johnson's agent here, and is open to all correspondence on the subject of enters and eating.

A HOUSE HUNTER'S DISCOVERY.

The Corpse of a Spicide Found in an Untenanted Dwelling.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. WASHINGTON, Pa., April 14.-A strange story comes from near Coal Bluff, where a man was found yesterday, having lain dead on the hillside for several days. A young miner's girl had been out house hunting, and was horrified to find the decaying body of a man on the floor of one of the empty cabins. A piece of strong cord cutting deeply into the need of the man told an elequent story of despair and suicide. Corener Jobuston at once left for the place, and the jury disclosed the following facus:

James W. Wright, a single young man, had been living in a cabbt with Mrs. Hannan near the mines. On April 4 he left the Hannan place, and had not been seen since. The evidence in and about the cabin showed he had mounted an emulty powder can suitested the nounted an empty powder can, adjusted the support from under him. The twisting of the cord had finally broken it, but life was extinct before the body fell in a heap where it was found. The man had probably been dead about ten days. Relatives say he had been greatly troubled in mind over a scandal in his life.

A QUESTION OF COURTESY.

It Comes Up Before the United Presbytery of Washington.

SPECIAL TRUEGRAM TO THE DESPATOR. WASHINGTON, PA., April 14.-The Washing-Church met here to-day. The call of Rev. H. W. Temple, of Leechburg, which had been is-sued to him by the Wasnington United Presbyterian congregation, came up for consideration. The question was whether or not the call should be sustained as being regular. Some of the members thought there would be a lack of courtesy shown the Covenanter Church if the call were sustained, because the Rev. Mr. Tem-ple had been suspended from the ministry of that church. It was fluilly decided to lay the call on the table until the minister in question should ap-ply for admission to the United Presbyterian Protect Your Horse. Horseshoeing being a most important operation, it is necessary that all sheers should understand the construction and diseases of the foot. The want of knowledge and skill of shoeing often generates many diseases, such as corns, quarter and center crack, which are very annoying. Attention given road, track and interfering horses.

I also manufacture a HOOF OINTMENT, guaranteed to keep horses' feet in good condision.

Our claim is to sell better goods for the money or the same goods for less money than others. And we'll do it, come what may. We challenge our competitors in the words of the immortal Shakespeare, "Lay, on, Macduff, and damned be he who first cries hold, enough."

COMPETITORS SAY "THAT'S TOUGH." On Saturday last a certain concern advertised the "Celebrated Star Shirt" at 35 cents, and the "finer grade" of Star Shirt at 85 cents.

the same brand of shirts.

Interesting to the 35-cent ones for they certainly got value for their money, but what of those who paid double and more for the same thing. Will they laugh, too? And say, what becomes of the pretense of the said concern to be a strictly one price house? Two prices on the same article on the same

It may interest their customers to know that in each case they got

What they termed the finer grade they claimed to be the same shirt that we are selling at 99 cents. We claim that this is false and that they know it to be false and we mean the public to know it also.

All anyone has to do to prove what we state is to examine the underside of the tab at end of bosom on shirt and they will find that whether they paid 35 cents or 85 cents, the number is 2 G. The number of our 99-cent shirt is 1465, a brand of shirt made especially for us under contract and never sold to any other dealer. These shirts have an intrinsic value, and if it be a fact that our neighbors have sold or are selling this brand of shirt at 35 cents each, then we'll offer the people a chance to make a little money.

For every Star Shirt of this 1465 brand brought to our store we stand ready to pay 99 cents each. One shirt, a dozen or a thousand. Every hundred of these you can secure will net you $64. Remember the brand, 1465. Our neighbors claim the shirts they sell are the same. Put it to the test. There's money in it if it's true.

If they can't furnish them at 35 cents try them at 85 cents, for even at that figure there's still a good margin. But insist upon getting our brand and number. Now we assert with confidence that they never sold this brand of shirt at any price, and if it isn't false pretense to make people believe they did, what is it? Now, as to the shirt which they did actually sell, the 2 G brand. If you want these shirts you have no need to pay them 85 cents for them for you can get them at Gusky's at just 19 cents each. Our price on the 99-cent shirt first advertised still remains 99 cents.

They are worth every cent of it. And we stand ready to buy them from anybody who can procure them elsewhere and pay 99 cents each for
