SMITH AND FITZSIMMONS TO FIGHT.

The Australian Agrees to Make a Match To-Day-General Sporting News.

PRECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. MACON, April 17.-The Pittsburg and Cleveland ball clubs played their second and last game here to-day. The contest, if such it can be called, was a wretched affair. The Pittsburgers were not in it and they didn't seem to care. Smith and Baldwin were the pitchers, and the former was a mark for the Clevelanders. Bierbaur, for Pittsburg, played a great game, and Reilly only did moderate. The Cleveland players hit the ball terrifically. Both teams left this evening for Atlanta, where they play to-morrow. Score:

LOCAL BASEBALL AFFAIRS.

Reserved Seats for the Opening Day at Ordinary Prices-The King Matter. Secretary Scaudrett, of the local club, has again taken charge of the grand stand seats, and he is now hustling to get things in shape for Wednesday. Mr. Scandrett states that reserved seats at ordinary prices will be on sale at McClurg's cigar store Monday. This arrangement will enable people who wish to see the opening contest to secure comfortable seats

The grounds are rapidly getting into first-class condition, and if fine weather obtains for class condition, and it line weather obtains for two or three days everything will be all right. Pitcher King has not arrived yet, and there seems to be considerable injectry about that gentlemae. President O'Neil had nothing to say on the matter yesterday, except a few words to the effect that everything is all right. Some people think there is a hitch in the case.

THE SHEFFIELD HANDICAP. Pendragon Has a Few Words to Say Regarding the Easter Event. Referring to the late Easter sprint handicap at Sheffield, "Pendragon" says:

"None of this wheel-within-wheel business appened on Monday or Tuesday last; and, taken all through, matters were extremely placid. In his second round Kerr won without being in any way extended; and though toward the close of proceedings a commission was thrown into the market to back Tattersall, of Clitheroe, who had to give Kerr a couple of yards, the latter started a hot favorite at 3 to 1 on. Some backers managed to lay 5 to 2 on him; but they were lucky, they were. The him; but they were lucky, they were. The handicap was nominally of 204 yards, and Kerr had 87% yards start; consequently he had to run 116% yards. The path was in excellent condition, and a fairly good wind blew at the men's backs; yet though Kerr was pressed by Tattersall the whole of the way, he did not succeed in doing better than 11 4-5 seconds, which is as near quarter second as it is evens. Of course, it may turn out that Kerr had so much in hand that he was not at all afraid of Tattersall, and could afford to let him draw up, with the certainty of being able to go away again in hand that he was not at all arranges in hand that he was not at all arranges all, and could afford to let him draw up, with the certainty of being able to go away again whon wanted. Time, and the next handscap for which Kerr is backed, will alone inform us whether or not this is so. If Kerr is a real good one, then we may reckon him no end fortunate in being able to win a big handscap on so poor a display; if he is no better than the time test makes him, we must think his people must have known something, or they never would have put the pot on as they did and dare all rivalry. A friend of mine who was present tells use that Il 45 seconds was quite as good as Kerr in the final as the race was run, but that he fancies Kerr was having larks with the second man. For justance, says my informant, 'Kerr, though he won anyhow in the second round, seemed to run quite as hard then as he did in the final with Tattersall; yet the time in the second run quite as hard then as he did in the final with Tattersall; yet the time in the second round was a good four yards slower.' So it may be that Kerr can improve on his shows at will, provided there is any necessity for so doing. Kerr is by no means a youngster, being not far short of 30: he was formerly an amateur as that word is understood over the border, and is of sturdy build, stands 5 feet 8½ inches high, and in condition weighs 12 stone 7 pounds with his clothes on. A noticeable feature of the final heat was that, as the referee is Tattersall's father-in-law, he thought it best, in case the finish was close, not to act; and so he got sairs latiner in the thought is been in case the finish was close, not to act; and so he got him an efficient substitute. Which makes it look as if in Sheffield now they, profiting by some lessons that have gone before, think it better not to be led into undue temptation."

THE A. A. U. LEAGUE. Matters Becoming Exceedingly Interesting

Among the Amateur Baseball Clubs. NEW YORK, April 17.—The Amateur Athletic Union baseball situation is getting warm. The entries close with Secretary Sullivan to-day, and two weeks later the battle will begin all along the line. The champion Detroit Athletic Club team has already entered, and will doubtless be in the thickest of the fight. There is at present a little unpleasantness in Detroit. "Buff" Ducharme, a brother of Fred. Ducharme, the champion hurdler, is a bone of contention between the Detroit A. C. and Michigan A. A. Ducharme is a charter member of the Detroit A. C., but since the organization of the Michigan A. A. he has affiliated with that club. Last season he played in the Western series with the Michigans, but helped out the Detroit A. C. team in games for the championship with the New Jersey A. C. team. Ducharme is one of the finest amateur first Ducharme is one of the finest amateur first basemen in the country, and his work in the games here last fall was much admired by local cranks. The trouble in Detroit is that both teams want Ducharme to guard first base for them. He naturally would prefer to play with the champions, and has consented to do so. Now the Michigans are pouting, and declare they won't play at all unless "Buff" is their first baseman. Fred Stearns will bring his diplomacy to bear, and it is altogether likely the matter will be patched up.

Secretary Sullivan yesterday received a telegram from R. W. Wright, Secretary of the Cleveland Athletic Club, announcing that he had mailed the entries of the three clubs from the Forest City. Mr. Sullivan also received a despatch from Howard Perry, stating that the capital's three entries were on the way. Mr. Perry has been husting in the interest of amateur ball at Washington. He has been conducting an amateur series between six clubs there, and has got the excitement up to fever beat.

be very interesting. There will be six ciubs, including the New Jerseys, Eastern champions; New York A. C., Manhattan A. C., Yonkers A. C., Cathedral A. C. and Berkeley A. C. The Yonkers and Cathedral A. C. teams entered yesterday, the New Yorks some days ago, and the others will come in to-day.

The battle between Cleveland and Detroit for the Western championship will be a hot one.

SCORES THE DWYERS.

Inspector Byrnes Says a Few Plain Thing

About the Horsemen. NEW YORK, April 17.-Inspector Byrne evinced no desire to withdraw any of the state ments credited to him by the newspapers in relation to the Dwyer Bros, when a reporte saw him to-day. "This pool selling business on alleged races which are only run to deceive the public is rapidly becoming a confounded nuisance," said the Inspector, "and I have determined to take advantage of every available termined to take advantage of every available means to suppress it.

"In reference to my statements reflecting upon the Dwyers, I reiterate them now, and I say more, that these men are no more entitled to respect or consideration than any other horsemen who pose as patrons of such institutions as the Guttenberg race track. Pleuty of evidence can be obtained to prove that they are nothing less than racing sharps, ready to put up any kind of a job that will serve to enrich them at the expense of a too confiding public. They run strings of horses; not in the interest of promoting honest sport, but rather to swindle the people who bet money. There is not a prominent poolroom keeper in this city who has not been associated with the famous or infamous brothers in jobs which enabled them to filch money from trusting bettors. I still contend that under the provisions of the Ives pool bill betting on races anywhere except on the race track is illegal, and aided by the District Attorney I intend to have every poolseller at the bar to plead to indictments under the provisions of the Ives law."

CLARKE IS SILENT.

The Supposed Backer of Fitzsimmons H

Nothing to Say About a Battle. There were no new developments in th Smith and Fitzsimmons matter yesterday. Mr. Clarke, the alleged backer of Fitzsimmons. couldn't be heard from, and the Smith party claim that Fitzsimmons is going up and down the country making a huge bluff. John Quinn called at this office last evening and said: "I cannot get a word from this man Clarke who is supposed to be the backer of Fitzsimmons. Smith means to claim the title, and he is ready to fight either Fitzsimmons, Hall or anybody else at middle weight. When Fitzsimmons talks about fighting for nothing less than $12,000 he simply shows that he does not want to fight at all. We will give him his own time, in fact, he can have all of his own way."

A Man for Gibbons.

LONDON, April 17 .- Austin Gibbons, the American pugilist, who recently arrived here and issued a challenge to fight any of the 9 stone 10 pound pugilists, has not had long to wait for an engagement. Jem Verrall, who recently defeated Sammy Blakelock, well known in America, agreed to fight the American. The night in full uniform, serenading friends on pugilists and their backers met at the Sporting Life office to-day and signed articles to fight at Life office to-day and signed articles to fight at 9 stone 8 pounds, the championship of the world, and a purse of £25, offered by the Pelican Club.

The American's only stipulation was that the battle should be fought with gloves like Richard K. Fox has sent to Lord Lonsdale. The fight is to be decided on June 10, and the result, owing to its being an international affair, promises to create as much interest as the Nunc Wallace and Dixon contest. Gibbons has been well received here, and made a host of friends. Verrall is a tough customer, and the fight will be a desperate one.

May Be Matched To-Day. It is probable that Ed Smith and Bob Fitzsin mons will be matched this afternoon to fight for the middle-weight championship of the office late last evening, and Fitzsimmons stated he would make a match right away. Smith's backer was found and the entire party adjourned to the Seventh Avenue Hotel. Fitz-simmons could not find his backer, but he agreed to meet John Quinn this afternoon at o'clock at the Seventh Avenue Hotel and make a match.

Protection and Free Trade Each Finds Its Advocates in the WESTERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Both Majority and Minority Reports Favor Free Coinage.

BENEFITS OF IRRIGATION SET FORTH

KANSAS CITY, April 17 .- At the Commercial Congress this morning the subject, "Transportation and Improvement of Waterways, Lakes, Gulfs and the Pacific Ports," was taken up. S. A. Thompson, Secretary of the Commercial Club of Duluth, advocated the improvement of waterways as affording the cheapest transportation. Colonel T. C. Catchings, of Mississippi, argued that an increase in water traffic, however great, would not decrease railroad business, but would rather increase it. Hon. J. M. Murphy, of Iowa, spoke on the Hennepin Canal. His life had one purpose and his heart one hope, and that was the construction of the Hennepin Canal. He explained in a long speech the benefits to accrue from the construction of the canal, and be had no doubt that the Government would construct it if the Government could be brought to a realizing sense of the canal's importance.

The Irrigation Problem. Colonel A. C. Fisk, of Denver, delivered an address on irrigation. He said 900,000,-000 of people were kept alive on food raised on irrigated land in Spain, China, Egypt, Russia, India and the United States, yet the subject of irrigation, although carried on successfully for hundreds of years, was but little understood. In the trans-Mississinpi country enough land was allowed to go to waste that was susceptible of cultivation to support whole nations of people. The work of irrigation had already been begun by the United States. Major Powell estimated that there were 1,000,000 square miles of arid lands in the Western country that the minimum price of public lands, $1 25 per acre, this land had a value of $800,000,-000. At $30 per acre, a moderate estimate of its value when irrigated, it would be worth $19,200,000,000.

Government Should Do the Work. The Government had done very little for the great West. Upon other public im-provements the Government had expended ore than $500,000,000. It had expended practically nothing for irrigation. Without agriculture the arid lands would never be settled, and there would be no people to provide irrigation. The Government should start the work.

Mr. Wickliffe said he would treat his subect. "Immigration and Settlement of Vaeant Lands," from the text "America for Americans." He spoke against unrestricted immigration, and cited the New Orleans affair as a case in point.

The majority report of the Committee on Resolutions favors the adoption by Congress of a law authorizing free, unlimited coinage of silver, and the issuance of a sufficient amount of legal tender notes to be redeema-ble in both gold and silver to restore the equilibrium between money and all other products; favors a tariff for revenue only, and urges Congress to enact laws to place the tariff upon a purely revenue basis at as early a date as practicable; declares that the inter-State commerce of the country should be controlled by the General Government; day. dealing in futures, and commends the Sec-retary of Agriculture for his efforts toward removing the restrictions on our foreign meat trade.
