

FANCIES FOR THE FAIR.

Spring Fashions at Home and Abroad—The Hats to Be Worn in London—Some of the Novelties—Gowns for Debutantes and Belles.

Hats reclaim a London correspondent of THE DISPATCH in a letter received last week. Up hill, down dale, and round the corner Fair and wide they spread, laden with the fruits of the earth and the birds of the air.

Why should the crowns of our heads be made to describe an angle of the crown? Why should we measure a good 20 inches from the napes of our necks to the tip-top pearl regions of our heads? Heaven knows. These are questions that even the oracular "palemon" cannot answer.

One pretty little hat, of rough light gray straw, was of the most "cat-hill" description, and had softly coiled and knotted crepe scarves coming from the turned-over brim at the back, of the most delicate shades of amber, pale gray and soft lilac.

Trimmed to Gill Galloway, 45? Why should we measure a good 20 inches from the napes of our necks to the tip-top pearl regions of our heads? Heaven knows. These are questions that even the oracular "palemon" cannot answer.

Sharp curving toward where the crown of a bonnet is usually worn, but where, in this instance, it was absent. At the back was an acre of black and gold, while orange velvet strings were crossed at the back and then under the chin into a great big bow that was almost of the "poke" shape.

A vegetarian on stern principles might perhaps be said to describe to you. The foundation was of silver wire, and over it was drawn soft green gauze in faithful reproduction of an exaggerated lettuce leaf.

Most charming gold belts, made of a sort of network of gold, have of late been introduced for evening wear, especially with light silk, or crepe de chine dresses, 372 The Season. They make themself well to the wearer's figure.

HOW TO GET MARRIED

Mrs. John Sherwood Describes the Customs in Polite Society. A PROPER WEDDING IN ENGLAND. Announcing the Engagement, the Invitations and the Ceremony. BRIDEARMS AND THE HOBEYMOON

After returning to her home the bride should advise her friends by card of the day on which she will receive them. To persons not invited to the wedding the parents of the bride send announcement cards. Invitations to the wedding are sent out in duplicate.

In a recent lecture Edwin Atkinson stated that with nine-tenths of the people the cost of maintaining life exceeds half the income. The cause of this is, in many instances, waste of food and improper use of food.

A hearty laboring man's food should cost him no more—money wasted in fuel and bad cooking—how to make Sully Luncheon—Other Recipes.

Following are some reliable general recipes: Custard Pudding. Beat up the yolks of four eggs, add a pinch of salt, a pinch of nutmeg, a dash of lemon juice, and beat until creamy.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

Have Great Difficulty in Finding Living Accommodations. TRIBULATIONS OF HOTEL LIFE. The Appointments of a Garden Spot in the Oasis of New York. A CHANCE FOR THE CAPITALISTS

There are many houses which have no room for women. The sense of protected privacy, of correct surroundings, is priceless to a woman, and minor things about the place add greatly to its attractiveness.

"I usually begin my city sojourn in one of the uptown hotels, where cleanliness and quiet are domicile, but $4 a day for the comforts of a bedroom 10 by 14 and water hygienically frozen in the freezer, three stories over the heads of several millionaires, does not exactly suit an artist's resources.

The wedding breakfast in America is a stand-up affair, and it is proper to serve every delicacy of the table. There is no roasting, and no trifling with the food.

At a country wedding, if the day is fine, little tables are set out on the lawn. The ladies seat themselves around, the gentlemen stand behind them. The food is served in a tent or under a pavilion.

This is an exceptional experience probably. It is more common to be kept awake by the noise of the city at night, and the noise of the city at night is more common to be kept awake by the noise of the city at night.

"But, taking my fate in my hand, I asked for a boarding house where, when I arrived in the morning, I could get my feet wet in the street and go to bed without touching it, blowing on it, or moving the chair.

It is very troublesome to be married in France, especially if one of the high-conductor parties is a foreigner. A certificate of matrimonial law is required, and it is the duty of the father and mother and a written consent of the grandfathers and grandmothers, if either is alive and of age, to give their consent.

Wonderful Progress in Practical Medicine Made in America. A MACHINE TO WRITE MUSIC. The Glass Workers Have Attained a High Artistic Standard.

The most important improvements in practical medicine made in the United States of late years have been in surgery in its various branches. This country has led the way in the ligation of some of the larger arteries, in the removal of abdominal tumors, in the treatment of diseases and injuries peculiar to women, and of spinal affections, as well as deformities of various kinds.

The total number of surgical instruments and appliances manufactured during the past decade has been about 1,500, the patients having been, in almost all cases, taken out by manufacturers of modern machinery and apparatus, of which about 500 have been patented during the decade.

Admirable mode of opening and closing flap-joint shutters from the inside with water pressure from the hose has been introduced into various fire departments. The device can be used as inexpensively as applied to ordinary shutters.

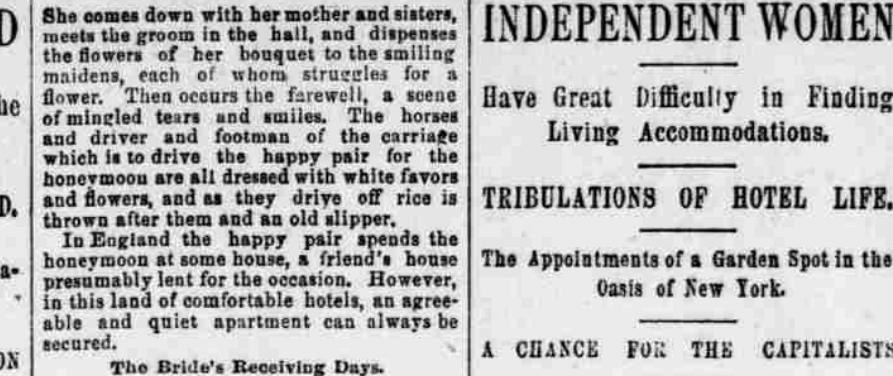

A PROMINENT railway journal makes the excellent suggestion that enterprising and progressive manufacturers and business men should subscribe to their own newspapers, holding in mind that the increased efficiency thereby produced will result in higher profits.

THE degree of delicacy which has been attained in the application of the radio-microscope for the measurement of radiant heat, is a result of more careful study and application of the science of physics, and the results have been made known to the public.

A MACHINE has been designed for making bricks and tiles on the semi-process. The brick or material to be formed into bricks is fed into a hopper into a loose and granulated state, from which it is fed into a series of rollers, and then into a moulding machine.

It is not generally known that an entirely distinct school of scientific work has sprung up in this country, which is accomplishing the most wonderful results. To such a high state has this artistic taste been developed that private houses which would have seemed intolerable ten years ago, three thousand dollars are paid for single windows today in private houses which would have seemed intolerable ten years ago.
