THE MUSIC WORLD,

A Great Musical Event From the Mozart Club and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

SECOND IN IMPORTANCE TO NONE.

Best Chorus Pittsburg Ever Preduced and Pinest Orchestra the Country Ever Produced.

MR. CARNEGIE'S GIFT TO NEW YORK.

A Story About Verdi's Marsoni Requiem and Some New Items of Interest,

The two concerts in which the Mozart Club will have the aid of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and prominent soloists promise an artistic importance second to that of no other musical event of recent local seasons. They will take place at Old City Hall on the evenings of April 30 and May 1; the complete programmes, as follows, are now first made public:

in color, and narrow, thin and long in shape. Terra cotta trimmings and appropriate architectural forms of decoration blend harmoniously with the colors of the bricks. Its interior presents a most varied and complex series of halls and apartments, in which nearly every form of public gathering may be held. For the term "music hall" in reality covers three separate buildings—the one on the corner, containing the main hall, the building adjoining it on Fifty-seventh street, to be known as the "Lateral Building," and a third on Fifty-sixth street.

eral Building," and a third on Filty-skin street.

The main hall has two tiers of boxes, a dress circle and a balcony rising above the parquet, giving a total seating capacity, as now arranged, of about 3,000, with standing room for 1,000 persons besides. The lower floor is twice the size of that of the Metropolitan Opera House, for this parquet has seats for 1,000 persons, while that of the Metropolitan has but 550 chairs. The chairs in the new hall are to be, if anything, a bit wider and more sumptuous 550 chairs. The chairs in the new hall are to be, if anything, a bit wider and more sumptuous than those in the Metropolitan, and the space between the rows will be from one to two inches wider. Fully 500 more seats, like the ordinary orchestra chair, pould have been placed on the floor.

The shape of the ceiling and of the entire room is most peculiar and pleasing. Rounding un to a flattened semi-circle, the walls and ceiling combine in a harmonious curve, which is said to promise exceptional acoustic properties, hesides affording an open view of the stage from every seat. The stage is large and has attached to it a number of dressing rooms for the performers.

The "Recital Hall," having its own entrance on Fifty-seventh street, seats about 1,200 persons and is admirably adapted for chamber concerts, as also for banquets and other social functions, being connected with a kitchen pantries, etc. These cooking and serving facilities are also conveniently situated for use in conare also conveniently situated for use in con-nection with any of the other apartments which include a third ball of about 450 seating in the performance of these admirable programmes is collisted the best chorus Pittsburg has produced, that of the Mozart Club, which is now closing its twelfth season of earnest, artistic work—a permanent hody composed of the choicest local material, and from its incention continuously under the careful and efficient drilling of Conductor James P. McCollina

There is also collisted the finest orchestra this country has produced—thanks to the philanthropoe enterprise of Banker Higgmson, who saw clearly that the best artistic results are attainable only from a permanent body of players occupied daily and exclusively upon the best rusic and under the same conductor, and then had the courage to back up his opinion to the extent of paying an annual deficit amounting, as estimated by a reputable critic at the close of the eighth season (1888-89) to the pretty sum total of Siel, 864 up to that date. With what great and instituble gratification must not Mr. Higginson hook back over the decase, noting that for several seasons past the fashionable people of Boston have been hading arcendums of from $5 to $100 and over for choice of season tickets, while many thousands of poorer music-lovers have enjoyed the country now unanimously acknowledge the fashions. With his players and Miss Decca, delighted an audience said to contain 6,000 people. Against their coming to Pittsburg (Old City Hall, May 2) Mr. Rhinehart is diligently rehearing the 300 picked school children who are to sing at the matine. For the exeming the following programme is now first announced: Overture, "Rienzi," Wagner: Rhapsody, "The Land of the Mountain and the Flood," Hamish Mac Cunn; "Invitation a la Valse." Weber: Mosaic, "The Pearl Fishers," Bizet; Grand Aria, "Perle du Brezil," David, Mile. Marie Decca, Thue Obligato, Mr. Henry Jaezer; Overture, "William Tell," Rossini; (a) Toreador et Andalonse, "Bal Costume," The Contest," Gounds; symphonic poem, "Ben Hur's Contest," Gounds; symphonic poem, "Ben Hur's Contest," Goulfrey; polka staccato, for soprano of Chicago, New York and San Francisco por the country now unanimously acknowledge the fashion of Chicago, New York and San Francisco por the country now unanimously acknowledge the fashion of Chicago, New York and San Francisco por of Chicago, New York and San Francisco por of Chicago, New York and San Francisco now uniting to follow his footsteps by subscrib-ing guarantee funds for permanent orchestras

The Mozart Club has for these concerts on The Mozart Club has for these concerts engaged solo singers worthy and accastomed to appear with such a chorus and orchestra. Mrs. Bishop, Mr. Zummerman and Dr. Martin are already known and much admired here. Mrs. Alkisch is the wife of Mr. Arthur Nikisch, the highly-prized conductor of the Boston Symplany Orchestra, and is herself a singer whose European repute and recent appearances in important concerts in this country commend her to Pittsburg's attention. For Miss Lena Little, the contralts, quite as much favor is believed. Little, the contralto, quite as much favor is be-spoken by her successes at home and abroad.

week of Verni's "Manzoni Requiem" (first produced May 22, 1874) the following little. known story of its origin, given on the authori-ty of Sir George Grove, will in this connection be of interest:

The project was immediately accepted, and the 15 numbers of the work, the form and tenality of each of which had been previously determined, were distributed among different 13 composers, Verdibeing assigned the last section, the Libera ma, "The acceptance while the property of the last section as a second control of the last section as a second control of the last section. "The several numbers were duly set to music and sent in but, as might be expected when performed in an uninterrupted succession, they were found to want the unity and uniformity of style that is the sine qua non of a work of art; and, though everyone had done his best, there were too many different degrees of merit in the several parts; so that, without assigning any positive reason, the matter was dropped, and after a while each number was went back to its author. But it, Mazzucato, of Milan, who had hist seen the complete work, was so struck by Verdi's Libera we as to write him a letter stating the impression he had received from that single number, and entreating him to compose the whole requirem. Shortly after this Alessandro Manzuch the celebrated novelist and poet, who was Verdi's intimate friend, died at Milan; whereapon Verdi offered to write a requirem for the anniversary of Manzuni's death; and this is the work, the last novement of which was originally composed for the Requirem of Rossini." "The several numbers were duly set to music

Mr. Carnegie's Gift to New York.

Musical New York is all agog over the new music hall built for it by Mr. Andrew Carnegie on the corner of Party-seventh street and Sixth avenue, of which a likeness is this morning presented. Chiefly from the full description con-tained in the "Music Festival Supplement" of the American Musician last week the follow-Lig points are culled:

Festival.

In this connection and arropos of Pittsburg deep interest in the planning of the Carneg Library buildings, it is most gratifying to reall the following language used by Mr. Canegie, when interviewed for this paper la month in New York regarding his rumored itention of erecting a number of tenemer here:

They Challenge Criticism.

They Challenge Criticism.

Here are two programmes that can challenge criticism according to the highest standards of the art. The Boston orchestra, neither under Mr. Gericke nor Mr. Nikisch, has given us such a programme heretofore; indeed, the writer's memory does not bring up any orchestral programme offered in this city quite equal to the scheme above outlined for Thursday evening, with the single exception of the Beethoven night of the May Festival of 1889. The second programme, two, in presenting a complete cheral work of the rank and magnitude of Veral's Requien, will stand as good a comparison with any choral concert, Festival or otherwise, that we have had for a number of years.

In the performance of these admirable programmes is onlisted the best choras Pittsburg has produced, that of the Mozart Club, which is now closing its twelfth season of carnest, here:

The Origin of a Requiem.

Preliminary to a more extended notice next week of Verui's "Manzoni Requiem" (first produced May 22, 1874) the following little known story of its origin, given on the authority of Sir George Grove, will in this connection be of interest:

Twenty Years of Suffering,

During Which Time Numerous Physicians

Were Consulted, But Without Avail, Till

Dr. Byers' Services Were Sought, Prompt and Permanent Relief the Result. "Can you realize what it is to suffer for 20 long weary years, never knowing a comfortable day, and then be suddenly freed from all the agonizing pains and restored to perfect health?" says Mrs. Cherry; "if so, you can imagine my feelings at the present time and the debt of gratitude I owe to Dr. Byers, who has worked this great change in me. My trouble first started with the common symptoms of catarrh, pain over the eyes, roaring in the ears, stoppage of the nostrils, etc., but these in time gave way to an intense dryness of the throat, mouth and tongue and severe neuralgic headaches, which almost drove me crazy. When these pains were specially severe I could scarcely walk without falling over, and they were always followed by periods of drowsiness. "Can you realize what it is to suffer for 2

"In time my stomach and heart became affected. Though my appetite was good, I had pain and distress after eating, with bloating, rifting and palpitation. During all this long period 1 consulted doctor after doctor, with little or no relief, until I was directed to Dr. Byers. I felt immediate relief from his first treatment, and now after five months' continuous treatment can say I feel better than I have for 25 years. I will cheerfully verily this to any one who will call upon me at my home, at the end of street car line, suburbs of Mc-Keesport, where I have lived for 30 years."

Since first publishing the above testimonial in the Sunday Leader Mrs. Cherry called at my office with her son to place him under treatment, and said I did not make it half strong enough, as no one could understand the suffering she had endured for years, and that she told everyone this who called on her. No one can, therefore, accuse me with exaggerating the symptoms of those cases published as cured by my method of treatment.

TREATMENT $5 A MONTH TILL JULY 1.

Patients contemplating treatment with me will please take notice that'my $5 treatment will be discontinued July 1, but all coming to me prior to that time will be treated until cured at the same rate, medicine included. This popular priced treatment has proved very satisfactory to both parients and mysell, and the means of furnishing to these of moderate circumstances a high-class specific treatment heretofore beyond their reach. Some have appreciated my honest endeavors, while others have underrated them, and my reason for advanding my rates is that the reputation I have made by my hard and conscientious work entitles me to better fees. All will be governed accordingly. Office No. 421 Penn avenue. Established 1885. Specialies, catarrah and all chronic diseases, including nervous, blood and skin affections. Send for question blank.
