OTHER PULPIT TOPICS OF YESTERDAY

Rev. E. L. Prentiss, D. D., of Knoxville, Tenn., preached last evening at the West End M. E. Church. Rev. Prentiss is here in connection with the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational Society, and his remarks were on the work of the organization, which is an adjunct of the church. He said:

"The white people of the South argue that this is a white man's Government, and they do not propose to have negroes in official positions. The Constitution of the United States says nothing about either white or black, but that all men are equal. When the black man has his legal rights, all anxiety over the race problem may be at an end. The negro are more than anything else. This is made evident by the fact that all through the South mulattoes are growing less in number, while pure blacks are steadily increasing, so that before many years those of mixed blood will be comparatively few.

No Room for Colonization Agents.

"People talk of sending the negroes out of the country and colonizing them somewhere else. But let me tell you that the fate of John Brown is awalting the unan who goes into the South and announces himself a colonization agent. The Southern whites are just as much opposed to colonization as they were to emancipation. The negro is the bone and sinew of the South, and to take him away would kill every industry there.

"The negro has clearly proven that he can be educated, and that he desires it. We have the colonization of the contraction of the educated and that he desired it. We have seducated and that he desired it. We have seen the seducated and that he desired it. We have seducated and that he desired industry there.

"The negro has clearly proven that he can be educated, and that he desires it. We have educated, and that he desires it. We have hundreds of them in our institutions who are living on 30 cents a week to be able to get an education. The black man can make and save money as well as be faithful to a trust. Of course the South has plenty of bad, worthless negroes, but the race is steadily growing better. we noticed numerous instances where the blackest of them were much more intelli-

Rev. Mr. Prentiss closed by telling about the feet. Mr. Frentiss closed by tening about the progress of the Educational Society, stating that last year $250,000 was expended in the cause, and for the coming year they could put $500,000 to good use. A collection was raised for the benefit of the cause. Some Other Similar Exercises.

At the Buena Vista Street Church yesterday morning Rev. D. L. Aultman, D. D., of Cincin-nati, preached, and at Christ Church Rev. J. C. Hartzell, D. D., occupied the pulpit. Both spoke on the subject of negro education. In nearly all the Methodist Churches in the two es this was the theme of discourse yester

HE CALLS IT SILLY TALK.

Rev. E. B. Donehoo Argues Against the Eight-Hour Movement.

Rev. E. R. Doneboo preached yesterday in the Eighth Presbyterian Church on the text: "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till then return unto the ground." He said: Work is often regarded as a punishment for man's first transgression. Our penal laws make labor a penalty for crimes committed. It is a mistake to so look upon work. Adam and Eve worked from morn to night in the days of their innocency and never accounted it punishment. It was the ground that God cursed so that man's labors were attended with natural difficulties which often would make labor a irtudgery. This world of ours is not a convict camp, nor are the men and women who work for their living to be looked upon with pitr or contempt. The law of work is a universal law, applicable to every man and woman. Our work is to be a life work. "Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his labor until the evening." Some work awaits us each day, and God expects of mistake to so look upon work. Adam and Eve work awaits us each day, and God expects of each of us a full day's work and no shirking. A great deal or silly talk is indulged in about the number of hours which should constitute a day's work, as though circumstances had noth-ing to do with determining the matter. If un-scrupulous employers had their way of it they ould make 18 hours a day's work, while those laboring men who regard labor as a curse and the only redeeming quality about it the wages, would cartail the hours until they would be about what a first-class teacher of gyunastics would regard as proper to be devoted to health-ful exercise. The attempt to establish a rigid rule on this subject is absurd and mischievo ne kinds of labor are so exhaustive that Some kinds of labor are so exhaustive that the hours should necessarily be short, while others require longer hours in order that the employer may carry out his contracts without absolute loss. Each case should be decided upon its own merits. For a man to force his employer to pay 10 hours wages for eight hours work is unifus, while for an employer to refuse to allow their men to work but eight hours, as is the case is the coke regions at this time, when the men are satisfied with a corresponding reduction in their wages, is tyrannical. The precipitation of a strike upon the whole country at this particular time cannot but result try at this particular time cannot but result disastrously to all concerned.

A NEW HEBREW CHURCH.

Dedication Services by the Sharo Torah Congregation, Yesterday.

The dedication and consecration services of the Sharo Torah Congregation and its new church were held yesterday afternoon at the church, No. 35 Townsend street. The services were conducted entirely in Hebrew. Rabbi Ziwitz preached the dedication sermon and addresses were made by Rev. W. T. Cron, Rev. S. F. Salenger, Sir Arnold and Sir Kornbium. Rabbi Ziwitz at the conclusion of his sermon turned over the key of the church to the Board of Trustees. The music was of a very high order and was under the direction of M. Silberman, who had a trained choir of boys to assist him.

The congregation of Sharo Torah is a new one, having been organized about a month. It numbers about 75 members and has for its pastor Rabbi Ziwitz. They secured the old Welsh church that stands at No. 35 Townsend street, paying for it about $11,000. The church was thoroughly renovated and by reserday was ready for dedication. The organization of the congregation is as follows: Board of Trustees, Max Sobel, President; M. Danilewei'z, Vice President; Max Goodman, Secretary; H. Amdursky, S. Niman, Max Moresky, Building Committee, M. Scheffler, Chairman; L. W. Avnet, Treasurer; A. M. Tobenfligte, S. R. Epstein, J. Sondonsky, H. Segol, A. D. Cooper, H. D. Saks, D. S. Osgod and H. Kalmenowsky. were conducted entirely in Hebrew. Rubbi

American Matters.

The opportunity of a gentleman being in the city who is istimately acquainted with, and has traveled extensively through. South America, was taken to obtain some information regarding the condition of affairs there, and the prospect of extended business relations between that country and the United States. Mr. G. Muellierro was at the Duquesne last night, and though at first reluctant to be quoted for what he might say, he finally acquiesced, and spoke very interestingly regarding various matters in relation to the Southern Republics. Mr. Muellierro has information to the effect that work on the Panama canal will be resumed within a few months, He has reason to be-lieve that within a short time the International Railroad Commission will bring forward a statement which will show that project to be nearer materialization than is generally supposed. He speaks very pertinently touching the backwardness of American manufacturers in ascertaining that they don't want rather than merchandise that they do. Possibilities in the Railroad Way. Mr. Mueltierro recently met members of the International Railroad Commission in Philadelphia. They had had an interview with an official of one of the trunk lines, and were able to express the belief that the railroad project would be nut on a material basis in a short time. The construction of a road between the City of Mexico and Buenos Ayres, a distance of between 4,000 and 4,500 miles, will provide the means of communication necessary to an interchange of trade between the two countries, a drawback, which will, no doubt, be remedied in time, is the bad management which obtains in Mexican domestic affairs. A very much larger trade than is carried on now would exist between Mexico and the States if the Customs department were managed on business principles. Goods from this country can be entered only with a great deal of trouble and delay, and on payment of duties and fines for unimportant and unintentienal infringement of a rule.

Mr. Muellierro is in receipt of information, indirectly, from France which leads him to believe that the Pauama project will be revived. He was informed, when in New York, that Mr. Slaven, of the Slaven Dredging Company, had been instructed to have his two dredges prepared for work, and to remove them from Greytown to Colon, as work on the canal would be resumed within a few months. This company constructed the first 18 miles of the canal, and is credited with baving and were able to express the belief that the months. This company constructed the first 18 miles of the canal, and is credited with having made $3,500,000 out of the contract. The cost of the two dredges was $500,000 each. Mr. Slaven held stock of the Panama Railroad Company as security for the payment of a balance of $450,000 due to him by the projectors, and this amount, less $25,000 which he had thrown off, had since been paid to him.

A Railroad That Pays Handsomely. Mr. Muellierro says that the Panama Railroad is one of the best-paying railways in the world, but it is not surprising when it is stated that the fare from Aspinwall to Panama, a distance of 45 miles, used to be $25; it has since been reduced.
"I was at Panama," continued Mr.

"I was at Panama," continued Mr. Muellierro, "when operations on the canal were in progress. The mortality was something unusual, and death came to be regarded as a thing which scarcely deserved a thought. There were 4,500 graves in the cemetery, of engineers, clerks and officials who had been sent out from France in connection with the project, and the mortality among the workmen averaged 200 deaths a day. The bodies of these men were treated rather uncoremonlously. "If money sufficient to buy a coffin were not found on a body, the corpse was thrown into the ditch and buried under the earth discharged from the first gravel train which came along. Thousands of bodies were buried in this manner, and when the earth had settled some of them would respect, and, under the influence of the sun, contribute added unwholesomeness to the already deadly nature of the climate. The Jamaican negroes were found to stand the climate better than any other people, and they were negroes were found to stand the climate better than any other people, and they were brought there in shiploads, but even these men suffered terribly from fever, and died in large numbers. The projectors wanted to import 10,000 coolles from China to carry on this work, as they have the reputation of being very hardy, but the Colombian Government would not allow it. From what I understand the French people have by no means given up the project, and I expect to hear of a resumption of work on the canal within two or three months. ections of our fair State,

"Resolved, That we denounce the same and One Look Around Is Enough

The place has been given such a bad repute for its climate that it may be difficult to induce French officials to live there. When I was there it was common for one-half of a shipload of men who had been sent out to return, satis of men who had been sent out to return, satisfied with a mere glance at the place, and every returning vessel carried back many of those who had been there but a short time."

Mr. Muellierro says that the Nicaragua canal project is proceeding very slowly, and he hears that there is quite a lack of financial backing to the undertaking.

project is proceeding very slowly, and he hears that there is quite a lack of financial backing to the undertaking.

The Argentine Republic, in the estimation of Mr. Muellierro, is the most advanced of the Southern Republics in the matter of commercial progress. Business is suffering now somewhat, owing to the Baring failure, which has caused a stringency in the meney market and shortened credits, but the people are daily becoming more alive to the advantages of trading facilities, and are prépared to extend their commerce at every opportunity. Buenos Ayres has increased in population to a wonderful degree in a few years, and the number of inhabitants now exceeds 800,000. The houses of the wealthler people are luxuriously furnished, and the residences are generally very costly. The people spend money freely, but the bulk of it, instead of coming to this country, goes to France and Italy and England.

The American manufacturer," remarked Mr. Muellierro, in this connection, "is altogether too independent. He wants to force on our people in the Southern countries what he thinks they ought to buy, rather than what they want to buy. Instead of consulting their tastes, ascertaining their habits, and informing himself recarding the needs of the people, and tastes, ascertaining their habits, and informing himself regarding the needs of the people, and then manufacturing his goods to suit his trade, he consults the customs that prevail here, and sends into those markets goods of a character that the people don't want, and, of course, won't buy.

Caterers to the People's Tastes. "It is different with the French and Germans. They send over agents periodically whose business it is to see what the people want, and when they return they are in a position to trade with these countries to the best advantage. In this way they secure nearly the whole of the trade, If Americans were to advantage. In this way they secure nearly the whole of the trade. If Americans were to adopt the same plan they would get a large amount of custom that now goes to Europe. It would pay American manufacturers in a particular line of business to club together and send an agent into these countries for the sole purpose of acquiring experience regarding the conditions of life, and the requirements and character of the people. The American drummer' has no equal in the world, but no isbors under great disadvantages in trying to do business on American principles among people who are widely different in character, temperament and costoms from his na ion."

Mr. Muclilierro thinks Venezuela will become more prospersus when the positical influences which now affect her commercial progress are abated or changed for the better.

"It is a pity." he said, "that the President should not have a longer tenure of office than two years. It is notorious that the past incumbents of the office have used the position more for their own aggrandizement and emolument than in the interests of the people. Guzman Bianco, who was President up to five years ago, and served for several terms, used his opportunities to some advantage. He accumulated an immense fortune, and by virtue of his wealth and power, practically did what he pleased. He is now living in Paris on a fortune of $22,000,000, which he acquired in such a manner that he dare not return to Veuezuela.

A Great Future for Venezuela, "The country has a tuture before it, and there are signs that it will shake off the apathy which has characterized its administration, and encourage better business relations with other countries. The election of Thebar to other countries. The election of Thebar to the Presidency would be a step in the line of progress, as he is a man who would administer affairs very differently from his, predecessors.
Venezuela has the French system of coinage, and her mouetary system is the most perfect of any of the Southern Republics."

Mr. Muellierro thinks that Chicago, by virtue of her geographical position, is destined to become one of the greatest cities the world eversaw. He says that when the canal connecting her with the Miscissippi is constructed she will

About the Price of Spring Chickens at Present-Incubators as an Aid to Early Delicacles-Hens Relieved of Maternal Du-

Notwithstanding that winter has lingered long in spring's lap and the snow water is still coming from the mountains, the regular crop of spring chicken is on hand, and at 10 cents a bite the culture of this delicacy suggests large profits to some persons, and people who run incubators admit that the business pays if the strictest possible attention be given it, but a man cannot loaf around the village grocery and profitably run an incubator at the same rime. THE INTERNATIONAL RAILROAD A GO village grocery and profitably run an incubator at the same time.

There is a suspicion that most of the dressed springers are late fail chicks that have been kept in cold storage all winter, but the number of coops with chirpers on which the down has scarce changed to feathers prove that the incubator is getting its work in numerously through the country, and that it pays.

McCabe Brothers, for Coraopolis, who are chicken baby farmers, state that pinwearied attention to an incubator pays, but that slipshod management does not. They say they raise 90 per cent of the number they hatch, which is rather above what the average natural mother accomplishes.

It is said the temperature of an incubator should be about 102° or 103°—chicken Fahrenheit. Eggs should be moistened during incubation. During the first week one moisture pan is placed in the incubator, and during the last four or five days fowr moisture pans are put in. Explicit directions, however, accompany each incubator that leaves a factory, so that where any person wants to benefit humanity by making two chicks or 200 grow where but one grew before, he can easily post himself.

the requirements of the South American where out one grew before, he can cashly pos-himself.

To relieve the mother of maternal duty may seem at first thought to some people a kindness, but it is not. As soon as a nen has discarded youthful vanities, motherhood becomes a great solace to her, unless she belongs to the Leghorn species, and though she may lay a thousand eggs in the course of a well-spent pilgrimage, yet she finally goes into the pot with a very pronounced impression that her life has been a failure. Of course, her owner is prone to look at the unsentimental side of poultry economy, people, and in seeking to sell them goods at the unsentimental side of poultry economy but if a Pythagorean, he could not conscien ously manufacture poultry by steam.

an Odd Fist Fight That Amused a Large Sunday Crowd. Two Poles, Nick Pince and Stephen Applezie were arrested at 9 o'clock last night and sent to the Seventeenth ward police station, charged by Officer Adair with disorderly conduct. Pince is a small but very compact and muscu lar man; Applexie measures over six feet, but is exceedingly thin. From a cause that could not be learned they engaged in a personal en-counter on Forty-seventh street. The contrast counter on Forty-seventh street. The contrast in their respective sizes was so marked that a large crowd was soon attracted, and, while many applauded the plack of the little man, the larger one won the admiration of an almost equal number by the manner in which he held the irate, muscular little man at arm's reach and punished him.

The noisy demonstration of the crowd gave the warning to the police, and Officer Adair arrested both combatants.

The Homestend Sub-Lodges of the Amalgamated Support Basic Lodge. The joint meeting of the seven sub-lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was held in the new Opera House at Homestead, at 10 o'clock A. M. yesterday. The hall was crowded to suffocation, and the best of order and harmony prevailed. The object of the meeting was to discuss the grievance of "Basic" lodge. As was stated in Saturday's issue of THE DISPATCH, the above named lodge promulgated a scale and presented it to the firm for its signature. After much haggling and a delaylof weeks the firm finally refused to consider the men's scale, and substituted "a little scale of its own," as they expressed it. They declared the men would have to accept it before they would start the mill.
