BIG MONEY IN LIQUOR.

Wholesalers, Brewers and Distillers Disclose Their Receipts.

SEVERAL VERY SEVERE ROASTS.

Judge White Declares Strongly Against Keg and Jug Traffic,

ALL THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

The License Court Judges, having concluded the retail list, started yesterday upon the applicants who do business in bulk. The distillers were taken up first, then the brewers and the bottlers. There was not a clear understanding about the taking up of the brewers, bottlers, etc., so that many of them were not present. Those who did not answer their names will be heard to-day. The inquiry into the downtown wholesalers was not very strict, merely as to sales and business done.

The only Pittsburg distillers were Joseph

Finch & Co., who were asked but few questions. Henry Large, Jr., Jefferson township, also got off light. William De Wald appeared for the Pittsburg Brewing Company, and stated they did $100,000 worth of dict's Academy, of Allegheny, Pa," which was business last year. Pier, Dannals & Co. granted. got through easy. The William Tann Browing Company will get a license, and material furnished the Academy, which contransfer it to a new company to be organined. The Straub Brewing Company reported their business as $100,000. The Iron City Brewing Company did $800,000 worth of business during the past year. P. W. Laschaid, 2534 Josephine street, stated their business last year was $35,000. Michael Winter, 2022 Josephine street, did $290,000 worth of business. John H. Nusser, South Twelfth street, reported their sales as $37,000. Richard Gangwisch, Juniata and Magnolia streets, Allerheny, reported his sales as $50,000. F. L. Ober & canvas, showing cattle, dogs, children and divers objects, together with a pamphlet of some 100 pages which was called a boos of instructions. This latter was said to be valued at $254, and in the plea of the plaintiff great streets was placed on the value of "secrets of the trade," etc. The defense held that the material was in excess of what had been ordered, and that which was furnished was exorbitant in price. To substantiate this, several dealers in artists materials were put on the stand, and four pupils of the academy also testified. Thomas M. Marshall, Sr., was the principal consuled to ridculing the claim of the plaintiffs. He convulsed the court, the jury and the onlookers, at times, with his sarcasm

J.C. Buffum & Co. were the first bottlers, They did $50,000 worth of business last year. Phomas Marray, 28 and 30 Market street, did 8,000 worth of business during the year, Michael Nelligan, 2 Fourth avenue, is a rainter and a new applicant. Hugh McCutabiter and a new applicant. Hugh McCut-heon, 227 Second avenue, was refused last ear. Frank Schaper, No. 6 Grant street, did ot allow drinking on his premises, but ad-isted to selling same by the drink. Joseph Instein & Co. reported their sales at $65,000. loss Eibe, 233 Fifth avenue, has $2,000 to start usiness on. Fred Hell, Jacob Rinn, Pier & Pannals, Fred Gamble, Lawrence Hufnagle and Valentine Jones were all examined in short rifer.

John Boehm, of the Sixteenth ward, was the John Boehm, of the Sixteenth ward, was the first afternoon applicant. His petition was defective. The Straub Brawing Company was beard and passed quickly. Patrick O'Neil, of the Nineteenth ward, get a very light examination. The Keystone Brewing Company claimed their sales last year to be $300,000. C. W. Laschaid had but few questions to answer as he is a brower. Frederick Fuln, of the Thirty-second ward, withdrew his application. John M. Caldwell, of the First ward, Allegheny, had a transfer license, and did not allow any drinking on the premises. ng on the premises. Benjamin A. Earl, First ward, Allegheny, sold in no less a quantity than two bottles, and was satisfied that he did not supply any speak-casies. His sales during the year amounted to $15.000.

easies. His sales during the year amounted to $15,000.

Mr. Christy—Do you furnish beer to 6i Robinson street, and the corner of Robinson and Lacook street.

Mr. Earl—No, sir; I do not.

Christian Sende and Leonard Karn, 40 East street, Allegheny, have $6,000 invested in the business. Bernhart Kroll, No. 4 Belmont street, Allegheny, was sure he didn't supply any speak-easies. Eberhart & Ober, 24 and 25 Vinial street, bottle nothing but their own beer. Their sales last year amounted to $400., 000. The applicants admitted that they sold beer by the eighth at the brewery, and Judge White said he would recommend the discontinuance of the judiscriminate selling of eighths to everyone who called for it at the brewery.

He Disapproves of Kegs. Happley & Son never had a bottlers' license uring the past Judge White again repeated his warning about the selling of eighths. D. Lutz & Son bottle only their own product. F. L. Ober & Bro. bottledt during the past year $15,000 worth of beer. They never sell less than a case, and the drivers are not allowed to sell any. George Rohn, $35 Spring Garden avenue, did $1,000 worth of business during the year, and has about $6,000 invested in the business. He never sold in less quantity than by the case, and was positive that be supplied no speak-easies. Wainwright & Co. Fifteenth ward, stated that their business last year amounted to $400,000. Very few eighths ware sold at the brewery, and their drivers were not allowed to sell from the wagon. Their bottling business amounted to $3000. only their own product. F. L. Ober & Bro bottling business amounted to $30,000. Thomas Carr, 21, 23 and 25 Third avenue, Mc-Keesport, has never been in the business and is a mill man, and his experience was confined to one month's work in a wholesale house. Judge White-How much money have you? Mr. Carr-From eight to nine hundred thousand dollars.

Judge White-Where do you keep so much oney?

Mr. Carr—In the house.
Judge White—What! In the house?
Mr. Carr—Yes, I have had it there for four

The Bauerlein Brewing Company, wholesale, did £300,000 worth of business last year. They sometimes sold eighths at the brewery, and Judge White read the riot act as to the indiscriminate sale of beer at breweries. The firm were certain that they did not furnish any sneak-easies, as their drivers had orders that if anyone pot more beer than they thought could be sold by themselves to stop selling to them. To Mr. Christy the applicant denied sending wagon loads of beer into plicant denied sending wagon loads of beer into Fred C. Hampe, Lower St. Clair township, withdrew his application.

Barthold Bauman, 408 Ferry street, was the first wholesale applicant. His receipts last year were $58,000. Of this $18,000 was for beer,

Jug-Selling on Saturday. Frank Bonestalli, 10 Diamond square, did $18,000 worth of business last year. His goods were principally wine. He sold no beer in jugs, but did sell wine in jugs. Judge Wnite—You sell a great many jugs on Saturday? Mr. Bonestalli-Oh, not sometimes 6, 8 and 10. Judge White-My reports are that there is a perfect string of jug buyers at your place on Saturdays.

Mr. Bonestalli—That's not so.
Bennett Bros"., 135 First avenue, reported their sales a little over $300,000. They sold no beer in jugs, as they didn't handle beer.
Liquors were sometimes sold in jugs. They sell occasionally by the bottle and allow no drinking on the premises. To Mr. Christy the applicant admitted to doing some compounding. Mr. Christy called the Court's attention to the fact that nearly all wholesalers comto the fact that nearly all wholesalers com-pounded liquors, which is contrary to the law, without paying a special license.

Judge White-What is compounding?

Mr. Bennett-It's the blending of whisky to-Mr. Curisty-I will say that under that act re liable to prosecution? Bennett-Then every wholesaler in the in the same boat.

In the same boat.

Freedman, 214 Market street, did from the same boat. ex Freedman, 214 Market street, did from 100 to $20,000 worth of business last year, bottled no goods except whisky. Mr. his wanted to know if the applicant wasn't tag to get a transfer of license for the mes Hintel, in Beaver, but this was denied, such the receipts from liquor last year were $60. Otto Frey, 7 Diamond Square, did meas to the amount of $100,000 iast year, in trade is wines and liquors exclusively, kentelmer & Co., 28 and 25 First avenue, nothing less than a car load to anybody. sell nothing less than a car load to anybody. Philip Hamburger & Co., 29 and 30 Diamond square, do not handle beer and sell nothing is Knocked Out in Short Order. Oswald Heckman, 207 Market street, was ex-mined for a retail license and was refused. Judge White-That ends your case, then. Thus is a palpable fraud, and done to deceive This is a palpable franc, and done to deceive the court.

S. Klenordlinger & Co., 5 Diamond Square, reported their husiness as $81,250. They did not handle beer and sold whisky by the bottle. George A. Kelly & Co., reported their drug sales as about $600,000, and liquors $8,000. They sell only on orders from diaggiets.

O'Doherty & Co., 17 and 18 Water street, reported their receipts as $161,500. They handle only whisky and wine and only sell in bottles when ordered by customers. They compounded the same as others.

Judge White—These wholesalers had better look out with their compounding.

Schuetz, Renziehausen & Co., reported their sales as a little over $221,000. They handle whisky, wine and export heer.

Myer Rosenthal, $63 Ferry street, did business to the amount of $40,000 last year, He bottled about a half barrel of beer daily, and sold none in jugs. Otto Schmidt, 12 Diamond Square, handled all kinds of liquors, but no heer. His business last year amounted to $51,-600. J. L. Abel & Co. reported their sales as $50,000, and thought they obeyed the law. Charles & F. H. Bruening, 225 Second avenue, did business to the amount of $22,000. They handle only Cincinnati beer, and sell only to wholesale and retail dealers. John Drhew, & Grant street, has no liconse, and was refused a retail license last year.

Judge White—How many houses do you own?

Mr. Drhew—About 16.
Judge White—And you had trouble about enting some for improper purposes?
Mr. Drhew—Yes; but the case was never Mr. Christy-You were also prosecuted this year?
Mr. Drhew—Yes; but 1 was discharged. I was asked to vote for Gourley and didn't do it, and I think that was the reason.
Isaac N. Finch, 12 Smithfield street, sold in ings and bottles, and his business amounted to $38,000. John C. Finch, 150 Water street, is a brother of the former applicant, and did $31,000 worth of business during the year. This ended the hearings for the day.

A RECEIVER ASKED FOR

To Continue the Business of the Ru

Manufacturing Company. A bill in equity was filed yesterday by George Russell against the Russell Manufacturing Company, of McKeesport, and James S. Kuhn, W. E. Harrison, Jane Sinclair, executrix of H. B. Sinclair: Peter Patterson, in trust for Charles Patterson; W. S. Kubn and Samuel M. Hilands. The firm made brass goods and enamel plates, and was organized in March, 1886, with a capital of $100,000. Januin March, 1886, with a capital of $100,000. January 1, 1889, they closed down, and on the 21st a meeting was held and directors elected, and Russell held 300 shares of stock and elected himself one of the directors, but declares he is unable to protect his interest, owing to the relations of the other directors with J. S. Kuhn. He alleges the latter has dealt with the assots as though they were his own, issued notes and incurred large indebtedness, and persists in keeping the works idle for the purpose of destroying the value of the stock, that he may acquire its ownership. A receiver is asked for that the works may be put in his hands for a continuance of the
