That fact is as old as the hills, and baseball cranks ought to pay as much attention to it as any other portion of the community. Only two championship games have been played here yet, and the home champions have been downed both times, but that does not by any means augur that defeat will always be their lot; or that it will even be the share in the majority of cases. Only have a little patience, and when that which is known as "good form" is reached these other fellows who come here will be at the beaten end

Yesterday's game at Exposition Park was a taure one; tame mostly because the home team wasn't in it as far as making an argument was concerned. Anson and his pupils simply had a nice and easy time; just as pleasant as being at an enjoyable strawberry festival. If they had tried to lose it is probable that they could not have accomplished that difficult task. Why, to have lost they would have had to merely sit on the bench and allowed that very misguided gentleman umpire, Phil Powers, to call the game against Causes of Defeat.

There were two chief causes of defeat of the home players yesterday, and they were so ap-parent that the spectators, who numbered robably 2,500, could not well fail to see them. ne was that Staley, who pitched for the Pittsourg representatives, was an easy victim for cher, a complete puzzler to the local batters, they was in no form at all; therefore, it would Staley was in no form at all; therefore, it would be foolishness to make any extended comments on his work in the box. He could hardly manage to keep the ball from coming in safe conact with the bats of the Chicago players. He was far below his standard, and it is only fair to give the young man time to get into pitching humor. The race is only starting.

On the other hand, Hutchinson was a riddle that our big sluggers could not at all solve. But, because such singgers as Browning, Beckley and Carroll could not find Hutch's measure vesterday, it must not be taken for granted that rday, it must not be taken for granted that e is a wonder, or that they are "wind pound-rs." They will hit the ball and hit it often yet, yen with Mr. Hatchinson doing the twirfing, I would be foolishness to expect that the big hit would be foliamed as to expect that the big hitters of the team can go on as they have done in the two games placed. They will certainly get in line, and wifen they do, there will be op-portunity to estimate with some exactness where we stand as compared with others. But Pitched a Good Game.

There's no mistake about that. And it is also a fact that Auson has a much better team than many people are aware of. But when did the chieftain have a bad one?

game, resulting in Manager Hanlon being ordered out of the game by Umpire Powers, The meident took place in the muth inning, and without a doubt Umpire Powers was mostly at lault. Dahlen knocked out a fly over second rault. Dallien knocked out a fly over second base. Hanlon has a good run to reach it, but caught the ball about two or three inches from the ground. Cooney, who was at second base, had run bome, thinking that Hanlon would not get the ball. Hanlon could certainly have thrown him out at the plate, but be, Hanlon, ran toward third with the ball with the intention of making a double play. Strange to say, Powers declared that Hanlon had not caught the fly at all, but has "trapped" the ball. Hanlon naturally objected to such an unfair decision as that, and walked in to explain matters to the umpire. The latter, in a very nations to the umpire. The latter, in a very exemptory way, ordered the manager out of he game, and a lively scene followed among the spectators.

In addition to retiring the manager from the game Mr. Powers fined Hanlon $50. Half of that was because Hanlon told Powers his decision was wrong and the other half was put on because Hanlon expressed himself plainly about the first imposition. On Wednesday Powers fined Beckley and Hanlon each $10 for objecting to Powers declaring Beckley out at the plate in the famous seventh inning. Browning was fined $5 yesterday, making altogether $75.

About the Umpire. It has ever been the policy of this paper to demand respect and at least submission to the decision of the unpire, but no doubt Mr. Powers was a little too hasty yesterday. His decision was so flagrantly wrong-of course, ne decision was so flagrantly wrong—or course, no would think it was right—and Haulon is so un-questionably truthful, that Mr. Powers might have been a little more telerant. That he did an injury to Haulon there is no doubt, and he could not well have made a worse decision in the matter than he did.

Ent previous to that Mr. Powers saddled a fine on Pietre Browning for kicking about a decision on a strike. There is nothing like firmness, but an umpire should not be so firm firmness, but an ampire should not be so that as to be tyranmeal.

The contest was too onesided to need explanation in detail. From the second inning on the home players had no show to win, simply on the home players had no show to win, simply on the home players had not her the hall. They because they could not hit the ball. They scored two runs on a hit by Reilly, a sacrifice son and Pfeffer. In the second half the visitors cored four runs on singles by Cooney, Dahlen, Kittridge and Foster, a base on balls, an out kittridge and Foster, a base on balls, an out and an error by Bierbauer.

In the third a double to center by Hutchinson, a single by Kittridge and a fumble by Hanlon sent in another run. In the fourth Cooney's two-bagger and two sacrifice hits by Dahlen and Anson scored another. In the fifth Pfeffer led off with a triple to left, but Staley strank out the peat three men. struck out the next three men.
In the seventh mainr Carroll knocked out a for another "homer," An error by Hanlon and singles by Coowey, Dablen and Carroll scored another run. In this itning Berger replaced Hanlon. Score:

League Record.

To-Day's League Schedule.

MUTRIE THEN AND NOW. Things Looked Biue. In speaking of the opening game prelim naries Wednesday's World said: Manager James Mutrie will be the most prominent figure in the ceremonies preliminary to the game. He will be arrayed in a brand new suit and a scrupulously waxed mustache. Last season was a blue one for Jim. Deserted by his old players, he rambled about with his new team like a ship without ballast. Whenever he met any of the former "Champions of the World" there would be a wordy warfare in which Mutrie, no matter how blue he may in which Mutrie, no matter how blue he may have felt, would easily hold his own. One moonlight night when both teams were playing in Pittsburg, Jim wandered down to the Monongahela Hotel, where his old players were stopping. Instantly there was a lond salve of welcome, and Jim took a seat with the gang outside the door. There were handshakings and jokes and laughter, and then somebody said:

and jokes and laughter,
said:
"Jim, why don't you bring your team down here where they can watch the river flow and see what water looks like?"
"What river is it?" said Mutrie, "the Monongahela? It looks like soup. I thought it was

The McDonalds, who are still in the lead, are now fully alive to the fact that in order to be come the happy possessors of the Pratt pennant they will have to do some great playing to Ward's Men at Philadelphia.

One enthusiastic citizen of McDonald has promised to present the team with new uniforms should they succeed in winning the pennant. Mr. J. F. The McDonald team will line up as follows: Goal, Hugh, Robinson; backs, William Gardner and William McVickers; half-backs, R. Lees, H. Friel and W. Irvine; forwards, C. H. McVickers, James McVickers, J. Cochran. Alex. McClymont and C. C. McVickers.

PRAISE FOR SAN DIEGO AND THE STATE

SAN DIEGO, CAL., April 23 .- The President and party spent two very pleasant hours in San Diego this morning. The entire population turned out to receive the Chief Magistrate, and paid him every possible honor. The programme included break-tast at the Hotel Del Coronado, a street parade and public exercises on the plaza. The party were received by a committee of citizens, including Mayor Gunn and General Eli H. Murray, Governor Markham, Senator Felton and Governor Torres and staff, of Lower California.

At the plaza addresses of welcome were made by Governor Markham, Mayor Gunn and Governor Torres, of Lower California, which were responded to by President Harrison, Secretary Rusk, and Postmaster General Wanamaker. In his speech the President said:

A Word for the Nicaragua Canal. fr. Mayor and Fellow Citizenst

I am in slavery to the railroad schedule, and have but a few moments longer to tarry in your beautiful city. If there were no other reward for our journey across the con-tinent, we have seen here about your mag-nificent harbor that which would have renificent harbor that which would have repaid us for all the toil of the trip. [Cheers.] We don't come to tell you anything about California, for I already perceived in my interviews, and during the brief stay among you that already you know all about California. [Laughter and applause.]

It is with regret that we now part with you. The welcome you have extended to us is magnificent. We shall carry away the most pleasant impression, and shall wish for you all you anticipate in your largest dreams for your beautiful city [cheers]; It at your harbor may be full of foreign and coastwise traffic; that it may not be long until the passage of our naval and merchant marine shall be by the Nicaragua. [Cheers.] I believe that the great enterprise which is to bring your commerce in nearer and cheaper contact with not only the Atlantic seaboard cities, but half this continent and South America, will not be long delayed. [Applause.]

Greetings From President Diax. Governor Torres arose at this point, and said: "Mr. President—1 wish to read you the follow-ing dispatch, which I have received from President Diaz." The dispatch was as follows: "It has come to my knowledge that the President of the United States shall visit San Diego or the 28d inst, and I let you know it so that you may call to congratulate him in my name and present him with my compliments."

The President responded as follows: "Governor Torres, this message from that progressive and intelligent gentleman who presides over the destinies of our sister republic, is most grateful to me. I assure you that all our people, that the Government through all its constituted authorities, entertain for President Diar and for the chivalrous people over which he presides, the most friendly sentiments of respect. We covet, sir, your good will and those mutual exchanges which are profitable, and we hope that the two republics may forever dwell in fraternal peace." [Great cheering.]

The Chamber of Commerce presented very handsome souvenir invitations to the President and Secretary Rusk. The speech-making was followed by a general reception. This was shortened in order that the President might keep his ongagements elsewhere. Thetrain left here promptly at 11 o'clock for Riverside and Pasadeun. THE OVERTURES NEGATIVED.

Reply of the St. Louis Presbytery to the Assembly Propositions.

Sr. Louis, April 23 .- The St. Louis Presbytery to-day voted unanimously in favor of a negative reply to the overtures from the General Assembly providing that one-third of the presbyteries could compel the General Assembly to consider any question which they may force upon it. The Presbytery also disapproved the overtures concerning the method of amending the Confession of Faith.

As to the overture to amend the form of government, book of discipline and directory of ernment, book of discipline and directory of worship, the following objections are made: First—It makes an unjustituable discrimination against the form of government, in that it requires only a majority vote of the preabyteries to amend or change it, while a vote of two-thirds of all the presbyteries is required to amend the Confession of Fatth. Second—The provision of section 5 of the proposed amendment is, in our judgment, unwise and calculated to promote disturbance and unrest rather than peace. Third—The overture is defective in that section 12 chapter 15, which contains than peace. Third—The overture is defective in that section 12, cuapter 15, which contains the terms of subscription to the Confession of Faith, may be amended or changed by a vote of a majority of the presbyleries. Fourth—We decidedly object to the taking out of section 6, cuapter 12, of form of government, which section limits the powers of the Assembly and secures the rights of the presbyteries.

IMMIGRATION VIA CANADA. The Collector of Customs at Burlington, Vt., Gives Information on the Point.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The Treasury Department is in receipt of a letter, dated April 21. from G. G. Benedict, the Collector of Customs at Burlington, Vt., in answer to one from the Department relating to the coming into the United States of immigrants from European countries via the Dominion of Canada. The Collector says that so far he can learn, no such immigrants have as yet arrived in his district, but that there is reason to apprehend that evasions of the immigration law may be attempted later in the season when navigation opens on the St. Lawrence river.

The collector encloses in his letter a report from Immigrant Inspector Henry, from which he says it will be seen that there had arrived at the Canadian Pacific station at Montreal during the ten days prior to April 17, thirty-three car loads of European immigrants on steamers from Halifax. Of these, the collector says, in the opinion of the customs inspector about one-third were destined for Western points in British Columbia. Many of the latter, as in years past, will, sooner or later, find their way across the border into the United states.

WILD MOBS IN DETROIT. ONLY ONE ROUND TRIP MADE BY

Miles of Track Blockaded-Cars Attacked by Thousands of Strikers and Sympathizers-Police Quell the Mob, but Attempts to Run Cars Given Up.

STREET CARS YESTERDAY.

DETROIT, April 23. - The -street car strikers presented a stronger front this morning than at any time during the trouble. The men were exceedingly active during the night, and evidently persuaded all those still remaining faithful to desert their posts, for this morning the roads are tied up tight, only one trip having been made on he Woodward avenue line. The spirit of destruction was also abroad in places on most of the lines in the city. Barricades of blocks in length were put on the rans during the night. Nearly the whole smashed and he was thrown to the ground. He was finally overpowered and taken to the station.

A car which had been lying at the river front all day was then started up the hill. In a short time about 15,000 people packed the broad avenue from the north side of Jefferson avenue down to the river. The car started up the hill at break-neck speed. The mob closed about the car. A man leaped from among the crowd and grasped the team's bridles. The driver whipped his horses. The man was dragged from his feet and pulled all the way across the street, but he held on, ran the horses into a buggy and stopped the car. In the meantime a number of buggies, trucks, etc., had been run across the tracks. The dozen policemen on the car tried to remove them, but could not.

Then Strathearn Hendrie, the Treasurer of the company, got upon the front platform with the driver, pulling a big revolver. Amid cries of "Kill him!" "Hang him!" etc., bricks began to fly through the car windows. Hendrie's discretion evidently got the better of his valor theu, and the car was started back to the river. The crowd pursued it, and, unhitching the horses, tried to run the car into the river, but a ferry boat coming into the dock at that moment prevented them. At this point the crowd was charged by the police and clubbed unmercifully. Revolvers were drawn, and for a few moments it looked as if there was to be blood-shed, but the prince effected some arrests, which quickly quieted the crowd.

Sorry He Didn't Succeed. Chief Brown was feeling badly last night ver the Governor's veto to the policemen's disability fund. He said he was anxious to se-cure some legal method of pensioning men who put in the greater part of their lifetime in such dangerous service and to secure a method of partially recompensing those who through their zeal and bravery in preserving the peace were disabled from earning a living or support-ing their families.

Cost of Cleaning Streets. Mayor a report of the operations of the Depart-ment of Public Works for 1890, has figured out that the cost of cleaning the streets of the city for the year was $73,711 08. It Is Doubtful Now if the Secret Ever Becomes Known.

THE THEORIES THAT WERE ADVANCED

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WORCESTER, MASS., April 23,-Philip Louis Moen, President of the Washburn & Moen Manufacturing Company, which controls the valuable barbed wire patents and is the biggest wire-making establishment in this country, died here to-day. He received his early training in a hardware store in New York, entered the employ of his fatherin-law, Deacon Washburn, in 1847, and in 1850 be became a partner in what has grown to be one of the biggest and most successful business enterprises in the world. Deacon Washburn died in 1870, and then Mr. Moen became the head of the concern.

The business has increased enormously since the death of Deacon Washburn. The big mills now employ about 3,500 men. Of late the company has purchased a large during the night, and the rails were torn up tract of land near Chicago, and is there erecting a great plant for the manufacture of wire for the Western market.

the rails during the night. Nearly the whole police force was out this afternoon to keep order during a monster labor parade for shoemakers and molders. Immediately after the parade passed, it was decided to start ten care. The first car got away all right, followed by a patrol wagon containing ten officers. A second car started immediately after without the accompanying protection, however, and the strikers threw it on its side and across the track. The attempt to start cars was then given up, but the first one out continued its perilous course, being the target for anything handy to the strikers the whole length of the avenue, and meeting with the jeers and taunts of the neople as it passed along. Two policemen were on every corner the whole length of the route.

On the attempt to start on the return trip a burly man sat in a dog cart directly across the track. The policemen led his horse away. The man whipped up his horse, overtook the car and put his cart across the track again directly in front of the street car team. His buggy was smashed and he was thrown to the ground. He was finally overpowered and taken to the station.

A car which had been lying at the river front all day was then started up the hill. In a short time about 15,000 people packed the broad average down to the river. The car started up the hill at break-neck speed. The mob closed about at the rate of the police for shoeman whipped up to the strikers the whole length of the country. The curiosity as to the since two men is as great now as it was nine years ago, when it first became public. There can hardly be imagined two men differing more widely in their personal habits and tastes. Mr. Moen was a polished gentleman in appearance, aristocratic in his tastes, courtly in his manner, noted for his philanthropy, a proposed provided the provided provided the provided provided the provided provided provided the provided provided

000 in an action of contract. The result was disagreement. After the trial Wilson declared that he was Mr. Moe. 's illegitimate son, and that the latter had paid him to keep the secret. This story was accepted by many as the explanation of the mysterious hold he exercised over Mr. Moen, but others, who pretended to know the story of Wilson's birth, said there was no truth to the statement. It is doubtful if the truth is aver known.
