FINANCE AND TRADE. A Deal Near Schenley Park Showing the Trend of Values.

OPENING UP OF SUBDIVISIONS.

Improvements in Contemplation by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

THE PEATURES OF LOCAL SPECULATION

The Ormsby property on Forbes street, Bellfield-lot 100x120, with an eight-roomed twelling - changed ownership yesterday, the consideration being $13,000. Being in close proximity to Schenley Park, the price is considered very reasonable, and goes to show that values in that locality have not yet reached such an altitude as to be beyond the means of any but millionaires.

Something in the Wind. The Pennsylvania Railroad has under consideration an improvement that will be of great importance to Wilkinsburg. Penn avenue is the connecting link between the borough and the city—the Appian Way over which the stream of travel flows in both directions. This important thoroughfare at the point of intersection with the railroad has been for years a sort of dumping ground for the neighborhood, giving it a decidedly shabby appearance. The only remaining landmark of the borough is situated here. It is a log house, dating back 60 or 70 years. It was formerly a tavern, and in the halcyon days of the "pike" was the stopping-place of many prominent people. There are several outbuildings which are in a dilapidated condition. As this is not a country of ruins, there is no reason why these ancient structures should be permitted longer to cum-ber the ground. They are in the way of im-structures should be permitted longer to cumber the ground. They are in the way of improvement.

The land as well as the buildings belong to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and as the company has no use for the latter they will be torn down. As to what will take their place is as yet a matter of conjecture. Some think the station will ultimately be removed to this site. This would almost rain Wood street as a business thoroughtare by diverting trade to Penn avenue and Franklin street. The change would not receive popular approval, and it is hoped it will not be made. Others say a large freight house will be erected on the site of the old building, and for proof point to the fact that a release of the ground on which the Armour icens station stanus has been refused, it being needed for additional tracks, which would not be necessaay if it were not the intention to build a freight house. That valuable improvements of some kind are on the tapis is certain, and they will be of great benefit to the borough, and especially to the locality in question, no matter what form they may take. They will enhance the value of property and encourage owners to beautify their places.

A Spring Opening. The late opening of spring, as everybody knows, has kept business in arrears, but good weather and improving roads have had the effect of a magician's wand in infusing life and energy into the people. Things are brightening up all round. Evidence of this is seen in the up all round. Evidence of this is seen in the fact that a number of subdivisions of land are being opened up to catch the first impulse of the forward movement. Wood, Harmon & Co. will put their plan of lots at Sheridan station on the market to-morrow. It contains about 52 acres and 704 lots. It is being graded, and sidewalks have been laid. Prospects for building are good. The person who puts up the first house will receive $500 as a reward. Its convenience to the city and excellent transit facilities will no doubt be strong attractions to home-seekers.

HOME SECURITIES.

Good Business During the Week, With Better Prices for Almost Everything-Gains and Losses, but the Latter Cut a Small Figure.

The week was a fairly good one in local stocks, total sales aggregating 3,430 shares, the bulk furnished by Philadelphia Gas and Electric, against 2,876 the previous week. The improve ment in sentiment was as marked as in bust ness.

Closing prices yesterday, as compared with those of the previous Saturday, show advances in Manufacturers' Gas, Pipeage, Philadelphia Gas, Central and Citizens' Traction and Luster The only properties on the active list that closed at a loss were La Noria, Electric and Airbrake, and these were fractional. The closed at a loss were La Noria, Electric and Airbrake, and these were fractional. The greatest improvement was made by Cirizens' Traction. It commenced the week at 57½ and finished at 62½ bid, with sales after call at 63. The highest p-int rouched by Philadelphia Gas was 13, by Electric 14, and by Luster 13. Electric was rather nervous all week, and especially so yesterday, and it moved less freely than had been expected. This heshitation on the part of investors was partly due to bull points from Boston cautioning traders to go slow as a bulge was in sight. The foundation for this belief could not be learned. Perhaps it had none. Certain it is there were no developments here to strengthen confidence or inspire hope. Eastern manipulators are up to all the tricks of the trade, and their statements should be taken cum grano salis. It is supposed that Mr. Westinghouse will furn on the light at the coming meeting of the company. It was asserted yesterday that he would make a favorable showing. The highest at Boston yesterday for the sock was 13½, lowest 13½ and the close 13½, the same as here. Want of information is as much felt there as in Pittsburg.

New York was strong. The bank statement proved unexpectedly favorable with an increase in the reserve of over $2,000,000, and this stimulated the general list. The later dealings showed the effects of realizations, however, and the market closed barely steady at small fractions better than first prices. Silver was up to 57½. Panhandle preferred opened up at 60, went to 65 and reacted to 64. Lead Trust was steady around 20 and 20½.

Local sales yesterday were 10 Central Traction at 18½ and 50 Philadelphia Gas at 12½. Closing bids and offers of the week are appended:

MONEY MARKET.

The Best Week of the Year in Local Financial Circles. Improvement in financial matters is shown by the steady growth of Clearing House ex-changes, and also by heavier checking. Exchanges for the week were about $700,000 in excess of those for the previous week, which, in turn, were about the same amount ahead of the week before.

The demand for accommodations is also broadening, showing business development. Not much in the way of new enterprises can be Not much in the way of new enterprises can be reported, but old ones are being enlarged or strengthened. This requires money, and the banks are furnishing it. Bankers reported last week the best of the year in their line.

Money, however, owing to heavy depositing as the result of cash sales and fair collections, is in larger supply than usual at this season, but now the spring business seems to have really set in reserves will no doubt be brought within moderate limits. The excess of funds possesses one good feature—it is an assurance there will be no stringency for some time to come. It will be easy to obtain funds to move the fall crops. THE WEEK IN OIL Frading Very Slow and the Price Still on the

There were no transactions in off yesterday. The only market for May was 68% bid. Cash was ignored. The market was unsatisfactory all week. The crowd continue to hope for improvement, but as to how or when no one ventures a prediction.

The highest point touched during the week was 70c, and the lowest 68½c. The difference was 70c, and the lowest 65%. The difference between the opening on Monday and the close yesterday shows a loss of 11%. This is not calculated to enthuse the producers or to increase their respect for the Standard.

Refined closed down a fraction at Antwerp, but was steady at other points. There was a considerable increase in average daily runs, shipments and charters.

the Feature of the Day. NEW YORK, April 25 .- The stock market continues to develop favorably, and to-day for a time displayed the greatest strength, with good buying for both sides of the account; and later, despite heavy realization, maintained most of the advances made during the early trading and finally closed with many stocks at the highest points reached during the week.

The bank statement was unexpectedly favor-able, and where there had been a disposition to discount another loss in reserve, there was some hustling to get back the stocks sold. The strongest stocks of the day were Northern Pa-cinc preferred, Union Pacinc, Rock Island and St. Paul among the leaders, and among the usually inactive list Wheeling and Lake Erie, Louisville, New Albany, Chicago and Pitta-burg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, An-other advance of nearly 3 per cent in Louis-ville, New Albany and Chicago to-day was made on the announcement that the floating debt of the company had been paid, and that dent of the company had been paid, and that new traffic arrangements have been made with the East Tennessee and Lake Erie and Western roads which will have a most favorable effect on earnines of the first named road. The payment of the dividend of the preferred stock of Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, together with the excellent statement, had the effect of making a sharp spurt in that stock, offect of making a sharp spurt in that stock, and it shot up to 65, retaining most of the gain and it shot up to 65, retaining most of the gain at the close.

The buying of Northern Pacific preferred, however, was the great feature of the market. The demann for stocks after a strong opening, which was made at advances over last evening's figures of from ½ to ½ per cent, and a most urgent and; well distributed business, resulted in uniform advances of large fractions in all the leading shares. Realizations then set in, however, and some stocks were brought down below the opening prices; but the bank statement low the opening prices; but the bank statement rallied the list again, and despite the continued selling for long account, maintained most of the early gains to the end. The Industrials were not prominent at any time. The market closed active and steady to firm, generally at fractions above first figures.

Railroad bonds were inactive on all issues, but the respectable figure of $1,235,000 for the two hours, out of which amount Atchison incomes furnished $135,000, was reached. The comes furnished $135,000, was reached. The tone of the market, however, was not very pronounced, though firm in the main, and the final changes, while generally advances, are slight. The exports of specie from the port of New York amounted to $3,650,883, of which $8,396,988 was in gold and $258,895 silver. Of the total exports, $3,382,730 in cold and $241,245 silver went to Europe, and $64,250 in gold and $12,550 silver went to South America and West Indian ports. The imports of specie during the week amounted to $25,909, of which $11,075 was in gold and $14,835 silver.

HENRY CLEWS HOPEFUL.

Bull Campaign Inaugurated-Why the Outlook Is Favorable-A Higher Range of Values All Round Predicted-The Iron Trade as a Business Barometer. "SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, April 25 .- Henry Clews, in his financial review of the week, says: At last the anticipated "bull" campaign in the stock market appears to have fairly set in. For several weeks past there has been a more or less general feeling that the prices of securities were ranging below their intrinsic value, but various circumstances have arisen one after another to prevent that conviction from developing into a concerted movement for a rise. In spite of de-pressing influences the market value of securi-ties has been steadily maintained, and now that the causes of depression have disappeared or lost their influence the conclusion is very marked improvement in demand for all its marked improvement in demand for all its products.

A set of conditions like these is legitimately calculated to have a favorable effect upon the prices of securities. That would ordinarily be the effect even were prices relatively high; but when prices range moderately low, as they do at present, a continued advance movement becomes almost irresistible. We have now a dear prospect before us extending over a long period. Such crises as happened last fall come but once in ten years, and therefore set backs of that character are not to be reckoned as among the possibilities of the next few years. This prospect appeals not only to purchasers for transient holding but equally to permanent investors, and the current buying comes in no small measure from the latter class.

For these reasons, I regard the present improved spirit of the market as the beginning of a buying movement that is likely to be continued—with the usual intervals of fluctuation—until a higher range of values is reached. The obstructive tactics of the room traders are a matter of small moment against such a "buil" feeling as is now setting in, and the small "bears" already exhibit a conservative caution. The "outside" element, so long absent, has taken possession of the market with a force which warns "room" operators to stand aside until the buying movement has exposed itself by excesses.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Higher Prices for Shares Predicted, and the Reasons Therefor. Wall street is overrun with bull pointers, as indicated in the following telegraphic letter from Watson & Gibson to John M. Oakley &

"This has been a red letter week for the bulls. They have painted Wall street a bright hue of crimson. They have shed the blood of the bears. These latter animals are no longer themselves, but rather resemble the chameleon, which takes on the color of its environment. The market to-day opened strong, and, with the exception of a brief interval before the bank statement came out, it was strong throughout. The statement was wonderfully favorable. showing a gain in surplus reserves of over $2,500,000; $1,250,000 of this was obtained through

$2.500,000; $1,250,000 of this was obtained through the loss of nearly $4,800,000 in deposits. The reduction of loans by over $5,000,000 was the greatest surprise in the statement. Wall street has been borrowing more this week, so that mercantile and miscellaneous loans must have been paid off. Money is coming hither from the interior to take the place of the gold exported, and this current should continue to flow this way for several months.

The Northern Pacifics were higher to-day, and German liquidation seems to have ceased. We believe that considerable money will be made in Pacific Mail, Cotton Oil and Missouri Pacific next week. The whole market is likely to be higher Monday morning, and if "the potbolls" it will be wise for traders to sell some of their stocks. The market is going up much boils" it will be wise for traders to sell some of their stocks. The market is going up much higher this spring, and doubtless some quotations will look a little dizzy to conservative people before midsummer. Nearly all bull markets have occasional sharp reactions as bear markets have sharp rallies. We believe people who own stocks will get much higher prices for them before many weeks, and they may be content to "hold the fort" against reactionist's assaults.

There is to be a great gain to us from European capital this summer. Hitherto it has been going in a constant stream to South America, but we think it will, in the near future, flow almost exclusively to our shores. It will be a but we think it will, in the near future, flow almost exclusively to our shores. It will be a financial Gulf Stream to spread its genial warmth upon our market. It is a constant accumulation of wealth in the old communities of Europe, and the losses made in wildcat investments are but a drop in the bucket of their accumulated capital. Mr. Robert Gibben, a high English authority, reckons the gain on England in the decade 1875-1885 at 17% percent, and he figures the annual present investment of funds abroad at £30,000,000, or $150,000,000.

MARKETS BY WIRE. A Bear Raid Conducted to a Successful Issue -Cereals Give Way All Along the Line

-Provisions Join the Procession -Crop News All Right. CHICAGO-This was a field-day for the bears in all of the grain pits, and provisions, even, which were inclined to be dull and steady, fin ally caught the infection and went off moderately. The net result of the day's trading was a loss of 266c in the price of wheat. 26c in corn. usually bearish. The crop reports were rosy, the receipts in the Northwest were heavy, English markets were lower, and exports for the week were disappointing. About the only en-couragement for advocates of higher prices were a reported advance at Paris and Berlin, and a private report of frost damage in Ken-

July wheat started at $1 08%, sold to $1 08% up speedily to $1 09% and then started down gain. There were brief halts and moderate reactions at $1 08%—the "put" price—at $1 08, at $1 07%, at $1 07% and at $1 08%. From the latter figure there was a rally to $1 07, but this was lost near the close, which was easy at practically the lowest prices of the day. Not since last November have the bears made such a concentrated and well-directed actack on the market. Corn was as weak as wheat. The liquidation

Corn was as weak as wheat. The liquidation by longs and selling by bears was too great for the small huying demand to overcome. The brilliant weather, the prospect of large receipts henceforth and the weakness in oats cut right to the bone of the situation, and holders began to stand from under. July started at 68%c, sold at 66%c, but was off to 64%c before the session ended, when prices were ½c higher.

The oats news was all favorable to bears, who hammered the market throughout the session. The governing influences were the weakness in other cereals, fine crop prospects and a diminished consumptive demand on account of the approach of the season for pasturage. The course of the market was downward all day with the exception of one or two brief periods when there were fitful rallies.

Provisions were comparatively dull, July pork started at $13 67%, sold to $18 1%, and off later to $12 92%. The weakness of corn and other grain counted against the market, but there was no heavy selling. The close shows a loss compared with yesterday of 25c in pork, 10c in lard and 10212%c in ribs.
