

QUITE GOOD ENOUGH.

The Local Players Get Three Games Out of Four from the Cleveland Ball Team.

ANOTHER GREAT VICTORY SCORED.

King and Staley Do Some Fine Pitching and Vary Timely Batting That Told a Tale.

BOSTON SUFFERS ANOTHER DEFEAT.

Brain Will Fight When the Most Money is Given—General Springing News.

Yesterday's League Games. Pittsburgh 4 Cleveland 3, Brooklyn 8 New York 3, Philadelphia 13 Boston 7.

Yesterday's Association Games. Cincinnati 6 St. Louis 0, Louisville 6 Baltimore 0 Washington 8, Boston 23 Athletics 1.

Good winners can laugh, And certainly, when anybody finishes with 3 to 1 the best of it, there is room for a laugh to come in.

That is just the way the series of ball games between the home representatives and the Cleveland team ended yesterday.

Out of the four games Cleveland got out, and the home fellows got three.

At that rate of progression the local players could surely land pennant-winners if they could keep it up.

But the series nearly did not result with a lurch for local partisans. Those very troublesome fellows from Cleveland came within an ace of squaring things up with us.

For ten innings they fought like lions from start to finish, and made the big fellows hustle for all they were worth.

Finally they were beaten on their merits, after one of the finest games seen here for a long time.

A Fine Contest. The contest was, indeed, one and one and if any of the 2,500 spectators were not satisfied with it they are probably better satisfied at all.

The attendance was larger than at all other home games because "resister" King was the star.

The light-haired youth was there and was cheered. He pitched four innings and three hits were made off his delivery.
