cated Property Known as the ## Fort Pitt Glass Works.

CORNER OF

Washington and Franklin Sts., Seventh Ward.

The owners having removed to their new Works at Jeannette, Pa.

Lot fronts 286 feet on Washington street by 185 on Franklin street, and is thoroughly sewered. It is about 200 feet from Fifth avenue and 300 from Wyler, is splendidly located for either residence or manufacturing parposes, and would be narticularly well adapted for an apartment building, being only 8 minutes' walk from Postoffice and but 4 minutes by Pittsburg or Central Traction.

The buildings are of a very substantial character, and can be utilized for any manufacturing purpose with little or no alteration, or the large amount of building material can be used to excellent advantage in rebuilding.

This property will be sold at a much lower price than any well situated piece of ground in Pittsburg. For price, terms, etc., see SUBURBAN PROPERTY. THE BEST INVESTMENT you can make a judicious purchase of good suburban prop-rty. The best advice you can follow in makerty. The best advice you can follow in making a selection is: Do not buy anywhere at any price or on any terms until you know what other eligible property in the vicinity is selling for. If you think of buying in the vicinity of Sheraden, on the Panhandle R. R., get the Sheraden Land and Improvement Company's new man and price list of over 200 "Little Farms" (as campared with a 25-foot lot) which that company has still for sale at its old prices, unaffected by the "coming boom." They may be had at 127 Fifth avenue or at Sheraden Station, where the undersigned will meet prospectors every afternoon.

WILL LEAVE THE CITY

Dr. J. C. Townsend Resigns His Pastorate to Go to Jamestown, N. Y.

Lines of Analogy Between the Sun and the Spiritual World's Center.

OTHER PULPIT TOPICS OF YESTERDAY Rev. J. G. Townsend, D. D., at the close of his sermon yesterday morning, tendered his resignation as paster of the Unitarian Church, as stated several days ago in THE DISPATCH he would probably do. The congregation very reluctantly accepted the resignation. Dr. Townsend will leave June I for Jamestown, N. Y., where he will become pastor of the Independent Congregational Church, of which he was the founder. The Unitarian congregation is considering now of Canton, O. new birth than of any other doctrine of Christianity. It is supposed to mean that the old and deprayed nature is taken out and a new nature given to the soul, or in other words, there is an organic change of faculty. The new birth in the old teaching is a real miracle. It starts upon the assumption of total depravity, which is a medieval and by Shakespeare in that beautiful drama. "Prospero and Caliban." Prospero shows the higher, Caliban the lower tendency. Man's true life is found in obeying the higher sentiments of his nature. The mission of the seed is not to live only in its roots, but to rise in the sunlight, and by lovely habit, build its beautiful archite stem and leaves and buds and flowers. It is man's nature to rise into the realms art, science, literature, religion, goodness. When he is governed by the law of love, he is among the twice-born ones. The new birth should be taken out of the magic or miraculous realm and shown to be as natural as the growing of a stalk of corn.

"Nor do I deny the place of the divine. In the transitions of the plant do I deny the ministry of the sunlight? I recognize the wind of the spirit which bloweth where it listeth and listeth to blow into the sails of every noble purpose, on whatever soul-sea the sails are spread. As out of the depths of immensity come influences from star and far off nebulæ, so from the great storm throne of the Eternal blow the which change at last society, church and nations,

"I well remember when a child how the doctrine of the new birth was taught, so harshly and unnaturally. It was something I was very much afraid to have and very much afraid not to have, I didn't then see how natural and beautiful the transition was. Suppose it stated in this way. Except a man works he cannot come into the kingdom of wealth. I say to the rosebud, unless you open and blossom you cannot come into the kingdom of roses. Unless a man becomes good he cannot enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

THE GREAT SPIRITUAL CENTER.

Christ the Attractive Force of the Universe of Intellect. Communion services were held vesterday morning in the First Congregational Church, Manhattan and Franklin streets, Allegheny, and seven new members were received. The all of the city officials, were present. A subject of Rev. S. W. McCorkle's sermon was "Christ, the Central Sun of the Spiritual ment that not only was Christ to arise at the dawn of the Christian era, but He now arises and dawns on the world of men as the center of the spiritual universe.

"There is a beautiful and striking analpoy," said he, "between Christ, the spiritual sun, and the natural sun of the universe In the world of ratural science there is nothing more wonderful than the attraction of one body for another, or the law of gravitation. The sun holds in perfect control each of the 150 planets with their moons by means of invisible bonds. Each one through age has swung in its orbit without a single collision, because held in leash by the sun's power. In the same manner, Christ, the great center of attraction of the realms of the mind and soul, with powers of omnipotent God, holds the greatest and the least of His children. He expressed His power as a central sun when He said: 'I, it I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me.' As the sun shines through the mists, so Christ must be constantly replenished, while the power of Christ, the central sun, is ever the same and the fuel is love. No other is needed, and after sun and systems have served their uses and decayed God's love will remain as mighty as at the first "As the sun by its power on the earth has stored up all its sources of heat and light, so is found in Christ the sources of wisdom, lustafication, sauctification and redemption The sun shines not alone on the mountain peak but in the dark valley, the desert, the swamp and the thistle. So the blessed Curist shipes on all alike. He does not lines through the churches. There is also a lesson in contrast. The fuel of the sun

pass a sinner to shine on a saint any more than the sun negicets the thistle to bathe in sunlight the beauties of the rose."

THOU SHALT NOT STEAL

Rev. Charles Edward Locke on One of the Ten Commandments. A large coagregation, which crowded every part of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal Church, last night listened with close attention to a practical sermon by the pastor, Rev. Charles Edward Locke. on the subject, "Thou Shalt Not Steal." The speaker, in introducing his subject, said: "Moses did not get the Ten Commandments from Buddha, as has sometimes been charged, for Buddha lived 800 years after the great leader of Israel. He did not get it from the wisdom of the Egyptians in which he was versed, for the principles of the decalogue had not been hinted in Egyptian philosophy. They must have come from God, for as the natives of the world move majestically up the slopes of Sinai they reach altitudes of justice and equity enjoined and promised in the decalogue. The right to live is inherent, but it has only as the light from Sinal's glistening summit breaks out over nations that any proper estimate is made of life. Suttee is abolished, as India catches a glimpse of the divine purpose. The sixth commandment forbids taking berland county jail on a writ of habeas The six's commandment forbids taking life by insufficient precautions. It forbids duels, prize fights, gladiatorial shows and all games which are a menace to human life. It would be interesting to know just how far the sixth commandment interdicts England's game of football and our national game of baseball. Let the games go on, but such adjustments ought to be made as to protect life and health. It forbids homicide and suicide. Capital punishment does not transgress this law, for God Himself has fixed the forfait of life as the only adequate punishment for taking life.

"The day will come when the wars between the men of muscle and the men of money will be superseded by arbitration. I have genuine sympathy for the 25,000 men who are seeking, by the present methods, to secure what they claim to be their rights.

gested a congenial one. A generation ago hell was a very familiar word to churchgoers. A minister felt it incumbent on all occasions to hold his congregation generally and severally by the nape of the neck over the mouth of the fiery gulf. It is comfortticular love for its services, but rather through a wholesome dread of "hell fire" and its attendant horrors of adamatine > translated by the word hell or hell fire. The use which Christ makes of this word evidently refers to a retribution ofter death, the extent, or location of circumstances of which not being precisely defined. Peter once used the word tartaroo, which is similarly rendered.

> "This thing of constructing a hell out of of the timid is prolific of no possible good: This much we are plainly taught by Christ; that there is a place of future rewards and punishments. The abodes of the righteous and the wicked are separated by an impassable gulf which only God's mercy can span. This place of punishment will be banishment from God's presence and from the company of the Godly. However long or short this punishment may endure, it is sufficiently revealed to warn any and all from trifling with God's mercy, and sinning away their day of grace. Only one fair oppor-tunity will be given any to fice from the miseries of hell, and we who have had abundant opportunity in this life need hope for no opportunity when this probationary state is ended." Pulpit Filled by a Kentuckian. The pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. Purves pastor, was filled yesterday by Rev. W. C. Young, D. D., of avenues, Allegheny, last night.

Thousands Follow the Remains of Edward Armstrong to the Tomb-All the City Officials Present-Many Floral Designs Were Contributed. Rev. W. F. Conners, of the Arch Street

M. E. Church, conducted the servicas, and was assisted by Rev. J. L. Fulton, of the Sixth Presbyterian Church. W. F. Conners made the first address. He referred to the sterling qualities which had built up for Edward Armstrong his reputation and position. Then he spoke of the great work just begun and how the city would lose in the death of so able a man. Rev. J. L. Fulton, as a personal friend of Mr. Armstrong, then made an address, in which he said that while Allegheny had many things in the past of which she was ashamed, Chief Armstrong had just innug-urated an era of better days and better government. Atlegheny had just begun to feel that Edward Armstrong would place the city among the best cities of the country, but God had ruled otherwise, and the city must bow in submission.

At the conclusion of his address a hymn was sung by the choir of the Arch Street M. E. Church and the body carried out. The pailbearers were Mayor Wyman, John Murphy, Chief the Department of Public Safety; Barton Grubbs, Chief of the Department of Charities; James Lindsay, President of Select Council; Thomas Parke, President of Common Council; Andrew Armstrong and Harry Pratt, of the Department of Public Works, and Thomas Brown, a life-loug friend of the dead Chief.

FOR UNITED STATES COURT. Deputy Marshals Bring In a Gang of Pris-The United States District Court will have plenty of criminal cases to attend to during the May term. Quite a number of prisoners are already on hand and others are coming. Deputy Marshals Baring and

Yeager came from the eastern part of the State yesterday morning with a gang of subjects for the court's consideration. They were taken to the county jail. Among the prisoners was an old man named John Carr, of Rienzi, Bradford county, charged by Postoffice Inspector Mc-Cready with sending postal cards with obscene printing upon them through the mails. When brought into the jail he carried a couple of canvas begs which he was loth to surrender to Warden Soffel before being placed behind the bars. The bags contained a number of bottles of liquids which the old man said were his stock in trade, he being a regularly registered physician. Isaac Cratzer, a Williamsport letter carrier, charged with stealing money from letters in his care, and Michael Day and Daniel Kamaski, of Scranton, charged with selling liquor without a United States license, were companions of the Doctor on the trip to the jail. Michael Katellus was one of the party also. He was brought from the Northum corpus as a material withesa ngainst Kam-nski when the latter's case comes up for The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels. Here We Come With another bargain.
