LICENSED TO PREACH.

Twenty Students of the Western Theological Seminary Graduate.

ADDRESS OF REV. DR. JOHN HALL.

Sensationalism Discouraged by the Eminent New York Divine. COMMON SENSE PREACHING IS NEEDED

Yesterday was commencement day for the Western Theological Seminary. At 10 o'clock in the morning Rev. W. W. Moorhead, of Greensburg, made an exceedingly aprightly address before a large audience of the faculty, trustees, students and friends of the seminary. Dr. Moorhead spoke upon the subject of "The Ministry of To-Day." He thought that no two generations of ministers have found the circumstances in which their ministers were exercised exactly alike. The ministry of to-day is likely to meet with duties and difficulties different Eat least, in some respects from any met by the ministers of any former time. He addressed himself only to those who were to be simply preachers. The oldfashioned theory used to be that when a minister had a message it was his business to deliver it to those to whom it was sent The more modern idea is not that he should deliver it, but that he should spend his life in picking it to pieces to find out what it is made of, and where it came from. There seems to be a great demand for investigators, while the demand for preachers is only fair to middling. Yet, said Dr. Moorhead, if he understood the matter aright they had been trained to be preachers of the word. Upon the latter lines the doctor made his

Dr. McClelland Resigns.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Board of Directors and Trustees met and heard the annual reports. The Rev. Prof. H. T. Mc-Cielland, D. D., offered his resignation as Procleiand, B. B., effered his resignation as Pro-fessor of Theology. It was accepted and a committee appointed to draw up appropriate resolutions. There was considerable talk as to his successor. Dr. S. J. Niccolls, of St. Louis, President Scovel, of Wooster, Dr. Ketler, of Grove City College, and others were named as suitable men for the vacant chair, But a man was not elected. A committee was appointed to make a nomination to the board at an early date. It was felt to be important to an early date. It was felt to be important to at an early date. It was felt to be important to fil the place soon.

The commencement exercises proper were held in the evening in the East Liberty Prasbyterian Church, Penn and Highland arennes. In addition to the graduating class, faculty and efficers of the seminary, there was a very large andience present. Rev. John Hall, D. D., the ominent New York divine, delivered the address, and, though he is no stranger to Pitteburgers, there was not a vacant seat, and he newer appeared to better advantage. In the pulpit were, in addition to Dr. Hall, Rev. George Hill, D. D., President of the Board of Directors of the Seminary, Rev. Dr. Holland, Chancellor of the Western University, together with members of the faculty, occupied seats to the left of the pulpit. To the right were seated the trustees, members of the alumni and many ministers, nearly all the Protestant denominations of the city being represented. The graduating class and students were seated in front of the pulpit, while back of them were the students of the Pennsylvania Female College.

Dr. Hail's Words to the Graduates.

Dr. Hail's Words to the Graduates. The from of the pulpit was banked with flowers. After music by the Haydn Quartet, prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bruce, after which Dr. Hill introduced Dr. Hall. The speaker of the evening said that he considered man, Martin Doherty, John Scofield (2), Anna Scofield (12), William Kelly, Patrick Kelly, John Morria, Jeseph Bray, John Kerr, Mike John A. L. Wachter, Martha E. Brennemau, Kate Kohout, Mary Denniston.

Executions Issued Kesterday.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Hygeia Ice Company vs Joseph R. Welf, Statements that they would prove interesting statements that they would prove interesting statements that they would prove interesting ministry, he would endeavor to so shape his statements that they would prove interesting to all present.

Dr. Hall took for his subject "Effectiveness in the Pulpit," or "Power in the Pulpit." This, he said, did not mean any specific force for the accomplishment of any specific work. All people possensed some specific power, but the minister, in addition to any specific power he may possess, must also have the general power to preach the gospel. Some preachers possess in this shape of erangelism the power of pursuading men to accept the gospel. It is easier to be popular on that distinct line than upon the lines pasters have before them. The orator has always been great, and oratory in itself is powerful. From Demosthenes to Webster they have all been great men, but the difference between them and us is that they dealt with things here below while we deal with those above.

Among those things a preacher must do is to inspire people with confidence in them as men and as Christians. That was the first sub-head of his discourse. To have the power you must be holy, be consistent, be gentlemen, be sympathetic men. The second element is "let it be obvious to you: people that you are firm believers in the Bible." Let people say of their pastor that he firmly believes. He may give his own views on certain points, history and what not and for a certain time he may produce a degree of interest, but for all time put the truth of the living God before the people.

Preaching for the Masses. statements that they would prove interesting

Preaching for the Masses. . Hall's third point was "Intelligibility." It is, he said, comparatively easy to speak true things in such a way that people don't under-things in such a way that people don't understand them. Sensible lawyers and doctors don't do that when addressing laymen, nor should the preacher. A preacher only makes a permanent impression only so far as he is understood. Speak to your audience in language they can understand, and set forth simple truths in simple language. "Earnestness," was the fourth element. A preacher should push aside all self-consciousness. If you would be a power in the pulpit there must be absolute forgetfulness of self.

The fifth point was "Setting the truths of God's word in their relations to one another as they stand in the Bible." It is easy to preach a setmon upon certain virtues or vices. But when he has denounced the vice or lauded the virtue he is met with the question of how to get rid of the one or how to acquire the other. He might be behind the age, said Dr. Hail, but he confessed that he had little sympathy with the tendency to divide up vices into pieces and get societies to look after each, and to divide up virtues into silices and get societies to push them along. He believed in teaching the people to trust in Jesus.

In conclusion, Dr. Hall urged the graduates to preach the dectrine of the Bible.

Suit Against Allegheny for Improperly Lighting Its Streets-A Man Who Was Unable to Ride in a Parade Without Accident-Court Briefs.

The suit of Robert H. McMunn against Allegheny City is on trial before Judge Collier. The case is to recover damages for personal injuries. In October, 1888, Mc-Munn was marshal of a campaign parade. He was riding horseback along Main street, Allegheny, to the place of formation, when his horse stumbled over some sewer pipe placed in the atreet, which McMunn had not seen, owing to the darkness.

He was threwn from the horse and severely injured by the fall. He claims that the city is liable for having an unprotected obstruction on the street.

HILL IS THE WINNER.

The Management of Claremont Falls to Him by Unanimous Vote.

WARNER FORMALLY RESIGNED.

Brilliant Record of the New Superintendent of the Workhouse.

CONTROLLER MORROW HAD REFUSED

William Hill, of Manufield, theex-County Treasurer of Allegheny county, was yesterday unanimously elected Superintendent of the Allegheny County Workhouse at Claremont, on the West Penn Railroad. The election of Mr. Hill was made without any trouble. In fact, the position was informally tendered to Controller Morrow several weeks ago, but he refused to accept it. The salary connected with the office is $5,000 a year. William Hill, the new Superintendent at Claremont, is one of the best and most favorably known citizens of the county. He is a man of striking appearance, a little above the average height and has a full, broad forehead. He also wears a heavy, black beard. Mr. Hill is about 50 years of age, even though he appears younger. He was born of Scotch-Irish parents, and nearly all his life was spent in Allegheny county. For many years his residence has been at Mansfield. For three terms he served in the State Legislature from that district. He first entered the field for County Treasurer with Sheriff McCandless, but both were defeated by Mr. Witherow. Withdrew for Another Man. For the following term he withdrew, and Dr. McCandless received the nomination but Mr. Hill secured the office immediately after him. Previous to that time he had served number of times as Justice of the Peace a a number of times as Justice of the Peace at Mansfield. He accepted the present office with reluctance, mainly because he had just completely remedeled his residence on the old Foster farm, and expected to spend the remainder of his days there.

The first matter taken up by the board yesterday was the resignation of Superintendent Warner, who is to accept the management of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company. It was as follows:

CLARREONT. PA. May 7, 1891.

CLAREMONT, PA., May 7, 1891.
To the Honorable, the Hoard of Managers of the Allegheny County Workhouse and Inebriate Asylum: Aligheny County Workhouse and Instrate Asylum: No. 1 hereby resign my office of superintendent of the Aligheny County Workhouse and Instrate Asylum. This resignation to take effect from and after the election and installation of my successor.

It is needless to repeat the statement of the causes, which are well known to you all personally, namely, ill health and personal business interests, which impel me to this step. In thus taking official leave of the trust I have so long enjoyed, I desire to express my sincere gratitude for the confidence that both yourselves and your predecessors seemed always to have repowed in me, and for the constant and uniform evidences that both they and you have given of personal and official triendship. And also for the unruffled harmony that has provailed in the management of this institution.

I am very truly yours. HENRY WARNER. The resignation was accepted and the fol-

High Tribute to Henry Warner High Tribute to Henry Warner.

The voluntary resignation of Hen. Henry Warner from his position, held for over nine years, as Superintendent of the Allegheny County Workhouse and Inebriate Asylum, calls for an expression of the feelings of the Board of Managers on his retirement as to his services on behalf of this institution. We take great pleasure, therefore, in bearing cheerful testimony to his uniform kindness and courtesy as an officer, his upright character as a man and his entire efficiency. In all of his labors connected with this institution he has done his work well and to our entire satisfaction. Therefore, it is with iselings of much regret that we are called upon to part with our superintendent, knowing the great difficulty there will be to fill the vacancy with one so unusually endowed with all the qualifications to command the same measure of success that he has attained, both as a prison official and as a master hand at goodnecting the varied details of the business affairs of the workhouse.

Few persons can have any conception of the labors of the position, to feed, to clothe and keep employed, an army of men and women, and in addition to that to guard and so dispose of them as to insure tranquility and perfect superdination to the rules of a penal institution calls for the very highest degree of ability, including a perfect self-control, courage, prudence and a wisdom which must not permit of the slightest error or injustice to the army of unfortunates which crime or error has placed in confinement under the rigors of the law and made them wholly dependent.

Our best wishes go with Mr. Warner in his future work, and we know that his methodical habits and practical mind will always command success in whatever position in life he may find himself placed.

He carries with him our warmest thanks for his many courtesies to this hourd. board.
