

penerous. He pitched four wide ones to Hanlon and gave Mack the same chance he had had before. Mack's Timely Hit. This time Cornelius acted differently. His hit went by Reily like a flash of lightning and two runs chmein. Hanlon followed on a wild pitch, but Keenan gut the ball back in time to cut off Mack. There were some cheering in-cutents from a Cinctinati standpoint in the fourth, for after Slattery had caught Beckley's fly he fired the ball to the plate and doubled up Reilly. The Reds followed this up by crawling within one of a tie. Holliday's tar crawling within one of a tie. Holliday's tap was fumbled by Reilly, and the "Bug" got to was immoled by Reniy, and the "Bur got to third while Carroll was gotting a strangle bold on Slattery's drive. Keenan's fly was so far out in center that Holliday scored and "Slat" reached second, being driven home by Duryea. THE BOXES READY.

ne Freellent Improvements Made at Exposition Park for the Spectators.

The tier of private boxes at Exposition Park has been completed and have a very handsome appearance. There are 15 of them; six will seat four persons each, six will each seat six persons and three will each hold eight scat six persons and three will each hold eight persons. They are excellently arranged. A new stairway has been erected leading to the press and private boxes. This will indeed be a great convenience. Another ticket office has also been erected and this will enable a large crowd to purchase tickets with remark-able readiness. The grounds have also been greatly improved and if fine weather holds out until Monday they will be in splendid condition.

Howen like a name into constant and an angular. Hows, the Harvard pitcher, has resigned from the nine, and will probably not play again this year. The reason that he gives is that he does not consider himself good enough, for the team. This leaves Harvard with only one pitcher, Bates, but it is very probable that bowner, Harvard's old reliable, will commence training again.
