James Crow, a member of the Excentive Board of the United Mine Workers, and M. Carender, another striker, were evicted at Morgan's yesterday. Several of the Mo-Clare Company employes were also evicted at Walnut Hill yesterday evening. As an evid nee of the determination of the Slavs, 25 or 30 of them met in Scottdale this morning, and when it was found that one them had $85, he cheerfully agreed to divide it equally among his fellows, and when that was done, they started for Everson to purchase food.

The End Far Out of Sight.

The thirteenth week makes little change in the coke strike. The operators claim to have made large gains the past week, and so they have, so far as firing up cold ovens. Nearly 500 more ovens are burning to-night than a week ago, but lew of them were fired by the old hands. Out of an increase of be-tween 600 and 700 men the past week, not 100 of them are from the ranks of the strikers. The operators scent to take great satisfaction in referring to their week's gain. The district officers are apparently just as well satisfied, and hang out with fully as much hope that they are going to win. The few men induced to go to work, they think, are of slight importance when considered with the number yet out and the great expense the companies have been at to get them.

Secretary Parker estimates the extra expense the Frick Company are at to make what coke they are producing at over $3,000 a day, an extra expense of about $2 a ton for every ton of coke turned out by them. The Sinews of War Coming In.

The company, he says, may feel able afford this expense for a waile, but he does not think they are likely to continue it for a whole summer, as he positively believes they will have to do unless they agree to some arrangement with the men by which their differences can be compromised.

The greatest difficulty in making the strike a success that the labor people have to overcome is to raise money to keep the needy families, but in this they have reason to rejoice. The last week has been the most encouraging one they have had since the sirike was first commenced. The contributions were not large but many, rough from all parts of the country. Nearly $3,000 was received in sums ranging from $50 to $300 showing that has ranging from $30 to $300, showing that the country in general is awakening to the importance of giving them help. The couring wook promises to bring a greater number and of larger amounts. thould the contributions increase in numher and amounts, as is anticipated, the end of the strike is by no means anyway near in night.

Strikers Still Confident of Victory. The men, as a majority, have an abiding faith in the justness of their course, and with half enough to eat to keep soul and body together will continue the struggle many works yet. During the investigation at the Morewood mines it was found that the new men brought here are paid $2 a day, instead of by the wagon, for mining and by the oven for drawing. The fact, it is claimed, was admitted by Superintendent Ramsay. This the companies generally have been deny-

THADDEUS STEVENS' ESTATE.

The Courts Will Soon Be Called Upon Settle Some Claims.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. LANCASTER, May 9 .- The final account of Edward McPherson, surviving executor of the late Thaddeus Stevens, was filed here to-day. He has on hand, applicable to the uses of the estate, $50,349 03. The sum is invested in interest-paying accurities, worth in the open market to-day $54,426 69. The estate has been beset from the beginning with claims, controversies and suits, which have made much trouble. One obstream in the set of the day direction obstacle in the way of the final adjudication of the estate, in accordance with the will of deceased, is the claim of a Mrs. Stevens, who alleges that she is the wife of a relative, who alleges that she is the wile of a relative, and is a contestant for a part of the estate. The parties interested are now determined to push a settlement of the pending claims this summer, and the courts will decide the disposition of the fund.

disposition of the fund. The will provides that if the estate amounts to $50,000 after the claims are paid, the trustees shall establish in this city a home for the relief of homeless and indigent orphans, and no preference is to be shown on account of race or color to immates. The sum of $20,000 is to be expended in build-ing, the residue to be secured in Government securities, bearing no less than 6 per cent interest. Interest,

PETETAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR.

PHILADELEHIA, May 0,-The First National Bank of Altoona brought suit in Common Pleas Court No. 2, before Judge Hare, sgainst Ario Pardee, Mary W. T. Howe and John 31, Bell, trading as A. Pardee & Co., to recover the value of a promissory note far $10,000. The jury re-turned a verdict of $10,703 77 in invor of the plaintiff. The note was made by R. B. Wigton, Freeident of the Giamorgan Iron Company, and indorsed iny him, and C. B. Wigton, A. Pardee & Co., per John J. Kirk, Attorney, and James Lang. The defense claimed that, although the indorsements were genuine, the note was a forgery, the date of the genuine note having been changed after it had been paid and the note then reissued. The case was an inflor-resting one, in view of the expert testi-mony employed. All the expert testi-mony employed the note genuine, deelar-ing that no alteration had been made in the date.
