GRAVESEND, May 15.-What is known as the legitimate racing season was innugurated in this State to-day when the Brooklyn Jockey Club threw open its gates for a 14-day meeting. All winter long, through hall, snow, mud and ice, racing has been carried on in New Jersey, and lovers of the thoroughbred have anxiously awaited to-day, when they knew that they would see horse racing untler the most favorable conditions. The programme offered for the opening day was a grand one, full of quality, and such equine stars as Kingston, Tenny, Prince Royal, Burlington, Tea Tray, Schorita and others were down as probable starters in the differ-

The feature of this grand programme was Brooklyn Jockey Club handicap, for which the very best horses in training were which the very best horses in training were eligible to start. For weeks the newspapers have been full of reports of the magnificent work done by the different candidates, and interest in the first great handicap of the year was at fever heat.

Faith Pinned to Tenny.

Everybody had a favorite. There was Tenny, the game and speedy son of Rayon D'Or and Belle of Maywood. He was at one time reported to have gone lame, but later came around all right and race-goers parable Salvator to a head in the phe-Then there was Burlington. Everyone re-give a good account of himself? was the general question.

Besides the two giants of the turf, there was the royally bred Prince Royal, the holder of the mile and a sixteenth record; Castavay, the winner of last year's handicap; Joantaka, who has always been acknowledged a speedy horse; Eon, the victor in a match race with Raceland; Banquet, the holder of the mile and a quarter record over a straight track; Judge Morrow, one of the lest 3-year-olds of last year; Senorita, a grand race mare; Uncle Bob, the winner of the last American Derby, and a host of other high-class horses.

and child in the East.
As early as 10 o'clock the crowd commenced to arrive at the Brooklyn handicap, and from that time till 2 o'clock steam cars, ats, carriages, drays and in fact all kinds conveyances were used to transfer the means throngs that were easer to see the nine battle of the age. For a time it looked as though the pleasure of this immense throng, 30,000 or more, would be sadly marred by rain, but about noon the sun shone in about a half-hearied way, and was a Freilef. With a dry truck there was a sea of mud there was a possibility of an exhibition like Castaway made of his field last year. The conditions and the opening situation as to horse, rider, weight and cash chance is here given:

Everyone Wanted to Bet.

Everyone Wanted to Bet. Everyone was full of excitement, and the erush in the betting ring was tremendons. One hundred and eighteen bookmakers were doing business, but even they could not even begin to supply the speculative wants of the crowd. Men who had never bet $10 in their lives offered $100 bills to bookmakers, and for a time everyone seemed to have lost outrol of themselves.

After a while, however, the money of the Aftern while however, the money of the heavy betters commenced to tell, and it could be seen in what estimation the different horses were held, and the field that went to the post was the best that ever fixed a starter in this country. As they went to the post, each horse was loudly cheered, and they all looked to be in the best of shape. Mr. Caldwell cantioned the boys about being on their good behavior, and then there was a few moments of intense anxiety, accommanded by a silence tense anxiety, accompanied by a silence that was almost painful. When the liouses turned and faced Starter Caldwell the noise in the grand stand sank to a murnur, a lum of excited conversation and all eyes were turned toward the post. Away From the Post,

There was a breakaway and hearts went pit-a-pat over the false alarm. Another oreakaway and again the horses went back to the post. Finally they all got together in close banch and all well in motion. The starter, watching them closely, saw that he would never have them in as good order again and like a strip of fire the red flag flashed through the air.

Then a thunderous roar swept up from the flashed through the air.

Then a thunderous roar swept up from the grand stand. "They're off!" yelied 20,000 voices, and to the music of the hoarse cries the horses swept down to the stand with thundering hoofs. Men breathed hard and fast and women chapped their hands or waved their parasols. The great handicap race was on. race was on.
The mighty struggle was in full swing, and as far as the start was concerned every horse had received a fair chance. As they swept toward the stand the 3-year-old Russell took the lead, running under a strong pull, and with Nellie Ely, Once Again and Santiago lapped on him, Riley and King Thomas bringing up the rear.

Tenny Backers Were Anxious. They ran in this order around the lower turn, and those who had bet on Tenny com-shack was running in the ruck. As they started up the backstretch, Santiago went up to Russell's head and the two ran locked for a quarter, while the white and red of Burlington commenced to occupy a prominent position, and Tenny, the favorite, also moved up.

ment position, and Tenny, the favorite, also moved up.

As they struck the upper turn, the pace commenced to quicken, and Russell fell back, beaten, leaving Santiago in front. He in turn gave way to Loantaka, who piloted the field into the stretch.

"Now they're in the stretch," shouted the crowd, and then the race begun in earnest. The jockeys were swaying to and fro on their horses, and some of them were already plying whip and spur. Loantaka soon gave up and Tenny showed in front, closely pressed by Judge Morrow, who had been in the suck for a mile with Burlington, Eon, Prince Royal and Tea Tray. Horses and jockeys both seemed to think that the crisis had arrived and all gathered themselves together for a final offort.

and yellow could now be seen the gleaming black face of Pikey Barnes. It was a picture WRIGHT'S HOODOOS. in ebony set in gaudy colors. The little jockey was riding as he never rode before. He seemed to lift himself above his horse and try to push the great swayback along a little faster.

Down the stretch they were coming. The foaming nostrils, the flashing eyes of the horses could be seen. Tenny, Tea Tray, Prince Royal and Judge Morrow were all in a bunch and the spectators held their breath. Then 30,000 voices mingled in one long shout. Barnes realized that the critical moment had come.

Barnes realized that the critical momens had come.

Three-sixteenths from the finish Barnes went to the whip, and for the fraction of a second the favorite faltered. The cry, and a despairing one it was, went up, "Tenny beaten." It did look like it, but the game little swayback responded nobly, and with heaving sides and distended nostrils, he came on like a plece of perfect mechanism, rapidly devouring ground at every stride.

Tenny Lands a Winner.

The race was not his yet, however, for Garrison was working like a demon on Prince Royal, fairly lifting him over the ground, and Tea Tray was rapidly moving up from the rear. The excitement was in-tense. Hats, bonnets, handkerchiefs, umbrellas and parasols were thrown into the brellas and parasols were thrown into the air, and cries of "Tenny!" "Tenny!" "Prince Royal wins?" "Come on, Tea Tray!" were heard on all sides.

It was a grand struggle, but Tenny held his antagonists safe, and, bounding like an india rubber ball, passed the finish two good lengths in front of Prince Royal, who beat Tea Tray a short head for second money. The time, 2:10, was nothing out of the common, but it was grand race.

Barnes, who rode the winner, was placed in a floral borse shoe after he had weighed out, and was carried to the dressing rooms. He has won the Futurity, Junior Champlon and Brooklyn, and says that his ambition is now to ride the winner of the Suburban.

The Other Races. The day's sport commenced with a six-furlong, selling sweepstakes, for $1,000. Kings-long, selling sweepstakes, for $1,000. Kingston, Charlie Post and Kingsbridge went to the post. Hamilton landed Kingston a handy winner by a length, while Kingsbridge beat Charlie Post four lengths for the place. Time, l:16.

The second race was a mile and a sixteenth, sweepstakes, for which Longstreet, Leighton, Madstone and Kittle T were the starters. Entering the stretch, Longstreet took the lend and holding it to the end won somewhat handily by a length from Leighton, who beat Madstone eight lengths for the place. The latter could have been much closer up, but when McLaughlin saw he could not win he did not ride him, out. Time, 1:403. closer up, but when McLaughlin saw he could not win he did not ride him, out. Time, 1893.

The third race was the Expectation Stakes for 2-year-olds, at half a mile, with $1,500 added, of which $350 went to the second and $150 to the third. The starters were Coxswain, St. Hubert, Detroit, McCormick, Osric, Equator, Lisbon, Moderator colt, King Mac, Annie Queen, Gulity, Slipalong, Arnica, Yorkville Belle, Hellgate. A good finish ensued. Osric winning by a neck, while Yorkville Belle beat Coxswain two lengths for place. Time, 4992. The winner is a bay colt by imported Cheviot out of Abbie W, and was purchased by Wolcott & Campbell at the Hearst sale yesterfay.

Why Many People Come to Have Tax Liens Filed Against Thent.

There are thousands of transfers of real estate which are not to be found noted in the books in the County Commissioners' office. This negligence on the part of people who sell realty will develop a large crop of trouble. Many go to pay their taxes on property and find it not assessed to them. Many of them go away rubbing their hands and congratulating themselves that they are alread of the game and that that they are ahead of the game, and they often do not awaken until they find that liens have been filed against them. This is a matter that is not hard to obviate, and yet it is one productive of pro-fauity and much tribulation.

Did somebody say "Jonahs?" That very disconsolate expression is al-ways on the tongue ends of seven-tenths of local baseball cranks whenever the veteran Harry Wright and his ball team land here. STATE OF THE PARTY Whether or not the theories of the late Madame Blavatsky, Annie Besant or the poetry of Walt Whitman would give any proof as to the existence of invisible jonahs that always "queer" the best of talent, the fact remains that Old Harry Wright could comehere with nine of the toughest and rawest Hungarians and knock out any star combination we might

It is very funny, but it is ust as true as it is funny, that there is something of the jonah about the Philadelphia team every time they come to Pittsburg. That is they manage to "jonah" our side it. If they cannot do it one way they do it get together.

The Jonahs Landed.

Sure enough, they landed here yesterday for the first time this season, and when it was apparent that they couldn't win by hitting, why, they even jonahed such a cold-blooded, raw-boned and beyond-human-influence sort of man like Jake Beckley. It is a fact that Jake was somehow or other hoodooed into making two errors, his inaugu-rals of the season. One of them was costly. In fact, all the runs made by the jonahs were the result of mistakes on the part of the home players.

But still Harry Wright is always welcome to Pittsburg, no matter whom he brings with him. Harry always has respectable with him. Harry always has respectable people, and the old man has patiently sat out many a baseball argument during the heat of the burning sun. As a result he is ever a welcome visitor and an instructive one. The veteran is going down the frail side of life, but nobody, no matter how youthful, is possessed of more enthusiasm for the game than the veteran.

Yesterday's weather was real baseball weather; neither too hot or too cold. There were more than 2000 people present to great weather; neither too hot or too cold. There were more than 2,000 people present to greet the appearance of our hoodoos. The crowd was enthusiastic enough to commence with, but as soon as the evil influence of the Philadelphia gang commenced to operate there were very many despondent hearts. A young man who answers to the name of Thornton was assigned to pitch for the visitors and a glance at the score will convince anybody that it is needless to say that Mr. Thornton was anything but a mark. The truth is that Mr. Thornton, stranger as he was here, made very small potatoes of own very big people.

Mr. Thornton Was There.

Mr. Thornton Was There.

He was another example of how those gay youngsters can suddenly emerge from Milwaukee or obscurity and simply trample on the heroes of hundreds of great struggles. Without doubt Thornton as a pitcher was a riddle that the home sluggers couldn't solve and none of them can very well explain why he wasn't solved. Fred Carroll's opinion of a puzzling pitcher is always one of the most interesting things in baseball, and Fred last evening couldn't figure out in anything like a satisfactory way how Thornton wen't a satisfactory way how Thornton wasn't knocked clean out of the box bang on to the bench in short order. But Thornton's time

Don't let it be understood that it was Mark Baldwin's fault that our people lost. Mark was in form and really pitched a winning game. So well did he pitch that not a run was earned off his delivery. Had weight, who has made quite a record of late.

The fight will take place in Chicago, but the preliminary arrangements have not yet been made. It is said the purse for which the fight will take place will amount to $6,000 or $5,000.

Baldwin had good speed and a tolerably fair command of the ball. Only six hits, singles, were made off his dilivery and he gave only four bases on balls. In one instance a base on balls scored, but the error of Reilly caused the scoring.

the scoring. They Both Meant Business. Both pitchers started out as if they mean osiness, and it was the fourth inning before a tally was made. It was the third inning before Baldwin went to bat, and he was pre sented with a basket of flowers. In the second half of the fourth Myers led off with a single to center, and then Beckley, strange to say, fumbled Clements' grounder, Myers to say, fumbled Clements' grounder, Myers getting to third. Brown's pop-up fly was caught by Baldwin, and then Allen struck out. Thornton loomed up and cracked out a single to right and Myers scored.

In the fifth inning Mack led off for the home team and made a single to left. Sacrifices by Beckley and Baldwin sent Mack home and then Miller made a single, but Beckley went out at first.

In the second half—the jonah half—Shindle led off and was put out at first. Delehanty made a single to right and Gray knocked a short grounder to Baldwin. The latter got the ball and threw it to Miller to head off Delehanty at second. But Miller dropped the ball, and both Delehanty and Gray were safe. Myers then got his base on balls, filling the bases. Clements' fly was caught by Bierbauer and then Reilly fumbled Brown's grounder, Delehanty scoring. Beckley next fumbled Allen's grounder, and both Gray and Myers scored as a result. This ended the run getting, and neither team looked like scoring again. The score:

THE COUNTY LEAGUE.

instructed all the County League umpires to be very strict in calling the games promptly, as patrons do not care to sit waiting for some time for the game to commence. At the East End Athletic games in former years, the games used to start as late as 4:30, although advertised for 4 o'clock, and as a result of this tardiness they lost a great deal of patronage. According to the new play-ing rules there will be no difficulty about putting in anyone to start the game with and afterward changing as many men as and afterward changing as many men as they may wish.

The Bridgeville club will open up with Mansfield on the latter's ground and the McKeesport game has been postponed, as the Acme's have resigned from the League and the Tarentum club will be admitted in their place. Manager Kennedy; of the Tarentum club, was perfectly satisfied to accept the Acme club's schedule and would have played the McKeesport club this afternoon at McKeesport, but Manager Toreyson preferred to have the game postponed, as he has just returned from Eric and did not have any arrangements made for the opening of the season. The McKeesport and Tarentum clubs will play the postponed game off the first open date.

Secretary Wells has called the next meeting of the County League for next Tuesday evening, May 19, at Mr. Pratt's store, where the Tarentum club will be formally admitted to the League and a few changes will be made to the acceptification and polysics.

With a Big Salary. MEASURES FOR COLLECTING REVENUE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15 .- The steamship Alameda, which arrived to-day, brought advices regarding the Australian Federation Convention, which concluded its sittings April 9, having prepared a draft of the Constitution for the proposed federation, which will be submitted to the people of the Colonies for their approval. As soon as three Colonies have accepted the Constitution as it stands, for they cannot amend it, a bill will be sent to England for the assent of the Imperial Parliament, and if ratified the Queen will, by proclamation, appoint a day when the Commonwealth of Australia is to be established, and will also appoint a Governor General.

On his arrival the usual constitutional process of forming a Ministry will be gone through and a Parliament elected. The salient points of the Constitution are as follows:

The federation shall be known as the Commonwealth of Australia and the colonies be called States. The Legislature is to consist of a Senate and House of Representatives, to be called Parliament. The Governor General will be appointed by the Queen and receive a salary of not less than £10,000. The members of Parliament, before taking seats, are to make oath or affirmation of allegience to the Queen. The Parliaments are legience to the Queen. The Parliaments are to be held as appointed by the Governor, but there is to be a session of Parliament at least once every year, so that 12 months shall not intervene between two sittings of Composition of the Senate. Composition of the Senate.

The Senate is to be composed of eight members of each State, chosen by the Houses of Parliament of each State. Senators will be chosen for six years, one half to retire every three years. The President of the Senate is to be chosen by the Senate. He is to be in all cases entitled to a vote, and when voting is equal, the question is to pass in the negative. The House of Representatives is to be chosen by the people of the several States in proportion to their number, each State to have one representative for every 30,000 people; but the mininumber, each State to have one representa-tive for every 30,000 people; but the mini-mum number of representatives for each State will be four. The life of the House of Representatives is to be three years.

The life of the House of Representatives is to be three years.

Parliament must be called together not later than thirty days after the day appointed for return of writs for a general election. Members of both Houses are to receive an allowance of £500 per annum, and the usual penal clauses are provided to meet cases where a number is under disability to sit. No Senator or member of the House of Representatives is to hold any office of profit under the crown, but ministers are not to be compelled to offer themselves for re-election. The powers of Parliament as to the making of laws include the regulation of coinage, trade and commerce and tion of coinage, trade and commerce and are in general the same as delegated to Con-gress by the Constitution of the United States. The East End Gymnastic and Climax clubs will cross bats this afternoon at the East End Gymnastic Club's grounds (old Liberty Park), in their first County League championship game. The game will be called promptly at 4 o'clock, if there are only six men on the field, as Secretary Wells has instructed all the County League unpries to whose number is not to exceed seven. The Ministers are to be members of the Federal Executive Council and the Queen's Ministers of State for the Commonwealth. They may sit in either House of Parliament, and £15,000 per annum is set apart for the pay-

THE ART OF SMILING It Should Be Done With the Eye, the Face

Remaining in Repose. New York Times.] Is there anything more wearisome than the person who ceaselessly expands and contracts the lips over the teeth, without mirth or meaning, for that is what the continual smile eventually becomes. WOMEN REPORTERS IN LONDON.

vied by Her Sisters.

Their Lot Is Certainly Not One to Be En-Probably the least satisfactory English woman is the woman reporter, as she is found in London. It is perhaps a mercy to them and to us that there are not very many, for the lot of a woman reporter in England must be a singularly unpleasant one. She is only tolerated in a newspaper office as something that has intruded in some way or other into the profession, and manages to stay there, thanks to two facts: she does not get drunk, and she will work for half the money that a man expects. Her work is of a description that is usually scorned by her male confreres; she writes up work is of a description that is usually scorned by her male confreres; she writes up dress, does the hack work on the books, and picks up the tittle-tattle of the parish churches, the local bazaars, and the Primrose League. If she does anything else it is in the form of a short story or an interview with some important individual or other who would resent being questioned by a man, but yields out of astonishment and politeness when tackled by a woman. In a general way, however, London's woman-reporter is either a very loud and over-dressed woman or a very shabby and under-dressed female. She waves her card defiantly in the air, and passes a Cerberus before the guardian animal has time to realize what has happened. Nothing escapes her ears or her eyes once she is inside, and if ever, the new journalism, or, as it is called here American journalism, becomes rampant in England, it will be the female, not the male, reporter in London who will make or mar it.  May 15, 1890. make or mar it.

Sandwiches of every variety and kind are one of the most correct dishes for Iuncheoa or breakfast in London. All sorts of delicate sauces, creams and fish, flesh or fowl, go to compose one or more of the ingredients. Some sandwiches are really beautiful to look at, and, as an instance, I will explain how a charming symphony in brown plain how a charming symphony in brown and white bread and pale green paste may be made with very little trouble.

Pound the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs with a one-fourth pound of butter. Boil and drain carefully a few sprigs of parsley and watercress; rub this green pulp together with the yellow mass, and add about two tablespoonsful of finely rubbed bread crumbs and a little peper and salt, and, if the mixture is too dry, just a little milk. Mix this thoroughly till it becomes a smooth paste. Have ready delicately thin slices of brown and white bread, which you spread rather thickly with the paste, and, alternating the colors of the bread, pile your sandwiches on a dainty little napkin, and garnish with parsley and slices of lemon cut very thin. You cannot fancy what a simple thin. You cannot fancy what a simple and pretty dish this is, and it is really very

HOW THE LOON ESCAPES.

He Never Flies From the Gunner, but Quickly Goes Under Water. Nature's Realm.]

Perhaps no bird possesses better ability to avoid the danger from the rifle and shotgun than the loon, and it is to be doubted if there is any bird on American soil which can dive so quickly or remain under the water as long as he. Only one way seems in any degree fairly sure of success in his capture. It consists in getting the loon between fires on a stream or narrow lake. When so hunted the loon gets rattled, so to speak and as the boys call it, and is generally keeled over.

And yet I have seen a loon surrounded on a small mill pond, with not a ghost of a chance of escape by flight, keep a dozer shooters firing for an hour before it suc-

Very few women know how to wash fine laces. The best way, I think, is to boil a a few small bits of white soap in water, in which put two teaspoonfuls of ammonia. Let the water get a little cool, and then dip your lace in it, taking care that it does not rest in the water, but is kept in continual

You should beforehand prepare a large You should beforehand prepare a large empty quart bottle by sewing a piece of linen tightly around it. Then, when the lace is quite clean, wrap it very loosely, and without wringing the water from it, around the bottle, carefully pinning and stretching gently each tiny point of the edge of the lace. Then tie a string around the neck of he bottle, and hang it in a window where there is no sun, where it will dry slowly, and will, when unpinned, look as "lacey" and "unwashed" as ever. It is a lot of trouble to do, but good lace is really worth it. IVORY EMBROIDERY WORK.

The Stitches Must Be Very Regular and Close to Give the Effect, The newest thing in embroidery is called "ivory work," and it is really only a variety of the old fashioned "canvas" work. It has taken its new name from the fact that, whatever the design worked upon the material, it must be pure white, although it be outlined with any art color that pleases A pretty example was a fire screen in dull green silk canvas. On this was worked a design of conventional drum lilies, with their large, palm-shaped leaves, all, of course, of pure white stitching, and out-lined in a purply blue, with an outer edging of gold. This screen was framed in ebony, with a tracery of silver leaves, and was really most artistic. It is awfully hard work, though, for the stitches must be very regular and close to give the "ivory" effect.

THE LABOR SITUATION The General Outlook Briefly

> Discussed. WHO WILL WIN?

The attention of everyone is directed to the two great strikes now in progress, and speculation is rife as to whether the demands asked will be granted. In nearly every case the causes leading to such movements by labor are due directly to the grinding policy pursued by capitalists and monopolies. The influence hat such strikes have upon business is always depressing. Different ways of remedying the evil have been offered to both the capital and labor worlds, but each have in their turn rejected them, so that at present there is no method by which labor can attain its just demands or secure a hearing of their grievances other than that of precipitating a strike.

When the system is attacked by catarrh a strike occurs, so to speak, and its needs are made known through the many disturbing symptoms experienced by the person so afficted. The remedy for catarrial affections of all kinds is given by Drs. Copeland and Blair's treatment. The successful results attained by it in the most persistent cases have given to it the well-merited approval it receives. This is shown by the increasing number of patients applying daily for treatment at their office.

Mr. R. McDonald, Duqueme, Pa.

Mr. R. McDonald, living at Duquesne, Pa., and employed as weighmaster at the Allegheny Ressener Steel Works, says: "I have suffered for ten years. I had pains in the head, limbs and chest about the region of the heart. My nose was stopped up and there were ringing noises in my ears. I hawked and spit up mucus continually. My eyes were weak and I suffered from nausea and weak stomach. Had no appetite, felt dizzy upon rising, and was always tired in the morning. I decided to treat with Drs. Copeland & Blair, and I am glad that I did. I 141 free from headache and pains. My nose is clear and 'earing well. I have regained my appetite, and in the morning I feel rested. My dizziness has left and I feel better to-day than ever before."
