BOYS' CRAZE FOR BASEBALL SHOES.

Mr. Mutrie Proclaims His Faith in the Honesty of the Umpire.

Walter A. Eytinge is a New Yorker who has spent the last five or six days in the city. He had not been here for ten years and was much surprised at the growth and most drilling is going on at McDonald. The most drilling is going on at McDonald. The extension of the city. He thinks the transit facilities are second to none in the country. Mr. Eytinge was at one time on the New York Fire Department and claims "fire fighting" as one of his hobbies. When a DISPATCH reporter met him at the Duquesne Hotel yesterday he had been reading an argument in which it was claimed that either a fire-boat or water-tower would be perfectly useless in a city like Pittsburg: the former because it could only play within a very limited distance from the river and the latter because the engines used by the city have not power sufficient to drive water through it. Mr. Eytings was very wroth over these statements. "The man who wrote that," he | Everybody Can Have a Fast Horse in the said, "had not the least knowledge of what he was talking about. He says that a firehave to be sent to it to notify it of the fire. engines could be purchased for the money a would throw water as high as a water tower

"All this is the sheerest nonsense, and show his complete ignorance of the subject. In the first place, if any city is most admir ably situated for the purposes of a fireboat it is Pittsburg. You have about 18 miles of river frontage, and the shallow water makes it necessary that your boats are driven by side wheels or end wheels, the fastest method of propulsion known to marine construction. The necessity for employing side wheels would enable your fireboats to travel with as much speed as your engines do, and would beat the New York boats, which use propellers. Regarding notifying the boat of a fire; how is it done in New York? By message? Well, no! The boats have regular stations connected by telegraph with the Central station, and are notified in the same way the houses are When the alarm comes the man on watch disconnects the wires, the pilot signals the engineer, the cable is slipped automatically and the boat moves off to the fire under a full head of steam. A fire boat needs no more men than an engine company; that is, two officers and ten men, as in the New York department, and in the event of a protracted fire occurring, necessitating two or three days' work-and such a fire may occur-the engines can all be released, and the fire boat, resting easily at the wharf, can continue discharging volumes of water equal to the joint capacity of several en-gines. How? Very easily. The reason why the capacity of the fire engine is limwhy the capacity of the are engine is limited is because to make it any stronger, and consequently more powerful, would necessitate a vast increase in weight and make it difficult to haul, whereas the fire boat pumps can be made of unlimited capacity, and by means of Siamese connections can distribute with or nine streams to any distance and

Pressing Need of a Fire Boat,

"These are not simply assertions. They are facts, which have been demonstrated in New York, which has three fireboats, Boston two and Chicago one. This city needs a fireboat. The fire on the river the other night would have been extinguished in 20 minutes by a New York boat, which would open fire from its 'blunderbuss' of ten streams and choke it by mere force of "In a city where high buildings are the rule, a water tower is absolutely essential. The claim that the Pittsburg engines have not power enough to lift water through a tower is absurd, and is made because the author knows nothing about the apparatus. He forgets, or does not know, that the combined force of one, two, three or more engines if necessary can be centered in the tower, and a volume of water shot through it under a pressure which will deluge the biggest building in the city on very short order. I have traveled through the country from Maine to the slope and have visited every department be tween these points, and therefore can claim to know a little about fire matters, and I feel that I don't exaggerate when I say that tais city only lacks a fireboat and water tewer to be as well equiped in fire-fighting facilities as any city in the country, for the engines are of a class that cannot be excelled and the men seem to know their busi-

UMPIRES HONEST MEN.

Jim Mutric Puts in a Good Word for These Abused People.

"As a rule, umpires are honest men," said Jim Mutrie, when he was here with his ill-fated star aggregation. "I find that players stir up feeling against the poor umpire to cover up their bad playing, and I will never permit the public or my men to abuse this ill-used man. I think New York is the best town in the country for umpires. The audiences are so cosmopolitan that the chances are the visiting club has as many friends in the grandstand as the home ag-

I saw him once in New York when at least 300 men rushed into the liamond to use him up for making a close diamond to use him up for making a close decision. 'Area't you ashamed of your-selves,' Lynch shouted to the excited people. 'I am only one man against so many, but I am not afraid of you.' This blast made them slink back into their seats, but one fellow persisted in calling him bad names. Lynch stopped the game and wouldn't allow it to go on until the big policeman put the man out of the grounds. He vowed vengeance on Lynch, and said he would wait for him outside. for him outside.

ABOUT REGISTERING NAMES.

Some of the People Who Make Hotel

Clerks Very Tired. "Some people make me very weary by the way they register their names," said a hotel clerk yesterday. "Modesty should teach a man to put down his name and address without any frills, and I must say for the majority of the people that they do it, but there are some fools who make themselves ridiculous, and if they could only bear the comments made about them by those who look over registers, they would stop it.

"Now, there is the man who comes from a Now, there is the man who comes from a backwoods town. He is ashamed of the place, and puts the State after his name. Mahone started this practice when he imagined he carried Virginia in his pocket, but he has found to his sorrow that he doesn't. It certainly does look pretentious for a man to claim a whole State for his home, beside, it frequently gives us trouble to locate him, if occasion should require it. The other chap is as bad who put down no address at all. He covers the earth, you know, in his greatness, and frequently imagines that everybody knows him. But the man with the title caps the climax. The egotism of some title caps the climax. The egotism of some people is out of sight, but then I suppose hotel clerks see more of it than anybody

Northwest buying butter and eggs and looking up the crops. Mr. Pitt says the dry weather has made produce very scarce, and unless it rains soon the prices are sure to jump up. The demand for this kind of food stuff is great, and the supply is not equal to it. In Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Illinois it has not rained for six weeks. The dry spell has discouraged the farmers, and in some places they are plowing up the oats fields to replace this crop with corn. The grass is withered and the wheat seems blighted. The country has

PATRIOTIC YOUNG AMERICA.

The Boys All Like to Wear the Yellow B Ball Shoes. In the windows of the city stores are dis-

The fad is not a bad one, as the shoes are cheap, and will last all summer. They are comfortable, too, and that is why they are used in baseball. "I don't know whether it is on account of "I don't know whether it is on account of the gam's or the cheapness of the shoes," said Morris Baer, of Kauffman brothers, "but we sell just piles of those shoes. THE OUTING SEASON Opens To-Day, With the First Cheap Excursion to Wheeling.

LOTS OF TRAVEL IS LOOKED FOR

By the Local Agents of All the Railroads Centering Here.

SOMETHING ABOUT, DATES AND RATES

The claim has frequently been made that Pittsburg is one of the greatest excursion towns in the country, as it is also noted for its enthusiastic baseball cranks when the home club makes even a pretense at winning games. If there is anything in life worth having Pittsburgers are bound to get it, and with all their hard work they mauage to pull as much enjoyment out of the fire as this vale of tears will afford. With the great lakes, the St. Lawrence river, White Mountains and the seashore in the East, they are blessed with a variety of resorts near at hand in which to spend the summer that will please even the most fas-

The local excursion season opens to-day, with the first Sunday special on the Balti-more and Ohio to Wheeling. These excursion trains will be kept up all summer. When Judge White's interpretation of the Brooks law was the severest Wheeling was a very popular place with thirsty people on the Sabbath, but it has lost some of its popularity from this standpoint and has gained in many others.

Other Openings in the Future. The excursion business to Ohio Pyle will be opened on Decoration Day. The regular excursion and tourist tickets for all Eastern points will be put on sale June 1. The Western roads, owing to the jangle with the Chicago and Alton road, have not selected a date, but Mr. Clark, of the Lake Erie, thought they would decide on June 1 also. But what interests the average Pittsburger the most is the seashore, and it is needled to add that all the roads are making elaborate arrangements to carry the people. The Baltimore and Obio will start the ball rolling this season by the first popular excur-sion at the old rate of $10 for 10 days to Atlantic City and Cape May on July 2. Division Passenger Agent Smith was congratulating himself yesterday on the selection of the date, as it is only two days before the Fourth of July and Sunday follows the latter day, so that business men will lose but little time. The Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania roads will alternate during the summer with four ex-cusions apiece, the Pennsylvania beginning July 9.

The Season at Atlantic City.

Speaking of Atlantic City yesterday Mr. Smith, of the Baltimore and Ohio, said: "Without doubt this seaside resort is "Without doubt this seaside resort is the greatest of them all, and the hotels there realize that the place is popular with Pittsburgers. Looking over our figures for last year I find the Baltimore and Ohio carried 2,600 people to Atlantic City on the four excursions, the Pennsylvania had as many more, probably, and altogether Pittsburg had 5,200 people to Atlantic City on popular excursions. Counting the tourist tickets there were from 6,000 to 7,000 people in all. These figures will give you an idea of the popularity of Atlantic City. I am looking for as good, if not a better business this season. I don't think the strikes will hurt the passenger traffic very much. will hurt the passenger traffic very much. As for Deer Park and Oakland on our line, these mountain resorts always have as much as they can do to take care of their guests. Deer Park is a very fashionable place, and is well patronized by Pittsburg people." Another feature of social life which marks Another feature of social life which marks this city is its usual summer progeny of picnics. Thanks to the railroads, they have supplied local patrons with several beautiful grounds that are hard to discount. When Schenley Park is put into condition the roads may lose some of the Sunday schools, but will never drop the secular organiza.

These people will always stay with

Three Beautiful Picnic Spots.

It would be difficult to select three prettier places for picnics than Alliquippa, on the Lake Erie road; Rock Point, on the Fort Wayne, and Idlewild, in the Ligonier Valley. J. W. Sloan, who represents the Ligonier Valley road, said yesterday that his company had spent this year $15,000 in creating and improving what he calls New Idlewild. Fifty dates for the summer have been taken already, and the picnic season proper will begin June 27 and continue through the first week in August. Next Tuesday a week the Braddock school children will open the new grounds with an old-time May jubilee. Mr. Sloan thinks other schools will follow the example. Bedford Springs and Cresson are becoming more popular every year. The Pennsylvania road intends to boom Bedford this summer by putting on a Three Beautiful Picnic Spots year. The Pennsylvania road intends to boom Bedford this summer by putting on a special train some time in June to run from Huntingdon to the Springs without stops. As for Cresson all the through trains will stop at this point. On July 4, the Pennsylvania will run a special excursion to Gettysburg at $7 50 for the round trip, less than one fare. It is intended for old soldiers and in the future this excursion will diers, and in the future this excursion will be offered with the hope that an annual cel-ebration will be held on the battlefield. The little Lake Eric always bobs up with

The little Lake Eric always bobs up with something good. About $5,000 have been expended improving the Alliquippa picnic grounds. Mr. Clark says the park was never in better condition. The dining hall has been enlarged, all the buildings repainted and a baseball field added. A few dates are left in July and August. New tanbark walks have also been made.

Popular Excursions to Niagara Falls. The regular excursion rate to Niagara The regular excursion rate to Niagara Falls this year will be $10 50, going into effect June 1. Later in the season popular excursions at $7 50 for ten days will be run on the Lake Erie and Allegheny Valley roads. Mr. Clark thinks the fishing club business along the lakes will be as good, or rather better, than last year. Many of the Pittsburg clubs prefer points between Painesville and Erie. Of course the upper lake region is always popular. the upper lake region is always popular. The larger clubs have not contracted, as the members know where they are going and about what the rate will be. The people now understand that the local roads are not now understand that the local roads are not cutting much for competitive points. The business to Lake Chautauqua, the St. Law-rence river and the White Mountains also promises to be very heavy. As a rule there will be no change in rates over last year. Yesterday Mr. Clark and District Passenger Yesterday Mr. Clark and District Passenger Agent Samuel Moody, of the Pennsylvania Company, made arrangements at Beaver for the picnic of the Amalgamated Association, which will be held this year on the Beaver fair grounds.

What is true of the Lake Eric excursion What is true of the Lake Eric excursions to Northwestern points will amply to the Allegheny Valley road. General Passenger Agent James Anderson, of this line, never allows the grass to grow under his feet, and he offers low rates and plenty of popular extended to the comment of Chantangua. Niagcursions this summer to Chautauqua, Niag-ara, the St. Lawrence and other Northern points. The passenger earnings of the Valley are increasing very rapidly.

A Great Summer Season Expected. Mr. Anderson believes that this summer Mr. Anderson believes that this summer will be a great one for excursions. He banks a little on the weather, and if it is warm Chautauqua will be overrun with visitors in search of rest and cool air.

The Pennsylvania Company has a wonderful picnic ground in Rock Point. Colonel Moody says the place has been improved, and is in better shape than ever. The fact that most of the dates are already taken attests its popularity. As for other points tests its popularity. As for other points the Ft. Wayne will probably have several popular excursions to Chicago and Cleve-

The Pittsburg and Western must not be forgotten in the shuffle. This line has so, many picnic grounds that you can take your choice. The P. & W. will carry a number of fishing clubs to Painesville and other lake points. General Passenger Agent Bassett is the author of cheap ex cursions to Chicago. Last year he made a round trip rate of $9 00, and the chances are that later in the season the same low rate will be represented.

MANY TALES OF WOE Aired by Combatants in Quarter Sessions Court Yesterday.

are that later in the season the same low rate will be repeated.

The West is looming up as a great excursion center. The Rocky Mountains with their beautiful falls and rivers offer rare attractions to visitors. The Yellowstone Park is always a great object of interest. Thomas S. Spear, of the Union Pacific road, says his line offers low rates all the year around. The main excursion places are Colorado points, the wonderful Shoshonee Falls, the Columbia river district and that natural curiosity, the Yellow-Shoshonee Falls, the Columbia the Yellow-trict and that natural curiosity, the Yellow-stone Park. The only time it can be seen to advantage, indeed at all, is during the summer months.

Visitors to the West Increasing. Each year the list of visitors to Western points is increasing, as the people grow tired of the Atlantic Ocean and sigh for the Western plains and mountains.

Last but not least is the lake region, which holds out its arms of water to the tired mill men and the disciples of Izaak Walton. F. E. Randall, who represents the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company, has decided to locate in Pittsburg. He says for some reason or other the people in this section who intend to hold conventions become a morning for Detroit. This tions have a mania for Detroit. This year his company will carry the G. A. R. delegates, Presbyterians and representatives of other organizations who will meet in the city by the lake. day's session of the Quarter Sessions Court from the fact that Attorney Hall was up for sentence. The convicted were all accompanied by counsel and pathetic pleas were generally made. There were the usual num-ber of women and babies in arms, and they waited uneasily for their turn from 10 o'clock until noon. The detention was as usual aggravated by the abominable acoustic qualities of the courtroom, which make it almost impossible to hear the Judges' re-marks as far back as the counsel table, a distance of less than 20 feet. Could the victims hear, the monotony might be considerably alleviated. Attorney D. F. Patterson occupied the attention of the Court for some time in arranging to have a test case made of prohibitory oleomargarine legislation. Patterson holds that the title of the bill and the legislation that it covers do not comport and that it is therefore unconstitutional. A case will be made up. The band struck up when Fannie Win

OBJECTS TO THE WIRES.

The Telephone Company is Enjoined From Occupying Morewood Avenue. A bill in equity was filed yesterday by E. M. Ferguson against the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company. Mr. Ferguson stated that he owns the greater part of the property on both sides of More wood avenue, from Fifth avenue to Ells worth avenue. The street was never opened by the city and is not a public highway, but was laid out and graded and paved by the plaintiff, who owned that tract of land. It is now a private way for the property abutting on it. On May 1 the defendant company went on the street and erected poles and strung telephone wires from Fifth avenue to Elisworth avenue. The plaintiff protested and on May 6, Superintendent Metzgar, of the telephone company agreed to do no more work without the consent of the plaintiff. On Friday, however, work was again com-

of the property on the street, but it is claimed that it is the intention to put up a line to reach other parts of the city. An injunction was asked for to restrain them from doing any more work on the street. The Cours granted a preliminary injunction and fixed May 19 for a further hearing.

THE UNITED STATES COURT

Did Not Finish Up Yesterday, and Will Continue To-Morrow.

It was expected that the United States Circuit Court would be wound up yesterday with the suit of the Hughes Steam Pump Company versus Joseph Tippman. It was not concluded, however, as the attorneys have not finished their arguments. Court will, therefore, sit to-morrow, and adjourn on conclusion of that trial.

OLEOMARGARINE ARGUMENTS

OLEOMARGARINE ARGUMENTS

That Were All Prepared, but Not Listened to by the Court.

Elsewhere reference is made to the fact that Attorney D. F. Patterson, counsel for the defendants in the oleomargarine suits, moved yesterday to quash the indictments, on the ground of unconstitutionality. Mr. Patterson held that though the United States Supreme Court had declared the act constitutional, it could be easily shown to be not so, as its title violated the third section of the third article of the Constitution in 1. Constitution in 1. Con not so, as its title violated the third section of the third article of the Constitution in not having the subject clearly expressed in it. Mr. Patterson said he would show that many cases had been so decided that were not nearly so pronounced in the omission as not nearly so pronounced in the omission as this one.

Judge White did not want to hear an argument, so he suggested that the counsel take a pro forms rule, overruling the motion to quash, so that a case stated might be agreed upon, as to the facts in the indicament and the matter so brought before the Supreme Court for final determination, and

MAY CHOOSE A NEW RABBI.

Mr. Patterson did so.

Grant Street Synagogue Election Po Until Next Month. The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Grant Street Synagogue will be held this afternoon, but on account of the approaching religious holidays of the church, nothing will come up for discussion. The troubles concerning the Rabbi were to have come up, but all such matters have been postponed until the middle of June.

It is intended at that time to also elect the Cantler, and as the Rabbi's term expires in August it is highly probable that an at-tempt will be made to elect a new man at the next business session.

speaking, she revealed a toothless set of gums. Her name is Bridget M. Morris, and she had just returned from the workhouse and was shaking hands with Inspector Mc-Aleese and the detectives.

"How many years have you been in the workhouse in the last 29 years?" inquired Detective Coulson.

"About 18 or 19 years, I reckou. But, law sakes, it's been the making of me. I'd been dead long ago if it wasn't for the works. It just builds a person up."

"Suppose you'll have to celebrate tonight and we'll have you here in the morning," remarked Inspector McAleese.

"Not yet," replied the woman, "although I did get a good drink this afternoon. I've got plenty of friends. Judge Gripp's a friend of mine. Why, last time he only gave me 30 days."

With that she toddled off and Inspector McAleese said he did not believe there was any doubt but what she would be in a cell before morning. "She always celebrates when she gets out and we give her five days to fail and then next time we usually return her the works." to fail and then next time we usually return her to the works."

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC AFFAIRS.

The Adjourned Annual Meeting to Conven Again To-Morrow Morning.

To-morrow another session of the annual meeting of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company will be held. The annual meeting was called for some time ago, but, as the reports were not all ready, it was adjourned till to-morrow at 10 o'clock. It is expected that at this meeting Mr.
Westinghouse will report his success in pulling the company out of the bad rut into which it was plunged some time ago. He was not quite ready at the last meeting.
Mr. Westinghouse has been in New York and other Eastern cities since the annual meeting was adjourned, and it is understood that he was quite successful in his endeavors to put the company on a sound basis. He is expected to arrive home from the East this morning.
