zen of Allegheny the ning game. It will go down in history as a same won for Galvin and that's all there's about it.

But the victory sends the home team a step nearer that goal they are aiming at, and where such a very reliable prophet as J. Palmer O'Neil says they will land, And it may not be wide of the mark to say that if the local singgers just keep on going as they are going now they will soon be on the Top of the Heap.

They are just beginning to prove that the are very dangerous people for young men in the way of pitchers to fool with, and the best of twirler; are at all times liable to speedily have their nerves shattered when facing the Pittsburg terrors.

There was one thing quite apparent in vesterday's contest at Exposition Park b tween our champions and the aggregation from Philadelphia. The worth of good his from Philadelphia. The worth of good hitting was never plainer to be seen. The old man was touched up quite merrily; in fact hard enough to win many games. But the home singgers were out to do business in that line themselves and they did it to the queen's taste. And that is just where the local team will always be dangerous. In using the stick they are able to steadily have sweet revenge on any other team who are hold enough to take much liberty with our pitchers. At all stages good hitting covers a very large amount of shortcomings, and when our raw-honed specimens of humanity let themselves loose a freight car load of errors have comparatively little effect on rors have comparatively little effect on he result. In yesterday's game the hitting as really enjoyable to those whose sym-thles were in favor of a home victory.

Some Lively Scenes. The crowd was an excellent one, there being more than 2,500 people present, and the majority of those were in the grand stand. This shows what good profits then are awaiting the club if the team only keep in line. As usual the crowd was certainly demonstrative and every day the feat be comes plainer that the patrons, particularly on the "bleachers," are becoming more boisterous than has ever previously been the case in Pittsburg. As a result the patrol wagon landed on the scene yesterday and two men, young men, were hustled off to the lockup. Their offense was gambling. One was charged with being stakeholder and the other with betting. During the last few days the extensive system of betting which has been carried on among the patrons of the right field bleachers has enused several fights and unpleasant scenes. ansed several fights and unpleasant scenes; ertainly scenes that cannot be tolerated in League ball ground. the grounds.

Yesterday's game was a little too one-sided to be very interesting. At the start off matters were a little close and continued so for a few innings. But the home players assumed such a commanding lead that the result was a forgone conclusion even with Gleason in the box. Gleason pitched pretty fair ball, but the local hard hitters were too when for him. His colleagues, too, did not much for him. His colleagues, too, did not play brilliantly in the field by any means.

Good All-Round Play. The home team did very well all round and the three errors they made did not contribute toward any run-getting. The visitors used the stick so effectively that they carned five of their six runs. The uncarned tally me the result of a base on balls. As usual derbauer played a great game at second and Miller and Reilly also did well. The error credited to Miller was a very pardonable one. Galvin three the ball to him to head off a runner at second. The throw was not one of the less, but George got the ball into his hands and dropped it.

The visitors were first to get a run in. After two men were out in the first inning. Gray made a nice single to right field, and that agricultur-like citizen, Sam Thompson, appeared, and banged out a three-bagger to the right field fence.

In the next inning the home players took the lead, and never relinquished it. Bier-Miller and Reilly also did well. The error

In the next inning the home players took the lead, and never relinquished it. Bier-hauer made a three-bagger to left field, and Hanton was put out at first. Mack—the relimble Mack, who invariably cracks in a run—followed, and scored Bierhauer by a fine single to left field. A passed ball sent Mack to second. Beilly knocked a grounder to Myers, and the latter made a very wild throw to first, allowing Mack to score, and Reilly scored on Miller's single. Beckley followed with a hit, but Browning's fly was caught by Thompson.

Mack's single, and Reilly's sacrifice and Gelvin's single scored Mack in the sixth. Then came the seventh luning. Browning led off with a single, Carroll got his base on balls. Bierbauer made a single; and so did Hanlon: Mack got to first on a life hit, Shindle making a wild throw to the plate, and Reilly closed the hitting by thumping out a home run to left field. All this hitting, cut a home run to left field. All this hitting, tegether with the error mentioned, and errors by Hamilton and Allen, netted six runs, four of them being carned. A maffled fly by Hamilton and single by Carroll scored the last run for the home players.

The visitors made their second run in the second inning on a two-bagger by Clements, a single by Brown and a sacrifice by Allen. In the seventh a single by Gleason, a three-bagger by Hamilton, a base on balls, a single by Gray and another two-bagger by Clements.

A reporter visited the famous Englishman at his A reporter visited the famous Englishman at his training quarters yesterday. The runner and his trainer had just returned from a seven-mile spin over the roads and hills of West Chester county, and after a rub down and bath, Darrin taiked of the coming contest. Frankly, he looks far from being in condition. He has been doing some hard work the past two weeks, but it does not appear to have benefitted him much. Instead of feeling hrightened by his exercise he seemed greatly fatigued and depressed even two hours later. He acknowledged he was not "feeling just right, you know," but thought that in the remaining two weeks he might get fit. But "fit or not" he added, "I can beat Priddy easy enough, I guess." His backer shares this confident feeling, and it is just possible that Darrin and his friends may leave their money in the Smoky City on Memorial Day through over confidence.

While the Englishman is a wonder, it must not be forgotten that Priddy is probably the fastest man we have. When Pete Cannon, the great record holder, visited this country last year Priddy beat him in every distance race on the professional circuit. It is true the great Scotchman was not in fix, but the American's victories were of the easy kind, which left it doubtful if Cannon, well and fit, could have won.

s-year-old was the picture of power. There is nothing handsome about him, but there is something impressive in the great, strong shoulders, and tremendous quarters with their bunches of muscle. The swayback, and it is so pronouncedly hollow as to be almost a deformity, makes him the most singular-looking horse in training. The horse is as sound as he was before the race which brought his owner so much money and not a little satisfaction. He wears a bar shoe on the suspicious foot, and will probably run all his races in one this year, as its efficiency has been demonstrated. Tenny's next race will be for the St. James Hotel stakes on Saturday next at Gravesend, and a glance at the Brooklyn Jockey (thu's book programme shows that he may have to meet Kingston, Prince Royal, Potomac, Riley and Burlington. On the form he showed in the Brooklyn, the race is virtually at Tenny's merey, unless Kingston is screwed up to the top notch. A meeting between these glants would be intensely interesting. They met in iss0, and Kingston wou, but the race was not a true run contest, as Tenny stepped into a hole on the upper turn and lost considerable ground. Last season it was thought that the pair would try conclusions in the first special at the Gravesend fall meeting, but Tenny went amiss, and Kingston had a tussie with Tournament. It is to be regretted that Tournament is not eligible for the St. James Hotel stakes.

Warm weather is a positive necessity, and so is the rain for that matter, but there are lots of necessities that have to be given the go-by.

That is the case this time. Last night the Signal Service people said warm weather is coming, in fact the advance guard is here. But to the question as to rain, the reply was, "nary a drop." It is now time for the fruit growers and grain growers to hope for the weather man to as usual make a mistake and he have a small-sized deluge strike the earth, or, at least, Allegheny county.

The Charleston Once More in Pursuit How It Appeals and Touches of the Rebel Itata. All Natures Alike.

NOT MUCH CHANCE FOR A FIGHT.

Chileans Say They Are Not Afraid, but

Will Be Very Cautious.

PRESENT LEGAL ASPECT OF THE CASE

CITY OF MEXICO, May 18 .- The War Depart ment has received a dispatch from Acapulco which says that there is no probability of a fight between the Charleston and Esmeralda. The Itata, if she has not been captured, unless by some other United States cruiser, is probably off Central America by this time, with fuel furnished by the Esmeralda. Gen-eral Pedro Hino Josa, Secretary of War, said refused he said she could get elsewhere within a few hours. He said: "We are not afraid of a conflict with the Charleston, but our orders are to be prudent and not provoke a conflict." He stated that his captain received a long cipher dispatch from his Government in Chile Saturday, but that its contents were unknown to him.

The Charleston Again in the Charleston is that the Charleston's commander was satisfied that the Itata had passed Acapulco either before he arrived there or while he lay in port, and that he has resumed the long chase. It is estimated that the Itata has been steaming along at about seven knots, and as she was ten days out last Friday night she should at that time have been just off Acapulco, where it is reported from that place she met the Esmeralda. As she is a much smaller vessel than the Esmeralda and burns very much less coal, it is regarded as within the probabilities that the latter vessel might have supplied her with this necessary article, which would account for the strait the warship is now in respecting a further supply of coal.

If it be true that the Itata was off Acapulco Friday night she had two full days' start of the Charleston when the latter started again in pursuit last night. This is about the same lead that she had when she started from San Diego, so that it does not appear that the chase is any nearer a conclusion. But if the two vessels now follow the same course, the Charleston, steaming at 14 knots, should come up with the Itata by to-morrow night. This event, of course, is based upon a strong probability, that the two vessels are steering exactly the same course. If the Charleston passes the Itata the next port where they are likely to be heard from is Panama, about 1,200 miles from Acapulco, or Payta, Peru, still further down the coast. As it is the vessels have probably covered less than half the distance to Iquitue, the nearest Chilean port.

Legal Aspect of the Case.

Legal Aspect of the Case. A dispatch from San Francisco, says: It is stated that the grand jury which has been in session at Los Angeles investigating the facts in relation to the cargo carried by the Chilian ship Itata, now being sought by the United States cruiser Charleston and other United States cruiser Charleston and other warships, obtained the testimony of two deserters from the Itata. These men, it is stated, testified that when the Itata started north she had on board 60 new rifles and 200 old ones. When the Esmeralda and the Itata met off Cape San Lucas, the former had 350 men all told, the Itata had 90 sailors and 80 soldiers, the latter being in citizens clothes. They were instructed that if they divulged the secret of the vessel's mission the death penalty would follow. The Itata carried four 80-pound guns that were hidden under the canvas with her small arms in the forward hold. The soldiers were stowed away there also, being sent them from on deck. Every appearance of the vessel being prepared for war was removed two days before she steamed into San Diego when she looked like a first-class and clean merchant man. It was understood by everybody aboard that the Itata was on the outlook for the schooner with the rifles and other munitions of war. The programme for the Itata to get munitions of war from the Robeft and Minnie.

the schooner with the rines and other munitions of war. The programme for the Itata to get munitions of war from the Robert and Minnie.

Some information was obtained, indicating that it was the intention of the Itata to transfer the guns and ammunition from the Itata to the Esmeralda at Pichiluque, on the west coast of Lower California. Whether the Esmeralda met the Itata there before returning to Acapulco is one question still unanswered. If such is the fact, then the Itata has slipped by the Charleston and is on her way to Iquiqui. Solicitor General Taft, under Attorney General Miller, who is in Los Angeles at present, conducting the investigation on behalf of the United States Government, issued subpenas for the reports of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies respectively. These subpenas call for gentlemen mentioned to produce the telegrams that have passed over their lines in the past month relating to Chilean affairs, and between every person in the slightest manner suspected of being connected with them.

The Commissioner then said: "I wish the public to understand there is a coterie in Washington, some of whom are in the Pension Office, who have formed a conspiracy to break down my character as a public officer and as a private citizen, and to bring the Pension Office into public disrepute."

He added: "I am not to be driven from the Pension Office by these men. I have devoted my best thought and energy to its organization, and the bureau is at the present time one of the most efficient working organizations of the Government. While there are a few persons who should be removed for disloyalty and inefficiency, the great body of the office is composed of intelligent, industrious men and women, who are performing their duties with fidelity and zeal and without partiality or favoritism to anyone.

The Revenue Cutter Bear Reports the Loss of Two Vessels Off Alaska.

MANY SAILORS LOST.

WASHINGTON, May 18 .- Captain Shepherd of the Revenue Marine Bureau, to-day re-ceived a dispatch from Captain M. A. Healy, commanding the revenue cutter Bear, in which he reports the arrival of that vessel at Seattle, Wasn., to-day. The Bear went on a mission to the West of Alaska for the Department of Justice, and Captain Healy says it was fully and satisfactorily accomplished. it was fully and satisfactorily accomplished. The Captain says in his telegram that the schooners Premier and Dashing Wave were lost about Shumagin Islands in April. He brought down 15 of the Premier's crew.

He says nothing about the remainder of the Premier's crew, nor of the Dashing Wave. It is supposed that they were left at some one of the fishing stations in Alaska. The Bear will now coal and take on beard other supplies, and probably be ready to sail for Bering Sea about June to join the Rusk, which will precede her.

A SILVER PROBLEM.

Secretary Foster Is Now Confronted With Very Interesting One. WASHINGTON, May 18 .- An interesting ques tion has arisen at the Treasury Department in connection with the present silver law, which authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase 4,500,000 ounces of silver each month and to issue Treasury notes thereon. The Treasury notes thus far issued on the bullion purchased under the act ag-gregate $43,552,000. The department coins 2,000,000 standard silver dollars, and the law says that any gain or seignorage arising from such coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the Treasury.

Under this law the Government has already gained by seignorage $2,545,000. The question that now confronts the Secretary is whether or not he can, under any circumstances, issue silver certificates against this

AN ALASKA MAIL SERVICE.

A Large Extent of Country and People Will Be Benefited by It. WASHINGTON, May 18 .- The first official act of the Postmaster General on his return to the department from his Western trip was to authorize the establishment of a very complete mail service with the territory of Alaska, which will be inaugurated July 1, Alaska, which will be inaugurated July I, the contract having been awarded to-day to the North American Commercial Company, of San Francisco, which will put on a line of steamers, running as far West as Unalaska, touching at all the intermediate ports.

This service will bring into contact with civilization a vast extent of country and people, who have heretofore been debarred from communication with the United States, except by means of a chance sailing vessel.
