Out of a small hole!

That's about how vesterday's ball gan was won.

John M. Ward an his champion tea from Brooklynarriy here vesterday for th first time this yes and fortune or ver bad playing favore tent that they got th local sluggers into quite a small hole. But they didn't get the big stone rolled in front of the hole, and the home fellows got out just in time to have the laugh on their side.

John Ward has always had the fortune to be connected with an attractive team; not only attractive, but strong. On this trip John is just located as usual. He has in his team a fine lot of fellows, but it may fairly be said that recently they have seen in a little hard luck. They did not arrive on the grounds yesterday until nearly 4:30, and it was at that time the game started. Their train arrangements in getting from Chicago here were not perfect, hence their Scared Off by Rain.

The weather yesterday afternoon was not at all favorable to baseball, financially, Showers of rain fell at intervals, and as a result for the first time this year the attendance was below 2,000, but not very much. The crowd gave Ward and his team a very hearty reception. The contest was somewhat of an exciting one, not because the good playing of the sentatives, but because the bad mistakes of Miller and Manl allowed them to make a very strong and dangerous bid for the game. For a time, but only for a short time, it looked as if our heroes were going to be "done up" again in consequence of Miller's ors. George is a very strange citizen in-ed. Yesterday, for instance, he made two of the most egregious errors, and before the sime was out he showed up in very brilliant

But the game was won, and after that fact sat the game was won, and after that fact is established local partisans could look it at the errors with smiles and say they by tended to make matters more exciting, ter the mistakes had been made, and it is thought by almost everybody that the situats had the game in their keeping, the me talent set to work and knocked Mr. ming clean out of the box in short ore the great advantages of good hitting ere apparent, because if our sluggers adn't slugged we couldn't possibly have overcome the effects of the errors. Bierbauer was out on a regular batting pienic, and that lean and useful citizen, Mack, was there with him. Bierbauer made four real solid and unadulterated hits, including a triple and two doubles. Mack's three hits, as usual, were made just when they were most useful, and helped the run getting.

until the last man was retired. He was well supported with the exception of Miller and Maul. Reilly certainly played a most brilliant game, and his catch of Ward's bunted fly in the eighth finning, and the consequent double play, was a piece of as fine work as was ever seen on the local grounds. It is needless to say that Bierbauer played in brilliant style. He kept up with his record. Hanlon was unable to play, owing to a sprained leg.

Hearming pitched a tolerably fair game, but in the eighth inning, after he had been sized up for a single and two two-baggers, he retired. Carruthers replaced him and only one hit was made off Robert. one hit was made off Hobert.

In the second inning the run getting commenced. Bierlaner started out with a merrygoing single to middle and Maul knocked out a fly to Buras and was oc. Mack, good reliable Mack, made a safe bunt and Reilly got his base on balls. Baldwin struck out and Miller yearked out a good single to left, which scored both Bierbauer and Mack.

In the third inning, after Browning had been retired, Carroll got his base on balls and Bierbauer whacked out a three-bagger to right field scoring Carroll. Bierbauer scored on Maul's out at first.

In the fourth inning the Brooklyns were given three runs just to make things lively.

score and there was plenty of excitement then.

In the seventh a single by Dailey, a double by Henming and a muffed fly by Maul scored two more runs, and it looked as if defeat were sure for Pittsburg.

But in the eighth inning Carroll started off with a single: Bierbauer followed with a double and Carroll scored on Maul's fly to Burns. Then Mack came with a double, Secring Bierbauer, and that ended Hemming. Curruthers took his place.

Genial Jim Fogarty, the Brilliant Ball Player, Dies at Philadelphia.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] PHILADELPHIA, May 20 .- James G. Fogarty, the great center fielder, died this morning of consump-tion at St. Joseph's Hospital. His lilness was the result of a severe cold contracted upon his return last whater from California caused by the change of climate and hastened by his own foolhardines in refusing to wear an overcoat. His illness de-veloped into galloping consumption. Mr. Fegarty was born in San Francisco, and was

Baldwin in Good Form.

Mark Baldwin, who was always deemed the Brooklyns' jonah pitched a kreat game and it was not his fault that the visitors scored. They ought to have been shut out. But amid all the disheartening features he held together and pitched in great form until the last man was retired. He was well supported with the exception of Miller and league.

Mr. Fegarty was born in San Francisco, and was 27 years old. As an outfielder he has never had his equal, and as a base runner was as good as any. He clayed with the Phillies till 1889, when he joined the Player's League. He had practically agreed upon terms with the Pritisburg League club for this year, and would have been found with the team. He steadly refused to play outside the National League having to quote his own words, "got enough of that isst year." Fogarty was a great idol among his many friends and the baseball fraterity. In 1889 he took the prize for having stolen the greatest number of bases of any player in the League.

BYRNES AFTER STALEY.

Philadelphia Does Not Want Him-The Reilly Case Settled in Our Favor. President O'Neil was informed by Colonel John A Rogers yesterday that the Philadelphia Club does not wan, Harry Staley. Shultz, who has been staying in this city, therefore left for Chicago last evening to join the Phillies there.

President Byrnes expressed a desire yesterday to have Staley, and Mr. O'Neil stated that if Philadelphia sid not want him Brooklyn could have him. The matter was not settled last evening as Mr. Byrnes left for Brooklyn.

President O'Neil states that he does not want staley and that he will be released.

During yesterday Mr. O'Neil received word to be effect that Judge Maxwell had refused to grant in injunction against Reilly. I. Rogers yesterday that the Philadelphia Club does not wan. Harry Staley. Shultz, who has been Baseball Notes.

GREAT ball at Cleveland yesterday. RAIN prevented the Cincinnati-New York game STEUBENVILLE-Yes, Galvin has pitched losing AND Baldwin has pitched a winning game at last. Mark is in good form. BUFFALO is turning out miserable crowds to the Eastern League games.

THE Columbus magnates now threaten to take the Reilly case to a higher court. THE E. K. Porters want to play the J. Flemings, the St. Pauls or the Silver Kings. So far this season the pitchers are getting quite a singging. The batters must be improving. King will pitch to-day and Stratton to-morrow At least that is what President O'Nell says. WELL, we have second place all to ourselves to lay. If we can only stay there until we clinch it.

THE Peter Brownings have organized and want to play any of the local junior teams. Address John Ariman, 1801 Carson street, Southside. JOHN EWING, by his work so far, is gradually dispelling the idea entertained by a good many ranks that he is no good as a pitcher, THE Hazelwood Records defeated the E. E. Ath-letic, Jrs., yesterday by a score of 23 to 9. Mc-Kinley, of the Records, struck out nine men. NAINS is an awkward man in the box, and has such big strides that Wise made Matthews see that such big strides that Wise made Matthews see that the box was properly measured, and made him keep within bounds.

Comiskey expects good work from McGill be-cause he has a rapid delivery. "Give me a pitcher who has speed," he says, 'and I will do the rest. He can easily learn curves and everything else that LAWYER O'ROURKE has a two-hour argument prepared on the inconsistency of scoring wild pitches as passed halls on the third strike. He de-clares with gusto that in no other commonwealth is an eratic delivery styled in such an incompre-hensible, inconsistent, unwarrantable and nonsen-

and you must keep your eyes on him."

It doesn't do any good for Manager Murtrie to say: "Oh, if we only had a catcher in trim we'd win." The only thing to be done now is to secure the best available catcher possible to fill up the gap and allow Ewing, Buckley and Clark perfect rest and peace of mind. There are plenty of good backstops playing in the Western Association whose releases can be purchased at reasonable figures. One of these men should be secured at once.—N. X. Beraid.

Heraid.

Tom Kinslow, the gentleman who cultivated Rhine's acquaintance so assiduously, is the same Tom who was once listed as a Cincinnati catcher, says the Cincinnati Times-Star. He and Reatin, "the wonder," were fooling the people of Allentows, and Gus Schmeiz jumped on a Sullivan sleeper with his lasso. He had thera corralled in a Keystone hotel, when a lectroit agent silpped down the chiancey and, with the aid of: a rope indier, Beatin and Kinslow escaped into the Wolverine camp. The boys at that carly day preferred the League to Association and gave Cincinnati the damp.

Pools Opened on To-Night's Big Battle Between Jackson and Corbett-The Latter -Will Leave the Ring if Defeated This

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20 .- Pool selling on the SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Pool seiling on the Jackson-Corbett fight, which takes place at the California Athietic Club to-morrow night, began last evening and about $4,200 were placed at odds from 10 to 7 on Jackson.

The majority of Corbett's friends held out for longer odds, which they believe they can obtain. Corbett's condition is all that his trainer John Corbett's condition is all that his trainer John Donaldson desires. Since he fought Cheynski Corbett has thickened to a degree hardly to be anticipated. He is now 6 feet high and weighs 185 pounds and in good form. Corbett's hand has not been considered the best heretofore, but his preparation for Jackson has been thorough. Jackson's experience in ring tighting is greater than Corbett's and he is a bigger man by 11 pounds.

That the meeting is considered a pretty even match is shown by the reluctance of betting men to wager large sums, one of the largest private bets as yet made being $2.250 as against $3,000 on Corbett. The latter in reply to a question as to what were his intentions after the contest said: "If I win I will go East. You see if I win I shall be on the road to the championship. If I lose I shall leave the ring."

wanted to hang anyoody he had better hang himself.

The affair has been the talk of the day, and may possibly not yet have seen its end. Mr. Reynolds stands by his statement, and says he will at any time make affidavit to its truth. He is represented to be one of Lancaster's most reputable citizens, and has with him a letter of introduction from Hon. Chauncey F. Black to Senator Brown, of York, in which the ex-Lieutenant Governor speaks of him as "one of the best of men."

The bill went over to the Senate to-day, was reported affirmatively from the insurance committee and read the first time tonight.

THE BAKER BALLOT BILL AGAIN.

It Is Reported to the Senate With the Changes as Heretofore Given Out. HARRISBURG, May 20 .- After many delays, and after being amended and reamended, the Baker ballot bill was reported to the Senate to-day. The final changes are practically those given in THE DISPATCH, with the exception that the proposed clause sub-mitting the validity of certificates of nomination to the State, city and county committees of the respective parties was not inserted, and these questions are to be de-termined by the Auditor General, Attorney termined by the Auditor General, Attorney General and Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the case of State officers, and to county commissioners and borough and township auditors in the case of county and local officers. Three per cent of the highest total vote is required for recognition as a political party, and in the case of independent nominations, at least one-half of 1 per cent of the entire vote must sign nomination papers.

Under this provision it would require over 4,000 signers to an independent nomination for a State office. The Baker bill fixed the number at 1,000. Certificates of nomination and nomination papers for State officers must be filed 60 days before election, for city and county nomination 40 days, and for borough and township officers days, and for borough and township officers 20 days. In the case of State nominations, objections must be filed within 30 days after filing; for cities and counties within 20, and boroughs and townships within three days.

THE CHARTER BILL IS READY.

An Agreement Reached on the Supplemen Regulating Heads of Departments. HARRISBURG, May 20 .- The supplement to the Pittsburg charter bill has been agreed upon in Conference Committee. It reads as

"Be it enacted, etc., that the exercise and powers and functions conferred upon or vested in the heads of departments by the act to which this is a supplement shall at all times be under and subject to the general direction and control of such cities of the second-class, and for the purpose of a more second-class, and for the purpose of a more efficient, safe and proper execution of all such powers and functions, Councils may at any time prescribe and regulate the same by ordinance or joint resolution. All heads of said departments shall be responsible to said Councils for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon them by the act to which this is a supplement, or any ordinance which, or joint resolution which, said Councils may ordain, or prescribe. All appointments hereafter made by the heads of any such departments shall be reported to pointments hereafter made by the heads of any such departments shall be reported to and approved by said Councils."

The Conference Committee on bill No. 38 agreed upon a general measure for the issu-ing of certificates of indebtedness by all municipalities. Both Houses adopted the report and it now goes to the Governor for his approval.

MANY BILLS CONSIDERED.

A Number of Them Relate to Institutions the Western Part of the State. HARRISHURG, May 20 .- At the afternoon ses sion of the Senate among the House bills considered were the following:

Authorizing the incorporation of corpora tions to prevent horse stealing; authorizing morning on the Ft. Wayne Railroad track, appeals to Common Pleas Court from a near Homewood. From letters found on his decree of the Court of Quarter Sessions; confirming awards of Viewers; making apconfirming awards of Viewers; making appropriation to i the Western Pennsylvania Deaf and Dumb Institution; for the payment of deficiencies in examining applicants for bituminous mine bosses; making appropriations for Huntingdon Reformatory, the State Normal Schools, Indigent Insane, Western Penitentiary, Institution for the Blind, Erie Soldiers and Sailors' Home, payment of salaries of officers of the Western Penitentiary and the National Guard.

A FIGHT ON SCHOOLS.

The Senate Has an Exciting Time Over the Bill for Compulsory Education. HARRISBURG, May 20 .- The compulsory education bill was up on third reading in the Senate to-day, and led to a very excited debate. Senators Ross and Robinson attacked the bill as un-American and inquisitorial; usurping parental control and imposing hardships upon the poor. Senator Brown endeavored to amend it by a provision that parents might educate their children at home, but it was defeated.

The section requiring private and parochial schools to co-operate with the school boards in furnishing the returns, made necessary under the bill, was stricken out. Mr. Farr, its author, thinks it will pass the Senate, but may yet be further amended. He thinks, however, that it will do for a start in the direction of complete compulsory education.

WORK ON THE BOYER BILL.

It Goes Over in the Senate, but the He Increases the Tax Rate. HARRISBURG, May 20 .- The Bover bill es up on special order in the Senate this aft noon, but at the request of several Senate went over until to-morrow. Some of t Senators who favor the Taggart bill we not present, and it was decided to have not present, and it was decided to have full vote.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House to-day reported the recommitte Boyer bill. On motion of Mr. Taggart, it tax rate on the capital stock of corporation was further increased from 5 mills to 6 mill Taggart did not want this to be consider as an indorsement of the bill substituted fine of the mills of the mills of the wanted it put in such shape as would a ford the most relief to local taxpayers.

CHIEF ELLIOT'S MISSION.

He Visits the Seat of Legislation in the terest of State Aid for the Insane. HARRISBURG, May 20 .- Chief Elliot, of Department of Charities of Pittsburg, here to-day in the interest of the bill pro-viding that the State shall pay to the sevare maintained in almshouses the sum of $1.25 per week for each patient. Under this bill Pittsburg will receive $11,000, Allegheny about $6,000 and the county about $6,000. Philadelphia will also receive a large sum under this bill. eral counties or cities whose chronic insane

In the Presbyterian Assembly Will Be the Opening Feature.

The Recantation of the Doctor May Quash

IF HE HAS BACKED DOWN AS REPORTED

DETROIT, May 20 .- The General Assembly, which is to perform the apparently incom sistent acts of vetoing the modernization of the Bible on the Briggs plan and voting for the modernization of the Westminster Conthe modernization of the Westminster Con-fession on the plans proposed by an anti-Briggs committee, will convene in the Fort Street Presbyterian Church to-morrow with all the 216 Presbyteries represented. The Bible modernization will come to the front at the very opening of the convention when the Moderator is chosen. The new Moderator will be selected with regard to his views on the Briggs question and not with reference to his views on the revision of the Westminster Confession as last year.

So completely has the new issue over-shadowed the old, that of the candidates in the field, but one, the Rev. Dr. C. A. Dickey, of Philadelphia, is affiliated in any way with Dr. Briggs. He is a director in the Union Theological Seminary. He is also connected with the Board of Publications of the Pres-byterian Church. Both connections will end to defeat once more his ambition (he has been a standing candidate for ator for many years), for the Publication Board is nearly in as much bad odor as the Union Theological Seminary, although for a different reason, a pecuniary one.

All Unfriendly to Brigg'.

The other persons spoken of as candidates, Prof. W. H. Green, of Princeton; the Rev. Dr. Baker, of the First Church of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Ebenezer Easkine, of Hartford, Pa., are all unfriendly theologically, if not personally to Dr. Briggs. Dr. John Hall, whose fears of the effect of making an issue of Dr. Briggs' opinions is greater than his fear of the opinions them-greater than his fear of the opinions themselves, would almost certainly be selected as a compromise candidate if it were not believed that he had resigned his commissionship to his alternate, the Rev. Dr. Wylie.

Accordingly, it is likely that the Union Seminary director will be defeated because he is a director, and one of the others elected because he is opposed to Dr. Briggs.
The Briggs matter will formally come before the General Assembly after the appointment of the standing committees on Friday,
It will come up in two shapes. One will be the announcement of his appointment to the Edward Robinson chair of Biblical Theology in the annual report of the Union Theological Seminary. This will be referred to the standing committee on theological seminaries.

The Course of Action.

The other shape will be the action of the 75 Presbyteries which have asked that his appointment be not confirmed by the General Assembly. Ordinarily, all overtures are referred then to the committee on bills and overtures; but, as the standing committee on theological seminaries will also have the same matter in hand, the overtures may be turned over to it. If, however, the Committee on Overtures is stronger than the other com-mittees, the overtures may follow their mittees, the overtures may follow their usual course.

In that event the Briggs question would come before the General Assembly in a shape to be voted on at an early date, for the Committee on Bills and Overtures always has precedence of all other business. It can even interrupt the speaker who has the floor, and it is apt to dispose of the matters entrusted to it as soon as possible.

If, however, the Committee on Theological Seminaries takes charge of the overtures, as well as the report announcing the appointment of Dr. Briggs, the case will probably not be discussed by the General Assembly until the middle of next week. When it is discussed, there is but little doubt of the action of the Assembly, unless the announcement which has reached here by telegraph of Dr. Briggs' practical recantation of his heterodox views be confirmed officially.

Fearing the Fate of Servetus.

Fearing the Fate of Servetus. If it be officially brought to its knowledge that, fearing the fate of Servetus in some modernized form, he has performed the part of Galileo; if, as the report sets forth. Dr. Briggs has told the committee appointed to examine him with regard to his religio opinions by the directors of the Union Theo-logical Seminary that he does not consider the Bible, the Church and reason as co-ordi-nate sources of authority; that no errors dis-turb the Bible's historical infallibility; that turb the Bible's historical infallibility; that his theory of progressive salvation does not prevent him from believing a man who dies in the faith enters in the middle state regen-erated, justified, sinless, and that men who die impenitent have no further opportunity for salvation, the General Assembly can do for salvation, the General Assembly can do nothing to him.

This THE DISPATCH correspondent has on the authority of an ex-Moderator and a theologian of undoubted ecclesiastical learning. Dr. Briggs, according to this authority, has a right to hold his peculiar views, if he can at the same time declare that he believes as above.

The Way to Save Him. This informant thinks that the directors of the Union Theological Seminary have only to send an official report of Dr. Briggs' recantations here to have his appointmen

In doing so, however, they reckon without Dr. Birch. There is little doubt among those who know him that he will hear in Dr. Briggs' apparent recantation the "it does move, though," of Galileo.

In all events, he is expected to fight with all his might and main to bring about Dr. Briggs' official decapitation, in spite of the latter's weakening at the last moment. There will accordingly be a fight to a finish, and Dr. Birch may yet win. While the Assembly may, in spite of all, veto Dr. Briggs' appointment to his present position, it apparently cannot interfere with his continuing a professor in the Union Theological Seminary, if by chance he has not resigned formally his former professorship, the chair of Hebrew, and the vacancy has not been filled.

Money Under False Pretenses. In doing so, however, they reckon without as Edward Robinson, Professor of Biblical Theology, confirmed. Other dignitaries of the General Assembly share the same view.

Money Under False Pretense He would still be able to draw $5,000 from the Seminary, as its professors cannot compensate for what would be a declaration by the entire Presbyterian Church that he was a heretic. His critics declare now that he is obtaining money under false pretenses and there would be no doubt of it in that event. there would be no doubt of it in that event. There seems a disposition on the part of some members of the General Assembly, who forget that the Assembly must veto now or never, to postpone action in the Briggs case until the Presbytery has tried him for heresy. These very men, however, when they learn what postponement means will vote also for his official decapitation.

The report of the Revision Committee will come before the Assembly on Friday and will probably be disposed of in the next two or three working days, unless the Briggs matter interferes.

BRIGGS ON THE SCRIPTURES.

He Announces in a Lecture His Belief That the Bible Is the Word of God.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] New York, May 20 .- "Bible Study" was the subject of an address by Prof. Charles A. Briggs, of Union Theological Seminary, today, before the New York State Union Congregational Association, in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn. Prof. Briggs said among Church, Brooklyn. Prof. Briggs said among other things:

It may not be necessary for me to say very distinctly that I believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments are the Word of God. That is the old Puritan doctrine. It contains the only infalible rule of faith and practice. That is the belief I have always held, and I expect always to hold it. But there are different interpretations of the phrase the Scriptures are the Word of God. According to the sixteenth century divines and the dogmatic divines of this century, they say in one place that the Bible is the Word of God, and in another place the Bible contains the Word of God. This is a distinction evidently the Westminster divines did not mean to draw.
