RACING AT GRAVESEND.

Some Good Contests, but the Gutsiders Area

Liftle Too Gay.

Gravesian, May 22—Another good day's racing was witnessed here to-day, but it was not greatly enjoyed by the 3,000 persons present, for the very good reason that outsiders in the betting were entirely too prominent at the finish. The war between the tracks and pool rooms was carried on with renewed vigor, and it looks as though soner or later some one will get hart. To-day notices were posted all over the entrance not figing persons that no one would be allowed to leave the track between the hours of 2 and 6.26, and Pinkerton's polycemen were present in large annihilation.

News for the Poolrooms

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] GRAVISKND, May 22.—President P. J. Dwyer, of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, said to-day that the Western Union Telegraph Company had sent word to him early in the day they would send no telegraph operators to the course, and make no endeavor to se-cure the news for the poolrooms by means of employes within the gates of the Brooklyn Jockey Club. They would not consent to abandon the old hotel outside the course The Western Union Telegraph Company did not live up to its word. There were any not live up to its word. There were any number of smart telegraph operators within the gairs, and the news was signaled from time to time to their confederates in the cupola of the old hotel.

The operators in the old hotel in turn transmitted it by telegraph to 195 Broadway, where it was distributed to all parts of the country. Mr. Pinkerton said that not a single arrest had been made during the day. The day's racing was notable for the number of good things that went wrong, an unusually large number of outsiders winning at long odds. The biggest wrong occurred in the Falcon stakes, a selling event for Byear-olds at a mile and a sixteenth. Daly's colt Lepanto won with odds of 30 and 40 to 1 against him. Chatham and Adventurer were heavily backed to win, while the owners of a half dozen other candidates thought they had a chance to land the prize.

The Philadelphia Races.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] PHILADELPHIA May 90 -It was uncomfort. another large crowd came to see the farewell appearance of the harness racers of the spring circuit. In the three events there was no trouble to pick the winners, but the talent gave such odds that the short enders were tempted and betting was quite brisk.

Very elegant and suitable prizes have been offered by the different business men of the city for the winners of the above events. The prizes will be exhibited after next Tuesday. The chances are, from all present accounts, that this year's contests will surpass any of the kind ever held in Western Pennsylvania, and many are expecting some local expect to make a better show than last year, when they came out second best. Mead-ville College will have a team of 12 men down. Nothing is known of their men, and possibly they may make the other boys instle to get a place at all. The sport will commence at 10:20 a. M., and the manager says no delays will be experienced, but expects all to run smoothly. The winners of the above events will most likely enter the Three A's field day at Exposition Park on June 6.

Rain spoiled what might have been another good victory for the home club yesterday. Two innings were played, and the rain came down in torrents in the third inning, just when the home players looked like letting loose on Mr. Lovett and the Brooklyns. The weather was very threatening all day, and it was extremely risky to have the game start.

The crowd was not a large one, but it would have been much smaller had not Scott Stratton been announced to make his debut to a Pittsburg audience. He was heartily cheered when he walked into the box, and, although he only nitched two innings, he made an excellent impression. He has an excellent style of delivery, and pitches the ball with wonderful power, but apparently little effort. It seems safe to say that he will be among the best pitchers in the

When the game was called in the third inning the score was I to 0 in favor of the Brooklyns. In the first inning the visitors made a run on a base on balls, Ward's bunt, a wild throw by Bierbauer and a sacrifice hit by Griffin. In the third inning the home players had two men on bases with nobody out when the game was called. Speaking about the game last evening President O'Neil said: "I am notsorry about the rain, because the farmers need it. We would have won the game, but of course we cannot grumble, because we have had lots of excellent days."

would have won the game, but of course we cannot grumble, because we have had lots of excellent days."

Mr. O'Neil said that he had nothing new to report in the Staley case. It was stated hast evening that an excellent offer had been made to him yesterday, but Staley declined to say who had made the offer.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. O'Neil received a letter from the Columbus club's Cincinnati attorney stating deflaitely that there will be no more of the Reilly case.

To-day's game will doubtless be an interesting one. It is likely that Stratton and Lovett will be the pitchers.

SOME FINE FIELDING.

The Reds Do Very Good Work and Defeat Mutrie's Giants.

CINCINNATI, May 22.-Cincinnati won to ay's game by fine fielding and timely bating. New York made even more hits than Cincinnati, and had men on bases in nearly every inning, but Cincinnati's good playing at critical stages prevented the making of several runs. The first triple play of the season in this city was made in the ninth inning. Score:

THE EAST END GAME.

Local Amateur Ball Players to Have a Good Contest To-Day.

Although the representative team of the East End Gymnasium will play a County League championship match at Mansfield this afternoon, their grounds will not be allowed to lie idle, as a very strong youngblood representation of the ball players of the Gymnasium will cross bats with the Shady Side Academy team. This is the first game of the second nine of the East End Gymnasium Club team and consequently they will have to play to beat the Shady Side boys, who have been playing ball since the latter part of March. The Gymnasium boys have a very good team, however, and will endeavor not to disgrace their club.

DIDN'T APPEAL IN VAIN.

Two Young Ladies Manage to Prevent Su day Ball Playing at Springfield.

Springfield, May 22.—A good and true story is told by members of the local Sham-rock Baseball Club as to how their game of ball last Sunday was prevented when the efforts of the police were of no avail. The boys had made arrangements to play at the Lagonda avenue grounds, and by 3 o'clock there were 600 people on the grounds. The police were called in and forced the disgust-police were called in and forced the disgusted crowd to disperse. The boys then went to the Nypano grounds in the West End, and started a lively game with an audience of about 200 people.

The game had hardly got under way when the boys were paralyzed to see two ladies and a gentleman approach and deliberately kneel down on the ground and begin to pray, one of the ladies speaking aloud. The game proceeded in a nerveless, listless way for a while, then the two ladies approached the managers and with tears in their eyes begged that the Sabbath desceration be stopped. This was too much, and the game was quietly given up. Both young ladies are well known, being earnest Christian workers.

Their Opening Day. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 McKeesport, May 22.- The opening game of the Allegheny County League will be played here to-morrow by the McKeesports and Climax club, of Pittsburg. Baker and Brown will act as battery for the home club.

Will Tackle Jeannette. McKeesport, May 22.—The Young Ameri cans will go Jeannette to-morrow, where they will cross bats with the leading team of that place. The Braddock club will play their first game with the All-Americans, at the grounds at Rankin station to-morrow.

A LETTER FROM TOMMY QUINN.

He Was Many Miles From McKeespor When the Murder Was Committed. A letter has been received from Tommy Quinn, the ball player, asking that the statement that he was concerned in the McKeesport murder case be denied, and though it was corrected in the next issue of THE DIS-PATCH. Tom deserves the benefit of another denial. There is a Tom Quinn in jail, and he is the cause of the trouble. He is built on the same architectural plan as the other Tom, and passed himself off as the ball player to the reporter the night he was arrested. Though the reporter was personally acquainted with the catcher the cell in which the men were confined was so dark that he made a mistake because of Quinn's build, which is much like that of the ball player. Tom's letter follows:

SYRACUSE, May 20. To the Editor of The Dispatch: Dear Sim-Please deny that serious charge against me in your paper, using my name in that nurder at McKeesport Saturday, the 16th. You stated in your paper that Tommy Quinn, who caught for Pittsburg Players' League team last year, is one of the men locked up. I am the man who caught for them, and I want you to deny the charge at once, for it will get into other papers and injure my character. I am now playing with the Syracuse Siars, as your sporting editor knows. Hoping that you will deny that charge, I am,
Yours truly, THOMAS QUINN.

The Disparence regrets the error into which

THE DISTANCE regrets the error into which it was drawn, but the above will set Tommy right before the public. Of course, his friends would know that he had not gotten into any such difficulty, but there are others who do not know him so well, and the fact that one of the same name, who claimed to be a ball player, is in trouble, may lead some to think it was the ex-Pittsburg catcher.

OUR own J. Palmer is now certain that the pennant will come to Pittsburg. STRATTON made a very good impression vester lay. His style of pitching is sure to be well liked. PATRONS of the game ought to turn out in good numbers to-day and give Johnny Ward a good send off. He is in hard luck.

THE Beaver Grays and the Water Cures, of Phil-lipsburg, are to play a series of five games for the champlonship of Beaver county. THE Twentieth Street Stars yesterday beat the Belizhovers by 22 to 12. The winners want to play any other local junior team. Address 1804 Carson street, Southside.

It is stated that the St. Paul Western Association team is to be sold to Joe Anderson, of Daluth, and that the team will fill the season out in the Zentth City. The team has been drawing only about 200 people a day for the last week owing to its losses of games. It is said also that either the Lincoln or Sioux City club will be purchased by West Superist. Manager Van Hora, of the Denver team, has sold the release of Treadway and McGlone, two of his best men, to Manager Harrington, of Minneapolis, for $2,000. This leads to lively speculation as to whether Denver intends to remain in the Western Association.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

How Jackson and Corbett Finished Up Their Long and Weary Argument.

When yesterday's Disparch went to press the Jackson-Corbett battle was still going on. At the end of the sixty-first round the affair had become so wearisome that the Pacific coast, but the last 50 rounds were simply a walk-around.

After lighting two hours the honors were about everify divided, though if there was any advantage it was in Jackson's favor. Then Corbett rallied. For two rounds he pounded Jackson and had him greatly distressed, but the San Francisco man played himself out in that effort, and, with the exception of occasional rallies, there was nothing done by either man during the next two hours.

nothing done by either man during the next two hours.

In the last few rounds Jackson staggered around the ring, and Corbett was in but little better condition. Both men were heartily cheered at the conclusion of the Thinks Well of Corbett.

C. H. Hendrickson, a gentleman boxer from Brooklyn, was at the Union station last evening going home. In speaking of the Jackson-Corbett fight he remarked that it had turned out as he expected, but he thinks Corbett is the eleverest man. He can't hit as hard as the big Australian, but he is quicker in his movements, and Mr. Hendrickson thinks this more than offsets the ability to slug hard. He cited the fight of McCaffrey and Jack Fogarty where Dom got the best of it through his nimbleness in jumping around and avoiding punishment.

Referee Cook's Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.-Referee Cook's decision in the Jackson-Corbett meeting last night was that the fight was no contest, night was that the light was no contest. Technically this is not a draw; it is, in effect, that the club has seen no battle and is not, therefore, indobted to the pugilists for their night's work. A meeting of the Board of Directors will probably be held at once to discuss the matter. All the bets on the final result of the fight are off.

ONE MORE TOBIN INVESTIGATION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] PARKERSBURG, May 22.—Rev. Giles R. Daw-son, local preacher in a Methodist Church South at Huntington, is in serious trouble. Charges have been brought against him by embers, and he has brought suit for dam ages for $5,000 against a man named Davis, of Huntington, for circulating stories which Dawson says are untrue. Dawson has also had one of his sons, F. M. Dawson, arrested on the charge of violating the postal laws, and the young man is now in jail at Hunt-ington awaiting the action of the United States grand jury. Dawson charges the young man with opening private letters. There is another Dawson, also a son of the reacher, whose name is G. K. Dawson. The preacher's first name is Giles, and the son's first name is George. This fact, with the further fact that both father and son have lost an arm and resemble each other, has led many to mistake the son for the preacher and vice versa. This son, George, committed a forgery about ten years ago in this State at Yellow Creek, Calhoun county, for which he was sent to the penitentiary. The elder man removed to a small Ohio town, where he took charge of a church, but ill-luck followed him wherever he went. His identity was mixed up with that of his convict son, and every place he went the same old story followed him, until about a year or two ago, when he settled down at Lower Belpre, 0., just below this city. Dawson purchased a small property at that place, which had upon it two small houses, one of which he rented to a family named Root.

The convict son came on a visit, met the reacher's first name is Giles, and the son's chased a small property at that place, which had upon it two small houses, one of which he rented to a family named Root.

The convict son came on a visit, met the Root girl and an intimacy sprang up. After the younger man had gone home his father learned of the infatuation, and that they were carrying on a correspondence. He wrote his son, who was already a married man, and importuned him to stop the correspondence, intimating that even were he free to marry her, she was not the sort of person he should marry. The ungrateful son inclosed his father's letters to theyoung woman, with other statements which he said had been made by his father, and the girl had the old man arrested. He was given a preliminary trial at Belpre, which The DISPATCH correspondent attended, and, although there was no evidence upon which he could be held, in view of the highly-excited condition of the citizens and neighbors, who had taken sides in the affair and were feeling very bitter, the preacher was held to answer indictment. As was supposed at the time, the grand jury refused to pay any attention to the case and it was thrown out.

Shortly afterward on a Sunday, while Dawson was preaching at his church some distance away, his house was burned to the ground, and, although the insurance was comparatively nothing and there had been no fire in the building that day, rumors were circulated that he had set his own dwelling on fire. Of course, this story found very few believers, but the influence of the man was again destroyed, and he left Ohio and came to this city, where for some time he did evangelistic work in the country districts. A short time ago he removed to Huntington, where he took temporary charge of the Second M. E. Church, South, but his ill-luck seems to follow him. The Quarterly Conference investigated charges against the reverend gentleman. Although he still insisted the church, was trying the wrong man, the conference dismissed him from his pastoral office.

COOL IN THE FACE OF A MOB.

Murderer Sherman Narrowly Escapes Being Lynched at Youngstown. Youngstown, May 22.-William Sherman, the murderer of Officer Freed, had a close call from death last night by mob violence. The discussion of the case resulted in a meeting being held, attended by many representative citizens, which continued until after midnight, the feeling being unanimous in favor of raiding the jail and stringing him up. Under instructions from the Court, Sheriff Ewing had the jail heavily guarded, with instructions to resist any mob and protect his prisoner. Sherman, who had fallen asleep, was awakened and informed that a mob was was awakened and informed that a mob was collecting for the purpose of taking his life. Without a shadow of fear he coolly dressed himself, and then asked how much time he would have. When informed that it would not exceed half an hour, he began writing a letter to his wife, which, on completion, he thrust into his pocket, and then remarked, "Now I am ready, let them come." With death staring him in the face, Sherman was the coolest man in the Jail. When notified that the danger was over for the present, he smilled, undressed and was soon sleeping soundly.

AN ESCAPED JAIL BIRD CAPTURED. He Worked for a Freeport Farmer and Ran

Off With Two Horses. BUTLER, May 22.-Last fall a horse thief named Frank H. Reiber, alias Frank Mur-phy, was arrested on Second avenue in Pittsburg, turned over to the authorities and placed in jail. There were six charges of Copious Rains Entirely Absorbed by the larceny filed against him. He soon escaped, however, and had not been heard from till

THE GARRISON MURDER TRIAL.

The Testimony All in, and Arguments Are Now in Progress. WHEELING, May 22 .- The attention of the

At 11 o'clock both sides rested, and the Prosecuting Attorney, John A. Howard, took the floor to open the case for the State. Mr. Howard spoke until late this evening, when court was adjourned for the day. The court room was packed all day.

FORTY FISHERMAN ARRESTED.

One Party Resists the Wards, and a Lively Tussle Is the Result. New Castle, May 22.—Fish Warden Palmer and his deputies, of this district, have made no less than 40 arrests this spring of persons caught in the act of illegal fishing. Yesterday evening the Warden and his deputy encountered a party fishing near Carbon.

They put three under arrest, when one of the fishermen surned on the deputy, and in a minute the two rolled down the bank into a minute the two rolled down the bank into the river.

Warden Palmer had captured a man with a gun, and he took the weapon and leveled it at the resisting prisoner. At his threat to shoot, two of the men turned and ran, but the deputy who had his man in the river succeeded in landing his prisoner, whom he brought to New Castle.

by the Leaders to Return. SCOTTDALE, May 22 .- The final break in the coke strike was made to-day. The new men yet out at the Valley and Morgans demand of the leaders that something be done for their relief. The district is without money, and the only thing that can be done was to grant them permission to return to work, and that was given. At both the places meetings were held and committees appointed to work on the operators and ask that they be allowed to return to work in a Report from all points in the regions is to the effect that there was a general scramble among the men to see what would be done. Four new plants were added to the running list to-day, making a total of 57 plants in operation out of the 83 in the region. Rumors are affont this evening that there will be no more plants fired up until there is a better demand for coke. The operators issued circulars to the coke consuming trade to-day, notifying their customers that they are ready to do business. The price of coke was fixed at $1.30 per ton. If the furnace men refuse to pay that price dull times may continue in the coke region several weeks yet. The operators are hot after the labor leaders. One of the prominent men said to-day: "We are now going to square accounts with these people."

THE COLLAPSE OF A BRIDGE Precipitates a Large Crowd of Sightseers

Into a Stream at Tyrone. Tyrone, May 22.—About 11 o'clock this morning the wooden bridge which spans Blad Eagle creek on Ridge street, this city, succembed to the heavy weight imposed upon it by the crowd of men, women and children who were watching a circus parade. Being constructed of heavy wooden timbers with insufficient bracing the structure suddenly gave way, the floor dropping to the surface of the water, while the wooden sides and iron braces bent and fell in every direction.

The people so suddenly precipitated to the creek were panic stricken, and, though the result of the accident was serious enough, it was almost a miracle that so little injury was done. The most seriously wounded man was one. The most seriously wounded man was othe A. Sanders, night operator for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Tipton. He was standing near the middle of the bridge, and as he fell one of the heavy timbers, which had been splintered, struck him squarely on the face, cutting it terribly. Cromwell Jones, of Port Matilda; John Kooser and his little son of Swroe great were also stand-Jones, of Fort Matilda; John Rooser and his little son, of Spruce creek, were also stand-ing near the middle of the bridge, and all were slightly injured. The bridge was a private structure built by the residents of East Ridge Street for their own convenience.

The special charge for which he will be brought to Franklin as soon as he can be caught, is the theft of a suit of clothes. He will then have to show where he was at the time of Miss Tobin's death, as well as immediately afterward. His arrest is expected near Chicago, but up to 4 o'clock this afternoon no information of its having taken place has been received here.

WHEELING, May 22.-This afternoon Miss May Parrish, of Fulton, a suburb of this city, noticed her pet dog bringing an object into the yard, and an investigation showed it to be the hand of a woman, evidently young, which had just been severed from the wrist. The hand was perfectly formed and was immediately handed over to the authorities by the horrifled young hidy. An examination showed that the possessor of the hand had not died of any disease, as it seems to be in a perfectly healthy condition.
