L. HALSEY WILLIAMS DEAD.

The Widely-Known Banker and Broker Died of Bright's Disease-Born in Ohio,

L. Halsey Williams, the banker and broker, died at I o'clock yesterday morning of bright's disease at his home, in Leetsdale one week ago Mr. Williams was at his office, but he has not been a well man for several years. He was said to have been the best-posted man in this section on banking and in 1842. In 1847 his parents moved from that place to Canonsburg. His father was the Bev. Asron Williams, a Presbyterian minisplace to Canonsburg. His father was the Bev. Asron Williams, a Presbyterian minister, and one of the professors in Jefferson College. He was educated at this college, but never graduated, as he left school to Join the army when war broke out. He served with distinction in Knapp's Battery. After the war Mr. Williams sottled in Pitteburg, and made a reputation for himself as the assignee for the bankrupt firm of Ira B. McVey & Co. He succeeded James Kennedy as financial editor of the Commercial, and held the pecition for several years, when he organized the St. Clair Banking Company, which formed the St. Clair Banking Company, which formed the Fifth National Bank. He became cashier of this bank when it was organized, and remained such until about four years ago. He then became general manager of the Bridgewater Gas Company. His health, however, compelled him to quit business, and he took a trip to the Bahamas and Europe. After his return he did not become an employe of any company, but retained his connection with various business enterprises.

At the time of his death he was a director in the Bridgewater Gas Company, treasurer of the Pittsburg Company, secretary and treasurer of the New Castle Water Company, a director in the Contral District Printing and Telegraph Company, treasurer of the Mercantile Library Hall Company, a director in the Fort Pitt Incline Plane Company, a director of the Metric Metal Company, of Beaver Falla, and a director of the Fifth National Bank.

Mr. Williams married Martha M. Cook, and his wife and three children survive him. He was a brother of D. Leet Wilson. The lat-his wife and three children survive him. He was a brother of D. Leet Wilson. The lat-ter, when asked for a biography of Mr. Will-iams, became very angry, and ordered the reporter out of his office.

The payment of county taxes, now being received, are being made slowly. Property owners and persons taxed can get a statement of their taxes by sending to the County Treasurer's office. The 5 per cent discount will be allowed until August 1

At 91 and 93 Fifth avenue is still the leading attraction in that locality, for never ing attraction in that locality, for never were high-grade pianos and organs sold at such low prices and convenient terms. Think of it! Decker Bros. pianos with their 28,000 and over in use; Knabe pianos, with their 37,000 and over in use; Fischer planos with their 88,000 and over in use, and the Estey, the king of organs, with over 235,600 in use, sold at prices and terms that you pay for new and untried goods without a record esnew and untried goods without a record established. There is not a place in the city where you have such an array of first-class, medium and low-priced pianos and organs to select from.

If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back, allow us to suggest that you try the following simple remedy: Take a piece of flannel the size of the two hands, saturate it with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the scat of pain. It will produce a pleasant warmth and relieve you of all pain. Many severe cases have been cured in this way. The Pain Balm can be obtained from your druggist.
