DELEGATES VISIT HERR'S ISLAND,

Where They Are Feasted by Emil Winters and Other Local Members.

VERY LIBERAL OFFERS FROM THE WEST

The National Butchers' Association, nov in session at Carnegie Hall, was very handsomely entertained yesterday afternoon at Herr's Island abattoir. Delegates to the number of 200 or more, with numerous friends, responded to the invitation of Emil Winters, and from 2 to 5 o'clock inspected the abattoir. Ample provision in shape of lunch and beer was spread for the visitors, and a season of good cheer was enjoyed.

Delegates from the far West expressed great delight with their reception at Pittsburg.

There are not less than 18 delegates in attendance at the convention from Texas. Austin, Ft. Worth and Dallas are represented, and all are enthusiastic over what they have seen and heard in this city. After partiaking of the generous lunch provided by Emil Winters, Mr. James, of St. Louis, ex-President of the National Association, enter-tained the large company with an address which was in evident accord with all pres ent, as it was often interrupted with signs of approval. Mr. James earnestly advocated the patronage of home industries, and bore heavily on dressed beef men in the far West who, while furnishing large amounts of meat to this and other cities, contributed little or nothing to the support of schools, churches, streets and the various institu-tions of Pittsburg. He said:

Dressed Beef Declared Unhealthy. "The nurpose of the National Butchers ssociation is to secure healthy meat to the consumer, which is an impossibility where ed beef has to travel from Kansas City or Chicago to Eastern cities before it is put on the stalls. The meat consumed should be killed at home to insure a healthy article. And as to lard, why, there is any amount on the market which never came from the hog, not even a bristle. I have been a member of the National Butchers' Association from

of the National Butchers' Association from its innuguration, six years ago, and intend to stay with it as long as I live."

Mr. James was at one time a droves. He is a first-class talker and has the courage of his convictions.

Only one business session was held yesterday by the association and that was taken up in the discussion of a plan to work against the Big Four and other monopolies that affect the meat business. A Gardner against the Big Four and other monopolies that affect the meat business. A. Gardner, of Dallas, Tex., talked on the subject of establishing abattoirs in Texas and supplying the butchers all over the country from them. He made a proposition that if the association would appoint a committee to visit Texas he would see that there was no expense. Mr. James offered a resolution indursing the idea.

A Liberal Offer From Ft. Worth. General R. A. Campbell, a member of the 't. Worth, Tex., Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of that city, offered the associa-tion the Ft. Worth stock yards covering 50 acres, having a capacity of 24,000 cattle per day and valued at $300,000. He offered the whole to the association, or offered to furnish land and give money to build a plant. He said the city was ready to assist in establishing a market where they can se-cure cattle at rates so much lower than now paid as to astonish the members of the asso-

After some discussion the resolution to appoint a committee to visit Texas and investigate the matter was adopted. The President decided not to make his appoint-President decided not to make his appointments until to-day, so as to give him plenty of time to select good men. There will be five members of the committee. The report of the Auditing Committee showed a deficiency in the treasury of $236-30, and the shortage will be made up by each local association being assessed $12-50.

The insurance idea was also under discussion, and it was finally decided to assess each member $1 in case of the death of a member.

When rightly done-if you have a good thing tell the public. At 9:20 P. M., a train made up of comfortable day coaches and Pullman sleepers will leave the Smithfield street station of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway under the care of a passenger agent of the company and proceed via that picturesque route

To Staunton, Virginia,

The Metropolis of the Shenandoah Valley and the New Pittsburg of the Old Dominion, of which our own late distinguished political economist, William D. Kelley, said: "It is the coming Eldorado of American adventure." The route lies through a country full of historical interest. At

·HARPER'S FERRY

A daylight stop will be made and tourists afforded an opportunity to view the field of John Brown's ante-bellum exploits; from thence, through grass-clad valleys, by sparkling streams and along variegated hills, the train will speed through some of the wildest, most romantic and lovely scenery on the continent, into Virginia, clothed now in the rich verdure of a Southern spring.

THE GREAT LOT SALE

The Staunton Development Co. WILL TAKE PLACE AT STAUNTON

On the 2d and 3d of June.

The biggest and most substantial boom in town property that has ever taken place in Virginia will be witnessed in Staunton during the coming summer, and purchasers at this sale cannot fail to reap large returns. You will meet on the grounds people from North, South, East and West, a cosmopolitan gathering, seekers for homes in a perfect climate and amid refined society, manufacturers in quest of sites in the center of Virginia's rich fields of ore, coal and timber, merchants keen to share the profits of Staunton's growing trade, and speculators, each bent upon availing himself of opportunities seldom presented.

TICKETS AT REDUCED RATES

For the round trip (including sleeper both ways), good for 30 days, should be ordered at our office early, in order that all necessary arrangements may be made in season to comfortably provide for the large number of Pittsburgers expected to participate. A member of our firm will accompany the party. A line of
