Patriotic Pittsburg Responds Readily to the Mayor's Appeal.

MR. BIGELOW PUSHING THE BRIDGE

He Promises Its Completion in Time for the Glorious Fourth.

ALMOST $2,000 IS ALREADY RAISED

Pittsburg's patriotism is coming nearer the boiling point as the days separating the glerious Fourth grow fewer in number, The elebration started last year by THE DIS-PATCH was a success, and the work of THE DISPATCH for this year's jollification is be-ing even more favorably received. The fund has already come dangerously near the $2,000 mark. Arrangements have been made for the police magistrates to collect money in different parts of the city and there now no fear that the $5,000 needed will e secured. Chief Bigelow has returned and and has joined with the Mayor in making the scene to be presented at Schenley Park the brightest Western Pennsylvania has ever known. Work is also being pushed on the new bridge at the entrance of the park and the men will be kept at work night and day in order to finish it in time.

Promises of Pienty of Cash. Although yesterday's contributions to the Fourth of July fund were not large, promises of enough cash from responsible parties were received to insure the Mayor that the mount required will, with a little effort on his part, be readily forthcoming. Chief Bigelow returned from Harrisburg Thursday night, and yesterday afternoon conferred with the Mayor on the Fourth of July arrangements, Mr. Bigelow intends now to settle down and do all in his power to been the great patriotic event of the year, and, what is the most pleasant thing earth to him, to provide amusements to on earth to him, to provide annuschergs to make the children happy.

Speaking of the preparations for the Fourth last evening Mr. Bigelow said:

"You are probably not aware that the contractors have been working on the bridge at Schenley Park for the past two days.
Well, they have, and I will show you that my promise to have that bridge ready for on the Fourth of July will be Some of the lumber is already on the round and the balance of it is all on cars tween here and the point of shipment in orth Carolina. Next week we will have lectric are lamps put up and will work light and day to get ready for the celebra-ion. It will not cost the city any more and et it will make access to the park, so much easier that it will attract thousands to the uffair that would not otherwise attend. will be sayed a good half hour's hard climbing in getting into the park by be completion of this bridge and the park vill grow in popularity."

One Difficulty Bridged Over. In relation to the difficulty with some "That matter was amicably arranged by arbitration this morning, and we will have no trouble on that score. There was a difference of opinion as to the amount of damages and, as we could not come together, I had an ordinance introduced last Monday by which the matter would be settled by the courts. That ordinance will probably be passed by Councils, and will act as a safety walve but we will lardly need to desire the public of the pu valve, but we will hardly need to dend on its provisions now that this queswords: The bridge will be built and ready for travel on July 4, and that day, if pleasant, will be the greatest Fourth of

GILT-EDGE STOCK

For Outside Towns Especially.

When the Philadelphia Company began paying its stockholders I per cent monthly dividends it was looked upon as a most extraordinary thing, and so it was. And yet there are now to be had, right here in our midst, franchises and investments far surpassing the Philadelphia Company in its palmiest days. Take the Bell Telephone Company as an instance. It has paid its stockholders $10 in actual profits for every $1 the Philadelphia Company has paid, and this notwithstanding its rates in many nearby towns are only $5, $4 and $3 50 per month. But the stock which promises better even than the Bell Company, and sure to be more endaring, is the new West Penn Sharer Telephone Company, recently organized here in Pittsburg with offices in the Hamilton Building. Every town and the Hamilton Building. Every town and village can have its own central station and exchange, costing not over $1,000 to $10,000 for franchise, exchange and all complete, turned over to the company of local stockholders ready for work—the latter sum for such cities as McKeesport, Altoona, Erie, Wheeling and cities of like character—towns of less importance at less cost—but all with the undoubted assurance of from 5 to 40 per cent actual net income, on a rental of not over $2.00 per month, as against $3.50 to $7.00 per month for other phones. Already it has replaced other phones on the New York Elevated Railroads, and also many here in Pittsburg. As a gilt-edged local investment—one on which you can keep your hand, and in which you and your neighbors are interested as against all rival interests—there is really nothing now before the financial world nothing now before the financial world hich compares with it. It is not some new, untried scheme or wild-cat venture, but a genuine proved success, entirely free from entanglements or infringements of any kind. Capitalists of this city and surrounding cities and towns should give this matter immediate attention, as the chance to form a company in each of the principal towns of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia will not hang long in the market. It is really too good a thing. The sale of single or private lines is alone worth the cost of the private lines is alone worth the cost of the franchise. To illustrate: Take any of the principal towns in Westmoreland county, at, say $5,000 capital, how easy it would be to get five men to invest $1,000 each, or ten men $500 each; or five men,$500, and ten mer or women $250 each, or any other sub-division dissatisfied parties whose property will be crossed by the bridge and who would not agree as to damages, Mr. Bigelow said:

"That matter was amicably arranged by town would yield fully 15 to 18 per cent; 100

c, but we will hardly need to de-provisions now that this ques-provisions now that the ques-provisions now the ques-provision now the ques-provis several towns for the safety of the com-munity in case of fire, riot and other such for travel on July 4, and that day, if pleasant, will be the greatest Fourth of July Pittsburg has seen since the Centennial anniversary in point of patriotic enthusiasm, and the greatest she ever saw in enjoyment and pleasure for the people.

Police Magistrate Hyndman has been muthorized to receive contributions from the patriots in the East Ead and Oakland districts, and as business men in those districts will be largely benefited by the celebration, they are expected to contribute liberally.

Magistrate Succop has been deputized to get the munity in case of fire, riot and other such uses, as well as the more general commercial, business and social uses. Every public-spirited citizen should feel an interest in the matter in his own town, and call the attention of the proper public men and business and financial men of his community to the importance and necessity of introducing the Share Telephone System into their town and county. Summer and fall are the seasons best suited for erecting lines. It would therefore be wise to call upon or write to the West Penn Sharer Telephone Company at once for full particulars, estimates, etc.
