Gossip About the Deficit of the May Festival and the Plan That Has Been Adopted to Make It Up.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT ARRANGED.

Rudget of News Items That Will Interest All the Lovers of the Art Divine

The most important event now looming up in Pittsburg's musical horizon is the third annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Music Teachers' Association, to be held here in December of the current year. In preparation for this occasion, which is one of wide opportunities, the first duty is to see that the sinews of war are plentifully provided to enable the officers (most of whom are Pittsburgers this year) to realize these opportunities to the utmost. That a local effort has already succeeded in paying off one-half of the deficit left by the second Philadelphia meeting is distinctly creditable as far as it goes. But much more is to be done.

It must not be forgotten that not only are all persons whose livelihood is gained from sic eligible as active members of the association, but every lover or patron of the art universal is also welcomed to its membership, as an associate, with all the privileges he will care about possessing. Every regular reader of this department of THE DISPATCH is therefore directly interested, as a possible member, in the following circular, recently issued:

It will be seen that there would have been surplus of $161.86 in the tweasury but for these circumstances.
Since December 31, 1890, our indebtedness has been reduced principally by the efforts of Pittsburg members in arranging a concert, which realized toward its liquidation 800 55, and a few smaller sums from outstanding tickets of the December meeting, so that the deficit now amounts to something under 8000 deficit now amounts to something under $200.

As it is very desirable to pay off this balance as soon as possible, and also to provide funds for publishing the second annual report (now under way), and in view of the prevailing opinion at the closing business session of the last meeting, that the membership renewals for 1891 should be asked for at once, you are hereby kindly requested to comply promptly, by returning enclosed membership blank filled up as per directions upon it with the fee of $1 to the Secretary, who will thereupon send you a members will send in their renewals, thereby placing the association upon a sound financial basis, and enabling it, with the addition of the fees of the new members, to more effectively carry out its objects and make the coming meeting at Pittsburg a great success.

The May Festival Deficit.

The deficit resulting from our own May Festival comes still nearer home than that of the State association. No one at all conburg's past festivals could for a m se that Mr. Retter was actuated by any expectation of pecuniary profit in under taking another such an enterprise. He no doubt put his shoulder to the festival wheel agnin-just as Mr. Gittings has for years managed artists' concerts at a loss-from a desire to swell the tide of our musical activities in to swell the tide of our musical activities in a manner calculated to benefit all interested in the art, and, of course, with a very laudable personal ambition to maintain his rank as one of the city's foremost, enterprising musical leaders. To come out even, with, perhaps, a fair compensation, for the professional work done, but without counting on anything like a business profit upon the amount of money and risk involved—this was unquestionably Mr. Retter's expectation, so far as the finances were concerned. so far as the finances were concerned, ntering upon this May Festival enter-in entering upon this May Festival enterprise.

The results, however, have been very discouraging, as approximately stated in this column last Sunday and more fully during the week. The cost of remodeling Mechanical lind, about $3.200 over and above the $500 rent; the $3.500 deficiency in the expected receipts from the boxes, of which only $2 of the 100 were subscribed for; the cold weather, which certainly lessened the general sale by several thousand dollars—any one of these elements would, if reversed, have overludanced the deficit of $3.122 17, shown by Manager Jenks' fully itemized report and explanations to the patronesses at last Tuesday's meeting.

Under all the circumstances the patronesses and the experienced business men called in to that meeting very properly decided that this indebtedness is to be considered morally the debt of musical Pittsburg, in the payment of which everyone is concerned who carries for the future of music in our community. It was the sense of the meeting that, if our own musical leaders, going into such public spirited enterprises as a legitimate phase of their regular activity and not as a business speculation, are to be confronted with large pecuniary losses in addition to all their work and worry, then we may as well give up the loope of having any musical events of like magnitude in the future.

There is much in this view of the case

re is much in this view of the case worthy of being pondered over by all who believe in music as an important factor in the life of a civilized community and who perceive the tremendous opportunities in this direction incident to the general awak-cuing of all manner of higher activities in the l'ittsburg of to-day.

Smooth Sailing Thus Far.

The plan evolved for canceling this ominous deficit and clearing the decks for fur ther action, is to hold an entertainment on Thursday evening, June 12, at the Duquesne Theater, which Manager Henderson has kindly tendered for the purpose, free of all charges but the actual running expenses. It also should be stated that in order to be charges but the actual running expenses. It also should be stated that in order to be present on the date chosen, Assistant Manager McCullough vervaccommodatingly gave up a contemplated trip to Chicago.

The same generous spirit has actuated the following local artists in consenting to take part without compensation: Mrs. Murice I. Coster, Miss Agnes Vogel, Miss May Beesley, Miss Margaret Fraser, Miss Mamine Reuck, Mr. Joseph A. Vogel, Mr. John A. Strouss, Mr. Joseph H. Gittings and the members of the Beethoven Quartet Club. It is possible that Mr. Emil Fisher or Mr. Franz Rumnel may be brought back to give added artistic eciat to the occasion. Another probable feature of strong attractiveness is a minuet danced by young girls of the fashiomable set.

The social influence of the prominent patronesses will be brought to bear to make this composite entertainment a society event of the first water. Admission to the first floor will be 2; to the dress circle $1 and to the gailery $50; There will be no reserved seats, except in the boxes, which are to be made the subject of a rather novel mode of money-getting. The boxes, containing six seats, are each held at $25. There being but eight of them, they would soon be taken. Wherefore the concert, and in the meantime receive bids of premiums for order of circles. These bids, which need not be scaled and may be increased as often as any hidder desires, are to be left in writing at Hamilton's music store, for Mrs. H. B. Birch, Socretary and Treasurer of the patronesses. The bids received will be announced from time to time in the newspapers, and on the day named the eight highest bidders will have the P. McCollum will conduct as usual.

privilege of taking the boxes at $25 pins the CROOKED JURY WORK It is to be hoped that a generous rivalry among box-bidders and ticket sellers may spring up strongly enough, with the general public's valued aid, to enable this entertainment to pay off the deficit and to provide a further nest egg for the next festival.

The List in the Hennessey Case Given to the Defense Nearly further nest egg for the next festival.

For we do want to have future festivals. The imperfect efforts of the past have demonstrated beyond question the great value of such occasions to a community situated like ours. They have also demonstrated the impropriety of expecting any one man to shoulder the entire responsibility, financial as well as artistic. He will always have to cut his coat according to the cloth, and his financial arrangements will never be perfected in time to enable the best results to be obtained.

A genuine music festival is the proper confected in time to enable the best results to be obtained.

A genuine music festival is the proper concern of the whole musical community. It ought by all means to be in charge of a permanent Festival Association, comprising the city's leading citizens. Now, while the iron is hot, while such an effort is making to clear up the past record expressly for the sake of the future—right now is the time to organize in permanent shape.

Only with the stability assured by such an organization can the chorus arrangements be begun in time to make careful selection of voices and allow anything like sufficient time to rehearse true festival programmes. This is the most vital part of a festival and it is the one most dependent upon the timeliness and stability of the general organization. Mark that point well; therein lies the secret of most of the failures of the past.

Without going further into the question to-day, it may be well to quote from the last annual report of Secretary Monroe, of the Worcester, Mass., Festival Association, as showing how the choral element has come to be valued in their experience of nearly two-score years:

"You will allow me to emphasize the fact NEW ORLEANS, May 30 .- The grand jury this afternoon made their final reports. Re-ferring to the irregular proceedings about the court building, the fact is mentioned that the list of tales jurors in the Hennessey case was delivered to the defense nearly 24 hours before it was given to the attorneys for the State. The grand jury was unable to ascertain who was responsible for this, but they suggest that the court officials should investigate the matter and place the responsibility where it belongs.

Regarding the new slaughter house scan-dal, as to the City Council and Board of Health the Grand Jury says that the subshowing how the choral element has come to be valued in their experience of nearly two-score years:

"You will allow me to emphasize the fact that ours is firstly, lastly and always a choral festival. The chorus is what the masses, both the educated and the ignorant alike, want to hear. The chorus and their immediate friends, former members and their friends, are the great factors in maintaining the festival. Nowhere else are to be found so competent critics, not only of chorus work, but of soloists and orchestra alike. No other class of persons are such sure and reliable patrons—they don't stop to inquire as to the merits of this or that soloist before buying tickets, but they assume in advance that the committee who have heretofore arranged successfully have done so this year, and postpone judgment until after performance. This view, entertained by so large a number of festival patrons, removes the enterprise from the nature of a speculation, and the varying success that would necessarily result from the engagement of stars, and the vexing uncertainty attending arrangements attempted with them, and places it upon the high plane of a good ensemble and the certainty of success attending worthy performances." ject was presented by the Attorney General ject was presented by the Attorney General of the State, who conducted the examination of numerous witnesses during an exhaustive inquiry. The workings of the whole scheme were exposed, extending from its incipiency, through all the minute details of its progress, down to the closing act when the disclosures were made.

The new slaughter house ordinance passed by the Council required the concurrence of the Board of Health. About this time an intermediary appeared upon the scene.

the Board of Health. About this time an intermediary appeared upon the scene, claiming from the announced promoters a written recognition to the extent of an interest of 30 per cent in the new enterprise. This is claimed by friends and representatives of two prominent members of the Board of Health. That the demand was Board of Health. That the demand was concurred in is shown by a written compact in the possession of the grand jury, signed in duplicate by five parties. The original paper or form was drafted by one of the two members of the Board of Health.

The course of affairs did not materialize as intended or expected at the board meeting held May 14 last, and hence the develop-ments which followed. While no criminal ments which followed. While no criminal intention may have been entertained by any of the parties concerned in the creation of the slaughter house company, the evidence abounds with acts plainly in violation of public pelicy and morality, but unfortunately the statute which would indicate the remedy for such transactions fails to meet the facts and circumstances of the matter investigated, or to crystallize them into a defined offense; and where the statute undoubtedly would apply, it was found that no penalty had been prescribed, rendering its provisions of no effect.

"We have advised the Attorney General," says the report, "to present to the public. The house was crowded with notabilities.

Derby night (Wednesday last) there was a repetition of Meyerbeer's "Les Huguenots," with Mme. Albani, Giula Ravogli, Edonard and Jean De Reszke, Maurel, Lasalle and the new comer, Mile. Mravina, as Margherka. The house was filled to overflowing.

The recent arrivals in London include Mme. Adelaide Patti, Paderewski, the pianist, and Sarasate, the violinist. Mme. Patti sang at Kuhe's "Grand Morning Concert" to-day at the Royal Albert Hail. Among the artists who were heard upon this occasion were Mesdames Antoinette Sterling and Alfee Esty and Edward Lloyd and Signor Foli. Johannes Wolff gave a violin solo and Joseph Hollman, a violoncello solo. Marshall Ward conducted the chotr, which was that of the Nottingham Philharmonic Society. Wilhelm Ganz conducted the orchestra. Mme. Patti will now start on a tour of the provinces in company with Mme. Margurite a Pachmann, the pianiste. "We have advised the Attorney General," says the report, "to present to the Governor the facts of this matter that he may take such steps as will lead to a vindication of the law and the purification of the public service." In conclusion, the grand jury says: "The official records of the court show the extent of our labors, having examined over 950 witnesses, resulting in 18 indictments and two returns of "not a true bill."

GEO. R. SEEVENSON & CO., M. R. THOMPSON,

BEAUTIFUL LINES!

The lines of beauty are found everywhere. Our furniture depends greatly on lines. They are most beautiful when correct. They not only please the eye, but insure comfort. This is only too true in Rocking Chairs. What a variety, and, withal, you most admire those with the one common attribute, and that is perfect lines. Our new lot of Rockers are made up of many, 550, worth $1. many lines, the correct combination of which, known only to a furniture designer, making them perfect, easy and beautiful. How many other pieces are dependent on the same thing? The pleasing effect and practical qualities go hand in hand, and the proper combination is found in good furniture only.

N. B.-Wakefield & Hevwood's new summer furniture only too pleasing. Newspaper cuts will not bring out the lines. We therefore ask your personal inspection of the goods.

CATARRH IN CHILDREN.

Children are as subject to catarrh as adults, and much of the trouble referred to other diseases, such as habitual headache, cough, worms, colic, etc., is caused by this disease. They become weak and puny, and look like little dried-up old men and women, when they should be sleek and fat and rosy. Children who have become weak and puny soon take on new life and growth under the combined local and internal treatment as practiced by Dr. Byers.

Master Willie Hannam

A case in point is Master Willie Hannam, aged 7, whose parents live on Stanwix st., Mt. Washington. When first brought to the office of Dr. Byers he suffered with continual headaches, coughed all the time, was always hawking and spitting to clear his throat, had pains in the chest, both ears troubled him a great deal and he frequently had spells of sickness at the stomach, etc., etc. spells of sickness at the stomach, etc., etc. His mother said "he just laid around all the time and didn't feel like playing." Dr. Byers directed his treatment to the nose, throat and ears, and gave him medicine internall; for his stomach, and was soon rewarded by noticing an entire disappearance of all the annoying symptoms—the little fellow has now all the vim peculiar to children of his age, is feeling well and growing rapidly.
