A delegation consisting of Captains Thomas Rees, James A. Henderson and John Dravo, of Beaver, and Colonel W. A. Stone and J. Scott Ferguson went to Harrisburg the Governor. Captain Rees said if the rise had not come at this time at least 25 members had not come at this time at least 20 members of the Coal Exchange would have gone. He added that he had no doubt that the Governor would have vetoed the original bill, but he was not sure what he would do with the amended mensure.

Captain Henderson claimed the river men hadn't enough wharf room now, and there is a continual scramble among them for space. He said $15,000,000 was invested in the river business, and the interests were too great to be interfered with without a struggle.

bout 206,000 Bushels of Coal Sank-Th Loss Falls on John A. Wood and Man nette & Co.-Boats Ordered Back, and Some Land Below the Dam.

netto & Co.—Boats Ordered Back, and Seme Land Below the Dam.

About 206,000 bushels of coal were sunk at Logstown hast evening owing to the low water. The loss will fall heaviest on John A. Wood, who had five coal boats towed by the Jim Wood grounded. The Ark with a full tow of eight barges for Mannette & Co., of Cincinnati, met the same fate. Both boats were stranded, at this point, and the tows immediately filled with water. Coal at Cincinnati is worth 10 cents per bushel, and if the loss were a total one about $20,600 would be dropped. It is expected that some of the coal can be recovered, but the real loss will be considerable. The water in the dam was over 8 feet, and Captain Wood tried to get the authorities in charge to lower the wickets, but they refused. The fall to Logstown from the dam is 21 inches, and it is claimed that if the wickets had been lowered it would have made a stage of seven feet and the grounding of the boats would never have happened. The river men were very angry about it and at least 25 of them at the Monongahela House last evening expressed the above opinion.

In addition the Josh Cook, B. D. Wood, the Blackburn, for Blackburn & Co., and the Cruiser, for W. H. Brown Sons, with full tows, passed through the lock. As soon as their owners heard of the accident to the other two boats they were ordered to land, and are now anchored in the pool above Logstown, where they are liable to stay for awhile, as the river is falling. The Jim Brown, Voyager, S. L. Wood, Dave Wood, De Bus, J. A. Blackburn, for secent, Dauntless, Charlie Clark and Time were turned back, and are now lying in the dam. These boats were waiting their turn to go out, and were caught in time to save further loss. About 10,000,000 bushels of coal, it is estimated, were in the harbor ready to be taken down the river when the rise came. The river men are much disappointed, and from present indications all their preparations have been in vain. The situation provokes considerable iil-feeling. The Jim Gilmore, Sam and Charley MISCELLANEOUS INDUSTRIAL ITEMS whom propositions have been made to return to the association in an official capacity, will not accept an office in that organization under any consideration. He has just been engaged as Superintendent of the Industrial Department of the Carnegie interests, a new position created by the concern, and the duties of which he assumed yesterday. This is a step forward for Mr. Martin in the industrial world, and he is congratulated on every side upon the compliment which has every side upon the compliment which has been paid to his rare ability as a labor leader and his thorough knowledge of all the con-ditions surrounding the labor situation.

The firm's business has increased of late to such an extent and the industrial matters requiring special attention turned up with such frequency that the duties of the officials became burdensome. On last Thursday ne-gotiations were closed with Mr. Martin to take charge of and look after all labor matters arising in connection with the com-This will include all the disputes in mills, attending to the details of the scales in the

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE.

This will include all the disputes in mills, attending to the details of the scales in the various establishments and a general oversight of the interests of the companies. He has resigned his position as manager of the Commercial Real Estate Exchange, and his connection with that concern, which has lasted for nearly a year, will be entirely severed in a day or two.

Chairman Abbott, of Carnegle, Phipps & Co., was seen at his home in the East End last night. He said Mr. Martin had been secured for the new position simply because of his exceptional fitness to perform the duties of the office satisfactorily to the arm. "We have 10,000 employes," he said, "and there is more or less difficulty constantly. We engaged Mr. Martin to look after interests there because we did not believe there is a man in Pittsburg or Allegheny who is as conversant with all the phases of the labor matters as he is. We discovered that during our conferences with the association with which he was formerly connected we needed just such a man as he is, and when we learned he was available we lost no time in engaging him to do the work. The firm will continue to deal with the scale committees as formerly, and Mr. Martin will be required to look after details. He will have his headquarters at the main office on Fifth avenue. He will be of valuble assistance to the firm. because of his wide acquaintance with the laboring classes and tits together with his natural abilities were the reasons which prompted the proposition being made to him."

High Praise for Mr. Martin. The annual meeting of the Board of Trus-ees of the Western University of Pennsylvania was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday afternoon. Chancellor Holland abmitted a report in which he called atsteps in the direction of better equipping the buildings and providing for fuller instruct-ion in the several departments. Rev. Dr. White was elected President of the Board of Trustees and the following persons were elected to serve on the Board for the next elected to serve on the Board for the next three years: James R. Speer, M. D., Alexander Yimick, C. G. Hussey, M. D., James P. Hanna, Thomas H. Boyle, D. D., W. T. Robinson, D. D., William Thaw, Jr., Thomas D. Canahan, Hon. J. H. Reed.

An animated discussion took place, in the course of which & strong disposition was evinced to push the technical and industrial features of the institution as well as to strengthen the classical department. Prof. Keeler, the new director of the observatory, is expected to arrive about the middle of June. At the meeting of the Board of Regents of the University of California, held on May 18, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That in accepting the resignation of Mr. Reeler, the Regents desire to express their high appreciation of his astronomical work at the Lick Observatory and wish him every success in his new posifriends that it was a shrewd move on the part of the firm to take an official almost directly from the Amalgamated Association to look after their labor interests, as it is well known that Mr. Martin has lost none of his sympathies for organized labor. Mr. Martin was seen last night but he was not disposed to talk much about his new position. "It would not be prudent for me to talk much," said he. "One thing about the new department that has been created by the Carnegie firm is that they take the lead of all other firms in the world, so far as I know, in the matter of a regularly established industrial department, in charge of one superintendent."

Mr. Martin admitted for the first time that a proposition had been innde to return to the Amalgamated Association, and in a most tempting shape at that, but he could not feel justified in accepting any offer from the convention which opens this morning. The meeting this year will be the largest ever held. The Scale Committee wound up its business yesterday and will report the result of their work to the convention to-day. President Welhe will be re-elected and there is little indication now that there will be any opposition to more than one or two of the present officers. agreement with the company lasts. With this view an attempt was made last night at 8 o'clock to transfer a Second avenue car to the Duquesne tracks at the corner of Wood and Fourth avenue, but the Thomson-Houston people appeared in force and prevented the trial. The only reason assigned for this is that the Second avenue cars are armed with Westinghouse motors, and the

The device is fixed to the front platform, and is for the purpose of opening and closing switches without stopping the car. This is accomplished by means of a lever within easy reach of the motorman. Regarding this Captain Cutter said yesterday:

"The device leaves the conductor at liberty to look after the passengers, the motorman need not stop his car, nor need a switchman be employed. I believe it will greatly assist the handling of the cars and will certainly prevent accidents from cars jumping the track. Dr. J. S. T. Milligan after some interchange with Dr. Mc Allister finally expressed himself as satisfied with the arrangement.

Dr. W. W. Canon stopped the reading by stating that the sentence must first be read, and Rev. Laird was deputed to read it after which Rev. J. Foster read the complaints. That of Rev. J. R. J. The ladies jerked their fans spitefully and rowned, but Mr. Laird pacified them somewhat by explaining that some of the 49 ages spoken of were not necessary to be read, as they did not bear on the trial.

Elder Terrens denounced the proceeding as going beyond the eccleciustisl limits of the Pittsburg Presbytery. He held that the Pittsburg Presbytery had assumed authority co-extensive with that of Rome.

The Church Foundation in Danger,

The Church Foundation in Danger. Elder McAfee created a discussion by askng if Dr.McAllister's position wasn't danger-ous—liable to knock the foundation out from ous—liable to knock the foundation out from under the Reformed Presbyterian Church. The question was not answered, but amid pounding by the Moderator and laughter good humor was for a moment restored.

Mr Milligan went on to define ministerial functions, and said the action had already drawn upon the Reformed Presbyterian Church the scorn of the Christian world, and he thought it time to stop awhile until they could take their bearings. He insisted on some other mode of procedure than that proposed. The young men have endeavored to respect the Reformed Presbyterian Church. Prof. Wilson—Is that so:

Continuing, he said the R. P. Church had been organized by men who dared to defy those who perverted the doctrines of the Church: that it had been founded by suspended muisters. He appealed that as atthers with fatherly hearts, as brothers with brotherly hearts and as Christians deal with the case. A Prosecutor Made a Speech.

Dr. R. J. George got up to speak, when Rev. Milligan, who had just taken his seat, arose again and made the point that Dr. George as a prosecutor had no right to dis-

George as a prosecutor had no right to discuss the question any more than had the accused. Finally Rev. Milligan and he would yield, as he didn't want to waste time, but he must still protest that Dr. George was out of order.

Mr. George then resumed. He said the question must respect has and order and what is owed to Jesus Christ, no matter what effect the decision might have on the people. The accused had a right to appeal, but he cannot set his decision up against that of the Court, and if this view is not taken discipline cannot be maintained. By insubordination to the lower court he lessus his standing in the higher one.

Mr. Graham, of Boston, wanted to know if a man in a civil court were fixed and appealed, if he would be made pay the fine before the appeal were heard.

Large Increase in the Foreign Names.

The work of gathering in the names was begun on the 3rd of April and concluded on the 31st of April, after which the compliation was commenced. The book shows a large increase in foreign names, and among them are some lengthy ones. Such an undertaking as the pronunciation of "Wajocie-chowski" must be approached cautiously, and an effort to get at the native twang of "Slivenhalicki" and "Schweckendieck" is worthy of recognition. If these are long the other extreme is found in the name of Josno. Uy, whose cognomen is the shortest in the directory.

Of course there are a few Smiths in the volume—only a few—just 1,089, which is 63 more than it contained last year, showing that the family is still holding its own. The "Johns" of that name are pretty numerous also; there are 63 of them.

Mr. Diffenbacher says he has had more trouble with his canvassers this year than formerly. The gric knocked some of them out; a good many fell sick, and one or two joined the majority. He had the usual trouble with the men who "know it all." Mr. Diffenbacher had a notion when he employed his canvassers that he would be permitted to do the thinking for the establishment, while the others did the hustling, but he found some young gentlemen who were so zealous as to desire to do both. For example, a man assigned to the district including the arsenal and its garrison omitted to look in on Uncle Sam's boys. When asked why, he said:

Afraid of Being Too Particular.

sity for being so particular."

Some of the men had rough experiences. Several were badly used up by dogs, and others were warned off the premises as tree-passers. Many of them found the customary difficulty in inducing people to give them their names, and frequently canvassers were given false names.

"It is curious," said Mr. Diffenbacher yesterday, "what objections some people have to seeing their name in a directory. There is one very prominent citizen who has an office in the heart of the city who will not allow his business address to appear. He insists so upon this that he came to the office a day or two ago to see whether or not we had it in. His private address is there all right. "Though the book is much larger this year the printing has been done in the same style as last year, when we commenced to deliver on the lat of June. This year we begin to deliver to morrow, commencing on certain defined routes and continuing until all are served."
