MEN OF LEADING INDUSTRIES

Seem Very Well Satisfied With the Situation and Outlook. THE PROSPECTS FOR THE FRUIT CROP.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, June 2, 1891.

Farming Implements. In summing up the results of the spring's trade a dealer in seeds, agricultural imple-ments and such articles as farmers call for, reports: "In the line of clover and timothy seed trade was scarcely as good this season as last, but in garden seeds it has been much better. Seed potatoes have been unusually high this season, and owing to cold weather of May many gardeners in this section have been forced to replant their potatoes. The necessity of replanting, together with the short potato crop last fall, has no doubt and much to do with the late high price of chains all stock. the short potato crop last tan, has no dount had much to do with the late high price of choice old stock.

"In the line of agricultural implements there has been an excellent demand for the past month or two. Improvements in farming implements were thought a few years ago to have reached perfection, but it has been demonstrated of late that the acme has not been reached. Farming implements which were in vegue a year or two ago are no long-been reached. Farming implements which were in vegue a year or two ago are no longer of any account. Binders are taking the place of self-rakers, and the progressive farmer who keeps up with the times is ready to sacrifice the old machine that he may introduce the new.

"The man who attempts to gather the means of subsistence out of the soil with the machinery in vogue a half dozen years ago will find himself
left in the rear by enterprising competitors." The commercial editor had just left the Reformed Presbyterian Synod meeting when he interviewed the dealer in agricultural implements, and the thought came without bidding, that possibly heresy hunters were making the same mistake as meeting when he interviewed the dealer in agricultural implements, and the thought came without bidding, that possibly heresy hunters were making the same mistake as the old fogy farmers and gardeness who fall to catch on to the new appliances for gathering the fruits of the earth. Harvests cannot be gathered either in the natural or spiritual worlds by the methods which were successful in the days of our fathers.

Fruit Prospects.

A Neville Island gardener, of lifetime experience in gardening lines, not to speak of the lessons learned from a father who spent perience in gardening lines, not to speak of the lessons learned from a father who spent the greater part of a long life on the Island, thus reports as to the situation and outlook: "I do not remember a year when we had such a cold May as this year. The tomato plants that were set out in the early part of May were all nipped by the frosts, and replanting was a necessity. The early planters had to do their work a second time, and the sluggards who waited for a more convenient season have had their reward. As a consequence of cold May weather the tomato plant is fully a month behind the average season, but there is still abundance of time to eatch up, though we cannot expect to have tomatoes in the market as early as usual. As to fruits, the early strawberry will yield light crops, but the late may be a fair average crop. Cherries were about out of danger when the heavy frosts came, and we will have a fair yield in this line.

"There never was a better prospect for apples than there was up to the heavy frosts in the early part of May. Till then our only fears were as to the ability of the trees to carry the load. There are no longer any fears in this direction, and now if one-half the average crop of apples is yielded in this region I will be agreeably disappointed. I do not look for more than one-quarter of a crop, and am sure that the fruit which has not been destroyed by frosts will be of inferior quality. Grapes, too, have suffered from frosts, and the yield will be much below the average."

Canned Meats.

A representative of the canned meat trade had this to say of business: "The best time for our trade is during the summer months, for our trade is during the summer months, when the picnic season is at its height. In May we handled 20 per cent more goods than for the corresponding month last year, and the cost of canned meats is fully 30 per cent greater this year than last. The advance in prices of canned meats the past few months is the natural result of higher priced live stock. A patent can-opener, which has been introduced of late and which is attached to every can, has added 10c per dozen to the cost of canned meats.

The new patent is a key which unlocks the can as easily as a trunk is unlocked, and has at once become so popular that the additional cost is cheerfully accepted because of the diminished trouble in opening cans on the patent openers, and it is only a question of short time when a can of lunch tongue or canned beef will be unsalable if it is not furnished with the open sesame in the shape of the newly-patented key."

THE BEARS ON TOP.

They Work Up Sufficient Influ nlize the Wheat Pit—Corn Begins Weal but Finishes Strong—Oats Steady—Port

and Lard Lose Ground.

CHICAGO—After an intermission of three days brought about by Memorial Day on Saturday and the judicial election yesterday, with Sunday intervening, the tendency on the Board of Trade at the opening this morning was toward lower prices. This was especially true of wheat, which opened 1% 1% 10 lower than it closed on Friday afternoon. Trading in this cereal was light and fluctuations were parrow, being confined to a range tions were narrow, being confined to a range of %c. There was a further decline from the outside figure of %c after the opening, an advance of %c, another recession, and the close was 1%c lower than Friday's close for July, while June and August each closed ic close was 1½ lower than Friday's close for July, while June and August each closed lo lower.

The early weakness and decline were attributed to weak cables, increasing supplies on ocean passage, and augmented supplies in the United Kingdom, good rains and favorable weather for the crops, and the report that the German Government would not make any reduction in the duty on wheat. Thereafter the fluctuations in the market were in the main controlled by local scalpers in their operations against privileges bought and sold on the curb since Friday. There were too many puts bought and sold The market, though very heavy, was not heavy enough to break down this barrier, Pardridge, who had sold a large quantity of puts, buying against them on each break in order to prevent the privilege buyer from getting action. It is estimated that he took about 1,500,000 bushels at from 98% to 98%.

Corn opened weak with wheat and about ½ c lower than the close on Friday. The large accumulated receipts for three days were an added element of weakness, and the abundant rains with favorable reports in regard to the lately planted crop were bear arguments. Local bulls, however, were undaunted and quickly absorbed the offerings. The tide once stemmed they pushed their advantage, putting prices to a point 2c above the inside figure, holding the advance to the close with only a shade of recession, the close with only a shade of recession, the close being le better than on Friday.

Outs were moderately active but unsettled early, but became firmer and advanced moderately and remained steady the rest of the day, closing at the last figures of Friday for July and August, though June was ½ lower.

Stocks of lard as shown by the monthly steament was much larger than the trade lower.

Stocks of lard as shown by the monthly statement were much larger than the trade expected, while stocks of pork and ribs were less. The decrease in pork stocks was not sufficient to prevent its declining with lard, while stocks were small enough to cause a glight advance.

POINTS ON REALTY

The Market as Seen Through the Glasses of a Conservative.

PURCHASES LARGELY FOR USE. Some People Who Will Build Fine Houses in an Outer Ward.

THE TREND OF LOCAL SPECULATION

Several handsome improvements will soon Several handsome improvements will soon be commenced in the Twenty-third ward. The Hon. W. H. Sponsler has had plans and specifications prepared and is taking bids for a 14-roomed brick and stone dwelling on Hazelwood avenue, Oliver Terrace plan, the site for which he recently purchased from Ira M. Burchfield. It will be one of the finest houses in that quarter of the city.

Drs. Haworth and Davis and S. W. Tanner have purchased double lots in the same plan and will put up elegant dwellings this season.

Conservative Views on Realty.

Real estate is always a leading interest in prosperous communities. The chief desire of the great majority of people is to own the houses they live in, so that they may not be wanderers upon the face of the earth. This is a sort of instinct which permeates. every part of animated creation. The beasts of the field have lairs and the fowls of the air nests. The controlling sentiment in Pittsburg for several years has been in this direction, and the result is seen in the thou-sands of happy homes which crown the hill-direction, and the result is seen in the thousands of happy homes which crown the hilltops and nestle in the valleys which surround the city. It is this which makes real estate and all that pertains to it the chief factor in the material development of this hive of industry.

A well-known business man of conservative tencies, but of unlimited faith in the future, in discussing this subject yesterday made the following observations: "I have no apprehension that the price of real estate will shrink on account of the comparative dullness prevailing at this time, as is the talk of the bears,' for value is regulated by demand, or use. The development of the city is beyond a probability; and as our building space for residences is to a great extent limited, the demand for vacent property in the future must be good. Those who have bought expecting to realize a big profit in a few weeks or months may be disappointed, to be sure, but they need not fear; the time will soon come when their property will be wanted for use. Some who put only a small amount of money in unimproved property,
expecting to sell quickly, may have to realize
at a small reduction, because they may not have funds to enable them to carry it, but this will in no wise affect the market, as investors of this class are few.

"For the most part purchasers of real estate for several years have either paid cash, or knew where the money to make payments was to come from, and in most cases
they have paid up in full before the time stipulated in their obligations. With a good steady demand for property for use, and not enough houses to shelter all the people, there is no ground for apprehension of a reaction in real estate. On the contrary, everything points to gradual enhancement
as the city expands and population and wealth increase."

Business News and Gossip. The numerous subdivisions that are being opened in and about the city show that the lemand for building lots has not abated. A DAY OF SMALL THINGS AND A WEAK-ENING TENDENCY IN VALUES.

Concessions Made in the Majority of Stocks

-No Pronounced Support for Anything

-Financial Crisis in Buenos Ayres and Revolution in the Air.

Brokers made no material additions to their wealth from commissions earned by sales on call yesterday. There were chances to buy almost anything on concessions, but the disposition was lacking. All the business of the day was embraced in seven transac-Brokers made no material additions to tions, footing up 88 shares.

The market was featureless as well as dull. The Tractions maintained their customary level, but there was no buoyancy to them. There is too much talk of something to happen to these properties, though no one seems able to point out what it will be, for investors to seel safe in loading up with their securities at this time. Some think this way, while others regard them as a good purchase at ruling prices. Leaving this question to be settled by the people interested, it may be remarked that rapid transit is a necessity here, and that all of the roads now in operation, and perhaps others, will no doubt be able to work up enough business to make both ends meet and pay good dividends besides. It will, however, take some time to get them in complete running order.

The natural gassers fell off a little for want of support. Arsenal Bank advanced a point. Luster made a bulge at the second call, but was unable to sustain the pace and fell back to the opening price. Airbrake and Underground Cable submitted to concessions, as did Electric—the latter, no doubt, being attributable to the further post-ponement of final settlement.

Outside news was rather bearish. New York was, dull, but stronger. London was better, but an unsettled feeling prevailed on reports from Buenos Ayres that there had been a general run on the banks and that the streets were crowded by excited people. It was reported, also, that a revolution was imminent there. The Bank of England reduced the price of American gold to 76s. 8d. Late in the day the London market underwent some improvement.

It is a fact worth mentioning in this connection that all of the trouble that hampers speculation has its origin abroad. If left to themselves the home markets would bound into activity at once. Easy money and splendid croop prospects are factors which cannot be permanently suppressed or ignored, and they will sooner or later make themselves felt.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

THE SHARE MARKET SLUGGISH, BUT PRICES IMPROVED.

A Higher Opening Succeeded by Selling Pressure and a Decline—The Market Recovers and Advances Steadily to the Close—More Gold Shipments Engaged.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The dealings in the stock market to-day retained their late professional character, and the movements, after those of the first hour, were generally very small. The foreign operations are in-significant again, but further engagements of gold for export were made, and a great scarcity of commercial bills in the market is reported, so that, notwithstanding the large amount of gold sent out in the last two months, the rates for exchange are kept up to a figure where gold may be sent without loss.

The market to-day opened materially higher on a demand from the shorts. The opening gains extended to % per cent, with St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville and Union Pacific leading. This demand was met by a renewal of the selling pressure, and all of the opening gains were wiped out, with small fractions in addition among the leading shares. More quiet trading succeeded, and a slow but steady advance soon brought prices up to and beyond those of the opening, and the upward movement continued without a break during the remainder of the day. The steady movement continued without a break during the remainder of the day. The steady advance lifted everything but Jersey Cenadayance lifted everything lifted li ing the remainder of the day. The steady advance lifted everything but Jersey Central, which dropped 2 per cent and recovered only a small portion of the loss. The close was fairly active and strong at the best prices. The final changes of note include advances of 1½ in St. Paul and 1 per cent each in Missouri Pacific and Rock Island, and a loss of 1½ in Jersey Central.

cific and Rock Island, and a 1988 of 1½ in Jersey Central.

There was the usual quiet business in railroad bonds, which, however, was more widely distributed than usual of late. The sales reached only $562,000, and the final changes, as a rule, are insignificant.

EASY MONEY ASSURED.

People Who Talk of a Stringency More Scared Than Hurt.

The tone of the local money market yesterday was easy and assuring. Funds were abundant for all purposes. There was a better demand for loans, which were made at 5½@6 for short time and 6@7 for long, but at 5½@6 for short time and 6@7 for long, but 6 per cent was the prevailing rate. With the exception of depositing, which was well maintained, routine business was characterized by no special animation. Clearing House exchanges were $2,435,536 21 and balances $405,798 46.

A leading financial authority says: "When it is taken into consideration the fact that the United States Treasury will this year be a distributor rather than an accumulator and hoarder of the people's money, that the circulating medium has increased the past year over $90,000,000, that the lower level of security prices requires a much less volume of funds to clear transactions, that the creation of new securities has been much under the record of previous years, and that apprehensions have already had a marked effect in reducing operations in general trade, it would appear that people may be more frightened than hurt, and that the coming summer rates for money may rule comparatively easy."

At New York yesterday money on call was-easy, ranging from 2½% per cent, last loan 2½; closed offered at 2. Prime mercantile paper, 5½%7. Sterling exchange quiet and firm at $4.85 for 60-day bills and $4.83½ for demand.

LITTLE COAL GOES OUT. increased Activity Along the Wharves for a Few Days at Least. Very little coal got away this rise, owing to the shallow water. The Conway took 12 Frank Gilmore left with six light barges and ing out coal, and are accordingly happy, after the disaster that overtook the Wood fleet. The majority of the rivermen spoken to in regard to the lowering of the wickets to in regard to the lowering of the wickets on such a slight rise thought that if it had been done even more damage would have resulted, and it was a mistake to send out heavier craft than the rise called for. One prominent river man stated that Captain Martin was, in his opinion, the right man in the right place, and while he exercised his own judgment in the raising and lowering of the wickets, he thought that it was just. The damage done to the Woods could not be compared with what would have occurred to the different firms if those wickets had been lowered.

The firm of John A. Wood & Son claim they would save all of their coal, and without loss, if a rise would come within a few days, but otherwise the coal will have to be transferred, which will make an additional expense.

Several of the larger boats are still tied up at the Davis Island dam. Owing to the blocking of the channel by the Wood fleet the smaller craft are able to go around by what is known as the light craft channel.

It is estimated that if the crackers baked at the big Marvin establishment every day were placed in a line they would form a chain that would reach from here to San Francisco. And they do reach that far, for people all over the country realize the superiority of Marvin's crackers, and order them so rapidly that the big ovens can scarcely supply the demand. SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

S.S.S. not only speaks for itself, but has thousands of people to speak for it. The testimor that have been given in its favor by people who have been cured by it would fill pages of a newspaper. No other medicine has been so thoroughly endorsed by the public. Here is a Disinterested Testimony.

Rev. M. B. Wharton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "I have seen Swift's Specific used, and have known many cases of the worst form of blood disease which have been cured by it. There was no change, however, in the tendencies of the market as lately noted. The market maintains a good tone on the basis of supplies, which are relatively light for this period. Goods purchased are being called good and deliveries are urged.
