OLD MR. STAUP'S FATE

Now in the Hands of the Jury Trying His Famous Case.

LONG ARGUMENTS FOR BOTH SIDES.

Several Religious Assemblies in Session or About to Meet.

MINOR NEWS FROM THE THREE STATES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

UNIONTOWN, June 4.—The Staup-Glover murder case was given to the jury at 11 o'clock to-night and everybody is now anxiously awaiting their verdict. The testimony was all in by noon to-day, and when court was called at 2 o'clock this afternoon, W. S. Anderson, of Youngstown, began his address to the jury in behalf of the defense. Mr. Anderson made a great speech, which lasted two hours and ten minutes. His aim seemed to be to weaken the testimony of Mrs. Alverdi (Glover) Reecknor, who, at the former trials of Staup, was but 15 years of age, and whose testimony was the principal cause of Staup's being convicted of murder in the first degree. He dwelt at length on the idea that Verdi Glover's testimony was molded by others, and that she gave it because she was young and had been influenced by her surroundings.

At 3:30 R. P. Kennedy addressed the jury for the Commonwealth, speaking over two hours. He argued that Verdi Reecknor's testimony at the trial corresponded to the letter with that which she gave 19 years ago, and that it was corroborated by competent witnesses for the Commonwealth. He ridiculed the death-bed confession of Henry Staup, and argued that if it had been a true confession it would have been sworn to, for a Justice of the Peace was there. He said that the story told by Staup on various occasions in regard to his escape from the Uniontown jail and then of his different tales in regard to the fight, are ridiculous; that when he was first arrested and brought to town he had told his attorneys, Boyle and Playford, that he had killed Glover in a fight, but when they told him that would be either murder in the second degree or manslaughter he changed his line of defense and claimed that he was altogether innocent of the charge preferred against him.

TRAITORS IN THE CAMP.

Some Evident Hitches in the Plans of the Independent Producers.

BRADFORD, June 4.—The several sessions to-day of the Producers' Protective Association were decidedly interesting to the members judging from their excited talk on the streets, but when it came to answering a query, they were as mum as oysters, evidently intending to follow out the lines laid down by the illustrious predecessor and opponent, the Standard Oil Company. It is mildly hinted, however, by the members of the P. P. A. that it is all well enough to talk of going into business on their own hook, but that the working out of the details of the projected anti-Standard oil organization is by no means an easy matter. Many obstacles are in the way that time, ingenuity and capital, especially the last named, will be required to completely remove, and until they are removed the concern cannot be a success.

There have been some hints of treachery, as it was thought the Standard, first of all, would try to secure all possible information regarding the movements of this formidable combine. It is openly stated to-night that a certain prominent worker in the P. P. A., who has been the most active in certain lines, is to be expelled for alleged affiliation with the opposition. He is to be called on to clear his skirts, if possible, to-morrow, and if successful, will be allowed to remain in the P. P. A. There have also been charges made, in a quiet way, against several other members of the P. P. A., who have at one time or another been identified with the Standard. The members in question, however, have been independent producers for several years, and so far as their present condition is concerned, are as much under the thumb of the great monopoly as their brethren.

THE ITINERANT CLUB ADJOURNS.

Several Interesting Papers Read at the Last Day's Session.

ALLIANCE, June 4.—The second day's session of the Itinerant Club of Mt. Union College opened with an increased attendance from the ministerial ranks from Pittsburg, Youngstown, Erie and Cleveland. Dr. Terry, in conducting a Bible study, did not dispute that some mistakes, as in spelling, translation of the original, etc., might be found in the Bible, but these are all. At 10:30 Dr. Neely, of Philadelphia, gave his second lecture in "Parliamentary Law."

At 10:30 Dr. Cranston lectured on "Is the Pulpit Losing Power?" He said: "The pulpit of to-day excels that of the period of the past. The immediate effect of preaching is not so visible as formerly. The office does not command the respect once accorded by the people. Notwithstanding this, the teaching is being made more effective. The loafing preacher, the whining preacher, the ever-in-debt preacher and others of the same class are losing power." In the afternoon Dr. A. N. Craft, of Youngstown, gave his lecture on "Christian Logic." At night Dr. Morris, of Cincinnati, gave a lecture on "Pulpit Oratory." The convention closes to-day.

A REMARKABLE FISSURE.

It Was Caused by a Cave-in of a Mine That Is Worked in an Upward Vein.

SCRANTON, June 4.—A peculiar cave-in occurred yesterday afternoon on the West Mountain. The land affected is in a wood near a small creek, and is over the Hyde Park Mine. The coal in that locality is worked upward, so that in some places the upper vein is not more than 50 feet below the surface.

Yesterday afternoon the surface caved in, though the affected part was only a few feet in width and but a short distance in length. A strange feature of the accident is that one of the miners crawled out of the opening thus made. The fissure is slight. The territory is woodland and but seldom traversed.

THE DEADLY LOADED PISTOL.

It Goes Off With Probably Fatal Effect While Boys Play Indian.

BRADDOCK, June 4.—Luke Barnett and Samuel Lowers, two 14-year-old boys, were illustrating Western frontier life before an assemblage of other boys this afternoon. Each had a pistol in his hand with the muzzle aimed at the other's head.

Young Lowers' pistol was loaded. He accidentally pulled the trigger and it was discharged, the bullet piercing young Barnett's head just between the eyes and lodging under the brain. Dr. Schorley says there is poor prospect of his recovery.

MINERS ASK $25,000 DAMAGES EACH.

They Received Injuries in the Flooded Colliery Near Jeansville.

PITTSTON, June 4.—Joseph Matuskowizsand Wasil Franko, two of the men who were imprisoned in the Jeansville slope in February for 20 days by a flood of water, have commenced suit for damages against the owners of the colliery, J. C. Haydon & Co.

They ask for $25,000 each. It is claimed by the plaintiffs that the accident was the result of carelessness on the part of the operators.

Planted Poisoned Corn.

TIFFIN, June 4.—Daniel Wagner has been arrested on a peculiar charge. A few days since, as stated in the affidavit, Wagner scattered in the yard and about the premises of John DeWald corn that had been soaked in Paris green, for the purpose of poisoning his stock and perhaps members of the family.

Fatal Ending of a Quarrel.

ZANESVILLE, June 4.—Hillis Coverdale, who was shot in the abdomen by George Coyle, at Redfield, Tuesday evening, died to-day. Coyle is under arrest. The men had trouble over a game of cards several months ago, and both had been drinking when the quarrel was renewed Tuesday.

Died From a Memorial Day Brawl.

SANDY LAKE, June 4.—Thomas Gleason died at Stoneboro to-night from injuries received in a drunken fight Decoration Day by being hit on the head with a beer bottle. Thomas Trotter was arrested Monday and held to await the result of his injuries. An autopsy will be held to-night.

United Brethern Soon to Meet.

ERIE, June 4.—The Erie annual conference of the United Brethern Church will meet at Grand Valley during the week beginning Wednesday, August 2, Bishop Kephart presiding.

A VERY ORTHODOX BISHOP.

He Objects to Secular Literature and Even to Sunday School Books.

PARKERSBURG, June 4.—The Episcopal Council of the Diocese of West Virginia began its session to-day with a much larger attendance than yesterday. The resignation of J. N. Camden, Jr., Treasurer of the Diocese, was received and accepted, with a vote of thanks for his past services. L. E. Sands was elected in his stead.

Bishop Peterkin read his annual report of work done by him during the past year. It eulogized the growing interest in Sunday Schools, but highly disapproved of secular literature, such as novels, etc. As to Sunday school libraries, he did not believe that class of literature appropriate or beneficial for Sunday schools. He reported the hospital as growing in benefit, and recommended it to Christian charity. A committee was appointed to prepare a memorial page to the memory of Rev. John Ambler, deceased.

Tri-State Brevities.

THE big pump at the McKeesport Water Works is broken, and a water famine is in prospect.

THERE is another strike of coke workers now in progress, but it only affects the Mt. Braddock works of R. Hogsett. The trouble is over the discharge of two men.

SAMUEL MAXWELL HARTMAN, a prominent young business man of Wheeling, committed suicide by shooting yesterday. He has been suffering for some time from an incurable disease.

AN unknown Hungarian miner committed suicide yesterday morning by throwing himself headlong down the Hecla shaft, 325 feet. He had brooded over the death of his little child.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM CLARK, superintendent of the life-saving station of Erie, was drowned in the surf yesterday morning. The propeller Badger State had been driven on the beach, and Captain Clark's screw went to her assistance. While endeavoring to pass a line from the propeller to the tug Erie the life boat was capsized. The rest of the crew were saved.
