SOME GOOD STRIKES IN NEW MEXICO

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, June 7 .- The following reports from the leading mining centers of the West have been received:

DENVER-Probably the richest ore ever found in Colorado is that disclosed by a recent strike in the Cabinet Maker and Stenographer, on White Mountain, near Ouray. Pieces of ore have assayed as high as cova, one per ton in gold and a small mill run of rich pay streak gave $120,000 per ton. It is a gold quartz, and parts of it are so filled with the ground until a few minutes before 2:30 o'clock, the til a few minutes before 2:30 o'clock, the Pieces of ore have assayed as high as $200, its face seems to indicate that the rock is at least 50 per cent of the precious metal. The mineral occurs in a fissure vein. Parallel with the gold streak is one of silver tellaride, which carries 700 ounces of silver and 3 of gold, and the entire vein between richly upholstered easy chair had been prowalls gives a mill run of 13 ounces of gold and 25 of silver.

and 25 of silver.

Excitement has been caused by the discovery of gold prospects on Stewart Gulch, near Silver Plains. The prospect was abandoned years ago by several "rats," owing to a lack of funds. No expense will be spared in development. A four-foot streak of good linking ore has been reported near Black Hawk, in an abandoned shaft. Over 200 tons have already been re-

Some Good Strikes Made.

SAN FRANCISCO. The owners of the New York O. D. mine, Grass Valley, have paid for their mill, declared a dividend of $1,500 and have a substantial balance in the treas ury. The miners of Cherokee, Butte county, taking out $3,000 a month with rockers are taking out $3,000 a month with rockers and sluices. A good strike was made in one of the pocket claims on Brown's Flat, Tuo-hunne, last week. About $1,200 was taken out. At Sequoia J. Quimby is taking out of his claim and crushing in an arastra rock that yields from $75 to $100 a ton. Last month the Amador Queen mines, Nos. 1 and 2, a 20-stamp mill, and the mill site were sold by the Sheriff for debt. The property was bought by an agent of the English creditors. A ledge of good ore, from 18 to 20 inches wide, has been struck in the Thanksgiving Mine, Trinity.

No Place for Poor Miners.

No Place for Poor Miners.

VIBGINIA CITY—A prospector from the new mining camp of Breyfogle says that while there is plenty of mineral in the district, the camp is no place for a man without capital. There are good prospects, but the mines are undeveloped and capital will be required to open them. The ledges are from 6 inches to 8 feet wide, and average about $60 a ton in gold. The town of Breyfogle consists of four saloons and two stores.

About 1,000 men are in the camp, and the About 1,000 men are in the camp, and the prospector thinks it will be difficult for them to get away.

Davis & Sandford's mines, at Aurum, Whitepine, have been bonded by G. W. Crow, of Deaver, the purchase price being $70,000.

A strike in the Eagle Creek district, in a claim of the Midland Investment Company, claim of the Midland investment Company, assayed $2 a pound. The old Belding claim, an extension of the Holme mine, of Canielaria, has been consolidated with several adjoining claims and incorporated as the Belding Mill and Mining Company. J. H. MacMilan has begun suit against Richard O'Leary for $10,000 damages and possession of the Bunker Hill mine, at Galena.

From a candle box full of ore taken from Sam Boston's mine. Silver City. $1,200

Sam Boston's mine, Silver City, $1,200 worth of gold was recently pounded out in a hand mortar, and there was enough metal left in the ore to enrich a lot of low-grade pulp in the amalgamating pan.

Better Prospects at Pinos Altos.

SH.VER CITY-A very important strike has just been made in a crosscut of the Aztec Company's 350-foot level on the Kleptomania vein at Piños Altos. The ore struck is about four feet in width and is of good grade. Nathan Frank, President of the Aztec Company, has been here to look over the situation, and is well satisfied with the outlook for the company's mines at Pinos Altos. A railroad from this place to Pinos Altos is now assured, and, with a four-foot vein of ore of better grade than the ore so far taken out of these mines, and a tunnel nearing completion, which will strike the vein at a much greater depth than has been reached by the vertical workings, and which will reduce the cost of mining the ore considerably, the company will be able to get ore to the mill here for about $2 per ton less than it costs now. This will give the company a better margin on their ore and may enable them to declare a dividend on the $450,000 of capi-tal stock of the company.

The owners of the Alpha and Omega mines at Pinos Altos have about 500 tons of ore at the International Smelter at El Paso, which was shipped before the high water at El Paso made it necessary for the big smelter to close down. The ore will probably be reshipped to the smelter at Socorro, as it will be some time before the International smelter can start up again.

An Increase in the Output.

These mines are producing about 20 tons per day, but this amount will be largely increased as soon as better facilities for transportation are afforded. The new railroad will have the effect of very materially in-creasing the total output of the mines at Pinos Altos and, at the same time, reducing the cost of getting the ore to this point, where all of it is shipped which is not treated in the mills at Pinos Altos.

Prospectors in the Mogollon Mountains are very uneasy as the Apaches have killed three men there recently. It is not be three men there recently. It is not be-lieved that there are more than three or four Indians off the reservation, and while they would not think of making an attack on a mining camp, they can murder pros-pectors in isolated places in the mountains and get away from the scene of their depre-dations days before the bodies are found, and it is almost useless for anyone to attempt to find an Apache in such a rugged country as the Mogollon Mountains. An offer of $350,000 has been made for the old Abe Mine at White Onks. It is said that at a depth of 130 feet nuggets of gold weighing five or six ounces have been taken out. This mine is in the Lincoln county gold region, which promises to equal, if not surpass, the Grant county gold mines in ex-

A $600,000 Transaction.

SPOKANE—The Morning Mine, which was held by the Spokane National Bank, recently closed, has been sold to a syndicate of New York and Milwaukee bankers. The purchasers made a thorough examination of the property and offered $600,000 for it. The offer was accepted by the receiver. The terms of the sale are $300,000 in cash within 60 days and the balance in four semi-annual

A 12-foot ledge of sulphate of silver averaging 250 ounces to the ton has been found in the Bong Mine at the head of Lake creek, in the Kootenai country.

DULUTH-The shipping season at the Lake Superior Company's mines is now well under way, and figures for comparison can be made. So far the total ore shipped has been about a third of that sent forward to been about a third of that sent forward to the same date last year, except at two harbors, where the ore of the Duluth dis-trict foots up about half of last year's total. It is believed that before long business will become more active; in fact, it is now grow-ing better, but as long as 2,009,000 tons of unsold ore remain on the Lake Eric docks, the business will be covered by a wet blanket. Shipments from mines on Lake Superior footed up a total of 9,000,000 tons, while average estimates for the business of 1891 are not over 5,500,000 tons.

All the mining companies have reduced working forces, and one of the largest, the Colby, on the Gogebec Range, which three years ago was the chief producer of that range, has this week closed down entirely. This dearth of ore business, which has been the chief standby for freight for the lake steamships, has decreased freight rates to such an extent that ore is being carried from the head of Lake Superior to Cleveland for 75 cents, while weight rates out of Duluth to Buffalo are on a basis of ore at 47 cents a gross ton, lower than ever known before.

HONORED BEFORE HIS DEATH.

James S. T. Stranahan Is Present at the Unveiling of His Own Monument. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 7 .- The bronze status of James S. T. Stranahan, who has been called Brooklyn's first citizen, was unveiled yesterday at the main entrance of Prospec Park. It is of heroic size and represents time appointed for the unveiling. When he did arrive, he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers. He was escorted to the platform with his wife and his son, Fitch Stran vided for Mr. Stranshan, who is in fine health, although more than 83 years old. After expressing the thanks of the com-mittee to Mr. McMannis for the fine work he had done; to Augustus St. Gaudens for his assistance and to the Park Commissioners, Mr. Gibb, the Chairman, turned to Mr. Stranahan and said: "Mr. Stranahan, I congratulate you that you have been blessed with length of days and permitted to take part in these exercises. The statue we have set up has been completed in your lifetime, in order that it may assure you of the esteem and gratitude of the people of Brookley.

HIS PENCIL SPOKE FOR HIM.

An Artist Sends for a Collar and Necktie

by Sketching Them. An artist of some local repute and convivial tendencies sat in a down-town cafe yesterday morning. He had probably risen long before his wonted hour to observe the beauties of the dawn, and had attired himself in the dark, for he nodded in his chair, and between the backward and forward motion of his thickly-covered head his bared throat showed a lack of either collar or

By and by he shook himself together, and, becoming aware of his deshabille, called over a waiter and said a few words to him. But the garcon was a recent importation and knew naught of early morn English and knew naught of early morn English and so informed the artist by gesture. The artist, however, knew a language which is understood by everyone who can see. He produced a pad and rapidly sketched in a collar of the latest pattern, around which he next drew a necktie of the newest kind. Underwenth he wrote the name of a furnish. Underneath he wrote the name of a furnishing house, and placing a dollar bill on top of the sketch, exhibited it to the waiter. "Ah! mais, oui, monsieur je comprends," and before many minutes had elapsed he re turned with a collar and necktie strictly after the fashion of the sketch. And then the artist imbibed a May punch and felt and Unmercifully Beaten.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] ALLIANCE, June 7.—About a year ago Isaac Cox, a middle-aged farmer living in Carroll county, went to the Fairmount Children's Home, two miles south of Alliance, and adopted a 12-year-old boy named Orr Riddler. A few days ago the named Orr Riddler. A few days ago the boy gained permission to go fishing. He returned about 8 o'clock in the evening, after the regular supper was over, and asked for something to eat. According to the boy's story told to the grand jury, Cox told him to clean his fish first and then-he might have something. He then directed his son, a grown man, to give the boy a bite. The dutiful son took the boy outdoors, so the latter swears, seized a handful of the fish scales and internals and crammed them into the boy's mouth, forcing him to eat them.

Two weeks ago the boy was plowing in the field with Cox, and in some way one of the horses became entangled in the harness. Cox told the boy to disengage the animal, which he tried to do but was slow, and Cox, taking a hitching strap, whipped the boy with the end to which the iron swap was attached until his back was a mass of raw and tached until his back was a mass of raw and quivering flesh. Orr went to Willaim Boyle's, who lives on an adjoining farm, to whom he related his story. The boy has been returned to the Home, and Cox was indicated by the grand invest.

NEGLIGE SHIRTS,

In Cheviot, Domet, Madras, Sateen, Silk and Wool Stripes, and all the popular materials in which these useful and desirable articles come. As to price, look at the shirts we are selling at 49 cents, marvels of cheapness these are, being really serviceable shirts in either Cheviot or Domet, with yoke collar and felled seams. At an advance of from 15 to 25 cents we show scores of other shirts up to the finest made at prices considerably below what the same quality of goods can be found for in other stores.
