MANY HOUSES SACKED

During the Absence of Their Owners From Tarentum Campground.

SOME UNPLEASANT DISCOVERIES.

The Fair Grounds Also Robbed of Furniture and Other Movables.

STEPS TO DISCOVER THE GUILTY ONES

Pittsburg and Allegheny people who are just now moving up to the Tarentum Campmeeting Grounds for their usual sojourn there are every day making fresh discoveries of depradations made by burglars during the past winter. The city people who reside there during the heated term usually leave their cottages furnished throughout so as to avoid transporting their goods 25 miles to the city and back each year. During the winter the 30 or 40 cottages in the woods were broken into and more or less taken from each one of them. In the aggregate two or three wagon loads of goods have been hauled out of the grove. The robbers hardly dared operate in daytime lest they should be seen by the janitor, and bits of candles lying about or lamps indicate they made their visits far into the night. The grounds are two and a half miles away from the town of Tarentum, and on account of this isolation are peculiarly exposed. One man who lived in the neighborhood reports that on one occasion he saw a two-horse wagon full of household goods driven out of the campground lane, and that when he hailed the driver from a distance the fellow whipped up his horses and disappeared down a ravine.

Funny Features of the Discoveries.

Many ludicrous features occur in the discovery of the robberies. One family from Allegheny went out three weeks ago to stay only for a week to clean up their cottage for rental. The women had left their working dresses in the cottage, so they only brought street costumes with them. They had left four beds, last fall, well supplied with comforts and blankets, and of course bothered about none of those things. But when they got out in the woods, late in the evening, they found all their dresses gone, every stitch of bed clothing missing, bed-ticks ripped open and not a dish left. They had nothing to wear, nothing to cook or eat with or nothing to sleep on. Their predicament was most unpleasant. To make matters worse, that very night the Pittsburg Storage Company's warehouse on Seventh street burned, and all their household goods of the vacated city home were completely destroyed. They received the news in the woods next morning.

In several other cottages whole barrels of dishes, glassware, etc., were taken. In one cottage last week the owner found some of his own china replaced with a stray dish or two left there by mistake by the robbers who had carried it about from another cottage. It is evident that women also had something to do with the thieving, for a particular liking was displayed for women's dresses. In one cottage occupied by a Mt. Washington family the walls of all upstairs apartment had been left lined with dresses. Not a garment remains.

How the Robberies Were Committed.

The method of the robbers was to cut open the bed ticks in the cottages, empty the straw on the floor, and then use the ticks as bags in which to carry out the plunder. Cottagers are naturally very much chagrined over the losses. The money loss is not much, but the inconvenience is great. Some will have to practically refurnish their summer homes throughout, conveying the goods up from the city. One gentleman who had been robbed twice before spent several days last fall nailing up his cottage, and when he crawled out of a hole in the roof, he rejoiced in the belief that he had at last got ahead of the winter thieves, but this spring he found his cottage one of the worst of the victimized. He declares he will do it up next fall in a style that will defy even crowbars to open. On the whole, there were goods enough taken off Tarentum Campground last winter to furnish quite a little community of dwelling houses somewhere in Western Pennsylvania.

The fair grounds of the Tarentum Agricultural Society, which were so successfully opened only last summer, have also suffered unmercifully at the hands of the thieves. Chairs, and all sorts of stuff have been carted off from these grounds. The fair ground is only half a mile from the campmeeting grounds. The matter was brought up at the annual meeting of the trustees of the Tarentum Campmeeting Ground on Tuesday. Every step will be taken to bring the guilty parties to justice and prevent a recurrence of the depredations next winter. Notwithstanding the robberies, the indications are that a very successful campmeeting will be held on the campground this summer. The lot-holders, at their last meeting, fixed August 12 as the date for the commencement of the religious services.

The Grounds to Be Open Sundays.

The encampment will last over two Sabbaths. A prolonged discussion occurred over a proposition to repeat the experiment of last year and close the gates on Sabbath. It was finally decided to throw open the gates on Sunday, making the services as public as on any other day. However, the trustees, who met subsequently, passed a resolution requesting the railroads not to run excursion trains to the grounds on Sabbath, and to charge a hitching fee for all vehicles, except lot-holders, entering the grounds on that day. On Sabbath and all other days admittance will be free to persons entering on foot.

This is the fortieth year of the campground's age. A celebration of the anniversary will be held, and the trustees delegated to a committee all the arrangements. The old stage coach and the canal boat used to bring Pittsburgers to this campmeeting before the railroad was built, and there are quite a number living yet who attended the first campmeeting. It is hoped to have these persons present. Tarentum was the original campmeeting in the neighborhood of Pittsburg.

R. P. McCall, of Tarentum, received a vote of thanks from the trustees upon retiring from the Presidency. He desired to rest from any official capacity with the grounds, so the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: L. E. Stofiel, of Pittsburg, President; E. C. Gough, of Pittsburg, Vice President; Henry Enrich, of Hites station, Secretary and Treasurer; the Committee on Grounds and the Ladies' Association were consolidated, and the beautiful grove will be greatly improved at their hands. Smoke is already arising from the chimneys of many of the cottages in the woods.

APPETITE is generally restored to delicate children by the use of Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge; and not only an appetite, but strength and vigor as well. Sold by all druggists.

FRIENDS BY THE SCORE.

Prominent People Everywhere Asking About Robert D. Smith.

The exclusive publication in THE DISPATCH of the story that Robert D. Smith, a member of the patrician order of the Society of the Cincinnati, was at the Poor Farm has caused a flood of letters to pour into the Department of Charities from members of the society all over the country. One is from William N. Smith, a nephew of Robert D. Smith. He was a member of the firm of Hood, Bonbright & Co., and said Robert D. Smith was the grandson of Captain Samuel Smith, of Revolutionary fame. He has been missing for a number of years, and the nephew wants him taken back to Philadelphia.

Mayor William Wayne, of Paola, Pa., who is a grandson of Mad Anthony Wayne and also President of the Society of the Cincinnati of Pennsylvania, also wrote inquiring about Mr. Smith. Another letter was received from Francis M. Caldwell, of Philadelphia, who is secretary of the society. He says the organization will take care of Robert Smith for the rest of his life. Yesterday Isaac Craig, of Allegheny, also wrote and while Mr. Eaton was reading that letter W. H. Irwin, of Pittsburg, who also belongs to this famous order called and secured a permit to visit the man. The only trouble now feared is that there may be a fight between the society and Mr. Smith's relatives for the privilege of taking care of him.
