They Began to Score.

The New Yorks began run getting in the and. Baldwin gave Gore a base on balls, nd Bassett made a scratch single. Clarke forced Bassett out at second. Gore reaching third. Clarke stole second, and the mses were filled by Sharrott taking first on Tiernan struck out, but Baldwin balls. Thernan struck out, but Baldwin forced Gore bome by sending Ewing to first on balls, and Clarke was forced home. Sharrott sprinted from third and scored on a short passed ball. Connor smashed out a double, and Ewing and Whistler scored. O'Rourke ended the agony by retiring at first. In the third a single by Gore, sacrifices by Bassett and Charke, and Sharrott's queer two heaver. third a single by Gore, sacrifices by Bassett and Charke, and Sharrott's queer two-bagger riedled a ran. The hit was a slow one down the left foul line. The ball would have eventually rolled into foul ground, but Miler was over anxious and gave it a scoop, sending it 20 feet from the line. Powers decided that the ball was fair as Miller touched it, and Sharrott got around to second on the "bit." Gore scored, but Sharrott was left on second. Kept Piling Them Up.

Singles by Gore and Bassett, Sharrott's cracking two-baser and Carroll's wild throw gave three runs in the fifth, and the final run was scored in the ninth on O'Rourke's double, a passed ball and a missed third strike. The Pittsburgers got exactly three hits off Sharrott in six innings, and, as the home team fielded closely, there was little chance to score. In the third Berger was given a base on balls, and Baldwin drove him homeway with a fine two-baser. In the seventh inning Rusic entered the box. He began by giving Maul and Miller and Berger bases on halls in succession. With the bases full. Reilly hit a fly that Gore caught, Maul scoring on the sacrifice. Berger forced Miller off second and Gore threw to Bassett, Miller being run down between second and third. For some reason Berger tried to get back to first and he was enught by a throw from Sharrott in six innings, and, as the home NEW YORK, KBP A E PITTSBURG, RBP A #

TROTTERS AT WASHINGTON.

Norris N. Has Quite an Argument to Capture the 2:25 Class Trot,

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] Washington, June 11.—The trotting meet-ing was continued to-day with a light attendance but good racing. Speculation was brisk on the 2:25 trot, with Norris N and Sadle M the favorites. It required six heats before Norris N managed to win first money flash and was never headed, with the others close together. Roanoke Maid, a rank outclose together. Roanoke Maid, a rank outsider, surprised the talent by going a fast mile and capturing the second heat. The favorite, Norris N, then took the next two, but the fourth was won by Sadie M in a driving finish. Norris N, however, came again in the sixth heat, and, although pressed by Sadie M, won the heat and race.

The 2:32 trot proved a good thing for the favorite, Linkwood Maid, who outclassed the field and won instraight heats without much unging.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] McKEESPORT, June 11 .- The races at the McKeesport Driving Park opened this afterncon with a trot and a pace by local horses.
The attendance was not as large as they expected. The races will be continued to-morrow and Saturday, and the chief trials will take place on the last day.
There were but two races on the programme. The pace was won by Belle N, a Braddock horse, and the trot by another Braddock horse, Forest Boy.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS. An Important Event in the Illinois State Sportsmen's Association Won by the

as many clubs, and ten live birds to a man were shot at under Illinois rules by each club. The feature of the contest was the "straight" by Andrew Thomas, which gave the Fort Dearborn Club, of Chicago, the prize without a tie. Thomas' feat was the more notable from the fact that he was the last man of the team to shoot, and a single miss would have made a tie with the Amboy Club.

The latter won second place. Third money was divided by the Mt. Pulaski and Prairicilubs. The Audubon club was fourth. The big open ten-bird shoot No. 5 began with nearly 80 entries at $10 each. It will be continued to morrow.

THE WIZARD WEDS AGAIN.

Jacob Schaefer, the Billiardist, Married SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

New York, June 11 .- In the Luthera Church of St. John, in Franklin avenue Morrisiana, this evening, Jake Schaefer, the "Wizard," and Miss Lillian Cammerer were married by the Rev. E. L. Rodenbock. Schaefer has known his wife for 15 years, since she was a stately miss of 10, and while there has for years been a warm regard be-tween them, it was only four months ago that they became betrothed.

After the ceremony the party drove to Papa Cammerer's hotel, where an elegant repast was enjoyed, and amid the popping of champagne, the health of the happy couple was drunk.

Mr. Washington at once instructed his agent to buy Dan Mylrea for him, and has just succeeded in getting him at a long figure. He arrived yesterday in fine form, and will not be sent out until the fall circuit opens.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) WELLSVILLE, O., June 11.-The prize fight etween Elmer Grant and Denver St morning, was declared off. About 300 people went up to the mouth of Mill creek in the ferry boat Ollie Neville, but Grant refused to leave the boat, claiming that there was not sufficient money raised for him. Grant's backer was cashier on the boat, and bagged the money and left on the early train this morning for Pittsburg.

BUCKEYE PROHIBITIONISTS.

They Nominate a Full State Ticket an Adopt a Long Platform. SPRINGFIELD, June 11 .- The Prohibition Convention was called to order this morning with 363 delegates present. Temporary Chairman G. D. Macklin, of Greenfield, was made permanent chairman. The matter of a device for the head of the ticket was referred to a committee, which reported a white rose with a sprig or leaf as the party emblem, which was unanimously adopted. The platform denounces the liquor traffic; demands the revision of the immigration and naturalization laws to prevent aliens from voting until one year after naturalization; declares for woman suffrage; denounces speculations in margins; recommends pensions to soldiers and sailors, their widows and orphans, graded according to time of service; it recog-nizes gold and silver currency as to the proper circulating medium, issued in suffi-cient quantity to meet demands; demands the reclamation of uncarned land grants, and that no more of national domain be granted; declares that the tariff should be granted; declares that the tarin should be assessed on the goods from such countries as tax American products; the expenses of the Government should be paid by income tax; all official fees should be covered into the public treasury, and all officials paid salaries

It is founded on falsehood, and a plain tale will refute it." Messrs. Redmond and O'Conhor then proceeded to analyze the Federation circular, and lay the blaze for the rupture in the Irish party upon the interference of Gladstone. They add: "It is not true that Mr. Parnell stands in the way of unity. He has twice in the way of unity. He has twice offered to resign providing the party will get from the Liberals an assurance that, in their next measure of home rule, they will introduce such provisions as will be satisfactory to the majority of the Irish representatives. LONDON, June 11 .- Sir William Gordon Cumming and his bride are suffering the ignominy of ostracism. The newly wedded pair were absolutely cut by the society at Wollston Hall in Nottinghamshire, county seat of Lord Middleton, to which they went vesterday after the wedding. Not one of of the neighboring families has called on them, and when they arrived at the railway station yesterday they were ignored by those gathered around, and were compelled to drive to the hall in a cab.

It was understood last night that if Sir William Gordon-Cumming had not resigned from all the clubs of which he was a member steps would have been taken for his immediate expulsion from each club. A member of Parliament who is well informed in the matter says: "There will not be a single club in London in which Sir William Gordon-Cumming will be able to enter, and all doors will be closed to him. Pork Are Perfectly Proper. CARLSBAD, June 11 .- P. D. Armour, of Chicago, who is here at present with his invalid wife, said among other things while speaking about the new stockyards now being made at Toleston, Ind:

"In our new quarters we shall have the most perfect arrangements for the proper examination and packing of pork. You know the objections which are made both in Germany and France against American

"I think Germany has a perfect right to demand that food products imported into her territory should be perfectly healthy. Our own interests, as well as common commercial honesty, cause us to see that no dis-eased meat should be exported from our places. "I have no doubt," said Mr. Armour, "that as soon as the German Government is convinced of its proper examination in America it will allow the importation of America it will allow the importation of our pork. Of that examination we can now give full proof. We are willing to have our goods rigidly examined upon their entering Germany. We are constantly looking for new markets for our products, and we should be very careful not to ruin newly-opened avenues of trade by any carelessness in handling and shipping diseased meat."

The Chancellor opposed this motion, declaring that the inquiries had been in progress since April, but had been confined to official quarters in order to avoid creating excitement. The Government, he continued, was convinced that there was no distress existing from the duties now levied on grain; but in consequence of the agitation which had been aroused in regard to this matter, the Government had since consulted a number of private parties, and, naturally, could not of private parties, and, naturally, could not submit these reports to the House. General for Belgium, in this city, who was Charles H. Grosvener, of Ohio, who aroused recently expelled from Russia, apparently the ire of the German and other foreign Americans by an interview touching the Goldberger was very reluctant to talk about work of the Foreign Immigration Commis-sion, of which he is the head. The objec-tionable part of the interview was clipped his experiences in Russia, as he is averse to notoriety, and says that he thinks that the notoriety, and says that he thinks that the insults he suffered were the work of some individual "Pristaw," and not of the Russian Government directly.

Herr Goldberger, after leaving this city, went first to St. Petersburg, and from there to Moscow, in the interest of the banking house with which he is connected, having been furnished with a special consular pass by the Russian Consul General here, which permitted him to stay two months in Russia. from the Evening Star and sent out by the Associated Press. General Grosvenor denied using the language, but Mr. Charles A. Boynton, agent here of the Associated Press, asserts that he saw General Grosvenor; talked of the interview the evening it was sent; told the General he had sent it, and that if the General had intimated in the faintest way that it was not authentic, he would have countermanded it.

by the Russian Consul General here, which permitted him to stay two months in Russia. The police at St. Petersburg affixed a white alip to his pass, upon which slip were inscribed the words: "The Hebrew Goldberger is here on toleration and under police supervision." Herr Goldberger, who does not understand Russian, thought the above was some regular police paper. He learned differently when he reached Moscow.

The "Pristaw" called upon him at his hotel the second day and told him he must leave at once. The hotel manager said that he should give the "Pristaw" a few roubles and all would be right, but the banker refused to pay blackmail and left at once.

Consul General Goldberger says that none of the acts so far published about the persecution of the Hebrews tells the whole story. The misery and persecution, he adds, is simply indescribable. "Nobody knows whose turn is to come next," he said, "and no one cares to stable the said and the said." The only resort now is in the well-known fact that General Grosvenor is not nice in his discrimination in regard to the use and meaning of words, is often blundering in meaning of words, is often blundering in his language and that he did not mean to cast any slur upon good foreigners already here, especially the substantial German farmers of the Northwest. While it has been broadly asserted that Secretary Foster had decided to request the resignation of General Grosvenor from the commission about to sail for Europe to investigate the whole question of immigration, this is not the fact. The matter is under consideration

Even if the General had meant all he indescribable. "Nobody knows whose turn is to come next," he said, "and no one cares to risk his money or work under the present state of barbaric rage against everything foreign or non-orthodox, and the consequence will be that Russia, with all her immense agrisaid in his interview, there are many who fail to see why this should affect his standing on the commission. On the contrary it should enhance his value, as the intent of should enhance his value, as the intent of the law creating the commission was to get at facts which would give reason for a further restriction of immigration. As the President and Secretary Foster had much trouble in finding a good soft place for Grosvenor, it is thought that they will not lightly dismiss him from this commission.

The worst phase of the whole matter is that the commission's duty will be to make of themselves a successful unketing party cultural and mineral resources, will, sooner or latter, be forced into a condition, of ab-American Grape Vines Said to Yield the

To-day we have about 1,000 hectares treated by submission, about 1,000 by insecticides and nearly 30,-000 planted with American vines." WASHINGTON, June 11 .- Chief Meredith, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, is being forced to endure a hot fire in the investigation now going on of the conduct of his bureau. The committee Dr. Menudier, Vice President of one of the departmental committees, says: "Since 1889, the territory in the department of the lower Charente, covered with American vines, has nearly doubled." In the depart-ment of which Marseilles is the Capital, the of Knights of Labor opposing the chief in the investigation have made charges affecting Mr. Meredith's personal conduct and business management that are quite sensational, but these have been circulated for some time. The proposition for a compromise on the products of American mines is not regarded favorably by the committee. Senator Stewart said to-day that he was confident that a free coinage bill could be passed through the next Congress over the President's veto.

The Republican votes in the Senate Mr.

Stewart counts on as sure for free coinage are: Two from California, 1 from Oregon, 2 from Washington, 2 from Idaho, 2 from Montana, 2 from Nevada, 2 from Colorado, 1 from Wyoming, 2 from South Dakota, 1 from North Dakota, 2 from Kansas, 2 from North Dakota, 2 from Kansas, 2 from North Dakota, 2 from Kansas, 2 from North Dakota, 2 from North Dakota, 2 from Kansas, 2 from North Dakota, 2 Nebraska and 1 from Pennsylvania, Cullom, Stockbridge and Davis he regards as doubtful. The votes counted as sure would give free coinage 60 votes if the Democrats voted solid for free coinage. Fifty-nine votes are enough to carry the bill over the veto.
