A Endget of Roms That Will Interest the Lovers of the Bars and Spaces.

As the "Supplementary Concert" at the Imquesne Theater on Friday evening was a charitable effort toward making up the effect of the late May Festival, the performers being all volunteers for the sake of proper field of criticism. It may be recorded the programme was carried out as given last Sunday, with the insertion of the titles of several pieces not then chosen and the substitution of Mr. Joseph A. Vogel's name for that of Mr. Paul Zimmerman, who was called out of the city on business. Conselering the temperature, a very fair-sized andience was present, with a decided disposition to get the atmost enjoyment out of the entertainment.

Of the financial result nothing definite can be stated until returns come in from those of the patronesses who have had the tickets

Benefit concerts never draw money of themselves. The result always depends on the personal efforts made to sell tickets; the smeart serves merely to clock the begging. The circumstances of hot weather and musi-cal satisty already reached make it that much worse. The more credit, then, to those who have in the present case probably reali-ted as much as, if not passe thus, was gained. that most imposing of local charity concerts blich was given some years ago for the re-ef of quaking Charleston.

The Muses and the Other Nine. Whether to attempt raising the balance of be deficit-and how-is the question to be solded by the patronesses and their coedjutors when they meet this week. As an alternative to the dernier resort of the subription paper. a novel suggestion is been unde. It is to arrange for a caclasive use of the grand stand and exes for one of the next baseball games, id to make a fashionable event of it as the int influence of the patronesses could adily do. The price of tickets could be abled under such conditions and still self oubled under such conditions and still sell is that cakes.

Of course the idea is startling at first insh—to recoup the Muses on the diamond, at there would be nothing essentially rong about such a plan. Quidoor anuscent is much more appropriate just now may any kind of an interior entertainment. The idea is worth thinking about, at all rents. Its sheer novelty would carry it crough triumpliantly, and it would not be unrevising if such an enterprise should pay provising if such an enterprise should pay if the rest of the deficit and leave a snug oun around which to build the much-needed ernument Festival Association.

EUROPEAN tourists take notice: The hundredth anniversary of the death of Mozart will be celebrated, in advance, at his native town, Salzburg, Austria, from July 15 to July 18, in order to take advantage of the influx of holiday visitors. The opening day's pro-ceedings will include a solemn performance ceedings will include a solemn performance of the 'Requiem' in the cathedral, an oration by Dr. Hirschfield and a torchlight procession to Mozart's monument. The days following July 15 will be devoted to orchestral and other concerts, under the direction of Dr. Jahn, of Vienna, in which the Vienna Philingramonic Orchestra will assist, and will include a performance of "Don Giovanni." Illuminations in the gardens, choruses sung by a male-voice choir in the open air, fetes and banquets will add to the enjoyment of the numerous musical enthusiasts who are expected to be present.

REVIEWING the past season's Symphony concerts, the Boston Musical Herald says: In the matter of programmes Mr. Nikisch has made an advance over his first year; he has got bravely beyond the borders of the Rhine, and his ken includes an occasional Russian, Slav, Englishman and American. The proportion of new music performed was greater this season than last, and the novelties were generally worthy. Toward native composers Mr. Nikisch's attitude was friendly, yet he has not given us any of Prof. Paine's music nor asked Mr. McDowell to take down his nor asked Mr. McDowell to take down his folios. Here are two great composers among us, and such an orchestra as the Boston Symphony should become their natural stimulus. With one or two exceptions the soloists were worthy the dignity of the concerts. As to performance the orchestra is superior to anything this country has ever heard; Mr. Nikisch is a poet where Mr. Gericke was an adjuster.

CONCERTS BY MOONLIGHT.

Pittsburg is to enjoy moonlight concerts again this summer, thanks to the enterprise of Prof. Guenther, who remains in the field after the other local musicians have tried it and failed. These concerts were a feature of the home entertainments last summer, and with his usual energy Prof. Guenther has not been content to let well enough alone, but this season will excel himself. He has gotten together an orchestra of 30 pieces and each member is a master. Besides this superb orchestra, his own talent as a flute player and the best efforts of local vocalists will go to make up a series of concerts of the very highest order.

The entertainments will be given at the beautiful Silver Lake Grove every other at Silver Lake Grove.

The entertainments will be given at the beautiful Silver Lake Grove every other Thursday evening during the summer, the first one being given next Thursday evening, June 18. The grove is a natural bower of beauty and will be lighted with electricity where strong light is necessary, while Chinese lanterns will shed their soft subdued rays over the other parts. Dancing will begin at 8 r. M., sharp, and the concert proper at 9 r. M. At the conclusion of the concert dancing will again be indulged in, and the last note will not be sounded until 1 A. M. The Lincoln and Larimer avenue cars of the Duquesne line stop within one square of the grove and will be in waiting at the conclusion of each entertainment to take patrons to their homes. The feature of the first concert next Thursday evening will be the vocal solos of Mr. Joseph Vogel and Miss Agnes Vogel.

Prof. Guenther is giving this series of concerts his very best efforts and this is a sufficient guarantee of their success.

Smithfield Street,

As we have always done in selling you something you have never received before. Merchant Tailor-Made Clothing—and, notwithstanding the facts that we have supplied the people of Pittsburg and neighboring cities with the very finest of clothing that has ever been sold heretofore by any firm; furthermore, it is our sole intention so to continue, as our grade of clothing cannot be mentioned in the same breath with that sold by the ready-made clothing stores, for the simple reason one quality is made up by the poorest of factory tailors : and ours ARE MADE UP EXCLUSIVELY BY :

MERCHANT TAILORS,

Who pay journeymen tailors five times the amount for the making of a garment that is paid by the wholesale manufacturers. But the best of tailors will have their garments left on their hands, and, not being placed in a position to dispose of them momentarily, they are consigned to us with instructions to be sold at

HERE'S SOMETHING

Only one day to get one of the matchless bargains in a Straw Hat offered below, but that's long enough if you are alert. Don't miss it. On to-morrow (Monday morning) we open 100 cases of Men's Fine Straw Hats.

Which we secured at about forty cents on the dollar of actual value. They are of Mackinaw, Canton and Shansi Braids, and come in every style of hat that's fashionable. Hats to suit young men, middle-aged men and old men. Their real value is $1, $1 25 and $1 50.

On Monday, and Monday only, we will let you take your choice for 45,° 45,° 45°. Our large window on Market street, near the entrance, will be filled with samples of the goods, and they will be sold from the window so as not to interfere with our regular business. There will be a big crowd. Come early. Come and save from fifty cents to a dollar on every hat you buy.
