SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] BOSTON, June 15 .- For several innings in to day's game it looked as though the Pittsburg's had more than a fighting chance to win. But in the eighth inning the Bostons clinched the game by an unexpected batting streak and the visitors again gave up the ghost, The game was marked by unexpected errors in unexpected quarters and the only explanation is the lifeless condition of the atmosphere. The temperature was 96° in the shade, and in the sun the heat was almost overpowering. Nobody blamed the players for making errors and nobody would have kicked if the game had been called beat. The fun began in the first inning and both sides had a hand in it but the Beaneaters took the lion's share of the runs. Stovey Made a Home Run. Long was presented with his base and Stovey thought it was a good time to make a home run. The ball sailed over the left field fence and Boston had two runs for a nest egg. Quinn flied out and Nash started the ball once more for a single. He stole econd and Brodie walked to first on balls. passed ball advanced each a base Tucker's long fly to Carroli let Nash in with the third run for Boston. The visitors started in with as much rashness as did the Bostons, but they could not keep up the pace. With Carroll out, Beckley showed what he could do in the slugging line and rotted gracefully around the bases while the railroad men were looking for the ball. Browning's hit was fumbled by Long, and when Fields was hit by a pitched ball it looked as though the visitors were going to the the score, but Maul forced Fields at second, and when Miller's foul lodged in Ganzel's hands they went out to the field with only one run to their credit. It was not until the third inning that the game again became exciting, when the Bostons had representatives on third and second bases with only one out, and the crowd saw visions of another run, but they didn't materialize, for Miller caught Brodle's fly and Tucker struck out. Lowe opened the fourth inning for Boston with a pretty three-bagger and secored on Ganzel's long fly to Carroll.

They Were Easy Victims. in with the third run for Boston. The They Were Easy Victims.

The other Beaneaters were easy victims hen the Pittsburgs went to the bat Miller saw the score 4 to 1 against him and called cut to Fields: "Now hit 'er out, my boy; this is time time we do them." Then he hoodooed the Bostons. The hoodoo lasted until the s were filled, and then it lost its force The spectators breathed easier when the last man was out, and the same men were left on the bases. Long made another disastrons fomble and Fields was safe. Manl was given his base, and Fields was safe. Manl was given his base, and Fields moved up a neg. Miller popped up a little fly which Nichols could ensily have caught, but Ganzel stuck out his big glove and the ball dropped. Beckley and Rellly were coaching tor all they were worth, and foglorn Miller added to the din from his position on first base. Berger lifted a little fly, and when the ball fell Tucker, Nichols, Ganzel and Quinn had their hands stretched out to grab it, and each one was yelling: "Look eat, I've gut it." It's a wonder the ball wasn't dropped. Nichols held it, and then the quarret clared at each other. Reilly was out in a jiffy on a hot foul liner to Ganzel. All hope was centered on King, but he was not the right man for the emergency. He hit a grounder to Quinn and the excitement was over.

Still Piling 'Em Up. last man was out, and the same men were Still Piling 'Em Up.

In the fifth inning Bostons scored again after two were out on battery errors by King, a hit by Tucker and a fumble by Maul. visitors also scored a single run on Long's muff of Cafroll's fly, a sacrifice by Beckley, a wild pitch and Browning's single Beckley, a wild pitch and Browning's single. A pretty double play closed the luning. A two-bagger and a single gave the Bostons another run in the seventh and in that same taming the visitors made a brace which looked dangerous. Reilly hit safely and went to third on Ganzel's wild throw, King fited out to Brodle and Carroll gave Ganzel a foul fly. Beckley sent Reilly across the plate with a single and went to second on Stovey's fumble and scored on Browning's two-bagger to right. Then Fields dashed cold water on the hopes of his companions by striking out. The score was then six to four in Boston's favor. The eighth inning settled the question as to the winner of the ganse.

The Bostons found the ball again and changed it all over the lot. A costly fumble Berger filled the bases with Bostonians when a double play should have been made There came a fusilade of hits and the Bostons secred five runs before anyone was retired. y Lowe gave the Bostons another run in he last inning, but they didn't need it. The ittsburgs bunched two hits in their half of he inst inning and scored one run after two han had been retired, but they were hope-essly behind in the race and the run did not clip matters much. THE RACING RECORD.

The Latest Gossip About To-Day's Big Turf Event at Sheepshead Bay-Tenny May Go to the Post an Extraordinarily Hot Favorite-Tea Tray Has Also a Good Following.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

New York, June 15 .- The Suburban handicap, the second of the big events of the year, is to be decided to-morrow afternoon at the Coney Island Jockey Club's picturesque track at Sheepshead Bay, and, while the race has been robbed of much of its interest by the withdrawal of the game little Firenzi and the fleet Kingston, who were ex-pected to give Tenny a battle royal for the honors, the contest is bound to be inspiring and the victor will not return to the scales honors, the contest is bound to be inspiring and the victor will not return to the scales without knowing that he has been racing.

It is probable that Tenny will go to the post the most pronounced favorite that has ever started for any of our great spring handleaps. If Isaac Murphy has the mount it is a gaurantee that the horse will be ridden well, as well as human hands can guide him, and should he lose on his merits there will be no excuse for him. It is a singular fact that his most doughty opponent is also a son of Ryan D'Or, the speedy Tea Tray. He carries ten pounds less than the favorite, but while a horse of great speed and undoubted gameness, nobody has ever thought him anything like the equal of his distinguished relative. Billy Lakeland refused to day to divulge the name of his rider.

Although there are 17 starters named over night, there will hardly be more than 10 or 12 at the post. Next to Tenny the chances of Tea Tray are considered most brilliant, and many persons will ignore the favorite and support Tea Tray for the place. Biley's victories have penalized him to such an extent that he will carry 125 pounds. Tom Kiley, who rode the colt in many of his most notable races, and who understands him thoroughly, has come on from Chicago to ride Corrigan's colt but it is difficult to figure how he has a chance to beat Tenny or Tea Tray on a dry fast track. Raceland's last two races at Morris Park were of the improving kind, and showed conclusively that the old gelding is getting back into his bost form. When on edge he is an opponent to be feared, but he is scaroely at concert pitch yet, and if he starts will scarcely play a prominent part. Judge Morrow, 123, is tarred with the same stick.

The son. The weather was intensely hot. The card was a miserably poor one and again the majority of race goers were saving their money for the Suburban to-morrow.

The track was of course in first-class shape, but the racing was of a very inferior quality, two of the events developing into walkovers, and the others being but little better. The feature of the card, if it could be called such, was the Bay Chester stakes for 3-year-olds at one mile. It was robbed of all interest, however, as L'Intriguante completely outclassed all the other starters, and she galloped in the easiest possible kind of a winner.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS.

everything Ready for the Ten-Round Glov Contest Between Frank Slavin and Jake Kilrain This Evening-Both Men in Excellent Condition and Both Confident of Victory.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] New York, June 15 .- It is said that everything is in readiness for the ten-round glove bout between Slavin and Kilrain in the Granite Association clubbouse to-morrow night. The men are reported to be in good form, and it is said to be confident of win-ning. Of course Jere Dunn will be the referee as he is the official of the club. As to seconds, William Muldoon and Mike Cleary will be behind Kilrain, and Charley Gleary will be behind Kilrain, and Charley Mitchell and Ed Stoddart will be in Slavin's corner. Timekeepers will be chosen to-morrow night, and perhaps John Kelly will again agree to act on behalf of the club. Slavin will weigh, it is said, about 185 pounds, and Kilrain about 190. Slavin stands 6 feet 11 inches, and Kilrain 5 feet 11 inches. The official announcement makes the starting 11/2 inches, and Kilrain 5 feet 11 inches. The official announcement makes the starting hour at 10:30, whether there is in the house money to fill the purse of $10,000 or not.

The Slavin party state that their man means to knock Kilrain out if he can. But there is little to say about the event among the talent. In the betting Slavin is slightly the favorite.

CLEVELAND, June 15 .- Over 5,000 visiting members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. from various States as far east as New Hampshire, south as far as Texas, and west as 可完 far as Chicago, are quartered in the city to-night. Nearly 3,000 are from Pittsburg and Allegheny, and a thousand more are expected in the morning. The uni-

On the way from the depot they stopped in front of the Forest City House, where the national officers are located, and serenaded George H. Bartlett, the National Councilor. Mr. Bartlett made a speech to the plumed contingent from Pittsburg, which was cheered to the echo.

Delegations arrived from Western Pennsylvania all day, and by the time that orders are given for the big parade to move to-morrow, Cleveland will have a larger delegation than ever invaded the city as representatives of any secret organizati The Juniors spent to-day seeing sights. The first point of interest visited was the tomb of President Garfield in the Lakeview tomb of Přesident Garfield in the Lakeview Cemetery. To-morrow's demonstration is intended to serve a double purpose. While it is in honor of the National Council of the order, it is also a celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, which occurs the day following, and all the hotels, and many of the prominent business houses are gaily decorated and to-morrow the entire city will be resplendent with red, white and blue.

Important National Council Session Considerable interest is being manifested in the session of the National Council, which will be the most important one ever held. Nearly all the delegates are here. Among the most prominent

The only business that will be transacted to-morrow will be the supposition of the appear a reports of be the submission of the annual reports of National Councilor Bartlett and National Secretary Deener. The report of the former shows that the membership has increased to the immense number of 100,000, the order having been planted in several new States since the last session in Chicago. He makes quite a number of recommendations, among others, the following:

More Organizers Are Wanted. First-The placing of competent national emeils, one to be located in New England. one in the Middle and Southern States, and he third in the West, they to be under the

the third in the West, they to be under the supervision of the national board of officers, Second—The enlargement of the powers of the Deputy National Councilors in States where there are no State Councils.

In regard to the custom of placing flags on public school buildings, which was originated in Pittsburg, Mr. Bartlett says: "The placing of the American flag by our order on the public schools in many of our large cities and towns has done much to bring our order into prominence, and has given it a warm place in the hearts of the people. This should be encouraged. Let us hope that the time will come when this beautiful custom will be universal, and that the American flag bership in the State of 63,28. Taking up the general work of the organization, Mr. Deemer says:

Immigration and Free Schools. "Restriction of immigration and our free school system are now the rallying cry for every one who values his liberties and who desires to perpetuate them for his children. desires to perpetuate them for his children. The political parties of the future can promulgate no platform which will be complete without restricting immigration and fostering the free school system of our country. During the last few years we have increased tenfold in our membership, and while we have cause for congratulation in this fact, the principles which we are promulgating have increased in still greater-ratio.

"The critic may cavil and say: What have you done? You boast of your lodge membership. What are you doing with it? May we not modestly claim some small share in educating the public mind to a comprehension of the terrible evils which threaten to engulf us, through the dumping upon our shores of the criminal hordes of Europe. The American people are slow to realize these dangers, so conscious are they of their own strength and of the stability of our institutions. They are long-suffering, and it may take some such affair as that at New Orleans to awaken them, but when justice fails in its duty, the people will assert their sovereignty. The New Orleans massagre fails in its duty, the people will assert their sovereignty. The New Orleans massacre must be looked upon with regret by every true American. The principles which are at the foundation of our Government is ce to law.

The People Must Rule.

"While we must regret the act, we are com-pelled to appreciate the truth of the immor-al words, that this is a Government of the people, for the people and by the people, and when the servants of the people fail in their duty, then the people will show their sov-ereignty. As we contemplate the mission of our order, the conditions and circumstances our order, the conditions and circumstances which surround us, we cannot escape the feeling of responsibility which is upon us, the strongest purely American organization in the United States.

"About one month ago our order at large, but especially in Pennsylvania, was called to part with one of its most popular and earnest members. I allude to J. P. Winower, a Past National Representative and the senior member of the Board of Officers. He was known to the members of this body almost equally as well as those of his own State, for he has been present at nearly every seasion of this body for the last five years. From July, 1899, to Wally, 1990, he was State Councilor of Pennsylvania, organizing during his term 159 councils, visiting all sections of the State, and resigning his position to his successor, having #on universal commendation for his fidelity to the trust reposed in him. I suggest that a memorial page be set apart in the proceedings of this session."

They are as large as a dinner plate, and of much the same shape. They are sometimes more than a foot across the shell and the oyster fits his habitation so well that he does not leave much margin.

It is a new sensation when a friend asks

The Lizzie Bay arrived yesterday on her usual weekly trip from Charleston. The crew and passengers were entertained yesterday morning by a party of excursionists from Relieville. The pleasure seekers had hired a brass band for the occasion, and the music discoursed was a pleasant change to hands and passengers.

ABOUT 25 miles below Portsmouth the Maggie met with a serious accident on Thursday last. She had 12 barges in tow when, about 6 F. M., her cylinders cracked and completely disabled her. With a light engine she slowly worked back to her dock, yesterday, and is now undergoing repairs. The tow was transferred to two passing steamers, the Joseph Nixon and J. M. Bunton.

ALTHOUGH yesterday was a peculiarly dull, warm, uneventful day, some excitement was caused when the steamer Sensation pulled up at the Monongahela wharf. The chief attraction about her, to rivermen especially, was the lady pilot, Mrs. Callie L. Trench. She has the unique distinction of being the only licensed hidy pilot "afloat," She is said to be an adept in her calling and can steer a boat with manly case and skill.

LAST evening 300 excursionists, some tired, others "happy," disembarked from the steamer Mayflower. The Pittsburg Steel Casting Company's employes, with a few friends, had taken a day off to see the river and its sights. They stopped off at Economy on their way back from Rochester. No sooner had they left the boat than the steamer began to fill with the friends and members of the Pittsburg Theatrical Attaches 'Union. They were bound whither fancy might lead.
